THE other principal item of the week as far as this country is concerned was the proclamation of a State of Emergency for the dockers' strike. This seems to have had the desired effect, and the dockers' have voted to return. After what many people considered unnecessary vacillation, the Labour Government acted with vigour and firmness. Attlee's speech to the nation was forthright, and his refusal to compromise on principle most commendable. This State of Emergency power had not been used since the General Strike of 1926, and with that connotation, had a bitter taste to many a Trade Union man. Privately, the Conservatives are thanking their lucky stars that they were not involved. Necessary as the action was, and unjustifiable the strike, this power is still resented by organized labour. Everyone is fervently hoping the whole mess is cleaned up, as untold damage has already been done. Last night one paper reported that a cargo of eggs had been returned to Belfast as a result of the strike, and 15,000 dozen had spoiled as a result. The London Meat Retailers' Association report that the strike will cost Britain 40,000 tons of meat this year, owing to the loss of shipping during the strike. And of course, the loss of exports during this period is in the millions of pounds. It is being driven home to Londoners how serious wildcat strikes like this can be to the public good.

THE Wimbledon Tennis Championships, or more properly, the All-England Championships, are now on, but with little satisfaction to the home folks. By the time the semi-finals were reached, all of Britain's representatives had been eliminated, both for the women and the men. Of the eight semi-finalists, all four women are Americans, and two of the men, which shows the U.S. domination of the game today. An Australian is the last hope of keeping the title in the Commonwealth. Rather wistfully, the London papers boasted of Mottram reaching the quarterly finals, the first Englishman to do so since 1939. And Canada? I don't believe there were any Canadians in the competition at all. If they were, they did not get far, as I have seen no Canuck listed in the papers.

MR. Gordon K. Fraser can make himself the life-long friend of Canadians travelling abroad if he would campaign with the Dept. of External Affairs for a few visa agreements with other countries. Since the vast majority of Canadians confine their foreign travels to the U.S.A., perhaps I should explain what a visa is. Briefly, it is a stamp or notification in your passport allowing you entry to the country so stamping it, for a limited time. It must be secured in advance before you present yourself at the country's frontiers, and is presumably to allow the country time to check up on its visitors before they arrive. Sounds simple, but getting it is another story. The present situation is ridiculous. A Canadian quite literally comes under the same heading as a Siamese or Ethiopian if he desires to travel in most European countries. Each country has varying regulations for visitors, dependent upon bilateral agreements with the visitors' governments. For a Britisher holding a British passport, no visa is required for a holiday visit to France. For a Canadian, for the same sort of trip, he or she will need a visa, and that will be 800 francs please ($3). Similarly in Belgium. No visa for a British passport, a free visa for Americans, but the poor Canadian requires a visa, the application for which demands amongst other things two recent photos, your father's name, where he was born, and when, and the same for your mother; wants to know if you are going to Belgium to escape religious persecution, and a slight charge of 40 francs ($1). And this for just a transit visa, permission to go through Belgium. It actually takes longer to get the Belgian visa than it does to cross the country. For the Netherlands, the American does not require a visa, but again, the Canadian does, and also a $2.50 fee. Being a Canadian citizen comes expensive these days.

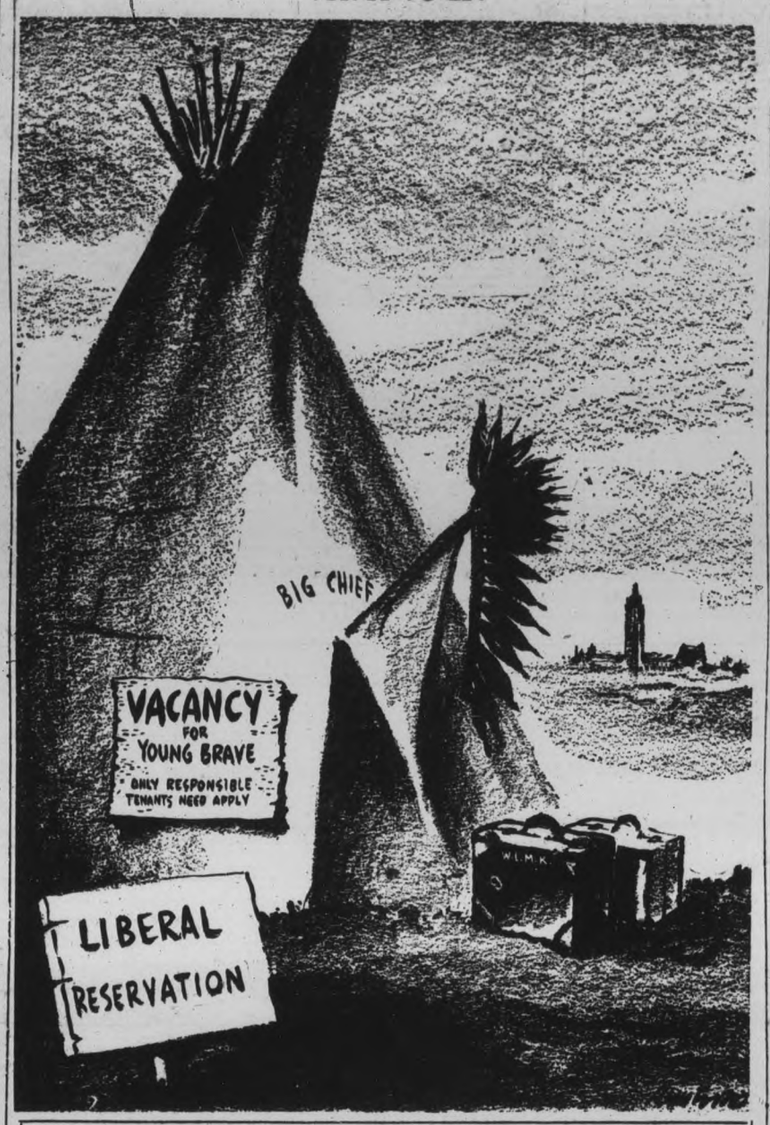
IF it is merely a matter of getting a reciprocal agreements on visas with Ottawa, by all means, let someone in Ottawa start negotiations. In Europe, only Switzerland allows Canadians into their country without a visa, —part of the Swiss policy to encourage their tourist trade. If such agreements would encourage Europeans to visit Canada on their holidays, all well and to the good. No Canadian would surely object to more tourists, and Peterborough more than most Canadian cities realizes the value of the tourist trade. In the meantime, to secure permission to visit four countries on a Canadian passport takes two whole days' work, $6.50 in fees, and a lot more patience than most Canadians possess. "Dear M.P.....

TEEPEE TO LET



Greeks Are Fast Thinkers

(OSBERT LANCASTER IN THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY)

THE principal characteristic of Greek intelligence is the speed with which it works. This renders the Greek peculiarly formidable in all matters requiring rapid decision while leaving him more vulnerable when long term issues are at stake. Time and again, an apparently insoluble political crisis has by some brilliant feat of legerdemain been solved at the eleventh hour, but the deep underlying causes, political or economic, remain unheeded and unresolved.

In a humbler sphere it renders the Greek the best mechanic in the world when it comes to doing roadside repairs, and the worst when it involves maintaining a car in good running order over a period of time. This being so, it is not surprising that he should have most profitably exploited this remarkable gift in the field of international commerce operating under laissez faire principles.

The ability to amass wealth is of course no more equitably diffused among the Greeks themselves than among other nations; on the contrary, to him that hath shall be given in Greece even more abundantly than elsewhere. Nevertheless, despite a fantastic disparity in incomes there is little or no resentment of great riches on the part of the have nots, and all the desperate efforts of the Communists to wage the class war have as yet met with little or no success.

This is to be explained both on psychological and economical grounds; the money-making gift is generally held in such high esteem among the Greeks that its successful exploitation on the grandest scale is a matter for respect and emulation, but not for envy.

Economically, the fact that the majority of rich Greeks have from time immemorial amassed their fortunes by grinding the faces of other people's poor, exploiting the workers of Alexandria, Bombay, Manchester, or Cardiff, but seldom their own, has successfuly prevented the formation within Greece of an industrial proletariat. Thus the poorest peasant in the land, unless he happens to be in the employ of one of the big tobacco magnates, is unable to trace any connection between his own miserable condition and the usually far from discreet display of riches in the millionaires' quarter of Kolonaki.

Furthermore, this state of affairs is rendered difficult to upset by the almost total absence of class distinctions. Save for the existence of a few old Phanariot families Greece is a country almost completely without an hereditary aristocracy. Few of the most prominent citizens are more than a couple of generations from the soil, and many of the richest started life in the gutters of Smyrna or Constantinople. Moreover, where education is free and compulsory, it is no simple matter to establish the social rule of privilege.

Fortunately for the national character, the Greek's ability to make money is equalled only by his genius for spending it. On inquiry it will usually be discovered that the millionaire whose name is a household word for opulence is halfway through his third fortune.

AN UNCONSIDERED TRIFLE

Two men were boasting of the housekeeping abilities of their respective wives. "My wife won't enter a greengrocer's shop. She buys all her vegetables straight from the farm, so that they are nice and fresh," said one.

Said the other: "My wife does better than that. She went straight to the market gardener and insisted on choosing a vegetable marrow that was still growing. 'How much for this one?' she said. 'Eightpence,' said the gardener. 'Too much,' she said. 'What is the price of this little one?' 'Fourpence,' was the reply. 'All right, I'll buy it,' and pays on the spot. Then she added, 'Don't cut it now. I'll call for it this day fortnight'."

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Praise ye the Lord: for it is good to sing praises unto our God; for it is pleasant; and praise is comely. Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite. (Ps. 147: 1, 5.)

✧ ✧ ✧

If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. (James 1: 5.)

And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do; for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking. Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. (Matt. 6: 5-8.)

Letter To The Editor

BENCHES FOR MARK ST. WHARF

Sir: Occasionally I have read in your columns a letter suggesting that park benches be placed on Mark St. wharf. Those controlling the placing of such seats have paid no heed to those appeals. Why is Crescent St. so favoured while the north side of Little Lake is overlooked? All of us in south Ashburnham have not cars like you have and, of necessity, we must enjoy walking and the beauty of Little Lake.

Fortunately no stranger driving on Mark St. on a dark stormy night has plopped off the wharf; certainly there is nothing to prevent such an accident — not even a park bench.

Yours hopefully,
ASHBURNHAM SOUTH.

Holiday Deaths Reach 75 In Five Days

By The Canadian Press

A roaring landslide shattered a two-storey frame dwelling at Levis, Que., Monday night, killing five-months-old Pauline Lebel. The death of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lebel was the latest in the five-day toll of 75 across Canada.

The fatalities, which began Dominion Day when Canadians travelled to holiday spots, compared with a total of 98 for the same week-end last year.

Drownings took the greatest toll—34, but there were 25 highway deaths, seven dead in two aircraft crashes, two men shot to death, two killed in falls, one killed on a railway line, one man was found hanged in a police cell; a boy died under a wagon and a man was killed when a tractor overturned.

Several Americans were drowned as countless thousands streamed across the border in celebration of the July 4 United States holiday. It was the greatest July 4 influx since pre-war days, taxing border accommodation to the utmost.

Other Accidents

Among the toll of the highways, the bathing beaches and accidents were these deaths reported Monday night:

Edith Gillard, 18, of Guelph, who died in a Guelph hospital after being thrown from a motorcycle; Dorothy Kach of Montreal, killed when an automobile overturned at Alexandria; two-year-old Joseph Morellato, killed in a fall under a wagon on his father's farm near Niagara Falls, Ont.

Richard Herberlein, 36, of Buffalo, N.Y., drowned in Musselman's Lake near Toronto; Arnold Miller, 17, of Buffalo, drowned near Port Colborne; Thomas Jones, 44, no fixed address, found hanged in a police cell at Hull, Que., after being arrested for begging; Barry Rodseth, nine, of Drumheller, Alta., who died in hospital at Drumheller after a traffic accident; Vernon E. Graham, 22, of Newdale, Man., killed when a tractor overturned on him near Newdale.

Electrics Take Girls' Win Over Woollens

CGE beat Woollens 22-10 at the Bowl last night to move up into practically a third-place tie The loss dropped Woollens back into a second-place tie with Lakefield. Whitby Yanks Out Win Against Petes

Whitby edged out the intermediate Petes 2-1 in a Lakeshore Baseball League game in Whitby last evening, the best ball game seen there this season. After the Petes tied the count a 1-1 to start the seventh on Billingsley's pinch single, a steal, an out and a passed ball, Whitby came back in their half to win on a walk, an out and an error. The same squads clash here tomorrow night.

Roy Armour hurled four-hit ball and had six strikeouts for the visitors, while Hodgson also gave up but four hits and fanned nine, neither pitcher giving many walks. Marshall led the binglers with two doubles in three plate appearances, Murphy and Billingsley each having one single. Fitzgerald featured wtih a fine running catch in deep right field.

Score by innings:

East Midgets Win

The East Midgets of the City Baseball League pulled out an 11-8 victory last night over the Westenders behind four-hit hurling by the winning side's flingers. The losers made their big threat in the fifth with a five-run drive but otherwise were held pretty well in check, 10 going down on strikes. East City had a hefty eight-run rally in the second frame. There were a lot of walks on both sides, and Buott hit a homer.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

We were speaking the other day of older athletes and how they should stay in and play as long as they are going well—but we meant, of course, in the less rugged sports like baseball, softball, etc. Whether soccer should be regarded as rugged or not, there are some fine veterans performing in the local league. Reg. Cox and Vic Barbee of Lindsay are both over 50, and so is Tom Foster of Legion, who plays with his sons, Tom, Henry and George. On the other hand, two of the younger players in senior soccer here are Don Pagett and Al Menzies, who are also turning in a good baseball chore with the senior Petes.

* * * * * *

No rest for the senior "B" lacrosse Petes. Back from their trip last night to Scarboro, they are away again this eve for a stiff one in Oshawa. And must meet Orillia here on Friday. Meantime, the minor gutted-stick exponents are seeing lots of action lately, too. Two juvenile jousts tonight in Miller Bowl, first at seven: Comstock's vs. Scouts and Legion vs. Queen's. And a pair of midget melees there tomorrow, commencing at six p.m.: Comstock's vs. Americans and McGillis vs. Cavanagh's. They will be followed at nine by an intermediate fixture between Port Hope and the locals, and it should be an interesting game.

* * * * * *

Diamond Action Aplenty

Baseball setup has the Petes playing Batawa in Belleville tonight and then taking on Oshawa in Riverside this week-end. North and east juveniles go tonight in Riverside as Hawks play East City bantams at the Ex. The west and east peewees perform at the Ex. and the west-south midgets are billed, also. But Whitby and the intermediate Petes are scheduled for Riverside tomorrow eve at 6.30. Two local junior teams clash over east at 6.30 p.m. Thursday. And so it goes.

* * * * * *

Men's softball at the Bowl tonight, weather permitting, has the B-A bunch in against Knights at seven and Legion playing Comstock's afterward. And Thursday it's: Legion vs. Knights and B-A vs. Comstock's. Schedule is over two weeks from Thursday and the league takes a holiday until playoffs commence. The executive met last night to discuss the playoff picture and decided just three teams would take part, the second and third clubs going into semi-finals with the winner then taking on the first-place team for the city championship. The champ will go into provincial senior "B" playdowns while the runner-up hits into OASA intermediate "A" competition.

Just One Game Played

Rain ruined the second girls' game at the Bowl last night and sent the crowd scurrying home around nine p.m. But they got in the first fray, a wide-open one which saw the Electrics hammer out a 22-10 victory o'er the Woollens. It was nice work by the CGE-ers but you can't discount the fact that the losers put up a real show against experienced opposition, the winners getting a dozen of their runs in the last four frames. CGE are about tied for third spot with Ashby's now, though they've played more games, as Westclox and Marines lead, while Woollens are tied in the second-last slot with Lakefield, behind Lindsay but ahead of Lock Co. CGE plays Woollens tomorrow as Lakefield goes against Lindsay.

Intermediate Petes lost a heart-breaker in Whitby last gloaming when Whitby pulled out a 2-1 Lakeshore Baseball League triumph in the last inning. It was four-hit ball on both sides with Roy Armour and Hodgson going fine on the mounds, but a Petes' error sent in the winning marker. Marshall bashed out two doubles with Murphy and Billingsley having one hit each, the latter's pinch-single in the seventh resulting in the tying run up to that point. Fitzgerald featured in the field with a honey of a running grab in deep right. It could be either Detlor or Billingsley on the home mound when these same squads clash at 6.30 tomorrow eve in Belleville.

Scarboro Scared 'Em

Also a tough tussle in Scarboro last night with the senior "B" Petes just pulling out a 13-10 decision with a late drive. After their soft win against the Grads here last Friday, the Petes felt they could take it a bit easy in Scarboro and save themselves for the scrap they expect tonight in Oshawa. Several didn't make the trip, and Tony Caravaggie was out early with an injured knee. So they had a ding-dong battle right to the final gong before gaining the verdict. All teams in this gutted-stick grouping are tough to take on their own floors. Lou Vitarelli led the snipers.

HITHER AND YAWN: No soccer game tonight as the Petes can't field a team; tomorrow it's Legion vs. O'Halloran's in the Phelan Cup simi-final at 6.30 in King Edward Park....Bantam lacrosse tomorrow eve at 6.30: Kiwanis vs. Clapper's and Montrealers vs. St. Paul's....Other bantam info in tomorrow's paper....Wednesday morn at 10, Rockets and Spitfires play a tadpole tilt and also on Friday p.m. between senior periods; at 11 a.m. tomorrow, Lions and peewee Petes have a game....Bowmanville intermediates beat Port Hope in ball 4-3....East midgets took an 11-8 fray from the westenders....Some Civic Softball League dope in elsewhere tonight....Industrial jousts tonight: Quakers vs. De Laval at Brinton and Woollens vs. Drafting at Woollens....Thursday it's: Quakers vs. Brintons at Brinton and Marl es vs. De Laval at Woollens....Can't think of anything else at the moment.

Red Wings Edge Leafs 3-2 In 14 Innings

By the Associated Press

Max Surkont, 26-year-old veteran righthander of Rochester Red Wings, is earning the nickname of "Ironman Surkont."

He has been involved in five extra inning games this year and has won four of them.

Monday night he reached his peak, beating Toronto Maple Leafs, 3-2 in 14 innings for his eighth victory of the season against five defeats. The victory enabled the Wings to gain a split for the day as the Leafs won the opener, 6-4.

Bobby Young singled home Ed Kazak with the payoff tally in the fifth overtime frame with two out. Young previously had hit an inside-the-park home run.

In the first game, the Leafs came from behind to win, scoring three runs in the seventh inning. Lefty Oscar Judd of Ingersoll, Ont., was credited with the victory, his eighth against two defeats.

Still Ahead

The league-leading Montreal Royals remained 10½ games ahead of the runner-up Newark Bears by dividing a doubleheader with Buffalo Bisons while the Bears split a twin bill with Jersey City Giants.

After Buffalo downed the Royals, 5-1, the Royals came back and won the second game, 6-4. Two-run homers in the second inning by Johnny Groth and Ed Mordarski highlighted the Bison victory. In the second game the Bisons scored two of their runs on Ans Moore's 20th and Chet Laabs' 29th home runs of the season.

After Wes Bailey pitched the Giants to a 5-3 victory, the Bears bounced back and took the second game, 8-7, scoring six runs in the final inning to snap their seven game losing streak.

Al Stringer homered with one on to start the Bears' big frame.

At Syracuse, the Chiefs beat Baltimore Orioles, 7-4. The second game was postponed because of rain.

Little Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., defeated E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Albuquerque, NM, by a single stroke in their special playoff Monday for the first Detroit Open Golf championship.

Hogan had a two over par 73 to Harrison's 74 in the high scoring overtime match, after they had tied at the end of the regulation 72 holes with 275, nine under par.

Ben won $2,600, boosting his season's earnings to $20,197. Harrison collected $1,900 as runner-up. His earnings now total $9,309.

The cream of Canadian net stars will compete in Quebec City next week for the Senior Open Tennis championships of Quebec province. Entries in singles have topped the 100 mark. More than 60 have entered for the men's singles title, now held by top-seeped Henri Rochon of Montreal. A member of Canada's Davis Cup team for the third consecutive year, Rochon will defend the title.

Defending Champion Bobby Gray heads a record entry of 121 golfers—56 amateurs and 65 professionals—in the Ontario open golf championships. The tourney will be played July 8-9 on the tricky Toronto Scarboro course where Gray is professional.

Two Canadian chess aces, combining a holiday with a tournament at Baltimore, Monday settled down with three score players in the 11th open tournament of the United States Chess Federation. Canadians are Osias Bain, 20-year old Quebec City champion and R. B. Hayes, champion of Kitchener. Bain, secretary of the Canadian Chess Federation, is expected to be stiff competition for defending champ Isaac Kashdan of New York city.

The 'Supreme Court" of British handbook betting at London Monday decided Rachael Evans has £41,200 ($165,000) coming to her for her flyer on the 66-1 shot, Regret, in the Manchester Handicap last November. Miss Evans' bookmaker disputed payment of her winnings on a £500 bet.

Navy Doing Its Best

OTTAWA, July 6 — (CP). — Canada's navy is sparing no pains to give Eddie Haddad, Canadian amateur lightweight boxing champion and member of Canada's Olympic boxing team, the best of training before he goes overseas and faces the finest other countries can provide. The 20-year-old Haddad, who leaves for the 1948 Olympic games July 15, will arrive in Halifax shortly to undergo special boxing training under naval sponsorship in HMCS Stadacona, naval headquarters announced today.

Petes Grab An OLA Victory In Tough Fray With Grads

The Petes' lacrossers pulled out a 13-10 victory in Scarboro last night and had to hustle every minute in the see-saw struggle. It was a fast, clean contest but hard-fought from start to finish. Shy a few regulars, the Creighton crew used Tony Caravaggie and he was hurt early in the game and had to retire with a knee injury.

The visitors' final-frame drive gave them the close decision but left them tired for their tough tilt tonight in Oshawa.

Creighton and Fleming drew majors for fighting in the third quarter and Connelly and Gillies were gated for scrapping in the fourth. Otherwise, it was quite clean. Lou Vitarelli sparked the Petes to the win, being in on six goals. Arn Dugan was in on four, while Gordon and Smith were also prominent on the attack. Jeans, Marks, Graham and Rhinehart all looked good for the Grads, who never stopped trying.

The teams:

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The heavy shower that came shortly after 9 o'clock last evening, was just enough to spoil many a game of singles. Had the rain stayed off, the competition would have been down to the eights. As it is now the draw is somewhat stagered and it will hardly be finished on Thursday, July 29.

There was a nice crowd out on Saturday, the biggest so far this season, for the 'family hour' tournament. From the little bits of gossip we could pick up it seems the boys and girls had a swell time.

The winning skips were: H. Wilson, R. Brown and A. Manders.

The ladies' tournament committee has asked us to make this announcement: Will all the ladies who intend playing in Friday's open doubles tournament please make their entry by Thursday night.

Groups No. 1 and No. 2 continue the schedule this evening and just for a change we are going to skip our slogan. The boys have been doing pretty good lately.

No More Races

RIVERSIDE, Calif., July 6.—(AP).—With one dead and 54 arrests in the second outbreak of rowdyism by motorcylists in 11 months, Sheriff Carl F. Rayburn said today he will sponsor no more motorcycle races here. He blamed "a bunch of crazy kids" for two nights of disorder marked by unscheduled street races, popping exhausts, fist fights and drinking.

Citation Keeps Turf Streak At Arlington

NEW YORK, July 6 — (AP).— Incredible Citation became more firmly established Monday as "horse of the year" when Ben Whitaker's My Request, sneaking from the shadow of the Calumet flyer,, put a strong bid in for runner-up honors among the season's three-year-olds.

Citation, having beaten the best of his age in winning the triple crown, took on a formidable field of older stars in the $56,100 Stars and Stripes Handicap at Chicago's Arlington Park and won by two lengths.

The three-year-old sensation tied Armed's mark of 1:49 1/5 for the 1 ⅛-mile route in winning his seventh in a row.

Eddie Arcaro brought the Calumet star home in front of Augustus and Nahm's Eternal Reward and Hal Price Headley's Pellicle, who trailed in that order.

Meanwhile, My Request was showing a return to his spring form at New York's Aqueduct in speeding to an easy victory in the $57,300 Dwyer Stakes..

The third big event of the day's program, the $50,000 American Handicap at Hollywood Park, saw an outsider, Harry Warner's Stepfather, run off with the big purse. The favored On Trust, with the former Alberta jockey, Johnny Longden, up, registered third behind Bert Baroni's Autocrat.

My Request, looking every inch a champion, streaked the 1¼-mile route in 2:02, just three-fifths of a second off the track record. He beat King Ranch's Better Self by four lengths with Alfred Vanderbilt's Loser Weeper, a 50-1 shot, coming in third.

Blames Mountbatten

LONDON, July 6.— (AP). — Ghulam Mohamed, finance minister of Pakiston, accused Earl Mountbatten Monday of being chiefly responsible for the disorders which followed the partition of India last year. Thousands of persons were killed in the communal rioting. The office of commonwealth relations Monday night denied Mohamed's allegation.

Plan Operetta

HALIFAX (CP).—An operetta in connection with the city's 20th birthday in 1949 will be sponsored by the Canadian Legion. Will R. Bird prepared the script and Trevor Jones the score. Both are residents of Halifax.

IN ON SIX — Lou Vitarelli starred on the attack for the Petes' lacrossers in Scarboro last night, being in on six goals as they took a 13-10 win in a hard-fought fixture.

Tiger Uprising Smashes Tribe Hopes For Twin Bill

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves will meet in the world series next October if the old baseball axiom, "the team in first place on July 4 wins the pennant," hold true this year.

The end of the holiday activities today finds the Indians still pacing the American League by one full game and the Braves on top in the National by two lengths.

The Indians were held even in their doubleheader with the Tigers in Cleveland Monday, but lost no ground to their closest pursuers as the second-place Philadelphia Athletics also split a twin bill and the third-place New York Yankees were handed a rousing double defeat by the Red Sox in Boston.

The Indians appeared on their way to a double victory before 59,042 fans. They had won the opener, 6-3 for Bobby Lemon's 12th triumph, and were leading 4-2 entering the eight inning of the nightcap. Then came the Tiger uprising. Eddie Lake smashed a home run to send Sam Zoldak to the showers in favor of Bob Feller. Feller walked two batters then threw a home run ball to Pat Mullin which turned the tide and gave the Tigers a 7-5 victory.

A bright spot for Cleveland was Ken Keltner's two home runs which put him on top in the league in that department once again with 19.

Bounce Back

Held to six hits and defeated 3-1 by Mickey Haefner and the Senators in Washington, the Athletics bounced back in the second game, mauling five Washington pitchers for 14 hits and a 12-5 triumph. The split left the A's still one game behind the Tribe.

Bobby Doerr clouted three home runs, two in the second game, as the Red Sox topped the Yankees twice 6-5 and 8-7. In the nightcap a single by Matt Batts, a sacrifice, and Dom DiMaggio's single broke up the game in the ninth.

Chicago White Sox took both ends of a doubleheader from St. Louis 3-2 and 5-4. Cash Michael's single with the bases loaded in the last half of the 13th inning scored Jack Wallaesa with the winning run in the nightcap. Floyd Baker's single scored the deciding run in the first game.

After losing a heart-breaking 6-5 decision in 13 innings, the Braves bounced back to whip the Giants 4-1. However, they lost a full game to St. Louis Cardinals who moved past Pittsburgh into second place, two games behind the Braves, by sweeping a doubleheader from Chicago Cubs 6-3 and 5-2.

Johnny Sain went all the way in the opener.. He was swinging along on a 5-3 lead with two out in the ninth when Sid Gordon cracked his 18th home run of the season with one aboard to force the game into extra innings. Les Layton's double, and a single by Bobby Thomson broke up the game in the 13th.

Three Homers

Ralph Kiner belted three home runs in the first game for the Pirates who split with Cincinnati winning the first 10-3, and losing the second 6-4. He batted in five runs. The Reds rallied for three runs in the ninth to salvage the second game.

Gerry Staley, who had not won a game all season, received credit for both Cardinal victories, in relief. The second game was halted after 5½ innings by rain.

Rex Barney pitched the second complete game of his big league career as Brooklyn Dodgers joined the Phillies in both ends of a Philadelphia doubleheader 4-3 and 10-1.

Hustons Plan To Make Film Family Affair

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 6 (AP) — The talented Hustons have hopes of teaming up on a movie that would be a strictly family affair.

Evelyn Keyes (Mrs. John Huston) tells me that her director-husband is scouting scripts for a feature which would star her and his parents, Walter Huston and Nan Sunderland. John, who is a good actor himself, would direct the film.

Too Hot

Love scenes of Ava Gardner and Robert Taylor in the "Bribe" were too hot for the Hollywood censors. The scene-snippers decreed the romancing had to played in dressing robes instead of bathing suits Too much flesh on the screen.

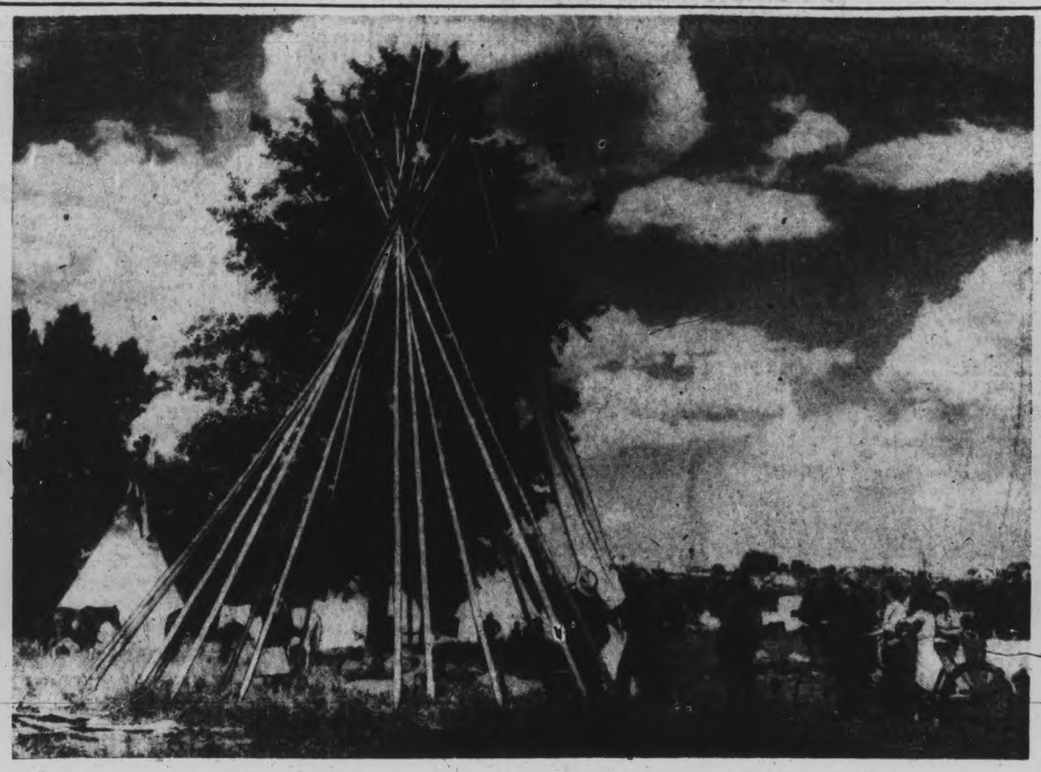
Broderick Crawford is well prepared in case of an actors' strike. He has done six pictures since returning from the service and all are unreleased. His latest is "Last of the Bad Men."

Lana Turner, Deborah Kerr and Ava Gardner are being mulled for the lead opposite Gregory Peck in "The Gambler," which gives you an idea of how highly M-G-M thinks of Greg.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

Cornel Wilde limping around "The Lovers" set with an ankle he sprained on a loose stone in his back yard...Margaret O'Brien enduring summer school to make up for time lost on her European trip...Richard Greene appearing in the studio lunch room in hair curlers for his "The O'Flynn' role...

Sir Ralph Richardson letting out an unknightly "peep" as a vocal tune-up before "The Heiress" scenes...Mary Hatcher trying out the bowling alley in her new home...Anne Baxter attired as a rugged pistol packin' Mama for "Yellow Sky"...



WOEFUL SHORTAGE of rooms as tens of thousands of visitors pour into Calgary for the annual stampede which opened yesterday was no problem to the Indians. They quickly put up their teepees Saturday within a stone's throw of the bucking broncs. Braves did the work under the direction of the Indian women.

JACK JENSEN, University of California star fullback, is shown with Zoe Ann Olsen, Oakland, Calif., swimming and diving star, after he greeted her with a kiss on her return from San Diego, Calif., where she won two diving titles. Jensen said that he and Zoe Ann are "going steady."

U.S. Rejects Entry Of Winnipeg's Dubois

PHILADELPHIA, July 6 (AP) —The executive committee of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen announced Monday that it has rejected the entry of Theo Dubois of Winnipeg for the United States Olympic rowing tryouts at Princeton, N.J., starting next Thursday.

Dubois won the Canadian singles Olympic tryouts two weeks ago and then as United States National titleholder, forwarded his entry to John Kelly, Sr., for defence of his singles crown at Princeton.

Rejection of Dubois' entry was based on the fact that it was received five days after the entries had closed, the committee said.

Crippled Children Survey Planned

A survey to locate all crippled children in the Peterborough district is to be made by the Rotary Club next September. This was announced by Dr. Russell Morgan giving the report of the crippled children's committee at the Rotary luncheon on Monday at the Empress Hotel.

The purpose of the survey is to assist the club in giving help to crippled children, without particular emphasis on orthopaedic cases as in the past. Dr. Morgan said that prepaid hospital care and the activities of other organizations was reducing the amount of work and financial responsibility of Rotary.

W. J. Hamilton presided at the meeting at which a technicolor film "Search Unending," which told the story of oil exploration in Canada, was shown.

CCF Members Hold Caucus

TORONTO, July 6. (CP)—CCF members elected to the Ontario Legislature in the June 7 election Monday held their first caucus and later issued a statement saying a fall session of the legislature "is urgently necessary."

Replacing the Liberal party as the opposition in the Ontario House, the CCF charged that since the election Premier Drew's Progressive Conservative government "has done little except take a prolonged holiday."

"In the meantime the housing shortage grows steadily worse, a most serious hydro shortage is expected this winter, further riots have occurred in reform institutions, and the report of the Royal Commission on education is still shrouded in secrecy, more than a year after the Commission completed its hearings.

"The government ought to face the new legislature on these and other issues, to give an accounting and offer any solutions it may have in mind . . ."

2 Anglers Catch Muskies Same Time In Same Boat

HAVELOCK, July 6—(ENS) —William White and Jack Herman had an unusual fishing experience Friday at Round lake when each hooked a muskie at the same moment while fishing from the same boat.

They thought at first that they had entangled each other's lines. However, when they became aware that a large fish was on each line a battle ensued on each side of the boat which lasted for half an hour.

Both fish were taken to Peterborough to be entered in the fish derby. The one caught by Mr. Herman weighed 14 pounds 14 ounces, while Mr. White's tipped in at 13 pounds 4 ounces.

The officer in charge of the weighing-in at Peterborough informed them that their catch was a "wee bit too light in weight" as he had an entry over 15 pounds.

Mr. White replied, "all right we'll go and get you a muskie that will be a wee bit over that weight," and true to his word, he landed one early Sunday morning inn the same wateer after a fight of 45 minutes when Mr. Herman hooked it into the boat. The weight and measurements of this fish are: weight 19 pounds, 6 ounces; length, 43¾ inches; girth, 17 inches.

On the same trip these men also caught an eight pound muskie.

Permit Granted Used Car Lot On Stewart St.

Permission to Wm. J. Hickey to conduct a used car sales lot on the east side of Stewart St., immediately north of the service station at the Charlotte St. corner, was granted by the council Monday night in accordance wih a report from the town planning committe which discussed the application and a protesting petition at a meeting during the afternoon.

The report from the planning committee was: "That the council be informed that under present zoning proposals the use of the lot as requested by Mr. Hickey is permissible, and that unless this area is changed from a "commercial 2" area to a "residential" area, as a result of the city council and town planning board acceding to a proper petition presented by the residents of the area, its use for this purpose and other commercial purposes may be continued indefinitely.

Precise Zoning Questioned

It transpired at the afternoon session of the planning committe that most of its attending members were hazy about precise zoning of the property along the east side of Stewart St., north of Charlotte St. Scrutiny of two zoning maps found that the Aylmer, Charlotte, Stewart and Hunter St. block is described as a "commercial 2" area. That designation applies only to the east of Stewart St.

Up to that point of discussion, there was a persisting opinion that the commercial area on Stewart St. stopped at the north side of the service station lot (at the northeast corner of Charlotte and Stewart streets). But, first one map and then a second carried the commercial strip all the way up to the south side of Hunter St.

Mr. Hickey told the committee the lot he was interested in was owned by the oil company that built the corner service station, and that it was their intention eventually but indefinitely to occupy both lots. The north half has been vacant and neglected since the old house, once used by the Children's Aid Society, was torn down.

Put Up A Residence

"If the company wanted to move onto the north half," said Hubert Sills, "we would have to tell them they would have to put a residence on it, if that is residential property in zoning."

The evidence of the several zoning maps cancelled any objection to Mr. Hickey's application from zoning considerations.

The commercial-2 rating on the map was further defined as being suitable for "petty trade and warehousing."

"If this application does not come under that designation, I don't know what does," Mr. Sills remarked.

Finally, the committee with James Dutton presiding drafted their report to the council, as requested last week, and they amplified it with the observation that the commercial rating of that side of Stewart St. will continue indefinitely if it is not changed.

The granting of a temporary permit to Mr. Hickey was moved in council by Ald. Gordon Armstrong, seconded by Ald. Max Swanston.

Ald. Doug Miller, referring to the temporary condition, said Mr. Hickey planned to spend up to $900 on improvement of the lot, and should have some protection from the council. "It could possibly be decided next week or next month that he could not use the lot for sale of cars. I don't think that is quite fair."

Ald. Armstrong said that all permits granted by the council were subject to being revoked at any time.

Council Deducts $6,000 From Fees of Architects

City Council is deducting $6,000 from the fees of the architects of Civic Hospital, W. and W. R. L. Blackwell and Govan and Ferguson, of Toronto, as recommended to by a special committee on Monday night.

The finding of the committee was presented by its chairman, Ald. Dick Raine. Representatives of the council, board of governors of the hospital, Eastwood Construction Co. and the architects. They were called together to try to determine responsibility "for alleged delay in the construction program of the hospital, on the basis of which delay the contractor is seeking an additional fee, together with an additional fee for the addition in the area of the building."

The $6,000 is to be paid to the contractor.

The council adopted the Raine recommendation as follows:

"That this committee is of the opinion that the responsibility for the delay in the construction program of the Peterborough Civic Hospital can be attributed largely to the failure of the architect to deliver the necessary plans as required, and that the architect be required to reimburse the Corporation of the City of Peterborough by the sum of $6,000, which sum will be deducted from the architects' fees paid by the city. The sum of $6,000 being the estimate of the cost to the contractor because of the delay caused to him in carrying out the general contract for the construction of the hospital building.

"That the contractor be reimbursed by the sum of $6,647.04 for the increased cubic addition to the Peterborough Civic Hospital."

Health Service Amalgamation

Discussion of a proposed agreement for the amalgamation of Peterborough municipal and school health services has been traversed to the fall.

Mr. D. V. Canning, chairman of the Board of Education, in a letter to the council Monday night corrected the council's recent impression that the draft agreement carried Board assent. His communication explained that the Board of Education "has not yet considered the agreement in detail, and that it was sent to the council for their consideration and comments with a view to a later discussion between the council, the Board of Health and the Board of Education."

Separate School Board

Mr. Canning wrote that these bodies were interested in the progress of any negotiations that may be being carried on with the Separate School Board "which must be considered in any overall amalgamation of services. Our school doctor and nursing staff are on vacation for the next two months, so that any amalgamation for the combining of services in September would be difficult, if not impossible, to make."

Mayor Ovens made the only comment that "there will have to be considerable work done before we can proceed with combined health services."

This project of joint health service in the city under the Board of Health has been marking time for some years. It is now deferred until sometime after August.

Tourists Spending Freely But They Are Good Buyers

American tourists are spending fairly freely so far this summer, but only to buy the things they need, a survey of several representative Peterborough merchants showed today. The retailers believe the tourist trade is not likely to increase much over last year.

Despite a busy week-end, they expect sales will increase in August. "Most of the Americans here now are here to fish. They buy a little on their way home, but not as much as the ones who stay here three and four weeks," said one retailer.

"The sale of fishing licenses is a pretty good indication of the tourist trade," said a hardware merchant. "It's heavy right now, but not much more so than last year. However, I have noticed that the bank comments on the amount of American money I bring in."

V. A Selkirk, merchant, said: "The Americans are spending freely to buy what they want. They aren't throwing any money away. Monday was our heavy day here."

The manager of one jewellery store is happy about the way Americans are buying. "I had heard they were just looking. But when they started to come in here, we found out they were really buying. If we had more stock, we could sell it."

Outboard Marine Plans Addition

"We have plans made and are contemplating building an addition to our Monaghan Road plant, and should our present plans be carried out, operations at plant 2 would either cease or be confined to storage of materials only."

This is a quotation from a letter by Hy Wood, vice-president in charge of manufacturing, Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Co., replying to neighborhood complaints to the council of noise at the company's plant on George St., north of Romaine St.

Mr. Wood's letter was in part: "There is no exhaust noise from the engines running in the plant. With considerable difficulties this noise was eliminated about a year and a half ago. Noise now is purely mechanical, caused by the moving parts of the engines themselves and is in no way caused by combustion."

"We are willing to do anything in our power to reduce the present condition, although we do not think that as it is it should be objectionable, as all manufacturing plants do make a certain amount of noise, which can in no way be overcome."

"I have arranged with the plant superintendent not to run the engines later than 6 p.m. unless in the odd case where a shipment has to be made, and a short period of overtime is unavoidable."

"We are sorry that the above are the only solutions that we can offer at the present time. We have no desire to annoy anyone, and we shall do everything we can to improve coditions."

New York Couple Cruise The Trent

The first travellers from the little port of Peconic, New York, to make the Trent Waterway trip are Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Newell. Their cabin-cruiser, the Crafty II, reached Lakefield Monday night. They are continuing up the lakes to Georgian Bay today.

Mr. Newell said that their trip had been "wonderful—we have enjoyed it very much."

Explaining that they were the first from their organization of holiday-boaters from their port to make this trip, they said "the others back home" will be waiting for their report on the Trent. Indications were that they would have a glowing story to bring back.

Body Recovered From Rice Lake

GORE'S LANDING, July 6 — (ENS) — The body of Kenneth Doran of Toronto, drowned Saturday night at Gore's Landing, was washed up on shore at 7.30 this morning three-quarters of a mile from the scene of the accident. The body was found by Mr. and Mrs. R. Fearles of Rivercrest Camp.

Provincial police from Cobourg and game warden Vic Harris dragged all Monday until dark. They believed by that time that the body was floating. The body was taken to Cobourg today.

Electrical Storm Sweeps District

Monday's violent electrical storm which started with distant thunder at 7 o'clock, reached full fury about two hours later, with brilliant and constant electrical display, thunder and driving rain. Only one-tenth of an inch of rain fell according to the official weather gauge. Lightning threw out voltage cutouts twice at the filtration plant for a fraction of a second. There was a little hail mixed with the first deluge which flattened some standing grain throughout the district. Two young Toronto ladies visiting friends at Stony Lake, stayed overnight at the Juniper Island store rather than risk a boat trip in the dark on water that was not familiar to them.

New Officers Lions Club Installed By Governor

About 50 members of the Lions Club were present at the regular fortnightly meeting on Monday evening to witness the installation of officers for the 1948-49 season and hear reports on the recent Porcupine convention.

Stanley A. Darling, first Peterborough Lion ever to be elected District Governor of District A-3, and also chairman of the Board of Governors for District A, presided at the installation ceremony.

Members of the executive who were present and sworn into their new offices were: Simpson Gledhill, president; Bert Sisson, 2nd vice-president; Ronald MacGee, secretary; Geddes Harper, tail twister; James Laidlaw, lion tamer, and directors, James Dutton, Jr., Robert Gibbons and James McCulloch.

Mr. Gledhill accepted the gavel and expressed appreciation to members for their confidence. "It is a well-known fact that no skipper of any vessel ever took his ship from one port to another single handed. So it is with Lionism."

And he added, "with your support I shall try to carry on in the tradition of Lionism."

As he vacated the president's chair, immediate past-president Patrick D. Scollard congratulated the new executive and thanked last year's directors for their support.

Secretary MacGee then gave a detailed report of the four-day Porcupine convention held recently. Gordon Shier and Mr. Scollard also gave brief resumes of their trip to that convention and some of the outstanding events.

An international touch was added to the gathering when three American guests were introduced. They were Paul G. Plank and Paul Wertenberger, both members of the Crestion, Ohio Lions Club, and William Hattrick from Rhode Island, New York, who invited local Lions to visit the International convention later in July.

Albert Croasdale, instructor of the PCVS Instrumental Band was guest of Lloyd McClure, and he entertained with a number of piano solos.

Jack Duncan boosted Robert Marston and the draw prize was won by Bert Sisson. It was announced that the next meeting would be the second Monday in August at Riverside Park.

A 100 per cent attendance pin was given to Lion (Mac) McIntosh, who returned to the club after a lengthy illness.

W. C. Fleming Dies In Buffalo

William Carleton (Bill) Fleming formerly of Peterborough and who had been associated with outdoor carnival business for the past 40 years died in Buffalo on June 26. He was one of the most widely-known general agents in the show business and for the past five seasons was associated with the James E. Strates shows. Previous to that he was with several carnival companies in the United States. A friend in Peterborough W. F. Turner, received a letter from him in May in which he spoke of his continuing good health. He was buried in Buffalo on June 30.

Traffic Normal

MONTREAL, July 6.—(CP)—Traffic returned to normal on the Lachine canal Monday night after repairmen, working feverishly, fixed a broken lock-gate. The break tied up traffic on the canal from 1.45 a.m. to 6.30 p.m. About 20 inland vessels were held up while repairs were completed.

Plane Destroyed In Take-off At Bridgenorth

Three American tourists had a narrow escape from death on Monday, when the aircraft in which they were intending to return home after a week-end at Bridgenorth crashed on take-off.

The three men, Harry Fisher, Ralph Kroll and Robert Kroll, all of Butler, Pa., flew up to Ross Mitchell's Holiday Haven at Bridgenorth on Friday and landed in a field of Joseph Mann in Smith township. When taking off to return home on Monday, they failed to gain sufficient height to clear the tops of some cedar trees and crashed. The plane, a Stinson Voyager, was almost completely destroyed.

Mr. Fisher, who was piloting, was badly cut about the face and had to be taken to Peterborough Civic Hospital, where he had several stitches. The two passengers escaped uninjured, except for a bruise suffered by Mr. Ralph Kroll.

Floating Bridge Closed To All Traffic

Motorists travelling into the Lake region by way of Ennismore will now have to travel around Lake Chemong instead of across it. In order to facilitate the building of the new causeway a portion of the floating bridge has been removed.

On Monday when the bridge was closed a certain amount of confusion prevailed because no signs had been posted warning motorists of the fact. J. D. Kean, county engineer, said he was under the impression at the time that signs were available but learned later there were none. He said notices would be prominently displayed at the Lindsay highway turnoff, Bridgenorth and also at Fowler's Corners, as soon as possible.

A number of motorists were inconvenienced on Monday when they drove to the bridge only to learn that it was no longer open and they were forced to drive back and continue their journey along Highway No. 7.

Now that the bridge is out it will add about eight miles to the journey into Ennismore. Eventually the floating bridge will be replaced by the $233,000 causeway, work on which began last week.

Study Old Rock In Ottawa River

Dr. V. B. Mean and technician A. H. Crook of the department of Geology and Mineralogy, Royal Ontario Museum, made a short stop in Peterborough on Monday on their trip from Toronto to the upper waters of the Ottawa River, via Pembroke. Their first field examination will be at the new Des Joachims power project where the river bed had been diverted, leaving the old rock layers exposed for the first time in centuries.

This is one of the many field trips made by Dr. Mean during the past several years. This year for the first time a neat panel truck to carry camping gear is being used. He explained that rock samples which he will take from the Ottawa river bed will be shipped to various museums throughout the world for show specimens and study. It is this method of exchange between museums that enable each to acquire growing collections. From the Ottawa River the party will spend some time in the new uranium field at Wilberforce to prospect for rock samples for the Royal Ontario Museum and other establishments.

CAR IN LAKE

Police are wondering today how a car apparently drove itself into Clear Lake as it was standing in the parking lot of an hotel there. The car, that of Roy McGregor, Burleigh Falls, went in last night. The lot is on a slight grade and the vehicle went through a set of rails and overturned into the lake. It is being lifted out today

CLEAR OUT WADING POOL

Although plans for opening the Lions wading pool at Lions-Riverside Park suffered a temporary set back when the contractor became ill, the project has not been abandoned. Tonight and Wednesday night, work parties from the local club equipped in bathing togs and wielding rakes and shovels will clear out some of the stones that have accumulated on the floor of the pool.

Rent By Month City's Stores

City council is being introduced to the responsibility of custodian of public property assumed from the City Trust Commission.

The method of their stewardship is suggested in the following items in the property committee report by Ald. Gordon Armstrong last night:

"That repairs be made to the city-owned buildings on Water St. north and Mill St., recommended by the city clerk and assistant building inspector; and that when these repairs are made the city clerk make an application to have the rents of these properties increased since the present rents do not provide an economic return on the properties.

That the city clerk endeavor to submit a complete report on the Ashburnham properties, particularly dealing with the request of Mr. Armitage in respect to his store premises.

That as leases expire on the commercial properties in the market block, these leases be not renewed, but the tenants be continued on a month to month basis, and that the city clerk bring in a recommendation on the rentals to be charged for those commercial properties which are not under lease.

That as city owned properties become vacant from time to time, they city clerk advertise them for rent, and that he submit all offers received to this committee for decision.

Owing to the death of R. J. Kearns, the office of Superior Letter Service will be closed until Monday.

Committee Vote 5-4 Favor Of Gas Stations

The proposed 10 p.m. closing of all gasoline stations received tentative approval of the council in committee of the whole Monday night qualified by the rider that the petitioning service station operators be asked to clarify the terms of emergency road service.

James Robbins, of Toronto, representing the Provincial Dealers' Association, told the committee that nothing in the bylaw prevented any service station from providing road service at any hour, but their pumps would have to closed from 10 p.m. until 7 a.m.

The vote in committee of the whole was 5-4 with two members absent.

Mayor Ovens explained at one stage that the meeting was arranged as a discussion between the council and operating petitioners who have asked for the restrictive selling bylaw. Independent dealers who were briefly heard were John Russelle, George St. North, and Jack Thompson, who recently opened a service station at George and Rink Sts.

The general phases of the bylaw were reported a week ago with the emphasis then presented relating to the provincial legislation requiring a municipal council to pass that type of bylaw if it was sufficiently signed. At that time it was reported that 42 of 47 dealers had signed the petition, and Ald. Grant Miller last night was informed by the deputation that there were no defections from their appeal, that they were still unanimous in asking the council to enact the closing hours.

Took Care Of Business

Mr. Robbins said that the bylaw took care of all reasonable business up to 10 p.m. "The demand of the public is looked after, and there is no trouble about the tourist business because they usually know where they are going and what they need to get there. Sometimes the difficult customer is the man who lives near a service station and waits until the last minute to get a gallon of gasoline to go to the picture show."

The Toronto bylaw sets the hours of sale from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. "If anything happens to the interior working of a car," said Mr. Robbins, "licensed service stations with skilled mechanical help, are permitted to send out equipment, gas or make a tow. The service can be given and is now. Our dealers consider that the business after 10 p.m. is negligible an dare not worrying about it. As far as garages go, they can stay open 24 hours if they wish, providing there is no bylaw relating to them. But, they must comply with the Shop and Factory Act."

Mr. Russelle declared that a representative of the dealer organization threatened him that he would be out of business in six weeks if he didn't join. To that Mr. Robbins said: "If that is correct I'd fire that man tomorrow."

Mr. Thompson intimated that he was rapidly developing his new business and would like to carry on as at present. His station was near the George St. wharf, and he had been asked to keep available a hose line for launches docking there after hours. His answer was that he would be glad to supply the service, but at present he was uncertain about the hours that were going to be in effect.

It was said in the discussion that the majority of the dealers are faced with requirements of oil companies to keep stations open around the clock, compelling employment not warranted by business. For that reason they are invoking the provincial legislation for a local regulating bylaw.

M. E. Knox Trophy Given Gordon Burns

Last event in the basketball season at the Y.M.C.A. was the presentation on Monday evening to Gordon Burns of the M. E. Knox Trophy for foul shooting.

Bill Edger won this trophy last year when he tossed 40 fouls out of 50 tries. This year, Gordon Burns did even better by tossing 45 out of 50. Harold Grafstein was second with a very fine 43 for 50.

The trophy was put up for competition two years ago, after the Outboard Marines lost to Ottawa in their bid for the Canadian championship and blamed their loss on poor foul shooting.

COLORFUL OPPORTUNITIES—People who get fun out of life like to get fun out of fashion, too. For them the new Spring 1948 collection of scarves will have a special appeal. It overflows with the kind of charm that makes you chuckle while you admire the artistry of the design and the beauty of the coloring. New shapes and new uses for scarves are introduced in this collection. The vogue for tying a bright scarf in a bow under the collars of coats, suits and dresses has prompted this designer to print some of his designs on rectangles instead of squares and avoid that point sticking out at the back when the scarf is folded. Oversize ascots and four-in-hands are introduced to be worn instead of a blouse or tied under collars. The scarf pictured above is more on the classic design than the conventional. It is made in six pastel shades with contrasting overprint of conventional motif.

At inset yoke at the neckline was lace trimmed and the sleeves were long, coming to points at the wrist. YW Summer Plan For Girls in City

Miss Annabeth Riedel of the YWCA staff has arranged a varied program of summer fun so that girls who have to remain in the city may enjoy the pleasures of outdoor life too. Whether they like to swim, bike, hike or just eat outside and laze under the trees, they can join the camp.

Girls of 14 to 19 can prepare something they like to drink and meet at the Y Thursdays about 5:30 for an outdoor supper with perhaps a program to follow. They will reach their destination by hiking or biking and have a swim before eating. Younger girls from 12 to 14 will be able to enjoy a similar outing on Tuesdays from 9:30 to 3 o'clock but must bring their own lunch.

Relaxation for the business girl is arranged for the first and third Wednesday at 8 p.m. Those who wish to go on these trips should contact Misses Donna White or Mary Bolton.

Twenty Plus Club offers a schedule for boys and girls that is most pleasing. Mondays at seven there is softball in King Edward Park, and Wednesdays a splash party at Inverlea. On Saturday evenings there are picnics, dancing or other activities.

Why 88% of Mothers prefer Heinz Baby Foods

37% choose them for QUALITY

Over three hundred mothers, questioned in a recent survey, voted almost 9 to 1 in favour of Heinz Baby Foods. They gave their reasons. Many chose Heinz because of a doctor's recommendation . . . sure proof of safeguarded quality. Others chose Heinz Baby Foods for their newest babies because their older children had thrived on them. They knew from experience how nourishing these foods are. Still others like the flavour. They had taste-tested Heinz Baby Foods themselves.

But whatever the reason, mothers are wise in their preference. Heinz Baby Foods are all that baby foods should be. All 25 varieties of Heinz Baby Foods—soups, meat products, vegetables, puddings and desserts—are carefully selected from the choicest, freshest foods. Six Rules for Happiness Stress Love, Mutual Faith

This is the month when wedding bells are ringing a merry roundelay and when everybody, even those who have been repeaters in the divorce court, feels called upon to give wise counsel to the newlyweds on how to be happy though married. Probably it does no harm for good advice is one of the things that we never take, and, anyway, any bridal couple would scoff at the idea that they needed any suggestions about how to keep off of each other's toes. They are so certain that they will never do anything but bill and coo and "yes darling" each other.

Dorothy Dix

Now the most important thing in the lives of every man and woman is how to make their marriage a success and to keep eating out of each other's hands. So far it has been as much a mystery as how to construct an atomic bomb, but here and there a couple have pulled off the stunt and they are generous enough to give their recipe to this column, for free.

And a woman did it. Ha! think that! She writes: "Before we were married my husband and I made six rules to guide our domestic life. Number One was: Don't make marriage a 50-50 proposition. Put all you have into it. Don't just make excuses for each other's faults. Love them because they are Tom's or Sally's. Plan together. Work together. Laugh together. Cry together. Nothing is hard to do or endure if there is another shoulder helping you to bear it.

Magic In Love

"Number Two: Give yourself with your gift. There is a selfishness far worse than being stingy about the tangible wants of our husbands and wives. It is the deliberate withholding of the loving words, the sunny smiles, the warm kisses, the sympathy and understanding that never fail. No matter what the bankers say, the most valuable thing on earth is still love. And it is the greatest magic. It is the thing that makes a homely woman beautiful, takes the sting out of poverty, and the more you give, the greater the supply.

"Number Three: Pray together. Perhaps marriages aren't made in Heaven, but it is certainly a safe place to keep them. No husband and wife who pray together ever get far from God.

"Number Four: Be amiable. Be jolly. Keep your troubles to yourself and divide your laughs with your husband. Men have plenty of worries in their business without having their wives add to them by grouching over the price of meat, or telling how bad the children have been. The difference between a marriage that is just an endurance test and one that is a bit of Heaven on earth is whether the wife is a smiler or not.

"Number Five: Remember that after marriage the wife has to do the love-making. Don't scrimp on it. Keep telling your husband how handsome and wonderful he is and how you appreciate all of his goodness to you. Few men will admit to being romantic, but they all gobble up sweet talk, and ask for more.

"Number Six: Don't believe that marriage kills love. It is only the wives who rat on their jobs as wives who kill their husbands' love. But the good wife becomes a part of her husband's very life blood and he loves her more every day."

The woman who has worked out this schedule for making a happy marriage says it always works. Who can doubt it?

Request Women Be Given Chance

LONDON, July 6 (AP). — The Lambeth Conference was asked today to give women equal status with men in the ministry of the Anglican Church.

The Conference of Anglican Churchmen has power to recommend but not to impose changes on its constituent churches. It has been called to study church doctrine in the light of current trends.

The appeal was made by the Anglican group for the ordination of women to the ministry in a memorial proposing a "ministry of men and women merged into a common priesthood and a common diaconate."

"Women have a distinctive contribution to make to the church," the memorial declared. "The church has great need of this contribution and in these days of recurrent crisis, the matter is one of great urgency.

"It seems to us irreverent to refuse to test a woman's claim to have received a call from the Holy Spirit of God, while accepting assurances to that effect from candidates who are male."

Honor Minister On Birthday

NORWOOD, July 6—(ENS)—A social evening to celebrate the birthday of Rev. R. Dick was held at the Baptist parsonage last week.

The rooms looked lovely with baskets of pink and white peonies and roses.

There were several contests after which the women served lunch in the dining room. The lace-covered table was centred with pink and white roses, the gift of the Indian River women. There were two large birthday cakes with candles. Mrs. Pettersen and Mrs. Will Hubble poured tea, assisted in serving by Mrs. Doug Baker, Mrs. Jim Dallman, and the Misses Audrey McKay and Sonja Pettersen. Before supper Mr. Dick was presented with a fountain pen, a gift of the Baptist congregation. Mrs. Doug Baker made the presentation.

After lunch Mr. Roy Nevins, chairman of the deacons' board, gave the toast.

Indian Woman's Garb Brings Color To Courts

LONDON, July 6 (Reuters). — Britain's only Indian woman lawyer, 27-year-old Kamila Tyabji of Bombay, has introduced brilliant silken saris to the sombre monotones of London's solemn law courts, and been applauded for it.

Dignified lawyers in the council chamber first gasped at her unique appearance in her own traditional robes under barrister's long curly, grey wig and black gown.

"But we unanimously approve: she lends a splash of color," said one eminent lawyer.

Miss Tyabji, who bears make-up, brilliant red nail varnish on her long pointed nails, costume jewelry and high heels, said: "I will never, never discard the sari. It is the most beautiful dress for a woman. For that reason I cannot understand the Indian women who do."

For career women anywhere, she advocates:

"Look after your appearance. Many intellectual women only look after their intellects. Womanly qualities are as important as intellects."

As to politics, she says:

"I was very opposed to the partition of India but now there are two separate Dominions I cannot feel that the interests of either one of them can be opposed to the other and I feel both need all the help they can possibly get for their internal development."

Miss Tyabji has written a book entitled "Limited Interests in Mohammedan Law" for which she had read Arabic books written 400 to 500 years ago. When she gets it published she will submit it to Oxford University to decide if she will receive the degree of doctor of civil law or not.

If she does, she will be the first Indian woman to receive it and the youngest woman ever.

It is not surprising that Miss Tyabji took up law. It runs in her family. Her grandfather — Badruddin Tyabji—was the first Moslem lawyer in British India and the first to be appointed a high court judge. Her father was also a high court judge and his book on Mohammedan law is frequently quoted in the Privy Council.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

For Wednesday, July 7

Under the very potent stimuli of a Martian impulse, it is probable that definite advance may be made in tackling deep-laid plots and illicit schemes or unfavorable entanglements. Bringing such treacheries of snares out into the open, with aggressive action, strenuous efforts and powerful methods should result in some very concrete accomplishments. Well-planned objectives, vigorously prosecuted, with energy, firmness and forthright blows might be sensationally successful even though there might be need for change of plans or tactics.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may prepare for a year of concentrated action, with a marshalling of the forces and faculties in a plan of action aimed at shattering some sinister campaign of trickery, intrigue or entangling alliances, of subtle and undercover design and intent. An aggressive and strenuous assault upon this with force, initiative and straightforward blows, may bring about surprising denouements. Fresh tactics may attract new assets or resources with telling force and happy reactions or private relations as well. Promotion is in sight.

A child born on this day will have energy, initiative, special skills and talents for an active and aggressive career, with quick advancement or accomplishment.

Many In District At Garden Party

BONARLAW, July 6—(ENS)—The annual garden party sponsored by St. Mark's WA was held Friday evening on the church lawn. The grounds were decorated with red, white and blue streamers and union jacks and were well lighted. With tables and chairs spread generously over the spacious grounds the whole presented a gala appearance. The weather was ideal and as the attendance was large booths did a flourishing business.

Throughout the evening the Morgan Ames Hawaiian group furnished music.

Prior to the social, a ball game was played on the diamond south of the church, Minto vs Bonarlaw, the visitors losing heavily to the home team. The umpire was Harry Neal of Marmora.

A large number from Marmora, Springbrook and the surrounding district attended.

Show Silk Lames In French Display

MONTREAL, July 6 (CP). — Rich damask fabrics and silk lames with more than 20 per cent silver and gold threads running through the materials were displayed here recently when a 150-year-old French firm held its first North American press showing since before the war.

Hundreds of samples, including more than a dozen dress lengths of plain and woven patterned fabrics, moires, taffetas and faille were shown. Some of the cloths were hand-woven, and a skilled weaver can produce about one yard a day. Fabrics of this type retail up to $10 a yard. Most of the range, however, was substantially lower.

Many of the secret weaving processes used in Lyons, famous centre of fine textiles, have remained unchanged for 400 years since King Francis I granted special privileges to a small group of weavers.

The collection shown in Montreal includes satins for bridal gowns with floral designs woven in self and metallic threads. There were fine tissues especially adaptable for negligee and others for fur coat linings.

MOST POPULOUS STATE

New York is the most populous state in the United States, followed by Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio and California, in that order.

10-Year-Old English Girl Seeks Job for "Daddy"

EDMONTON, July 6 (CP). — Although currency restrictions have forced a delay in Albert's scheme of mass immigration from Britain, the government has produced evidence that interest in Alberta extends to the very young in the Old Country.

Ten-year-old Valerie May Clifford of Wallisdown, a suburb of Bournemouth, has written asking the government to find a sawyer's job for her daddy.

Valerie's spelling was only fair —like most 10-year-old's—but she put the point across, and Ralph Moore, deputy-minister of economic affairs, has written to say that he will do what he can.

The young public relations expert wrote:

"I am writing to ask if you will please get my daddy a job in your town as a sawyer.

Mummy and Me, Too

"Daddy has tried to get to Canada by Ontario emigration but the age groups are 40. Daddy is 42. He is a sawyer and is not afraid of hard work. He has been a sawyer for 22 years. He also can do farming. Daddy would sell our furniture to pay his fare and send for Mummy and me later. We would live in rooms until Daddy sent for us.

"Daddy earn four pounds, five shillings a week. He gives Mummy four and he has to pay one for rent.

"Will you please try to get Daddy a job? I know he is worried. I write to you because our greengrocer is a Canadian and he said there is lots of sawmills at Edmonton. I am 10 years old. I have no brothers or sisters.

"Will you please answer my letter. I think Canadons (sic) are kind, that's why I write to you because Daddy says he has never been out of work yet. If he had a job he could go to it. Will you try to help and please help us?"

Greatest Influx Of Tourists Since Year '39

By The Canadian Press

Ontario's greatest influx of American motorsits since pre-war years poured back across the border Monday night as the United States' July 4 holiday week-end concluded.

Though American toursits by highway reached near-record proportions, railways, bus and air lines reported week-end travel much the same as other week-ends. But the highway travellers taxed border facilities.

All border hotel, tourist home and cabin accommodation was taxed to the utmost during the week-end. Some points reported many tourists sleeping in their automobiles in parks or along the highway.

At Fort Erie, an estimated 45,000 automobiles into Canada were handled by Peace Bridge officials July 2-5. The number, a substantial increase over last year, cmopared favorably with pre-war traffic.

Niagara Falls reported 22,672 automobiles, carrying 103,319 passengers crossed Saturday and Sunday over the Whirlpool, Rainbow and Queenston bridges. Pedestrains in the same two days numbered 15,547.

Approximately 67,000 cars entered the Dominion at Windsor during the three-day period ending Monday night.

At Sarnia 5,500 autos crossed the Blue Water bridge Saturday, the highest one-day total in more than 10 years.

Tourist traffic at Kingston was slightly above last year.

Officials of the International bridge at Ivy Lea, Ont., reported 3,851 crossing from the American side on July 4.

Weigh Chances Of 2 In West To Lead Liberals

WINNIPEG, July 6 — (CP) — The chances of two westerners for the leadership of the Liberal Party now are being weighed in advance of the party's national convention in Ottawa early next month.

One of the possible candidates is Premier Garson of Manitoba; the other, Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

Mr. Garson, so far at least, has given no indication that he will allow his name to stand for the leadership.

He heads a coalition administration which is not expected to call an election before next year; has not been active on the hustings in support of the Liberal cause.

In addressing the Manitoba Federation of Agriculture here last month, Mr. Garson referred critically to the Federal Government's intention of bringing the marketing of oats and barley under the Canadian Wheat Board provided the Prairie Provinces passed complementary legislation.

Mr. Garson's views were taken to mean that he was not seriously interested in entering the race for the Liberal leadership.

Mr Gardiner, a former Premier of Saskatchewan and a farmer at Lemberg, stumped the province energetically for the Liberals before the June 24 general election.

Liberals now hold 18 of the 52 seats in the Saskatchewan Legislature. Their gains—in the last House the entire Opposition numbered only five—are taken as an indication of the influence which Mr. Gardiner wields.

Suspect Arson

TORONTO, July 6.— (CP).— Authorities investigated the possibility of arson in fires that broke out Monday in Hanlan's Point amusement park on Toronto's lake front islands. One fire started in a dance pavilion near a ferry dock and another broke out in a roller rink 20 yards away. Both were reported under control. T.T.C. dock supervisor Thomas Arnold said it was mysterious how the second fire could have started from the first.

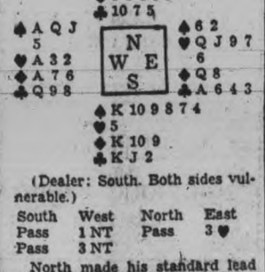
HIGH CARD ASKS A LEAD

SIGNALING with an unnecessarily high card by a discard during the early play should usually be done only when you wish your partner to lead its suit. Later on, it may indicate only that you are prepared to hold onto protection in that suit, advising your partner to throw away what he has in it while clinging to his assets elsewhere. But in the first few tricks a high discard almost invariably causes a good partner to lead the suit. You therefore should avoid such a signal if you prefer to have him make what would otherwise be his natural lead when he gets in.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 NT	Pass	3 ♥
Pass	3 NT

North made his standard lead of the fourth-best diamond 3, which drew the Q, K and A, whereupon the declarer scored the heart A and led toward the dummy. North, seeing the futility of holding up when the dummy had the club A for a re-entry, came in with the K, and was going to lead his diamond 2. But South, for the purpose of indicating his spade holding, discarded the 10 of that suit.

This gave North pause. After studying several moments, he decided it would be bad teamwork to violate his partner's signal. So he led back his singleton spade, the K falling to the A. West now had plenty of set-up tricks, so ran his game, getting three in spades, four in hearts and the minor aces.

If South had properly discarded a low enough spade—the 4 if he wanted to be definitely negative and the 7 if he wished to be non-committal so that he could later complete either a high-low or a low-high as he deemed best—North would have led back the diamond 2 after winning the third trick. The 10 would have won that, the 9 could have been overtaken by North's J, and North's 5 and 4 would have set the contract.

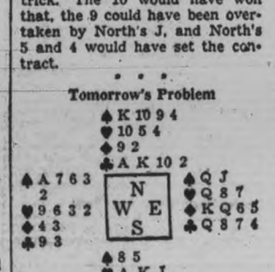
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

If you were straining for the top score which might win the tournament, what would be your opening bid in the North?

6—In Memoriam

CUFFE—In loving memory of Mrs. Thomas Cuffe, who passed away July 6, 1944.

Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear
Fond memories linger every day
Remembrance keeps her near.
—Lovingly remembered by son Bill and family.

HAMILTON—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, John Howard Hamilton, who passed away July 5, 1947.

We often sit and think of him when we are all alone
For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own.
Live ivy on the withered oak, when all other things decay
Our love for him will still keep green and never fade away.
—Sadly missed by wife and family.

HAMILTON—In loving memory of a dear father and husband John Howard Hamilton, who passed away July 5, 1947.

Farewell, dear father thy work is o'er.
Thy willing hands will toil no more.
A loving father, kind and true
No one on earth we'll find like you.
—Ever remembered by daughter Muriel, Percy and granddaughter Shirley.

TELFORD—In loving memory of my dear husband, Clayton Telford, who passed away July 6, 1947.

Some day we hope to meet again,
Some day, we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.

Jaycee Bureau Directs Many Tourists

The tourist bureau of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is fulfilling expectations of usefulness in its service at the west entrance to the city just east of Kawartha Golf Club.

It was opened June 19 and already has a log of many pages recording the names of enquirers, their addresses and the kind of information sought. Visitors have been all the way from Texas to Toronto.

The Texas party were here only over the week-end, leaving this afternoon. Their call was for direction to temporary accommodation. Here is a glimpse at several of the recent pages:

Toronto man: "The way to the Lift Lock." Pennsylvania party: "Has Peterborough a zoo, and how do you get there?"

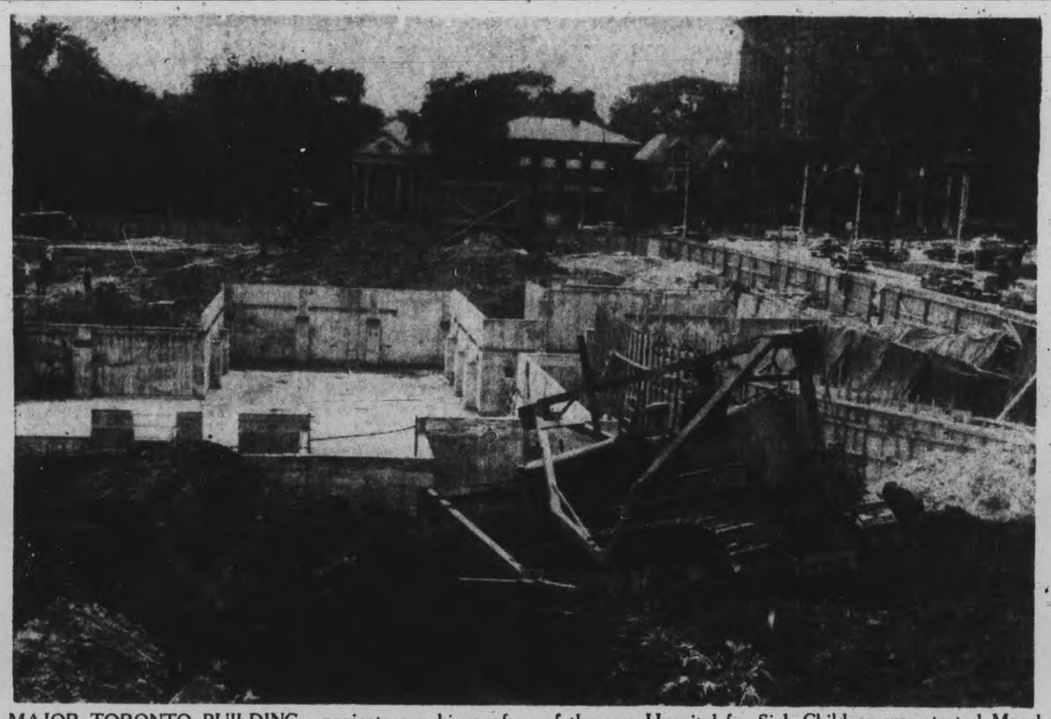
Pennsylvania: "The shortest road to Camp Cumbermere." It is in Hastings county, north of Maynooth. Pittsburg: "Accommodation at Rice Lake, including canoe." Cincinnatti: "Cottage and boat for a week." Four from Rochester: "Cabins at a good fishing spot."

Ohio party: "Overnight cabins." Youngstown, O.: "Local Hotel." Ottawa, Can.: "Any resort in the Bancroft area." Akron, O.: "The most direct route to Bobcaygeon." Toledo, O.: "A place where muskies are biting." Cleveland, O.: "The way to Maple Leaf Lodge." Rochester: "Good fishing accommodation."

That is a sample of the questions Jerry Donoghue, on duty this morning, was answering. He expected Ald. Pat Anglesey to join him this afternoon. The Jaycees take turns on the job. They are giving their time without charge, and the service to tourists is also free.

"The people obviously like to call in to say hello and make sure of their way," Mr. Donoghue said. "They are asking about resorts, hotels, cabins. Some are staying only over night, others for a week."

A New Jersey car was turning into the booth as the Examiner called.



MAJOR TORONTO BUILDING projects are hives of activity these days, with work on some of the largest proceeding according to schedule. Last stage of the groundwork of the new Hospital for Sick Children was started Monday, when bulldozers began to back-fill earth to the foundation walls. Erection of structural steel is slated to start Sept. 1.

Ball Games, Dance Draws Feature Legion Sports Day

MILLBROOK, July 6—(ENS)—Fine weather marked the sports' day held July 1, at the agricultural grounds. Under the auspices of the Canadian Legion Branch, No. 402, two street dances at night, bingo and a draw for prizes completed the entertainment program. Financial returns are expected to be substantial. The money will be used for community betterment.

The afternoon program included a softball game between the Millbrook Junior Boys and the Bailieboro Junior Boys, resulting in a tie score of 9-9. The next softball contest featured junior girls' teams of Bailieboro and Millbrook, the latter finding themselves completely outclassed, the score standing 13-1.

Still in the softball field, two Peterborough girls' teams, Ashby's, and a Combine (Westclox and CGE) started off the senior section with a well-contested game, the final score standing Combine 10, Ashby's 9. G. T. McPherson was plate umpire and Harry Kennedy on bases. The single baseball game had Lindsay and Peterborough tangling in this contest, the latter taking the big end of the score by the wide margin of 17-6. "Dit" Clapper, Boston Bruins hockey coach, had this event under his charge.

The business section of King street was closed off with snow fencing for the dances at night, with the orchestras stationed on trucks either end of the enclosed area.

Through the courtesy of Lions Club, the bingo was successfully carried on in the armories, equipment and workers being supplied by the club.

For those who preferred old time dancing, the Rural Rhythm Ramblers, with Bobby Carr "calling off" supplied the music. Modern music was supplied by Roy Forrester and his orchestra.

Winners in the draw for the handsome prizes were: Electric Rangette, Mrs. Clendon Challice; radio, Wesley Saunders; set of fine dishes, Ed Hewitt; tri-light floor lamp, W. E. Wilson, Brooklyn; fog lights, Alf Coulter; large thermos jug, Mrs. E. O'Donnell.

Mystery prizes—Andy MacKay, Kent St., Lindsay; Miss G. Richards, Brighton; Mabel Pinnington, D. Weir, 135 Lansdowne St., Peterborough; O. C. Chartrand, 190 Charlotte St., Peterborough; Betty Wright; Mrs Bothwell, Fraserville; Mrs. Norman Porter, Manvers; Mrs. H. Bremner; Steven McMahon, RR.1, Port Hope.

Jack Deyell is president of the local Legian, branch No. 402, and for the sports' day James Godfrey was entertainment manager, and reports that a balance of $500 is likely to be cleared.

Farmer, Son Struck By Bolt Of Lightning

CARLETON PLACE, July 6.—(CP)—Alec Munro and his son Glen, today know how it feels to be struck by a bolt of lightning.

The two men were picked up from their farm a mile east of here where lightning last night had ripped through the Munro barn, setting it on fire. Horses, hogs, cattle and hay were lost in the gutted buildings.

The bolt struck the two as they stood in the doorway of the barn and hurled them a 100 feet from the burning building, knocking them unconscious.

The two later woke up in hospital, suffering from shock.

Air Traffic Policeman Keeps Planes In Order

DETROIT, July 6 (CP).—State Trooper Henry A. Deloff Sunday watched a flier take off from nearby Pontiac airport "like a cowboy," commandeered another and faster airplane and followed for 18 miles to make an arrest for reckless flying.

Like a traffic cop behind a signboard, Trooper Deloof hid in the sun while Marine Pfc. Richard J. Koester, 20, made his first "buzz dive" on Upper Pettibone Lake, near Milford, Mich.

When Koester made a second dive, Deloof pulled alongside and with the gesture known to every automobile traffic violator, thumbed Koester back to the airport and to the ground.

Douro Man C. Coughlin Is Drowned

Police Find Boat In Buckley's Lake After Day's Fishing

Clarence Coughlin, 40, of Douro township was drowned on Tuesday in Buckley's lake, 10 miles northeast of here. Situated in Douro township the shore of the lake is very rough and Coughlin is believed to have fallen while landing his boat, on returning from a fishing expedition. His body was recovered by Provincial Constables Leonard Brown and Roy Feeley along the rough shoreline early today.

Mr. Coughlin left home early Tuesday morning for a day's fishing, a hobby that he particularly enjoyed. At about 11 p.m. a tenant in his house noticed that he had not returned home and notified his sister, Mrs. Frank O'Brien who lives about a mile south of his residence. She in turn contacted his father, Martin Coughlin of Lakefield, former Reeve of Douro and Warden of Peterborough County. When he could not be located at either of these places a search began and provincial police were notified.

Find Boat

His boat was found drifting in the lake early in the morning; it contained his catch of fish, a jack-knife and other belongings.

About 7 o'clock this morning provincial police found his body and notified his relatives of the tragedy

Mr. Coughlin never married. He is survived by a twin brother Martin, of O'Brien, Ontario and five sisters, Mrs. Frank O'Brien and Mrs. Thomas O'Brien of Douro; Mrs. Leo Collins and Mrs. Frank Doherty, Peterborough, and Sister St. Joseph of Precious Blood Monastery.

His father, stepmother, and two step-brothers, John and George live at Lakefield.

UNDER UNITED NATIONS supervision, representatives of Jews and Arabs meet at a roadside point near Latrun, Palestine, and agree upon a line of demarcation which will make crop harvesting safe for both warring sides. Under the arrangements, farmers of both factions can come up to this boundary to gather their harvests. The meeting was described as cordial, though held in a sector where heavy fighting had been going on before the truce. At left is the UN representative, Maj. George Malizsewski, of Lowell, Mass. At right is Lieut.-Col. Herzog, son of Palestine's chief rabbi. The Arab Legion representatives were not identified.

Oshawa Named in Drug Haul

VANCOUVER, July 7—(CP).—A narcotics ring with Canada-wide connections was believed smashed today as RCMP details moved in on Oshawa to find "a man who mailed a package. A month's undercover investigation by 12 "Mounties" and city police was climaxed here Tuesday night with seizure of $400,000 worth of Mexican brown heroin. The RCMP said it was the largest heroin haul ever made in Canada.

A Toronto man, Ronald Douglas Dean, 24, today is charged with possession of narcotics along with William Kusnik, 32, a Vancouver mechanic. Most of the sensational heroin haul was contained in a package mailed to Dean from Oshawa.

Tuesday night's seizure was the first since the opium smuggling ring was unearthed here last fall. The $4,000,000 worth of opium was discovered cached aboard the Dutch freighter Manoeran in North Vancouver harbor. Opium traffic faded with the war.

Processed In Mexico

The brown heroin seized Tuesday night is processed in Mexico. The RCMP narcotics detail here told The Canadian Press that it is transported from Mexico to New York and enters Eastern Canada at an unknown border point.

Joe Cotter, a Vancouver "Black Maria" driver for the past eight years, is credited with furnishing to the RCMP the first inkling of information of the huge ring.

He was reported to have worked off-hours on the case, secretly obtaining incriminating data and occasionally took samples of "powder" to the RCMP laboratory for analysis.

It was not until Friday positive heroin was discovered. City police combined on operations with the "Redcoats" and placed an eastend home under close surveillance. Saturday they caught the package.

The RCMP unwrapped the parcel substituted plaster and waited for someone to claim it. Kushnik arrived at the house and was promptly arrested minutes later. a special detail brought in Dean

Yugoslavia Agrees To Call Conference On Danube

BELGRADE, July 7 (Reuters).—The Yugoslav government has agreed to a four-power request to call a conference on the Danube question in Belgrade July 30. The United States, Russia, Britain and France asked Yugoslavia in notes on Tuesday to call the meeting on the question of future control of the Danube River, Europe's most important inland waterway.

The Yugoslav decision to call the Danubian conference was disclosed in a government announcement reported in London by Tanjug the official Yugoslav news agency.

The meeting will bring together representatives of the Big Four Powers and the Danube neighbors. They are Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Austria.

In announcing readiness to serve as host for the meeting, Premier-Marshal Tito's government assigned to Austria only an observer's role with an "advisory note."

This was in line with a demand from Russia.

No Fall Session

TORONTO, July 7 (CP)—Acting premier in the absence of Premier Drew, who is returning to Canada from England, Col. T. L. Kennedy today said he could see no reason for calling a fall session of the Ontario Legislature. Col. Kennedy said there is nothing "urgent" requiring the immediate attention of the legislature.

Begin Salvage Work In Forests

TORONTO, July 7.—(CP). — Preliminary salvage operataions have started in Northern Ontario areas recently burned by forest fires, Ontario Lands and Forests Minister Harold Scott announced today. Actual operations are scheduled to start Aug. 1.

Mr. Scott said skilled workmen now are operating out of several Northern Ontario centres, combing the woods for salvageable timber. All fire areas are being photographed from the air as part of forest inventory-taking.

The chief of the provincial forest protection division now is in New York city studying fire department operations there to see if any means of transporting immense quantities of water to fire areas can be developed in Ontario. Mr. Scott said this was the main problem duting the recent fires — sufficient water was not available rapidly enough.

Meanwhile, Mr. Scott warned that large sections of bush are still dry, and appealed to all travellers in the north to take every precaution against fire.

Arab Walks Out On U.N. Council

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., July 7 — (CP). — The representative of the Arab higher committee today "walked out" of the United Nations security council in protest at the council president's designation of Jewish representatives representing "the State of Israel."

Jamal El Husseini left the council chamber after protesting that the Arab higher committee could not "assist" in the council deliberations as long as the president, Dimitri Z. Manuilsky of the Soviet Ukraine, continued to name the Jews at the council table as representatives of the State of Israel.

Representatives of the Arab countries of Egypt, Lebanon and Syria remained in the council.

Says Jesse James Roamed On Kemptville Streets

OTTAWA, July 7 —(CP)— A ghostly figure, that of Jesse James, today may be galloping through the streets of Kemptville, just 20 miles south of Parliament Hill.

Or if he is still alive in California, then he has memories, an Ottawa woman says, of Kemptville red-carpeted stables and horses that netted him a fortune.

Furthermore, says Mrs. Bessie Reid of Ottawa, she is the great granddaughter of the famous desperado and she can tell you the whole dawgoned story of how Jesse wasn't killed after all in 1882.

"History is wrong," says Mrs. Reid. The man Bob Ford shot and killed at St. Joseph, Mo., wasn't James but actually Charlie Bigelow, a detective.

She says Bigelow and Ford, a renegade gunman, both learned of Jesse's habit of sleeping between two feather ticks. Bigelow got to Jesse's hideout, hid between the ticks and waited for the gun-toting James.

But in came Ford, saw the ticks moving and let fly with a burst of leading. So they buried Bigelow and history and the law wrote James off as dead.

Raised Horses

Figuring it was time to shake loose, Jesse lit out for the Canadian border. According to Mrs. Reid, he ended up in Kemptville, raising horses so successfully that he even put red carpets in his stables.

And that was when Mrs. Reid came in. She claims she's the daughter of Jesse's grandson, Dalton O'Brian, who abandoned his family for a gold rush and was killed in a barroom brawl. O'Brian, so-called because he didn't want people to know he was James' grandson, was born of the marriage of James' son and Jenney Hemingway during the years James lived in Kemptville.

That's the story that came down through the years, Mrs. Reid finally let the public know.

So if that's really James they have out their in California, Mrs. Reid wants to know . . . she's got a few more words to say that's best not told to other people's ears.

Can't Guarantee Plane Safety

BERLIN, July 7.—(Reuters).—Russian authorities have disclaimed all responsibility for the safety of United States aircraft supplying Berlin, it was officially revealed here today with the publication of an exchange of letters between American and Russian control elements at the Berlin air safety centre.

The Russian notification came after the American controller had informed the other three Allies of a modification in the procedure of handling American flight information.

The American controller, in a letter dated June 30, told the other members of the Allied air safety centre that, "owing to a shortage of personnel and to eliminate unnecessary and time-consuming paper-handling," the progress of American flights would in the future be posted on a visual flight progress board "for the information of all other elements." Ths information will be on forms for the exclusive use of U.S. personnel.

Now Ready To Aim For King Post

Also List St. Laurent As Liberal Candidate; Others May Be Named

OTTAWA, July 7 (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced today he will stand for nomination for the Liberal leadership at the party's convention here next month.

He said in a statement he had been approached by Liberals from every province in the Dominion and agreed to allow those who felt he was of leadership timber to place his name before the convention Aug. 5, 6 and 7.

He already has informed Prime Minister Mackenzie King, retiring as party leader, of his intention.

He also has discussed the matter with External Affairs Minister St. Laurent and Trade Minister Howe, both of whom have been mentioned as possible candidates.

Mr. St. Laurent already has announced that he will stand for nomination.

Sees No Harm

Mr. Gardiner said his discussions with Mr. St. Laurent and Mr. Howe had led him to believe that his entry into the leadership race would do "no harm to the Liberal party."

Saying he wished to clarify his position, the agriculture minister said he had refrained from making any statement on the leadership until Mr. King himself had made his own position clear to the people.

Mr. King now had done this. He had told parliament he did not intend to remain as Liberal leader. Therefore, said Mr. Gardiner, he wished to announce his willingness to run.

His announcement automatically ensures at least a two-man contest when nominations are handed in to the convention chairman Aug. 7, the last day of the party congress and the day upon which balloting for the leadership takes place.

However, there still is considerable speculation about other possible candidates and it is considered likely several more candidates. Some of them federal cabinet ministers, also will choose to run.

The probable starters in the federal field include Health Minister Martin, Finance Minister Abbott, Defence Minister Claxton and Mr. Howe.

There is talk, too, of candidates from the provinces. Premier MacDonald of Nova Scotia is said to be leaning towards nomination and Premier Garson of Manitoba also may allow his name to be entered.

Have Secret 'Palace' Under Police Station

NEW ORLEANS, July 7.—(AP).— Police hastily organized a raid on a hobo jungle Tuesday when they discovered it sprawled beneath the police station.

To their amazement, they found a maze of passageways honeycombed underneath the old building, with electricity, water and steam-heat conduits tapped for transient tramps.

The only hobo captured was a fellow found reclining on a mattress and reading a magazine under a brilliant light.

On a promise of immunity, he volunteered: That the place was known as "Hotel de Bastille." It had been in existence for months, perhaps years.

Rebels Aim At Nanking

NANKING, July 7 — (CP). — Conflicting reports were issued here on developments in the fighting between Nationalist and Communist forces on the Plains of Honan. The Associated Press said Red troops threatened Nanking's perimeter of defence.

CSU, Other Labor Groups Plan To Picket National Liberal Convention In Ottawa

TORONTO, July 7—(CP)—Harry Davis, president of the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.-L. C.) anounced today the C.S.U. and other labor organizations will picket the National Liberal Party convention in Ottawa next month.

Mr. Davis said he would request permission to address the convention to discuss the issues in the present C.S.U. dispute.

Mr. Davis told a press conference here he expected more than 1,000 Canadian union members to join in a mammoth motorcade to Ottawa. About half these would be C.S.U. men, with another large delegation expected from the United Automobile Workers Union.

"The issues of this strike are no longer the concern only of seamen," he said. "The federal government is deliberately ignoring the labor code of this country . . . and the whole trade union movement in Canada is in jeopardy."

Mr. Davis said the picketing of the Liberal convention "should focus the attention of every citizen on the danger this nation faces."

WILLING TO STAND — Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Agriculture Minister, announced today he will stand for nomination for the Liberal leadership at the August convention.

Soviet Announces 2-Year Plan For Berlin City

BERLIN, July 7 — (AP). — The Communists announced today a two-year plan to tie Berlin economically to the Soviet occupation zone of Germany. They warned Berliners not to pin their hopes for the future on the western air bridge over the Soviet blockade.

The Communists also announced they are drawing up a constitution for a German republic—their answer to the projected western Germany constitutional assembly.

At the same time the United States air force attacked the growing fuel shortage in blockaded western Berlin, which in 19 days has cut factory operations 40 per cent.

Discussing this latest phase of the east-west battle for the German capital, the Soviet-licensed Berliner Zeitung said:

"If Berlin wants to live it has only one possibility at the moment—connection with the economic plan for the eastern zone. Berliners should seriously consider which is wiser: to build the future of Berlin on the swaying pillars of the air bridge or on a long-term plan."

The scope of the air lift is indicated by United States air force figures on the 18 hours from 4 p.m. Tuesday to 10 a.m. today, when 115 flights brought 610 tons of food into the city. This figure did not include flights by the RAF.

An American official denied the Russian allegation that the United States was endangering the work of the safety centre which controls plane traffic into Berlin.

Don't Expect Worst

Allied observers said they doubted the Russians would try to restrict with fighter planes or barrage balloons the air ferrying service now being conducted by the Americans and the RAF. United States pilots have received routine briefings to watch for Soviet fighters.

After a night of considerable activity, the American-British air ferrying service was slowed this morning by a low ceiling in the Frankfurt area. In the first 10 hours after midnight 41 planes landed at Tempelhof airport.

Test New 'Bat' Bomb On Unscathed Cruiser

PEARL HARBOR, July 7 — (AP)—The old fleet veteran, the battleship New York, turns her armor-plated hide today to the United States Navy's weird new "bat bomb," first weapon to be used in her sinking.

The 30,000-ton warship which emerged unscathed from two wars and survived two atomic blasts at Bikini, has been towed to a point 50 miles south of here to test the strength of task force 38.

Rear Admiral Marshall R. Greer, task force commander, said the radar-guided "bats" are the first fully automatic guided missle used in combat. They are regulation 1,000-pound bombs, rigged with glider-like wings and tail. They have a radar directional mechanims which can be fixed on the target by the plant lauching the bat. Radar apparatus then guides the bat into the target regardless of evasive action of the target ship.

Irgun Kidnaps Five Britons From Building Under UN; Dow Begins Investigation

Report Heavy Jewish-Arab Fighting Renewed Along Tel-Aviv Highway; UN Truce Team Trucks Under Steady Gunfire

LONDON, July 7—(AP).—The Foreign Office reported today that five British subjects were "kidnapped" in Palestine Tuesday night by Irgun Zvai Leumi, a Jewish extremist organization. A spokesman told a press conference the Britons were taken from a "building on which was hoisted the flag of the United Nations Truce Commission." He could not further identify the building.

"We take a very serious view of this incident," he said.

He could not identify those "kidnapped."

The foreign office's brief report, he added, came from Sir Hugh Dow, British consul-general in Jerusalem.

Both Sir Hugh and the U.N Truce Commission in Jerusalem have lodged a protest. He did not say with whom, but presumably it was with the Israel government.

"We assume the five persons will be released," the spokesman added.

In Business Firm

The announcement indicated that the incident took place in Jerusalem but the foreign office spokesman could not confirm this.

The five Britons were empoyees of a commercial firm in Jerusalem and not members of the Truce Commission, it was learned tonight.

Political quarters here attributed the incident to the failure of Israel authorities to control extremist elements among the Jews.

The British Foreign Office called for a full report. Sir Hugh Dow is carrying out investigations on the spot.

The Belgian consul general in Jerusalem, Jean Nieuwenhuys, a member of the United Nations Truce Commission, has already protested the kidnapping to the Jewish authorities, a foreign office spokesman said.

Fighting Renewed

CAIRO, July 7.—(AP).—Heavy Jewish-Arab fighting raged along the main Tel Aviv-Haifa highway Tuesday night as the United Nations made 11th-hour efforts to extend the shaky Palestine truce.

Five In Tanker Crew Said Badly Burned

The Ludington coast guard station said seven other crew members escaped injury as the blaze was brought under control.

May Send Britain More Bacon Instead Of Beef

OTTAWA, July 7.—(CP).—An authoritative government source Tuesday night said there were strong indications that Canada would not be able to fill her beef contract with the United Kingdom and that attempts would be made to supply more bacon instead.

The source said one reason was the marked increase in domestic consumption of beef, despite rising prices. Another reason was the expectancy that the United States cattle embargo would be lifted this summer which would drain off about 400,000 head of Canadian cattle a year.

The current United Kingdom food contract calls for 195,000,000 lbs. of bacon, 50,000,000 lbs. of beef and 80,000,000 dozens of eggs. So far this year Canada has been able to send overseas only 18,000,000 lbs. of beef.

The sources said there was no indication as to when the government intended taking action on lifting the cattle embargo to the United States.

"If it is done this summer, then you may be certain there will be a definite shortage of quality beef in Canada."

2 Czech Envoys Abandon Posts

MILAN, Italy, July 7.—(Reuters) —The Czechoslovak ambassador and first secretary in Budapest arrived in Venice today, declaring they had abandoned their posts because they did not agree to Czechosolvak president Klement Gottwald's policy.

The two diplomats, Ambassador Francis Cerny and First Secretary Alvis Bohmer, said there was widespread discontent in Czechoslovakia. They said they will proceed to Paris where they intend to join the "Free" Czech movement.

Evidence Malayan Reds Plan Revolt—Macdonald

SINGAPORE, July 7—(CP). — Britain has thrown army, navy and air force units into a military campaign to smash a Communist attempt to seize power in Malaya Malcolm Macdonald, Commissioner-General for the United Kingdom, in a speech broadcast throughout Malaya, said:

"The present terrorist outbreak in the Federation, which may at any time spread to Singapore, is part of a deliberate plan by Malayan Communists to stage a violent revolution and capture by force the government," he said.

Macoonald said captured documents and grilling of prisoners verified this "sober statement of fact."

RAF planes are scouting the whole Malayan mainland and eastern seaboard hunting Communist guerrilla hideouts. Royal Navy ships are patrolling the coasts to prevent gun-running and reinforcements, which might come from Chinese Communists in Siam or south China.

Militant Communists, representing less than one per cent of the population, were fighting in Malaya to establish a state which would enshrine the principal articles of their political faith.

"It is not government of the people, for the people but government of the people for murderers by murderers," Macdonald said.

More Murders

Murders by terrorists Tuesday brought the death toll to five in 24 hours in the Ipoh area where the military authorities last week had said the terrorists were "definitely on the run" after military sweeps and patrols.

Macdonald said the Malayan government had gained much information on the Communist plot. Some came from the agents in the enemy's ranks. Some desperate men talked after capture. Many documents had been captured. Other information was volunteered by private citizens.

Some of the principal agitators had escaped despite more than 1,000 arrests during the last three weeks but many important men had fallen into government hands.

"We know their capture has thrown out of gear parts of the plans which they and their friends are concocting," Macdonald said.

"As a result certain actions which they were preparing have been postponed, readjusted or abandoned.

Russians Reject Invitation To Yugoslavia

LONDON, July 7 — (AP). — Russian Communists have refused to participate in a Yugoslav Communist congress because Premier-Marshal Tito and his followers have placed themselves "outside the family of Communist parties."

The Soviet news agency, Tass, and Moscow radio announced Tuesday night the blunt Russian rejection of the Yugoslav invitation. The congress is scheduled to open in Belgrade July 21.

The announcement seemed to underline the approval Russian Communists have given to the cominform's condemnation of Tito and his lieutenants. Apparently the appeal of Yugoslav Communists to prime minister Stalin, over the head of the cominform, also has failed.

Nor was this the only jolt received by Tito's Communists. Tass said Albania has defied Belgrade's warnings that she must resume economic relations with Yugolsavia or face the consequences.

On Other Side

Communist - governed Albania has sided with the nine-country cominform (Communist international information bureau) in that organization's dispute with Yugoslav Communists.

Polish Communist leaders in Warsaw approved unanimously the cominform's censure of Tito. The Polish government appears to regard the cominform's rift with the Yugoslavs as purely a party matter.

The cominform early last week accused Tito and his aides of deviating from Marxism and of pursuing a hateful policy toward Russia. Yugoslav Communists noisily defended themselves and kept up a running fire of reports of support for Tito from Communist elements within Yugoslavia and from Yugoslav diplomats abroad.

Holds Up Theatre

TORONTO, July 7.—(CP).—A man with a toy revolver, an English accent and a dislike of small bills robbed a theatre cashier Tuesday night. Esther Newman said the bandit threw back at her a bundle of $1 bills and said, "come on sis, give higher than that." He pointed to a roll of 20 $10 notes and the cashier handed them over.

JEWISH CHILDREN WAVE to the first food truck to reach Jerusalem from Tel Aviv in two months. Communist Wave of Terror Planned For Czechs-Nemec

OTTAWA, July 7—(CP).—On the basis of regular reports from behind the iron curtain, a former Czechoslovakian Cabinet Minister and diplomat Tuesday predicted that a Communist wave of terror will strike the Czechs within a month and that Red Premier Gottwald will be ousted by Moscow. The predictions came from Dr. Franitsek Nemec who resigned in March as Czech Minister to Canada in protest against the Communist coup.

In an interview he linked the pro-Democratic demonstration in Prague with developments in Yugoslavia and felt they marked the beginning of events that would end the Russian domination of Europe more quickly than he had dared think.

Dr. Nemec said regular communiques from his country made him confident that a "monster protest" would well up in two or three weeks. The protest would be followed by a wave of terror and purge.

Two-Man Government

Gottwald, Interior Minister Nosek, the man who prepared the March coup, and others in the government would be driven out and replaced by virtually a two-man government. In command would be General Secretary Slansky of the Communist Party and Justice Minister Cepicka, "a very cruel man." They would be completely under Moscow, replacing the men who had co-operated with other parties—at Moscow's orders.

Dr. Nemec saw developments in the two Slav countries as significant of conflict between European nationalists and Russian domination. The traditionally friendly feeling between the two countries indicated at least an indirect link.

Dr. Nemec expected the assassination of Marshal Tito and interpreted recent happenings to mean that the battle to succeed Stalin as Russian dictator is already on.

Czech Police Quell Anti-Red Rioting

PRAGUE, July 7—(CP)—Former President Eduard Benes was cheered again today in the streets of Prague. This time police squads broke up the short-lived demonstration.

Most of the crowd massed in front of the newspaper Svobodne Slovoj beneath a huge electric display for the 11th Sokol Athletic Congress, and shouted "long live our President Benes".

Police ordered the demonstrators to disperse. When this failed, they moved through the crowd, arms linked. Some police carried small pistols as usual, but no weapons were used. Prague police do not carry clubs.

A reuters correspondent reported demonstrations in Wenceslas and said in some cases violence was used to break up the gathering. Some eye-witnesses said there had been many arrests and that it was "very bad."

Irgun Kidnaps

Count Folke Bernadotte, U.N. mediator, told reporters in Cairo that he will continue peace talks, even if his request for an extension of the four-week truce is rejected.

At Lake Success, Britain drafted a Security Council proposal calling on the Jews and Arabs to extend the cease fire. The plan set no expiration date.

The truce ends Friday. Neither Arabs nor Jews have replied to U.N. extension requests.

Fire On Trucks

There was no official indication as to how seriously Jewish authorities considered the highway clash which occurred in Israeli territory between Tira and Jaba, about 10 miles south of Haifa. Telephone lines between Tel Aviv and Haifa were cut off during the night.

Two United States marines driving U.N. truce-team trucks were turned back by Arabs who fired on them for 40 minutes before they waved a white flag to stop the shooting.

Pte. Charles Phalen, 19, and Pte. Lewis Taylor, 19, said they were forced to pull their trucks into a ditch and crawl for cover under Arab rifle and machine-gun fire.

Hotelmen Want To Raise Price of Beer By Glass

TORONTO, July 7—To offset recent increases granted the brewing industry in the price of their product, the Hotel Association of Ontario has requested Chief Liquor Commissioner William Griesinger to allow licensed premises to use an eight-ounce glass for draft beer and to charge 25 cents per pint. Draft beer now sells for 10 cents per nine-ounce glass while pints retail for 21 cents.

The request was submitted to Col. Griesinger in view of the fact he authorized the breweries to boost their prices $1.25 per half barrel of 12½ gallons to $13.50 and 22 cents per case of 24 pints to a net cost of $3.

The association said the prevailing gallonage tax has shown that during the late months of the licensed year, which ends March 31, the higher bracket of cents-per-gallon payable had been reached.

(The gallonage tax varies according to whether the establishment is licensed as a hotel, tavern or public house. Hotels pay eight cents per gallon on the first 10,000 gallons purchased and an additional one cent for every extra 10,000 gallons until the rate reached 20 cents. Taverns pay nine cents per 10,000 gallons and and an extra two cents on each additional 10,000 until the tax reaches 33 cents. Public houses start at 10 cents and their rate jumped three cents on each additional 10,000 gallons purchased until a maximum of 46 cents is reached.)

As a consequence, states the association, the licensees have found that after payment of the higher gallonage fee, along with the increased cost of material, labor and maintenance, their operating statements show a deficit during the period mentioned.

Since 1939, the cost per half barrel of beer has increased from $9 to $13.50, with a corresponding increase in case or bottled goods. During that time hotelmen have been allowed a reduction of one ounce from 10 to nine in their draft sales and an increase of one cent from 20 to 21 cents in pint bottles.

New Wage Offer Said 12 Cents

Negotiations between CGE and the UEW (CIO) are continuing in Toronto today, with Louis Fine, chief conciliation officer, Department of Labor, assisting Labor Minister Charles Daley. There are strong indications that a critical stage in the parley has now been reached and once passed a speedy settlement should result.

On Tuesday shop stewards and executive of Local 524, Peterborough, sent a telegram to the Labor Minister turning down the latest company offer. The telegram demanded that any contract signed must contain "improvements in union security, protection of piecework rates, 40-hour week, better wage offer and retroactivity, present practices secured plus satisfactory formulations on agreed items."

The exact company wage offer was not mentioned in the telegram but it is believed to be 12 cents an hour.

The rejection of company proposals followed a similar rejection by the UE-GE Conference Board on Monday in Toronto. Bargaining continues at Queen's Park with Mr. Fine, Labor Minister Daley and his deputy, J. B. Metzler, as well as James Hutcheon, conciliation officer, taking part in discussions.

Mr. Fine was conciliation officer who presided during conciliation proceedings between the company and union a year ago.

It is understood that due to present industrial unrest in the Peterborough plant production has dropped. Until a settlement is reached production cannot continue smoothly, one informant said.

Thousands Come To Lindsay Old Home Week

LINDSAY, July 7—"Lindsay is my home town, no matter where I roam, there's no place just like Lindsay, my dear old childhood home; there are dear old scenes in Lindsay the town which I adore. No beauties like the beauties along the Scugog Shore."—W. S. Staples.

This verse, published for Lindsay Old Home Week in 1924, must express the feelings of thousands of old- timers who have been flocking into the Victoria County town for days from all parts of the Dominion, the United States and even Great Britain.

In the past six days of celebrating, Lindsay has been jam-packed with old-timers with their wives and families, who have returned to look over the town they left years ago. So great has been the influx that private citizens have opened their homes to billet visitors.

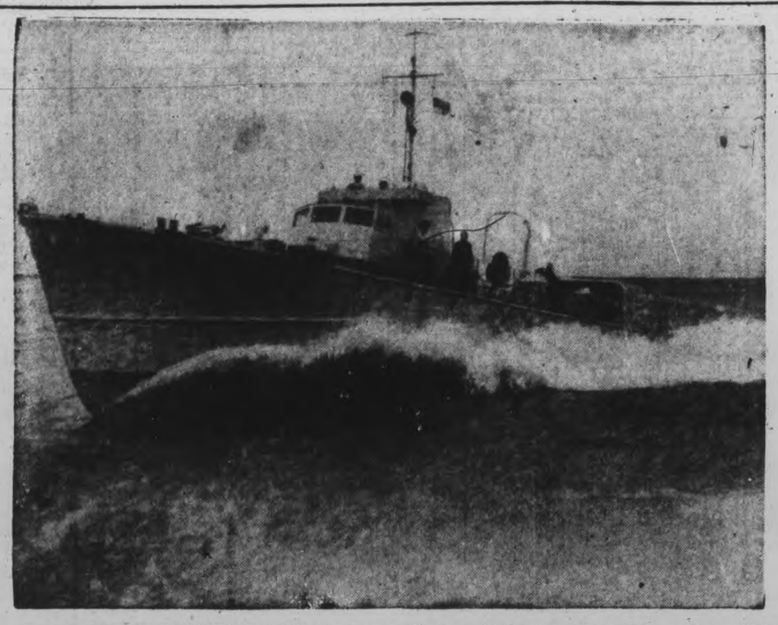
Toronto Day

Tomorrow the Old Home Week celebrations hit a high spot. It is to be "Toronto Day". A regular train from Toronto is expected to bring between 300 and 400 former residents who left this town for the big city. Another 100 or so Torontonians are expected to make the trip in a motorcade, arriving about the same time as the train. On the arrival of the train and motorcade, a calithumpian parade will form up at the station and move through main streets. After that the visitors will be granted the freedom of the town.

Old Home Week, the first to be held in 24 years, is the most extensive program ever attempted by the town's officials. Lasting for 10 days, the celebrations started on July 1 and will continue until Saturday.

"It is a grand success", Mayor Charles Lamb said. "Thousands of people have returned and will return for a look at the town and renew acquaintances. It seems that there are more Lindsayites living outside the town than there are who live in it."

Originally known as Purdy's Mills, Lindsay is one of the more progressive towns in Ontario. During the past year, 10 new industries have located in the town. Its population, which has been steadily increasing ever since the first settlers arrived here in 1856 is now estimated at near the 10,000 mark.



THE MOTOR-GUNBOAT 2009, the British navy's latest "jet" warship, is shown making a trial run in the Solent in England. Trials are expected to last several months, during which time, the craft's engine will be run for 400 hours under sea conditions. Although power is still transmitted to an orthodox propeller, the power unit has many features of the aircraft jet engine.

No Record Size Fish So Far This Season

CAMPBELLFORD, July 7 — (ENS). — Campbellford is maintaining its position as a fishing resort according to local anglers, although while the catches have been large, the individual fish have not been of exceptional size.

Bill Hollings and Tom Stewart are reported to have landed a 16 pound 'lunge at Puff Ball Inn recently, while Bill Little of Campbellford, accompanied by Ford and Harold Grub of Akron, O., pulled out an 11 pound pike and a four pound bass, in addition to the rest of their large catch at Bradley Bay on Sunday.

Ernie Abernethy and Stew Pottle brought in one 18 inch and two 16 inch pickerel at the power house on Sunday, and the same pair report that they have been obtaining plenty of the popular mudcats around Bradley Bay recently.

Garage Hours Problem Heard By Lindsay Council

LINDSAY, July 7.—(ENS).—Opposition to a plan to have the town council control the hours of service stations was heard at its July meeting. Mr. Dove of Dove's Service Station, was a one-man deputation before members and he strongly protested any ruling to regulate hours of sale of gas.

Mr. Dove stated that Peterborough had the same kind of deputation from their garage owners, but had rejected the idea of controlling it. He went on to say that it had been pointed out to Peterborough council that Peterborough spent a lot of money on advertising to attract the tourists and that people liked travelling at night.

"I've had 27 calls at night this month and I think it's foolish, very foolish, to close if you don't want to," continued Mr. Dove. "Only the other week the police called me to say two Americans were stranded and had no gas, and I got up and was pleased to serve them."

"Lindsay is a place where we need stations open all night to meet the demands of our tourists," he said. "My business is taking a lot of working up, why should I be in a position where someone can tell me what to do in my own business,' he maintained. "It is the need to build up my business and the democratic feeling of freedom to do what I want, which are the main reasons for opposing the control."

Reeve McFadden asked: "Are we driving business out of Lindsay? that is the main question."

Mr. Dove said he knuew of at least six people who had bought parcels of land outside of Lindsay for the purpose of setting up stations which would get the tourist business if Lindsay's hours were limited. His own company had asked him if he could operate a gas station just outside Lindsay if the bylaw were passed. He asked, "why should this happen? why not leave the business in Lindsay?"

It was moved that the decision be left over until July 13 when both parties on the petition could be heard.

Funeral service of the late Mrs. Jeanie Robertson, 56, of Peterborough, was held on Tuesday at the Kaye Funeral Home. The Rev. Walter S. Crone of the Church of the Open Bible officiated, and pall-bearers were A. McLeod, A. Taylor, H. Bradley, A. Stevens, D. McQueen and J. Size. Burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mrs. Robertson was born in Glasgow, Scotland, daughter of the late George Campbell and Flora Smith, and had resided in the city for the past 25 years. Her husband, the late David Robertson, predeceased her.

Dismiss Charges, Tell Man He's 'Lucky'

HASTINGS, July 7—(ENS).—Appearing before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in Hastings courtroom on Friday, George Welsh of Mimico pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving and was fined $5 and $2.50 costs.

Gilbert E. Foley of St. Catharines pleaded not guilty to a charge of passing three worthless cheques in Hastings. The case was prosecuted by Crown Attorney Harry Digman of Cobourg. The magistrate gave the accused the benefit of the doubt on the charges and warned him he was "a very lucky man" not to be in custody.

Both charges were laid by Constable L. Potten.

Ancient Auto Wheezes Through Streets In Lindsay Old Home Week Celebrations

LINDSAY, July 7 (ENS). — A 1900 McLaughlin - Buick "with the fringe on top" brought back fond memories of many local old boys and girls during Old Home Week celebrations on Tuesday.

The ancient two - cylinder car, newly painted for the occasion and decorated with flags, made a trial run up and down Kent Street spouting gas and smoke.

Owned by Ray Clayton, of RR 2, Woodville, the car has only two movements, forward and reverse. The wheels are the same as those on a buggy and covered with shaky fenders and running boards.

The car was driven by Harold Clement and Clifford Staples and was on display before many sightseers and photographers.

Housing Loans Booming With Supplies

OTTAWA, July 7—(CP)— The dismal housing situation—hangover of the war years—today is fast improving, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation figures show.

They point out that better supplies of building materials and more available labor encouraged Canadian would-be home owners to take out more building loans in May than in any month previous.

Attractive lower down payments also have helped, says the corporation, towards reaching the peak in May of 2,229 National Housing Act Loans, involving more than $11,000,000.

May was a good month, too, as far as weather was concerned and there were about one-third more starts made on new units that month than in April. Total starts made in May were on 11,-407 units, and this the Dominion Bureau of Statistics adds, is just an indication of how the number of starts have risen since January when they totalled less than 1,700 units.

During May, says the Bureau, 6,284 new dwellings were completed, compared with 6,729 in the previous month. Families moved into an estimated 24,582 new units during the first five months of 1948. Starts on new buildings had climbed 15 per cent higher in 1948 than a year ago.

New Park Gates War Memorial

COBOURG, July 7 (ENS). — Arrangements have been completed for the unveiling of the new park gates, the cermony to be part of the program of civic holiday events on August 2. The gates are being donated by the Cobourg Business and Professional Women's Club, and the cost is being financed through the sale of the history of Cobourg book which the club is publishing.

Families and next of kin of the servicemen whose memory is being honored by the memorial gates, will be placed near the entrance gates. A guard of honor made up of six from the Legion, six representatives in uniform of the army, navy and airforce, men and women, will be formed.

At 2.20 p.m. the guests of honor arrive, including Premier George Drew, Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Hon. G. A. Welsh, Colonel S. Craig, Group Captain W. Baker, Wing Commander W. Riddell, Warden Alex Stephens, Miss Christine Reynar, president of the Cobourg Business and Professional Women's Club, Major John Foote, VC, Mayor Joseph Smith, and J. C. M. German, chairman of the parks board.

At 2.23 Major Foote will recite the prayer and at 2.30 p.m. the mayor will introduce the guests. When the color party of the Legion drumhead service parade arrives, Premier Drew will hand the ribbon for unveiling to Miss Reynar who will then unveil the gates as the color party turns to march through on their way to the drumhead service in the park.

Big Motor Damaged When Lightning Hits

CAMPBELLFORD, July 7 — A large electric motor was damaged at the pulp mill owned by the Gair Company of Canada here early on Tuesday morning, when a heavy lightning bolt caused a surge on the power line during the severe thunderstorm which was in progress at the time.

Repairs are not extensive and will be effected at once.

Delay Payment Sidewalk Job

COBOURG, July 7—(ENS). — Irked by the fact that the King Street sidewalk job has not been completed, council has voted to delay payment to the contractor until he finishes the job. As the sidewalk is on the main street, council was critical over the failure of the contractor to finish it up.

"The man is apparently laying down on our job because he has too many other jobs to complete," commented Mayor Joseph Smith. Town Engineer Clair Saunders agreed.

Mayor Smith went on further to say that there was no desire to be unduly harsh but that the work should be finished up without any more delay. The streets committee was delegated to see the contractor and report back.

Council, following an investigation into the petition from Cottesmore Avenue residents asking for sewer installations, had a report from the town engineer that a total of 1,386 feet of sewer pipe would be required with the town paying $909 and the Cottesmore Avenue ratepayers the sum of $5,-406. The matter will be taken care of in next year's estimates.

Kiwanians Hear Of 'Old Days'

LINDSAY, July 7 (ENS)—Dr. Fred W. Routley, Toronto National Commissioner for the Canadian Red Cross Society paid Lindsay a visit Tuesday and registered for Old Home Week.

In addressing the Kiwanis Club, Dr. Routley recalled the day when he started as principal of his old school at Cameron at $400 a year and when "I got the best board I ever had at $2.50 a week".

Dr. Routley referred in brief to the thin, pale, ill-fed children of England, where the adults gave up their milk, bananas and other articles so that the boys and girls could be healthy. He also told of the tremendous work of the Red Cross and its achievements.

The speaker referred to Col. George Nasmyth, of Toronto, who spends his summers at Ancona Point, Sturgeon Lake, as the man who was awarded the C.M.G. following the first war for introducing to the world the chlorination of water. "He also was the first man to introduce pasteurization to this country."

Dr. Routley was introduced by another Lindsay old boy, Charles Conquergood, of Toronto, who was a classmate of Dr. Routley. The vote of thanks was expressed by a third classmate, T. H. Stinson, K.C., of Lindsay.

The Last Of A Landmark

On Monday work was begun to remove the famous Floating Bridge which has so long connected Ennismore and Smith townships. The bridge's day is done; we do not think that there can be any doubt about that. Nevertheless we are sorry to see it go, for it has long been a curiosity and landmark in these parts, and a link with the past.

• • •

Not with our pioneer past, of course. It was in February, 1844, that the district council of Ennismore voted the sum of £26 "for the purpose of building a scow and ferry boats on Mud lake, to ply from Galt's landing in Ennismore to Edmison's landing in Smith". The tolls on this ferry service are of interest: a span of horses and a waggon crossed for a shilling; a single horse, with or without a wagon cost sixpence; a yoke of oxen paid ninepence; horned cattle paid threepence a head, as did men and women; pigs and calves crossed for twopence. But the ferry proved to be a nuisance and was abandoned after a few years.

• • •

The Floating Bridge did not succeed the ferry at once. In 1854 Mr. Dumble, a surveyor, estimated the cost of a bridge thus: "Across Mud lake, 70 chains, bridging to consists of piles, stringers, corbals, plank and railing, 50 feet span, with swing to admit of navigation—£3500". But it was well over ten years after Mr. Dumble's estimate that the first Floating Bridge was built. There have been three of these constructions altogether.

• • •

It will be observed that the lake was for a long time called Mud lake, before the more romantic title Chemong was adopted, and for a very good reason. The lake has very little current, even at high water, and unless great care is taken the new bridge may reduce even such current as now exists. If this were to happen, Chemong would quickly become Mud Lake again, and the district would see the decline of one of its most popular holiday resorts. We hope that it will be possible to prevent this calamity, for it would be a pity to escape the inconvenience and danger of the old bridge merely to acquire the danger and inconvenience of a stagnant water-hole.

Priming The Pump

Since the end of the war Canada has made extensive loans to foreign countries. One reason for the loans was, of course, to help these foreign countries—to give them credits on which they could buy from us needed food, clothing and manufactured products. Another reason was to secure for ourselves foreign markets whose demands would keep our farms and factories busy, and to maintain and develop these markets so that when the countries again become self-supporting, profitable business would accrue from them.

Our loans have been heavy—$1,250,000,000 to Britain, $594,000,000 to other countries. These non-British loans were made as follows: Belgium 100 millions; China 60 millions; Czechoslovakia 19 millions; France 242½ millions; The Netherlands 125 millions; Netherlands East Indies 15 millions; Norway 30 millions; Russia 3 millions. Some critics may raise their eyebrows at credits to Czechoslovakia — now a communist country—and to Soviet Russia. The loan to Russia has expired, that to Czechoslovakia has $400,000 to run. Czechoslovakia has a large trade with Canada and is still paying its debts on the line on time.

Several observations may be made about these loans. First, Canada is a favoured and wealthy country to be able to advance such large credits. Secondly, they have caused a heavy drain on our economy and it is not to be wondered at that taxes must remain fairly high in order to find that money, and that our trade is unbalanced, particularly since we must import so largely from the United States. The third and most timely comment is this: these loans have recently expired or will shortly be used up completely. We are not in a position to make further loans of the same magnitude. If these European countries did not now have the prospect of E.R.P. dollars, they would not be able to continue to buy from us, and our agriculture and industry would suffer, perhaps disastrously. Thanks partly to E.R.P. the possibilities of a sharp depression in the near future are slight.

How To Have a Lakeside Holiday And Live

The holidays, God wot, are upon us. At one time or another during the next eight weeks most of us shall be on our backs on summer sand, up to necks in water and even over our heads. The Red Cross Society of Canada has published a set of safety rules, which, if read and inwardly digested, should keep us from becoming light-headed about the business of swimming, boating and merely bathing. Here they are:

1. Learn to swim safely. Join a swim class sponsored by Red Cross or other recognized organization. Know your own limitations as a swimmer.
2. Learn artificial respiration. The briefest delay in applying it may cost a life.
3. Where to swim. If possible, swim in a supervised area. Investigate unknown water before swimming or diving. Respect "DANGER" signs.
4. When to swim. Late morning and afternoon are the safest hours in which to swim.
5. Temperature and time. Between seventy degrees and eighty degrees is best (warmer water relaxes too much, colder exhausts.) Thirty minutes is long enough in the water for the average swimmer.
6. Swimming after eating. Wait at least two hours after eating a regular meal before swimming.
7. Panic contributes to most accidents. Learn to scull and tread water. Novices must stay in shallow water while learning to swim.
8. Exhaustion. Avoid over-activity before a swim. Over-exertion while swimming, and extremely cold water also contribute to exhaustion.
9. Always have a companion when fishing, swimming or boating. Never swim alone.
10. Reaching aids. Learn how to use all reaching aids; how to use floating objects to support yourself; how to throw handline and ring buoy.
11. Cramps. If hit by stomach cramps, scull to support yourself and call for help. To ease leg cramps, take a deep breath, submerge, and seize cramped muscles with thumb and fingers of one hand, pressing through the muscles to meet those of the other hand.
12. Currents. Never buck a current. Swim diagonally across and with its flow. If unable to reach shore, drift to save strength and call for help. If caught by an undertow, go with it and swim diagonally upwards to the surface.
13. Weeds. Use gentle, slow drawing and shaking movements to get out of weeds. Swim with the current, not against it, until freed.
14. Boating. If capsized, hang on to the boat and call for help. Never enter a canoe unless you are an experienced, competent swimmer.

There are other hazards and follies connected with holidays, like over-eating, over-heating, over-exercising, over-indulging in anything from speed-bouts on highways to iced tonics on the rocks. For the present, the Red Cross's lengthy list is all the cautionary comment we have room to offer or capacity to digest.

Mr. Coldwell And The National Theatre

Mr. M. J. Coldwell is one of the very few parliamentarians who ever gives a thought or a word to the cultural welfare of Canada. During the last week of the session he spoke feelingly about the need for tangible assistance to the arts in this country, and he said, among other things, "As far as I know this is the only capital in the world in which there is no appropriate national theatre".

In point of fact, there is no national theatre in Washington, and very soon there will be no theatre of any kind. The only legitimate theatre in Washington is becoming a movie house, because members of Actors' Equity have refused to play in Washington, because negroes are required to sit in a special section of the theatre there. Equity will not permit its members to appear in theatres which make racial discriminations.

This does not invalidate Mr. Coldwell's comment, of course. Canada needs not only a National Theatre, but also a National Library and a National Fine Art Gallery which are proportionate to Canada's greatness in other respects. Our country has now become one of the great trading nations of the world, but that alone does not create national greatness. Only Canada's contributions to the arts, the sciences and to philosophy can do that.

Canadians are the fourth largest tea-drinking people in the world, consuming four pounds of the stuff a head every year. And a good deal of this drinking must be done on the sly, for we rarely hear of a man stepping out in the afternoon for a cup of tea, whereas three-quarters of the male population of Peterborough down tools between ten and eleven a.m. for a short coffee and a long gossip.

The Race Question In South Africa

(LONDON NEW STATESMAN)

THE defeat of Smuts and the United Party in the South African elections came as a shock to the Union no less than to the outside world. None doubted that the United Party majority would be reduced. But neither United Party pessimists nor Nationalist optimists anticipated so sweeping a change. Between them, the Nationalist and Afrikaner parties swept the "Platteland," i.e. the rural areas of Afrikaner domicile. But they have also made considerable gains in urban areas, particularly in constituencies on the Rand. The victories represent a successful adaptation of Dutch-Nationalist policy, which was at one time largely rural in its aspirations, to the requirements of urbanised Afrikaners, whose background outlook has survived the appeal of South African Labour and United Party blandishments.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT is easy, as every election shows, to find comfortable explanations of a defeat. It is argued, and there is some truth in the arguments, that many of the United Party candidates were poor, that there was widespread complacency, that propaganda and electioneering were badly mishandled. But in the face of the general trend such arguments as these carry little weight. There can be no doubt that the central role played in the election was the racial question. It is not that the policy of the United Party in that issue had been a radical one. The history of South African Native policy, the situation of the Indians as shown at Uno, and the attitude towards "coloureds," i.e., half-castes, illustrate that clearly. But there had been a growing tendency towards a more realistic racial policy amongst the U.P. leadership, symbolized in the great expansion there has been in non-European education, in medical and social provision for non-Europeans, and in attempts to reduce the industrial discrimination against them. None of these measures was much more "liberal" in fact than the policy of a farmer in keeping his oxen healthy, or the factory and industrial legislation of the nineteenth century in Britain. None the less, the tendency was there; the U.P. was departing from the rigorous policy of apartheid—race segregation, with no equality in home, church or State—and beginning to accept urbanization as essential to the welfare of the Union.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE electorate has turned towards Malan and his supporters, because Dutch-Nationalism expresses their own almost pathological hatred of ideas of racial equality and tolerance. Support for Dutch-Nationalism comes mainly from farmers who are prepared to go to great lengths to check the loss of their farm labour to better-paid urban employment; from Afrikaner immigrants into urban employment who are deeply concerned at the threat to their privileged position if once the barriers to Native employment in skilled and semi-skilled work be lifted; and in general from people who view liberal trends and ideas of democratic reform as anathema to their rigid conceptions of church and State, hating even the mildly progressive conservatism of Hofmeyr as the loathsome embodiment of Red Bolshevism. Fear and hatred, pathological in their intensity, gave Malan power. The attacks on Hofmeyr and on Communism were because of Native policy. The central issue of the past, Dutch-English relations, was soft-pedalled and subordinate.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHAT of the outlook? Malan's majority is extremely slender, and it depends upon the maintenance of a working agreement between Malan and Havenga, the leader of the Afrikaner Party. Between these two there have been many clashes of personality in the past, as was shown by the difficulties experienced in attempting to achieve an electoral agreement. Furthermore, the Senate, at present overwhelmingly U.P. in membership, raises difficult problems, for it can reject financial Bills, and there is as yet no budget for this year. Dr. Malan has the right to dissolve the Senate within 120 days of the dissolution of the Assembly, i.e., before August 15th, and call for the election of a new Upper House. While the composition of the Provincial Councils remains as it is, the increase in the number of Nationalist and Afrikaner M.P.s, who, with the members of the Provincial Council for the Province in which they are elected, nominate the Senators, would give the Government at most three new Senators. Added to the eight that the Government nominate, this would mean 22 for each side in the Senate. To change this situation, and obtain a working majority in the Senate, new provincial elections will be necessary, and though they will probably follow the pattern of the general election, this process will take time.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT is clear that Malan's situation is not an easy one. Nor do his problems stop there. Malan and, possibly, the A.P. leader, Havenga (though his recent political affinities make this less certain), are constitutionalists and believers in parliamentarianism. Not so, many of their party members. The growth of Nazi and Fascist ideas in South African Nationalism is one of its most ominous features. Those who glibly believe that the Nationalist of 1948 differs little from his predecessors of 1938 are due for a rude awakening, for many of the most forceful younger members of the party are steeped in Nazi ideology whose Herrenvolkism and anti-Communism has made a lasting impression on their outlook. Malan and Havenga do not represent the extreme leadership of the Nationalist Party today, as Malan did 10 years ago. There are two trends in the Nationalist movement as clearly as there were in the early days of the Nazi Party of Germany, and it would be a mis-reading of the current political trend in the Union to mistake the Nazi character of the forces which are at the moment striving to consolidate the very considerable gains they have made.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHAT of the opposition to them? A large number of the defeats of the United Party represent defeats of their Right-wing members; but quite a proportion of the members returned are still of a definite bias along the anti-Hofmeyr, anti-Communist and anti-non-European line. When Smuts goes, their loyalty to race will almost undoubtedly outweigh their loyalty to party, for they will never feel at ease with the policy of Hofmeyr. This emphasizes the dangers implicit in the trend towards a powerful Nationalist majority on a constitutional basis, coupled with the undoubted Fascist tendencies of the more extreme group led by Strydom and Louw, and reinforced by van Rensburg and his Ossewa-Brandwag.

✧ ✧ ✧

SO far as the immediate programme goes, it can be assumed that the Dutch-Nationalists will endeavour to win new voters, especially in marginal constituencies, with concessions, perhaps in income tax, possibly through wage determinations in industries localized in key areas. It can also be assumed that they will make a start with their repressive race policy. The laws to check the movement to the towns, already repressive, and already ineffective, will probably receive a new lease of life. The Unemployed Assistance Act will almost certainly be removed from operation, if not from the Statute Book. Europeans will for the moment be given a "good time," whilst race hatred and anti-Communism are sedulously and steadily encouraged. Attacks upon the Indians in Natal will unquestionably split this United Party bastion, whilst similar attacks on African trade unionists will have more than a limited appeal amongst the European electorate. In the short run, a headlong collision with European opponents is unlikely. They must first be divided still further along the lines that colour questions so enticingly suggest. Sooner or later the three seats held by the Native Representatives may be lost. It can be assumed that the seats conceded to Indians under the Land Tenure and Indians Representation Act will never be filled, and the "coloured" voter in the Cape is liable also to lose his franchise on the common roll.

✧ ✧ ✧

HOW far South African policy in the international field will be modified, it is difficult to see. There will probably be less exchange than might be thought; for international affairs, particularly for a small and strategically importantly placed country like the Union, are less subject to the "will of the nation" than the domestic situation. But it is quite possible that South African support for sterling will worsen, and the Union move more into the American orbit than hitherto. (Concessions for American exports and capital might, it has been said, be granted in exchange for South West Africa.) But foreign policy will change slowly; there is still a need to nurse the English-speaking voter. If once these tactics are successful, and an assured Dutch-Nationalist majority is achieved, things may become very different, for the extremists will become impatient and their power is great and liable to grow. The anti-English, anti-Empire feeling amongst large sections is very real. In Pretoria, Union Jacks have been cut out of the Union Flag by hooligans, and chanting, marching groups in Johannesburg have been parading with anti-Semitic and anti-English cries on their lips. The future is ominous, for the word "liberal" in South Africa is already a term of abuse, and the Afrikaner people, who claim that their aim historically has been only to secure equality and freedom for themselves are already far along the road of its denial to others.

GIVING US THE HOT-FOOT

Telephone Manners

(THE BRANTFORD EXPOSITOR)

THIS being the Telephone City, presumably telephone problems take on a somewhat personal or even proprietory note than anywhere else on earth, with the possible exception of Boston, Mass.

For that reason, among others that may be guessed as the reader proceeds, this newspaper reprints in full an article on telephone manners as written by C. B. Larrabee, president and publisher of that admiral journal Printers' Ink. The item follows without further comment. There is no need for it—the further comment, that is.

It occurred four times the other day. And it is one of the most irritating things that can happen to any businessman.

The telephone rings. I answer it.

"Mr. Larrabee?" a sweet voice asks.

"Yes," I say, although on picking up the phone I said my name.

"Will you hold the wire a moment," says the sweet voice, "Mr. Soandso is calling?"

To me that is an example of one of the most prevalent exhibitions of bad manners in the business world.

What Mr. Soandso has done is to imply that his time is much more important than mine. In other words, he cannot hang on to the phone for the minute or two that it takes his secretary to get me, but it is all right for me to hang on for the minute or two until his secretary gets him on the phone.

Of course, we have all had the irritating experience of having Mr. Sonandso ask, when he does condescend to come to the phone, "Who is this?"

The most glaring example of telephone bad manners I remember is that of a salesman who was trying very hard to sell me something. He called on me a half dozen times and had made a nice impression.

One morning I received one of the ill-mannered calls. Patiently I hung on to the wire, and I heard the telephone girl calling, "Mr. Jones, Mr. Jones." There was considerable mumbling in the background and then, after two or three minutes, the telephone girl said, "Excuse it, please. But apparently I can't find Mr. Jones."

Five minutes of my time wasted by a man who wanted to sell me—and then he wasn't on the phone. That was not only an exhibit of bad manners, but of ridiculously bad selling technique. I am happy to say that it seems to me that fewer and fewer people every year seem to indulge in this kind of bad manners.

There is only one circumstance under which it seems to me that it is excusable. That is when you have made a call and got a busy line. It would seem to me proper than to ask the secretary or an operator to hold on to the wire until the line ceased to be busy and the man came back on. But even here, I will guarantee that in nine cases out of ten the recipient of the call will be irritated.

As long as I am on the subject, I would like to bring up another source of irritation.

I call Jones. His secretary answers. "This is Mr. Jones' office."

"Is Mr. Jones in?" I ask.

"Who is this calling?" she asks.

And right there she has made a mistake. If she says to me, "Mr. Jones is in. May I ask who is calling?" or "Mr. Jones is not here right now. May I ask who is calling?" then there is no harm done.

But when she puts that question and if Jones happens to be out, I am always sure in my own mind that she put her hand over the receiver and whispered, "Mr. Jones, Mr. Larrabee is calling you." Whereupon I vision Mr. Jones frowning or waving his hand angrily and shaking his head. Then I see the secretary coming back on the line and saying "Mr. Jones is not in."

The telephone is an important part of modern business. Isn't it surprising that so many of its users use it to build up ill-will?

Incentive To Browsers

A New York bank, opening a new branch here in the Columbia neighbourhood, announces in an advertisement that it "invites you to come in to start your savings account, buy low-cost savings bank life insurance.... or just browse around." Here is an opportunity for the habitual bookstore browsers to add variety to his life. When a teller approaches with the usual inquiry, "Can I help you, sir?" the visitor can reply, "no thanks, I'm just browsing around in these old $20 bills."—Pleasures of Publishing.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.

And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy; and saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.

And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him. And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me, nevertheless not what I will, but what thou wilt.

And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour? Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.

And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words. And when he returned, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy), neither wist they what to answer him.

And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. (Mark 14: 32-41.)

Letters to the Editor

OPPOSES FIRE HALL FOR SOUTH END

Sir: It looks like an epidemic of bright ideas to be used for benefit of people who live in the South End—fire hall, library, civic centre, arena etc.

A headline in your paper some time ago announced "Fire Hall Bulging". With what? Surely not with busy men. And they suggest transferring some to a station in the South End. For change of scenery, we presume. The fire hazard section is mainly centred within three or four blocks known as "down-town". In these days of motorized equipment there are few seconds spent in reaching a fire in any south, east, west or north end.

A branch library is also suggested. Who has seen the Public Library jammed? Except with books, and unless on those occasions when there are tickets for drama to be bought there. Unfortunately a branch library on every second corner will not make readers from people. Reading for pleasure or information has not been inherited or acquired by many. People in the South End or ten, twenty miles beyond, have no difficulty in transporting themselves to cinemas on George St. or to their places of business. They go anywhere they want to in their cars. This is my opinion. What is yours?

ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

COMMENDS PUBLIC LIBRARY

Sir: I am certain that there are a number of Peterborough residents who are not aware that our Library here contains many very good books, and a great variety in matter and style.

The other day I picked up a book by H. Spring (Library No. B Sp8, should anyone desire to read it). It bore the title, "In The Meanwhile". This writer, a well known journalist and autnor, takes you, as it were, with him on his journeyings and locations, with the result that you meet different well-known writers and public characters in a very interesting and pleasing way. You obtain, also, something of the real atmosphere of newspaper offices, and become acquainted with journalism and newspapermen, and in a manner which makes you actually visualize the incidents and people so contacted.

From the above book I give the following extract, page 207: "A statesman is a man who fits like a glove the mood of the nation in one of its great self-conscious moments, so that he and it have no disparity of end or means, but act as one thing. He is the heart and the voice of a body mainly inarticulate but consciously dedicated. Such was Abraham Lincoln, the greatest statesman in this sense that the world has known; and for us, in the nick of time, between the stirrup and the ground, Winston Churchill was there."

Mr. Spring takes views from a different angle to the one most generally accepted. Yet they are not only feasible, but in many cases appear more logical and sound, striking to the root of the matter. The book is most exhilarating and refreshing. It is not a novel so there is no plot to hold one in suspense, but if the matter it contains is of interest to the reader, he will read it to the finish, for H. Spring has far sighted ability in sizing up situations and men.

OVER 17,000 PICNICKERS, many of them coming from Southern Ontario, attended the picnic held at the Ukrainian Society's picnic grounds in Palermo, Ont. Eleven nations were represented and Slavs turned out en masse. So successful proved the outing that the All-Slav society hope to make it an annual event. Traditional folk dances and music of the Slavic people added to the enjoyment. A trio of dancers is shown in native costume at the picnic.

Jolliffe Moves In New Office

TORONTO, July 7 (CP)—Ontario CCF Leader E. B. Jolliffe has moved into the Opposition Leader's office at Queen's Park here, although Maj. Alex Lewis, clerk of the legislature says he has not yet authority to assume office.

Maj. Lewis explained the Speaker of the Legislature must officially recognize the leader of the Opposition and as yet there is no Speaker.

"Even if the last Speaker had not been defeated in the June election, there still wouldn't be any Speaker until the legislature meets and names a Speaker."

Acting Premier T. L. Kennedy, however, said today: "I know who the Opposition leader is, and I know who the official Opposition are, so I am paying no attention to such legal technicalities."

Mr. Jolliffe's salary as Opposition Leader does not start, however, until he is officially recognized by the Speaker. In his new office, Mr. Jolliffe will receive not only his sessional indemnity of $2,000 as a member and $1,000 expenses, but an extra $3,000 and $2,000 expenses as Opposition Leader. His total annual salary and expenses will amount to $8,000.

Home Tomato Crop Is Eagerly Awaited

Housewives may be breathing easier by week's end. Hothouse tomatoes, selling at 90 cents to $1 a pound a month ago, have dropped to a minimum of 55 cents for local grown tomatoes. But some which have been brought in from Toronto are selling at 75 cents.

The immediate prospect for field tomatoes is not so bright. Yesterday in Toronto, an 11-quart basket of field tomatoes was selling for $8.

Local fruit dealers expect a drop in price for both kinds before the week-end. They believe the field tomato crop should be good.

Declare Martial Law After Revolt In Peru

LIMA, Peru, July 7 (AP). — Virtual martial law existed in Peru today as the government acted to restore public order following Sunday's revolt by the army garrison at Juliaca in the southeast.

An official announcement Monday night said Brig.-Gen. Federico Hurtado, inspector-general of the army, has ordered the rebel garrison to surrender and told them the rest of the army is loyal to the government.

The announcement said Hurtado has been placed in command of all armed forces, the police and the Republican guard.

$13 Million Extension Plan For University of Toronto

TORONTO, July 7.—The University of Toronto's campaign for $6,000,000 will be resumed in September, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, chancellor of the University and chairman of the Varsity Appeal Committee, announced today.

"Results achieved during May and June demonstrate that we will exceed our objective," Mr. Massey said. "The contributions from individuals and corporations have been extremely satisfactory. On all sides we have found warm appreciation of the University's function as a national institution and a willingness to help meet her pressing needs.

"Contributions ranging up to $200,000 have helped swell the total but the Committee has been equally encouraged by contributions from members of the general public who explained they could not afford more but that they did want to take part in the great enterprise."

The $6,000,000 now being raised will be added to $7,000,000 pledged by the Ontario Government for an improvement program. Plans include a men's residence for University College, an addition to the University Library, an Arts Building, the Charles H. Best Institute for medical research, a social and recreational centre for 1,600 women students who are at present without such facilities, a war memorial, an additional funds for scholarships.

The Varsity Appeal Committee and its sub-committee for special names have made an excellent start. "But we have reached only a fraction of the prospective contributors," Mr. Massey added. "A great deal of ground remains to be covered in the autumn."

Mr. Massey said tht newspapers throughout the Province have helped the campaign "effectively and generously." "I do not know of any campaign since the great national efforts of the war years which has received greater support from the press," he said. "The newspapers have carried the University's story into every corner of Ontario and to the larger centres from Halifax to Victoria.

"In their news columns and on their editorial pages, the newspapers have demonstrated how a free press can and does throw its full weight behind a worthy cause."

PERFECTIONIST: "I want my pies and cakes to be perfect and they're not. Why does my pie crust raise up like a tent over the filling? Why are my cakes soggy? I bake them at 350 deg. F. for 45 to 60 minutes and never peek. What will keep my refrigerator from turning yellow?"
Use a good pastry recipe (3¼ cups pastry flour, 1 cup shortening, 1 teaspoon salt and cold water to bind. Handle lightly. Bake in a hot oven (450 deg. F.) After your pie is filled and the cover on, press lightly with floured hands. That means the top crust doesn't rise up leaving a vacuum between fruit and cover. We are sending you our best cake recipe. Check your oven thermometer for error. For the yellow stain on the refrigerator, Moffats advise No. 7 Duco polish which can be obtained at any garage or service station.
ENLARGED PORES: "Could you please recommend a good cleansing cream for enlarged pores."
To shrink pores isn't as easy as rubbing on a cream. Pores are V-shaped and in these little pockets oil and dust collect. That's the reason back of enlarged pores. First of all, trim your diet of excessive fats, oils, gravies and pastries. Drink lots of water, a pint of milk daily. Wash your face five times daily, lathering well with mild soap. After each washing shrink the pores with astringent, then use, a non-oily cream. Stick to that regime and your skin should become clear and smooth.
CONFIRMATION: "My daughter is being confirmed in the Anglican Church next week in the evening. If she carries a white prayer book should it have streamers or flowers hanging down? I am having friends and relatives in afterwards. Could the sandwiches be made in the afternoon? How much coffee for 18?"
Church officials say members of the confirmation class should be plainly dressed. That seems to eliminate streamers and flowers. Sandwiches made in the afternoon and wrapped in wax paper or cook's foil will keep perfectly fresh. Coffee for 15 takes ½ pound coffee and 3½ quarts of water. Tie the coffee loosely in cheese cloth. Steep for eight minutes.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Two weeks from this Saturday, on July 24, the Ontario Golf Association annual district tournament will be staged at the Peterborough Golf Club. It is the biggest tourney of the district, a huge success last year here, and clubs expected to enter are: Kingston, Belleville, Cobourg, Port Hope, Oshawa, Lindsay, some from Toronto, and Kawartha and Peterborough. Prominent golfers from Toronto, including Phil Farley and Sonny Adams, will attend, too. The course will be in first class shape and substantial prizes are offered for players of all handicaps.

* * * * * *

Reason for this note on the tournament is to notify those of the city and district interested in entering to apply to the secretary of the Ontario Golf Association at 392 Bay St., Toronto. Other entries will be accepted at the Peterborough Golf Club for forwarding with the club's own list if mailed early enough. Post entries will be accepted but should be sent to Stan Payne at the Westclox here in time. Players shouldn't delay entering as it takes time to make the draws. Robert Abbott is director in charge of the tournament, and it is likely that it will provide a record number of entries and some keen and classy competition.

Pro Baseball Camp

From Welland comes a request that we mention the Brooklyn Dodgers' main tryout camp for Canada. It will be held at Burgar Park, Welland, on July 20-21-22, and is open to all aspiring young ballsters. Third year of such a camp and a number of Canadians so far have been absorbed into the Dodgers' farm setup, the largest in organized baseball. It has 26 clubs, including the Dodgers, Montreal Royals of the International and St. Paul of the American Association. The big league clubs are paying more and more attention to Canadian prospects.

Weather being right, the intermediate Petes go tonight at 6.30 in Riverside against Whitby. A Lakeshore Baseball League fixture, a return one of the week. The other night, Whitby at home edged out the locals 2-1 with a last-inning run after each side was limited to four hits. That's good baseball, and tonight's tussle should be another dogfight. Manager Jack Billingsley may start Lefty Detlor on the home mound this time and keep himself in reserve, but he has several other pitchers available, also. Two local junior teams, the Kiwanis and Kinsmen, clash at 6.30 tomorrow eve in Riverside and it'll be a hot one, you can bet. The east and west bantams have a game on the morrow at the Ex.

Runs, Hits, Errors

Sooner or later the men softballers at the Bowl had to blow and it came about last dark eve before a slim gathering. Two one-sided games came up. B-A blanked K.C. 11-0 as Ron Akers hurled his 27th inning of shutout ball, best showing of any twirler in the loop this year. Johnny Russelle almost lost this one by default, being short of players, but Ron brought his brother Mel out of the stand to fill in and, if the gas stations close at 10 p.m. and Jack gets time for night prayers, he might say a word of thanks for the Akers! Ron really pitched fine change-of-pace ball throughout and his support was good. Borland, Conlin, Condon and Tompkins led the hitters in this fray. Knights didn't go so well.

* * * * * *

Second thing was a 15-8 win for Legion over Comstock's, what is usually known as a comedy of errors. Loose all the way. Pagett, McCarthy and Brockley were the main stickers and Legion belted a lot of extra-base blows to earn the verdict. The teams are finding it tough to field their regular lineups now, owing to holidays, and this is the important stretch drive. Knights will have to pull up their sox or they'll be the guys outside looking in a couple of weeks from now. But only B-A looked good last eve of the whole four, and they were lucky not to lose by default. Couple of more contests tomorrow night and they should be much better after this one night's letdown.

Petes Grab Honey

By far the best senior "B" lacrosse scrap of the season was seen by 2,000 fans in Oshawa last night as the Petes drove late to squeeze out a 10-9 win in a rough battle. Trailed nearly all the way and then had to fight off a hot Oshawa thrust in the dying seconds of a swell struggle. No less than 26 penalties handed out, six for fighting. Petes got 14 of the penalties but still had enough to eke out the verdict. Dootch Vitarelli, Lou Vitarelli, Bun Hill, Arn Dugan and Ron Horton were probably the pick of the winners but they all staged a dandy showing against stiff opposition. The Vipond brothers were stepping into all and sundry. If the Orillia-Petes' fixture here Friday night is anything like last night's sizzler, the fans will really get their money's worth.

Third Shutout For Akers As B-A Victors

Ron Akers pitched his third straight shutout at the Bowl last night to give a short-handed B-A men's softball team an 11-0 victory over Knights. It put B-A out in front again as a small crowd braved threatening weather to see the one-sided tilt. Akers threw five-hit ball and fanned seven, walking none, to make it 27 scoreless innings. His change of pace worked well all the way and his support was good. Jack Doris had two bad frames and shaky backing on the other slab.

Conlin had two doubles and a single in five, while Borland had a triple and two singles for five to lead B-A at bat as Ron Akers got two for three. Crowe hit a homer and single in five tries and Pryde a two-bagger. Condon topped Knights with two in three attempts and Tompkins got two for four. The losers pulled off one double-play but the issue was never in doubt after the initial inning.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

As our own game was finished first last evening and as we had to hurry down town we have not the results of all the games. Likely we can publish them later on.

It looks as if the ladies are going to have a nice entry for their doubles tournament on Friday. Cobourg, Belleville, Port Hope and Lindsay clubs will be represented. Besides, many will enter from our own club.

We expect that the draw for the men's open doubelts tournament, for next Wednsday, will be made shortly and then we will publish it in tthis column.

Although we have not received this information officially, we have been tipped off it is to be men's doubles Friday night.

Tonight, mixed rinks, at 7.30 p.m.

This being the half-holiday, no doubt many of the bowlers are playing in tournaments outside of the city.

The prizes for the big draw, in connection with the open doubles tournament to be held next Wednesday, are on display in the window of H. Florence, Charlotte St. If you have not got your ticketes yet see any member of the committee. First prize, Chesterfield set; Second prize, Johnston outboard motor; third prize, cabinet of silver.

Legion took Comstock's 15-8 last night to go into a second-place tie with their opponents. Both sides turned in a real loose defensive game with the pitching not too good and the fielding worse. Legion had more power at the plate for 13 hits, including four homers and three doubles in the draggy duel. Pagett was the big Legion hitter with a homer and three singles in six as Greenlaw, White and Dalton got two blows each. McCarthy and Brockley led Comstock's with three for four each, one of the former's a triple. Cournyea hit two doubles. The losers used two twirlers.

A Late Drive By the Petes Gives Them 10-9 OLA Win

The Petes' lacrossers pulled out a thrilling 10-9 win in Oshawa last night before 2,000 yelling fans, many from here. They had to come from behind in an uphill fight all the way, tying the count late in the fourth frame when Bob Breakspear scored from Dugan, and then winning in the last minute and a half on Horton's goal from Lou Vitarelli. It was a rough joust with fights breaking out frequently. Gordon had two majors and Dugan one, as the Vipond brothers dished it out hard.

In the most exciting game by far this season in Senior "B" play, Dootch Vitarelli for Petes and Hilson for Oshawa were outstanding. Both goalies shone, too. Oshawa peppered Hill the last few seconds. At one time in the fourth, the Petes had four men in the "cooler" to one for Oshawa, the homesters scoring one goal then. Orillia is here this Friday night.

The Teams:

Petes—Goal, Hill; defence, Magee and Chute; centre, E. Creighton; wings, Dugan and R. Breakspear; rover, Foote; alternates, Horton, J. Breakspear, L. Vitarelli, D. Vitarelli, Smith, Gordon and Connelly.

There was but one error on each side. Beggs banged out a homer for the winners in the fifth frame. Bantam Lacrosse

Two bantam lacrosse games were staged earlier this week with Clapper's Cubs defeating St. Paul's 3-1 and Kiwanis riding roughshod over Tudhope's to the tune of 17-1. For Clapper's, Cupoli and Dureya with two goals each and Woodgate with one went best but the whole team showed up well going both ways. For St. Paul's, J. Millburn was the lone scorer with Bob Hobart subbing in goal and going well. The teams:

St. Paul's: Hobart, Hawthorne, McGrath, Bartley, R. Whitton, W. Whitton, Crowder, Jones, Mitchell, Donoghue, Millburn.

Clapper's: Cupoli, Woodgate, Roberts, Ryan, Galvin, Vandetter, Foley, Kelly, Dureya, Ferren, Cullen, Lindsay, Middleton, Legros.

Kiwanis had little trouble with the weakened Tudhope team and turned in a nice passing game. Almost every player scored with Bud Allen having four and Batley three. Woodhouse, Kearns and McDougall each got two. Despite the big score, the losers' goalie made a flock of fine saves and Sutherland got their only gioal.

Kiwanis: Bulmer, Collins, McDougall, Corbett, Kearns, Cournyea, Hobart, O'Brien, Crowe, Batley, Woodhouse, Allen, Ball.

Tudhope's: Nichols, McIlwain, Morgan, Wood, Sutherland, Weir, Murphy, Macklin, Peirson.

OLYMPICS LACK MONEY

At Chicago, Avery Brundage Tuesday notified committees controlling the United States Olympic team that it will be "necessary to curtail the squads unless funds are subscribed before the ship sails for London July 14."

Owen V. Camp, Olympic treasurer, revealed that of a budget of $500,000, only $330,000 is on hand. Another $80,000 is pledged, leaving a deficit of $90,000. It had been planned to take 385 athletes to the games which start July 29. A deficit of $90,000 could result in 70 being left home.

Margaret Plans To Continue Movie Career

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 7 (AP)—It looks like a life-long acting career for Margaret O'Brien.

The talented tot's mother had hoped to retire Margaret from the screen during the in-between years, but the little gal is putting up a fight. She turns on the tears whenever a retirement is mentioned, and it now appears that Margaret will stay in pictures. She plans to bridge the awkward period by appearing in a film series based on "Violet," the super-intelligent moppet. Margaret herself sold boss Louis B. Mayer on the character.

Brissie Halts Senators 5-3 As Tigers Blank Indians

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Rookie Lou Brissie Tuesday night pitched Philadelphia Athletics within 10 percentage points of the American League's front-running Cleveland Indians.

Brissie halted Washington Senators 5-3 while the Indians were blanked 9-0 by Dizzy Trout and Detroit Tigers. All major league activity took place under the lights.

Brissie scattered 11 hits and fanned nine in a game that was called at the end of eight innings to allow the Senators to catch a train. The A's sewed up the contest by scoring two runs in both the first and second innings. Eddie Joost drove in a run in each frame on a homer and single.

At Cleveland, Trout limited the Indians to six hits and helped his own cause with a home run in the fifth inning. Vic Wertz started trout off on his way to victory by slamming a three-run four-bagger off Bob Muncrief, starting and losing Cleveland pitcher in the fourth inning.

Three In Row

Boston Red Sox made it three in a row over the third-place New York Yankees as Joe Dobson pitched the Sox to a five-hit 2-1 victory over the Yankees in Boston. Dobson fanned seven and walked only three in gaining his 10th triumph.

In a free-slugging game at Chicago, St. Louis Browns beat the White Sox 7-6 with Paul Lehner's eighth-inning single scoring Al Zarilla with the winning run.

Boston Braves stretched their margin in the National League pennant struggle to three games over the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals by nosing out the Giants, 4-3 in New York while the Cards dropped a 12-10 slugfest to Chicago Cubs in St. Louis.

Frank McCormick's first homer of the year with one on in the fifth inning provided the Braves with their margin of victory. Johnny Mize poled his 18th four-bagger of the season with two aboard in the third inning to account for all of the Giants runs.

Trailing, 10-3 at one stage, the Cards scored four runs in the sixth inning and three more in the seventh to tie the score but the Cubs scored twice in the eighth on a wild pitch and Bill Nicholson's home run to win. The game was called at the end of the eighth to allow the Cubs to catch a train.

19th Homer

Stan Musial of the Cards cracked his 19th homer and two singles to boost his major league front-running batting average to a lofty .414.

Ted Kluszewski's two-out two-run double highlighted a three-run ninth-inning rally that enabled Cincinnati Reds to come from behind and edge the third-place Pirates 6-4 at Pittsburgh.

At Philadelphia, Hank Behrman pitched Brooklyn Dodgers to a 5-0 eight-hit triumph over the Phillies. The Dodgers scored three times in the first inning and added two more in the ninth on rookie George Suba's two-run homer.

Giants Outslug Newark By 3-0

By The Associated Press

Bob Porterfield, after a sensational start, is having a tough time pitching winning ball in the International League.

The rooke righthander of Newark Bears was the talk of the league during the early stages of the race, winning nine games in a row, but since the early part of June he has won only one game while losing five.

Tuesday night he suffered his fifth setback when Jack Harshman of Jersey City Giants slugged one of his pitches out of the lot.

Harshman belted his 18th homer of the year with two on in the first inning to account for all of the Giant runs in a 3-0 victory.

Despite the setback, the Bears remained half a game ahead of the third-place Syracuse Chiefs who were beaten 10-3 by the last place Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles hammered four Syracuse hurlers for 17 hits with Ed Levy leading the way with four-for-four. Howie Moss chipped in with a three-run homer, his 19th of the season.

A scheduled game between Montreal and Rochester was postponed. Buffalo and Toronto were not scheduled.

Canada Takes Her Place In Defence Meet

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, July 7 (CP)—Canada Tuesday stepped in as a full participant in discussions of the North American attitude toward the Western European pact for defence.

The discussions, called by the United States, will be long drawn out, possibly lasting three or four months, and will be secret.

Lester B. Pearson, undersecretary of State for External Affairs and Canada's No. 1 international expert, came here from Ottawa to join Ambassador Hume Wrong in representing Canada.

While only the barest and most non-committal statements have been made to the press the implication is that the United States and Canada are considering how far they can go in alliance with the western bloc for mutual defence.

Logical Move

Canada's invitation to the conference was a logical move by the United States for at least two reasons. They are:

1. Canadian and United States defence plans are so integrated that one country could scarcely make any commitments to a third power or group without the concurrence and co-operation of the other.

2. In two major wars in this century Britain has been supported instantly by Canada and there is no reason to believe that would not continue to be the case.

The United Kingdom is a major force in the Western European union for defence, along with France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Request of the bloc for an expression from the United States as to its possible aid to the Western Alliance in the event of war was followed by a Senate declaration that the administration should "associate" itself with such alliances in which United States interests are involved.

Shipbuilding Here To Stay

OTTAWA, July 7 (CP)—Canada's shipbuilding industry is here to stay, John V. Clyne, chairman of the Canadian Maritime Commission, said Tuesday.

He told the technical section of the Canadian Ship-building and Ship Repairing Association that while Canada's shipbuilding industry and merchant marine waned after the First World War, both the Commission and the Dominion government are taking steps to assure them a good future.

The Commission, he declared, "was reasonably assured" that Canadian ships would be adequately employed for at least another three or four years.

Only "the first step" was the Commission's recently-announced ship replacement policy. The body now was considering a plan of accelarted depreciation to make it easier for ship operators to finance the building of vessels in Canadian yards.

Mr. Clyne said the Commission was studying the operation of such schemes in other countries, some of which allow rapid depreciation for tax purposes. This permits profits to go towards paying off vessels instead of into taxation.

Mounties Close Case

LONDON, July 7 (CP) — The Mounties closed their file on a 10-months-old case when Ross Albert, 29, of Melbourne, Ont., was sentenced to four months for assaulting Constable William Ritchie. He was the fourth person to be sentenced as a result of a small riot on the Muncey Indian Reserve last September when three RCMP officers were injured in arresting a drunk driver.

Storms In West

YORKTON, Sask., J7.—(CP).—Spawned by the summer's hottest weather, severe electrical storms and winds of near-cyclone proportions hit scattered districts of Saskatchewan Monday night. Hardest hit was the city where the exhibition grandstand shifted from its base, its roof demolished, and other nearby buildings were damaged. Loss was estimated at $20,000.

Dr. E. F. Burton Distinguished Scientist Dies

TORONTO, July 7.—(CP). — Dr. Eli Franklin Burton, 69, one of the University of Toronto's most distinguished professors and an internationally known scientist, died in hospital Tuesday.

He had been a member of the University of Toronto's staff since his graduation from it in 1901 and had headed the department of physics since 1931. He retired from the University's staff a month ago after being in poor health for some time.

Through his guidance, the department of physics of the University of Toronto gained world recognition.

Among numerous contributions to scientific knowledge were his outstanding success with the colloidal arsenic treatment for cancer, which he developed in collaboration with the Toronto surgeon, Dr. A. C. Hendrick; his invention in 1930 of a device to determine the amount of moisture in human and other bodies; and his development in 1940 of an electron microscope capable of 12,700-diameter magnification.

Dr. Burton's outstanding contributions to science were recognized in 1943 when he was awarded the OBE in the New Year's honors list.

The professor, a native of Green River, Ont., was never reluctant to express his opinions on controversial subjects. At one time he candidly expressed the belief that advances in medical science were frequently hampered, rather than promoted, by the organized tmedical profession.

Two years ago he was quoted as saying that any new scientific apparatus developed in Canada "is never manufactured in Canada but is always handed over on a gold platter to the United States."

DR. E. F. BURTON, one of Canada's most distinguished scientists, world famous for his work in physics, died in Toronto Tuesday. Dr. Burton served 16 years as head of the University of Toronto physics department.

Ponder Problem Of Plane Buying

LONDON, July 7 — (CP). — British ministers are pondering the problem today of new commercial aircraft purchases with the profound wish it was 1953 instead of 1948.

They have the word of aviation experts that with reasonable good fortune Britain should lead the world in airliner development in another five years. Scientists and craftsmen who built the wartime Spitfires and Lancasters and developed jet engines, need until 1953 to prove fully in operation aircraft now under construction.

Among machines they hope will bring Britain the blue ribbon of the air, are the De Haviland Comet, a long-distance airliner with swept-back wings; the 135-ton Bristol Brabazon, biggest land plane venture in the United Kingdom, the first of which is expected to fly in Novemeber; and the 140-ton SR-45 flying boat.

All these machines on regular routes will be equipped with jet engines in which Britain claims a lead she never has lost.

But in the meantime, government buyers for the nationalized air lines are torn between national pride and airline efficiency; their faith in British builders and their knowledge that nothing tests an airliner so well as several months in actual service.

Montreal Has Storm

MONTREAL, July 7 (CP) — A windstorm hit the Montreal area Tuesday night, snapping trees and power lines and disrupting traffic. Police and hospital officials said no casualties were reported, but police estimated damage as "considerable."

Outbreak From Mexico

VICTORIA, July 7 (CP) — A poliomyelitis outbreak aboard the Canadian destroyer Athabaskan is believed to have originated in a Mexican port, naval authorities said Tuesday night. The destroyer's 195-man complement is under a 14-day quarantine.

Sets Fire To Car

DETROIT, July 7.—(AP).—Leo Dixon, 42, a grocery chain manager, soaked his automobile with gasoline, then calmly struck a match and burned himself to death, a 36-year-old woman employee told police Tuesday. The woman, Emma Balog, manager of a store in the chain, was treated for burns received in trying to pull Dixon from the blazing car.

Joe Doaks, soon to be married, found very little money left over after paying for new house.

"Corex solved our problem," says Joe Doaks. "This beautiful new glass dinnerware that looks like fine china costs so little that we were able to buy six each of cups, saucers, bread and butter plates, fruit dishes, dinner plates and soups for about $4.95."

Corex is as practical as it is economical and beautiful. It's harder to break or chip and it's more sanitary than earthenware because it's non-porous.

Council Offers To Sell 5 City Houses

By HARRY THEOBALD

City council is planning through its property committee to sell five houses in the north end, in the vicinity of the Hilliard Farm.

The committee Tuesday night with Ald. Gordon Armstrong presiding, first raised the average of rental for the municipality's stores on George St., between Simcoe and Charlotte Streets and also in the town hall at Hunter and Mark Streets. It was then decided to get out of the residential realty business.

The members have already begun to talk like real estate agents. "That house," they were saying, led by the chairman, with City Clerk Outram doing an obbligato of approval, "would make five very nice apartments." Another comment was that a nearby house, also owned by the city, could be converted into "four very comfortable apartments."

The committee sounded as if they were practicing a sales talk extolling the merits of these properties, which are to be offered to the public, in the most persuasive manner of realtors.

Two houses on Water St. north, seven rooms each, are to be vacated, and sold on condition they will be moved to some other site. Two large houses on Mill St., both frame construction are also to be advertised. One could be turned into five apartments, according to somebody's estimate. Reroofing is required, and will be done by the city.

The proposed disposal of these dwellings has to receive the approval of the council. The Armstrong committee's attitude is that the city has no justification for being in the real estate business.

It was also decided last night to put a new roof on the market building. Although there have been recent conversations about selling that George St. front, the project is vague and of the future. Meanwhile the property has to be kept in good repair, and the roof job, it was said, needs attention.

Defer Payment Of $300,000 To New Hospital

Request from Board of Governors of Civic Hospital for the $300,000 to be contributed out of the surplus of the City Trust Commission was deferred by the council Monday to "late in the fall."

"I think they have ample funds," said Ald. Swanston. "They should use that money before the City Trust sells debentures for the amount."

Mayor Ovens said the Trust members would naturally expect plenty of advance notice before being asked for the money they promised to the hospital.

56 PCVS Cadets Attending Cadet Camp At Ipperwash

There are 56 cadets from PCVS attending summer cadet camp at Ipperwash this year. Of these, 16 are taking a six-week course in wireless and driver mechanics, while the other 40 are at regular camp. G. E. Beals, instructor in motor mechanics at PCVS, accompanied the group.

By mid-July over 2,000 members of Ontario's 200 army cadet units will have completed 10 days' training at Camp Ipperwash, on the shores of Lake Huron. The former infantry training centre came to life with a vengeance on June 20, when the first group of youthful cadets arrived, and on July 1 the second and last camp commenced with the arrival of another 700 lads, who will do it the "army way" for the next 10 days.

Exclusively for Army Cadets

The camp has undergone a "face lifting" since wartime days, and is now used exclusively for the training of the army cadets. Road signs bear such names as Piccadilly, The Mall, Drury Lane, and the Strand. The old canteen has been renovated and renamed "Club Ipperwash," and the drill hall is now the scene of movies and amateur theatricals — its name: "Crystal Palace."

Brigadier H. A. Sparling, Commander of the army's Western Ontario Area is in charge of the camp, and he and his staff are doing their utmost to make the stay of the cadets as enjoyable and as educational as possible. Sports fields have been built, field and track meets arranged, and the nearby beach at Ipperwash Provincial Park has provided an excellent location for all types of water sports.

Prizes Offered

During the day the cadets have drill parades, lectures, weapon training periods, and trips to the 30-yard rifle ranges. All type of modern army equipment are on display, and a special demonstration section, made up from one of the school cadet units, gives the lads an opportunity of learning something of the elements of field-craft and tactics. Prizes go to the best all-round company, and various groups vie with one another for honors. In the evenings a program of sports, movies and games keep the camp humming and even the odd water and pillow fights are not frowned on by camp officials. Once a week each company is allowed to visit nearby towns in conducted groups, returning to camp in time for "lights out."

All the cadets are given medical examinations on arrival at camp, and a first class hospital looks after any minor cases of illness. A special food scale, containing a larger proportion of milk than the normal army ration keeps the lads in first class physical condition. There is no need to have the bugler blow the familiar "Come to the Cookhouse Door, Boys" more than once. In fact the lads usually invade the two mess halls—"The Ritz" and "The Savoy" well ahead of schedule.

Soon the summer camp will be over for the majority of the lads, though one group will remain for a six-week trades training course. By mid-August Ipperwash will be deserted for another year, and the cadets will return home—many with regrets that the camp could not last all summer. The almost unanimous expression on the last day is. "We'll be back." When they arrive next year the army will be ready to receive them with a bigger and better camp.

City Withholds Approval Of Water Main

City Engineer Chalmer is withholding approval of the Utilities Commission plan for the routing of the new 24-inch water main through the Hilliard Farm property.

"Until such time as the council decides on the future use of this area, I am not in a position to approve the location," Mr. Chalmers reported to the council Monday night. "If this area will eventually become residential, the water-main should be so located that it conforms to the street layout."

The property is south of Queen Mary Hospital, extending to Anson House. Utilities Commission are suggesting a pipe line through the property that would have the advantage of avoiding sharp corners.

Floating Wharfs Placed On Beach

Four floating wharfs and a roped-in area now protect Inverlea Beach, the scene of the drowning on Monday of nine-year-old Gerald Harran. The work was handled by the Kinsmen Club, which has been supplying much of the equipment used at the children's play and swim facilities there. The water part now marked off by floating corks joined with rope is a safe distance within the limits marking the rock drop of the old wall, club officials said.

INFANT DIES

The two-day-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Claire McGillen died at noon Tuesday. The father is a well-known traffic officer of the city police department. Mrs. McGillen is the former Agnes Scollard. There is another 13-months-old child in the family.

Rambling Reporter

"THE BIG SLEEP"

There's a story going the rounds of the breakfast clubs of the city these days, told by several of the early-shift police. It is about a city man who decided to go to a movie last week. He walked in at 6:30 p.m. The next thing he recalls is waking up—at 2:45 the next morning. How he was unnoticed by the staff of the theatre has not been figured out. He was afraid to attract attention at the doors for he was locked in, and he feared a policeman might take a dim view of the proceedings. By luck, he saw a couple he knew passing by and had them get a night officer. After careful explanation, he went home to bed.—RB.

A FORGOTTEN MAN

It is a well-known fact that although Claude Rains is one of Hollywood's best actors he is seldom in the limelight. For years he has made his reputation in supporting roles, allowing others to take top billing. But a downtown theatre has taken his modesty too seriously. On its marquee is advertised "The Unsuspected Claude Rains."

Fourth Earth Tremor

MONTREAL, July 7 (CP)—The fourth earth tremor in less than two months was felt in some sections of Montreal about 3.40 a.m., EDT today. The slight shaking brought a flood of telephone calls to police and newspapers. As with the previous tremors, there were no reports of damage.

Dr. Carlisle's Death Held Accidental

WINNIPEG, July 7 (CP)—The death of Dr. G. H. Carlisle, 66, last Sunday was accidental, city police said last night. No inquest will be held into the death of the noted eye, ear, nose and throat specialist.

Police said Dr. Carlisle suffered a fall in his office a week before his death in which he fractured several ribs.

Born in Peterborough, Ont., he was a graduate of Trinity College, Toronto, and served overseas with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps during the First World War.

Honeymoon Costly

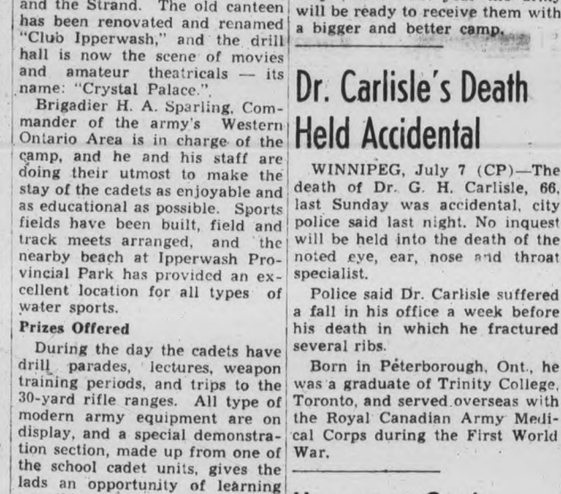
HALIFAX, July 7 (CP)—Because he stole a car for his honeymoon, Ronald Cheaters, naval rating from Perth, was sentenced Tuesday to two years in penitentiary. Cheaters explained he owned a car, but it was in bad shape, so he stole a similar model and dismantled it for parts. He was married June 19.

Try To Lessen Bird Nuisances

Residents of south-western Ontario may be nature lovers but they apparently detest birds. In the first move of a lightning war against starlings the civic fathers of London have organized a squad of workers who will make the rounds of the city dousing trees with a five-per-cent DDT oil solution from a mobile fog-spraying machine. No one is rash enough to predict results but it is hoped to make things decidedly unpleasant for our feathered friends.

In Port Stanley ingenuity has gone one further. A resident there who has grown tired of seeing his cherries devoured year after year by ravenous hordes of starlings and robins has found a good use for old fish nets. His pet cherry tree has been protected by lengths of gill netting. The mesh is too fine fo the birds to penetrate but sunshine and air are let in.

But a less fortunate fruit grower in the district has chopped down his cherry trees claiming that the thieving birds have so thoroughly stripped his crop in previous seasons that he was operating at a financial loss.



OCCASIONAL RAIN HELPED children in the King Edward Park playground feel better about the dry wading pool; there is at least a little bit of water to splash in. Park workmen say the water has not been turned on this year because the outlet "is plugged, or something." Photo above shows two diehards splashing away in a little water that accumulated from Monday night's storm. Eager youngsters coming in off Tuesday afternoon's buses for a couple of hours fun voiced bitter disappointment. However, a couple of hours after this picture was taken on Tuesday afternoon workmen arrived to open the drain and everyone is happy today. —Examiner Staff Photo

Drowning Can Take Place Midst A Swimming Crowd

Only the element of favoring chance prevented a second child's death by drowning in local water Monday. The circumstances were confirmed today by James P. McGrath of the Trent Canal department.

He was bathing Monday evening in the Canal near the Maria St. bridge, Ashburnham, and had taken his little daughter, Mary Ann, with him.

"She was with another little girl, Adele Burns, of the neighborhood," Mr. McGrath said. "They are both around six years of age. I was starting to come out when Mary Ann said the other girl appeared to be crying, or there was something wrong. I looked toward her, but I didn't notice anything amiss. I thought she was all right. Just a few moments afterward I turned around and looked again, to make sure, but I couldn't see the Burns child. I took a step toward where she had been, and I then noticed her hand under the water. It was an easy matter to reach down to her and lift her out. I think she had probably taken in a little water and was turning blue, but otherwise she came around in a few minutes."

Mr. McGrath said the Burns girl was with her older sister who was swimming nearby.

100 People Nearby

"The amazing feature of this incident," Mr. McGrath said, "was that it was occurring in the midst of more than 100 people. Some of them were on the shore not ten feet away. Many others were in the water close by. The little girl did not cry out. There was no note of alarm. I would not have noticed her if my own daughter had not told me she was afraid there was something wrong with Adele. Otherwise there was not a thing about the girl's danger to attract attention. What impressed me as I thought of it afterward was that a drowning could take place in the midst of a swimming crowd without anyone knowing it was happening."

The Maria St. swimming place is largely frequented during the summer. There is a narrow shallow strip and beyond the water is seven or eight feet deep.

Mr. McGrath remarked that the experience impressed on him the need of vigilant supervision if small children are to be allowed bathe at swimming places where the danger of depth is nearby.

Home Owners Awaiting Probe

Investigation into race track Wartime Housing complaints promised by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has not commenced. Home owners say they are not satisfied but will stand pat until word is received about the probe.

"Mr. A. J. Smith, engineer for the corporation failed to come to city council meeting Monday night, though he told Mayor Ovens he would be in town at the first of the week. I guess we'll have to wait until another council meeting is called," said J. C. Armstrong.

A deputation, composed of Mr. Armstrong, G. J. Robinson and R Bell, visited the city council on June 28, and complained that work was being done in a careless manner by the contractor.

Action was promised immediateely by Mr. Smith.

The foundation walls will be four feet in depth. "That four-foot wall will cost $800.00 said one woman. "And that's without a door or windows. If we want to make a proper cellar of it, we have to put in the floor ourselves."

Another woman whose house has been jacked up for the building of foundations, cannot close her back door, and has trouble raising several windows. Moreover, her floor has buckled in several places, and new linoleum has been ripped.

Young Hartman and his companions scrambled out unscathed but the top of the car was damaged to the extent of $800.

In police court today Hartman pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving and paid a fine of $50 and $31.50 costs upon conviction.

Parks Committee To Meet Recreation Committee

As chairman of the parks committee of the council, Ald. Herbert Young has arranged a meeting with the Recreation Commission "to discuss mutual problems in order to establish a policy of action."

More or less friction used to develop in the fixing of respective responsibilities of the parks and board of works, but the board has been gradually withdrawing from all interest in that direction as the Recreation Commission has expanded its bridgehead.

The Commission was born of hope and misgiving in official quarters, and according to some of the aldermen it has not yet been thoroughly defined in the municipal administration. Some overlapping of parks committee and Recreation authority has been mentioned in some directions, and Ald. Young is trying to clarify the relative positions and spheres.

Parks superintendent has been authorized to set up wire along the north side of King Edward Park to prevent footballs from damaging private property. Collegiate rugby football teams are given use of Nicholls Oval for autumn games and practices.

Another clause in the parks committee report by Ald. Young was:

"That the City Clerk write to Mr. Reg. Faryon, general manager of the Quaker Oats Company, stating that the Parks Department on behalf of the city is prepared to lease the property of the company lying on the west shore of the Otonabee River, immediately north of Inverlea Park, grade the property and develop it for use as a softball diamond, on the payment of a nominal annual rental."

Don't Expect Soviet To Use Military Power

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP). —The wave of nationalist feeling sweeping eastern Europe has spurred a flood of rumors here about possible drastic moves by the Russians to tighten their hold over the satellite countries.

These rumors include unconfirmed reports of Soviet troop movements in Romania and Bulgaria toward the Yugoslav border. They also disclose a revival in Europe of the old speculation that Russia may try (A) to annex Romania and Bulgaria as Soviet republics and (B) to put the Red army back into Czechoslovakia, from which it withdrew at the end of the war.

Prevailing opinion among Washington officials seems to be that while the Russians find themselves in a tough spot in their own satellite sphere they will try to solve their difficulties without resorting to the open use of military power.

But this situation could change instantly. A Yugoslav move against Albania, for instance, would give the Russians a perfect excuse for coming to the "defence" of an ally.

Sends Warnings

Belgrade has been tossing out warnings to Albania since that country sided with the cominform in the celebrated Yugoslav dispute.

Early today a Tass dispatch from Tirana said Albania is taking "strong measures" to guard her borders with Yugoslavia and Greece against "hostile elements." But there was no mention of any actual border clash.

The view that Russia will refrain from any outright military move also is expressed by officials here in discussing the Berlin situation.

There the Soviet Union has run headlong into a stone wall of opposition from the western powers. Diplomats said today that any doubt remaining in the Kremlin about the intentions of the United States, Britain and France to hold their places in the beleaguered city must have been destroyed by the notes which all three governments sent to Moscow yesterday.

Richard Takes Featherweight Boxing Crown

MONTREAL, July 7 (CP). — Jean Richard of Montreal is the new Canadian featherweight boxing champion.

The dapper Montrealer earned the title in convincing fashion Tuesday night, dethroning champion Fernando Gagnon of Quebec in a 12-round bout that was dull and uninteresting most of the way. Richard weighed 124¼ and Gagnon 118¼.

Hard, staggering punches were and far between and the more than 3,000 fans that contributed to a gross gate of $8,813 occasionally clamored for more action.

Richard was the unanimous decision of all three judges—the referee not having a vote.

Richard was at his best in the first and sixth rounds when he had Gagnon on the ropes but both times failed to follow through.

Gagnon's best effort was the second when he made a strong comeback from a weak first round to jab at Richard's head throughout the three minutes.

But Gagnon, who is also Canadian bantamweight champion, slipped badly the rest of the way, except for a brief outburst in the eighth.

In one of the preliminaries, Harvey Mathe of Sudbury, pounded out a six-round decision over Gerry Laliberte of Montreal. Mathe weighed 131½ and Laliberte 133¾.

Laliberte opened a cut above Mathe's right eye in the second round but otherwise the Sudbury slugger was never hurt or in trouble.

DISTINGUISHED FIGURES in Canada's academic world were among the passengers who sailed on the Empress of Canada from Montreal recently. London Theatres Decide To Make a Break, Will Open One Hour Later

LONDON, July 7 —(CP)—The first breaches have appeared in London's rigid system of early theatre openings.

For three years theatre managers have clung to the wartime custom of starting at 7 p.m. or earlier. Now they're beginning to experiment with later curtains.

One theatre, the Criterion, has an 8:30 start for its light-hearted farce called "Travellers' Joy." At least eight other have decided to begin at 8 p.m. on Wednesday and Saturdays, after matinee performances.

"We seem to be getting a good response, though not any more than we expected after the way people have grumbled about early openings all these years," said one theatre manager.

Restaurants Glad

Restaurant managers welcomed the new trend.

"Since the war, people have had no time to dine before going to the theatre," said one. "They sit in acute discomfort, accompanying the actors with the rumbling of their empty stomachs.

"If the practice of later openings becomes general, they will once more be able to dine at leisure before the show."

Transport Ministry officials are all in favor of theatres starting later. During the war, when bombs were dropping, it was a good idea for people to get home early. That urgency has gone and crowds coming into town for 6:30 or 7 o'clock shows get in the way of workers heading home.

Tested Shows Best

Little new has come to the London stage in recent weeks, the public sticking to tried and true musical successes like "Anne Get Your Gun," "Oklahoma!" and Sir C. B. Cochran's "Bless The Bride."

One of the few newcomers is Aldous Huxley's "The Giaconda Smile," the grim story of a philandering man who was almost hanged for a murder committed by an infatuated woman. Movie actor Clive Brook has a leading role in it.

Even in "The Linden Tree," Mrs. Linden, the professor's wife, played by Dame Sybil Thorndyke, leaves her husband to struggle alone in a dull, provincial town. Despite its failure in New York, this play by J. B. Priestley is nearing the end of a long, successful run

Welsh Factories Showing Great Prosperity

Written For The Canadian Press
BY GEORGE DYMOND

CARDIFF, July 7 (CP)—Shortages of materials are hindering a program to diversify industry in South Wales, with a resulting spread of unemployment. Basic industries, however, are enjoying sound prosperity.

During the war and since, great progress was made in setting up light industries which would lessen Welsh dependence on the basic industries— coal, shipping, tinplate. The fact there was no alternative employment intensified distress during the slump of the '30s.

One hundred and fifty factories of this type have been erected and another 100 are planned. They manufacture such goods as nylon, clothing, electrical supplies, furniture, toys, radio equipment, light engineering products, type carbons, clocks and watches, rail and aircraft components and chemicals.

Scarcity of materials, chiefly steel, timber and cement, is holding up development. About 2,500 men were dismissed recently from factories at Bridged, Hirwaun and Treforest, where "trading estates" have been established especially for light industries.

There is considerable resentment over South Wales' unemployment rate, as most of the factories were set up at government invitation, and it is felt the government has certain responsibility to supply materials.

More than 40,000, or 5½ per cent of the insured working population, is idle, compared with two per cent in Britain as a whole.

Of 28,000 without work, about 12,000 are partly-disabled exminers who can do only light work. There are also 12,000 women listed as unemployed, of whom 5,500 are married.

Welsh coal production is rising and last year's output of 21,000,000 tons should be increased to 23,000,000. (The national target is 211,000,000, tons.)

Fined For Beating

EDMONTON, July 7.—(CP).—Convicted of a "sadistic attack on a defenceless child," railway switchman John A. Kenney Tuesday was fined $100 and costs or 60 days in jail. He had been accused of beating his seven-year-old son, Arthur.

Middleton Family Reunion In Orillia

The annual reunion of the Middleton family was held on July 1 in Orillia, and members came from many parts of Ontario, including Toronto, Peterborough, Markham, and Simcoe. George Hewitt, of Peterborough, managed the reunion.

Officers elected for the coming year were: president, Robert Middleton, Richmond Hill; vice-president, Victor Kelby, Orillia; secretary-treasurer, J. F. Middleton, Goodwood; and conveners, Miss May Bowers, Peterborough, and Mrs. V. Johnston, Coldwater.

Following dinner, a sing-song and program of sports were held, and several special prizes were awarded. Eighty-year-old Mrs. Hannah Mackie of Orillia was awarded the prize for the oldest woman present, and Albert Middleton, 78, of Simcoe, won the prize for the oldest man.

Bride-To-Be Jailed For Illegal Entry

DETROIT, July 7 (AP) — The hands-across-the-border romance of a Michigan man who is barred from Canada and a Canadian woman who is barred from the United States meant prison Tuesday for the bride-to-be.

Judge Theodore Levin sentenced Mrs. Eileen Davis, 32, of Windsor, to a year in prison for illegal entry into the United States.

Mrs. Davis is engaged to George Haddad, of Port Huron, who was deported from Canada on a Customs violation charge. She has twice been deported from the United States.

Charges against Haddad for aiding his financee in entering the U.S. are pending.

Promote 11 In RCN

Brown of St. Catharines. The officers recently completed 15 months training at sea in RN ships. Further training will include an eight-month general education and war course, three months at sea in small ships of the British home fleet and another nine-month course ashore.

HOLIDAY HERO—is 17-year-old Gordon Wilkie, of Montreal, who doesn't claim to be a good swimmer but when his young brother Russell (shown with him above) fell into the Ottawa River, he dove to the rescue without waiting to remove either spectacles or clothing. He was just in time too, for Russell had gone down for the second time. Ignoring orders to stay away from the water, young Russell had "borrowed" his dad's fishing rod and gone anyway.

Syrup Strengths For Use In Canning Fruit

Conversation is certain to turn to food preservation during the summer months when homemakers meet. Indeed there is much to gain in the exchange of ideas, but arguments often result on the methods of canning, freezing and jam making. Such discussion brings out views on the advantages of one method over another —whether to use tin cans or glass sealers for canning and whether to try the newer method of freezing.

In many communities there are excellent facilities for freezing in locker plants. Some people have installed units in their own homes. This fast - gaining - popularity method does keep freshness and flavor of most fruits and vegetables as no other method can.

Canning, however, is still the most common method of keeping perishable summer fruits and vegetables for winter use.

Here is some helpful information on preserving fresh fruits:

QUANTITY OF SYRUP TO MAKE. Estimate the amount of syrup required for fruit to be canned. Make syrup before preparing fruit by adding water to sugar and bringing to boil. Skim syrup if necessary and keep hot.

When canning fruits by the cold pack method, for each sealer allow; ¾ to 1 cup syrup for such fruits as blueberries and saskatoons; 1 to 1½ cups syrup for such fruits as raspberries, strawberries, gooseberries, cherries and peaches; 1½ to 2 cup syrup for such fruits as apricots, plums, pears and rhubarb.

When canning fruit by the hot pack method, use the minimum amounts of syrup suggested for cold pack.

Syrups to use: Syrups of varying sweetness are used, depending upon the fruit to be canned.

Very thin: 1 cup sugar to 3 cups water . . . makes about 3½ cups syrup.

Thin: 1 cup sugar to 2 cups water . . . makes about 2½ cups syrup.

Moderately thin: 1 cup sugar to 1½ cups water . . . makes about 2 cups syrup.

Medium: 1 cup sugar to 1 cup water . . . makes about 1½ cups syrup.

Cheerless "Party" Grills Civil Service Candidates

COBHAM, Surrey, July 7—(CP)—Twenty-one young men went to a friendly manor house in Surrey for a week-end 'party' —and dreaded every minutes of it.

Their host, a tall, elderly man with a military bearing, welcomed them affably. A cheerful fire glowed in the drawing-room grate. But the visitors felt ill at ease.

Why? Because it wasn't the usual week-end party, and the men weren't ordinary week-end guests. The Surrey manor, Stoke d'Abernon, is headquarters of Britain's Civil Selection Board, appointed to chose future ambassadors and senior civil servants. For most candidates, the 48-hour "personal" examination provides a test of nerve and brain more exacting than any class-room quiz.

Before the ordeal is over, the host and "Lord of the Manor", Col. John Ryland Pinsent, becomes an ogre to his "guests". He heads the examining staff—and pulls no punches.

On arrival, each candidate is photographed full face and in profile. A number is fastened on him. From then on he works against the clock, facing personality, judgment and intelligence tests (10 minutes are given to answer 35 questions in one case). The strain starts to get him down.

One key test is the "Island Story". A paper gives details of an imaginary island in the Indian Ocean. The candidate has to answer intricate questions about the island—how he would act in a certain emergency, what steps he would take to meet certain problems.

General Knowledge Probed

Another test is a 10-minute lecture on an "intellectual interest" previously specified by the candidate. Finally, when the "party" ends, the examining panel shoots searching questions—about Shakespeare's plays, medieval history, British policy in Palestine.

Psychologists play the prominent part in the examinations, but a selecton board official noted that "we keep psychologists and their jargon in the proper place."

Few pass the tests. So far the average is roughly 17 successful out of 100, even though each man must be of university calibre to qualify for the examination.

The new system, expected largely to replace written examinations, hasn't escaped criticism. Lord Cherwell complained in the House of Lords that some questions posed were nonsensical.

One man, he said, was given a piece of paper with a lot of dots on it and told to join them into a predetermined figure. Another was asked to forecast how a clock which lost two minutes an hour and was set at 9:40 at night would look at 5:30 next afternoon if seen upside down in a looking glass.

Lord Cherwell said one distinguished psychiatrist had "exposed" himself to the tests incognito. The panel's verdict: Definitely sub-normal."

DOROTHY DIX

Wife and Children Suffer Husband Good Time Charlie

DEAR MISS DIX: I have the misfortune to be married to a Good Time Charlie. Of course, this type of man is never boresome to anyone except his wife. He always has a joke and is good-natured. But after listening to his host of friends he has no time left for his family. They eat alone. Spend many a long wearisome hour alone. He can't be depended on for any jobs about the house, as this would interfere with coming events. Nor can Charlie's wife ever utter one word of complaint on the outside, as he makes people pity "Poor Charlie" in having a hex for a wife. So it is a tight lip for her and to laugh with the crowd.

Dorothy Dix

Then, too, Mrs. Charlie must work outside of the home, as there isn't quite enough money to pay the grocer after the free drinks and the outsiders are taken care of. There is always a drain on the pocketbook.

This is just a summary of what Mrs. Good Time Charlie has to go through. Of her tears and hurt feelings and family quarrels, it is best not to speak—MRS. GOOD TIME CHARLIE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The French have a proverb about men who are the joy of the street and the sorrow of the home, and the Good Time Charlies head this list. They are the men who are popular everywhere except in their own homes. All of us know them. They are the men who make good salaries, but who never have enough money to pay the bills because they are always called upon to head the subscription list to build a Home for Disabled Cats, or to send flowers to somebody who knows somebody who thinks that somebody ought to have a testimonial given to them.

Popular With Friends

Besides, Charlie is always the one who reaches for the check when good fellows get together and have a few. Charlie's children may have their feet on the ground, but he is so tender-hearted he buys shoes for any sots' kids. He neglects his own business because he is always off attending to somebody else's. And everybody is so fond of him because he is so good-natured, and they say what a fine fellow he is.

And they pity him because his wife doesn't appreciate him. They say she nags him. They accuse her of neglecting her home and her children by taking a job, and nobody knows that the reason she does is because they wouldn't eat regularly as Good Time Charlie's except for the wife's salary. When you see a woman who never laughs at her husband's stories and who has a worn, tired look, you are mighty apt to find that she is Mrs. Good Time Charlie.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a 23-year-old veteran, going to college, divorced, with two kids. My wife has married again. Her husband is wealthy and has taken the children. They can take better care of them than I can, but that doesn't alter the fact that they are mine and that I still love them.

My wife and I still love each other, but she craves security and the finer things of life. What can I do about this deplorable situation?

ANSWER: Nothing can be done, I am afraid, to assuage your sorrow, for your wife has most effectively blocked any approach to a reconciliation between you and her and for your getting your children back, by her marriage.

Evidently she cares more for money and the things that money buys than she does for you, and she will never give up the flesh pots for you. The sooner you recognize that as a fact and put her out of your mind, the better it will be for you.

It is impossible for you to get the children back until they are old enough to have some say-so in their fate. The court always gives minor children to the mother, unless she has proven herself unfit to rear them. She has not done this. Apparently she is using them as an alibi for ditching you by claiming that she has married the rich man in order to give them advantages.

Your plight is a sad one, and the only thing you can do is to work so hard that you will not have time to think about how scurvily you have been treated.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, July 8

The auguries are for a successful and happy state of affairs, in which surprising progress or contacts may be brought about by either unusual sagacity, bright ideas or even a sudden "hunch," curious urge or imaginative lead born of quickened emotional impulse or subtle inner prompting. Such deviation from regulation or orthodox tenets might create rather curious crises or strange associations, in business or private ties.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may have a year of strange or curious experiences in which the feelings and emotions hold dominion over logic, rationalization or conventional concepts. Emotions and impulses may overrule orthodox ideas and procedures, and with surprising benefits and unlooked for climax. Subtlety and intrigue of wholesome and practical application could prove exciting and gratifying, as well, since an element of charm and mystery prevail.

A child born on this day, may be endowed with subtle and mysterious ways and means of gaining its ends, with ideals and imagination inciting its behavior rather than logic or realism.

SILK SCARF SEASONING—Sing a song, produce a poem in praise of that most useful, that most versatile of accessories the silk scarf. It makes a hat, it makes a blouse, it makes a skirt apron, and when it isn't busy with such sartorial tasks, it makes over dress or suit necklines. There are many colorful, brilliantly colored silk scarfs, with an idea of creating new neckline interest in a jiffy. Merely fold a square, drape it around the throat and pull the ends through the loop. Anchor it with a jeweled pin for further dress-up design.

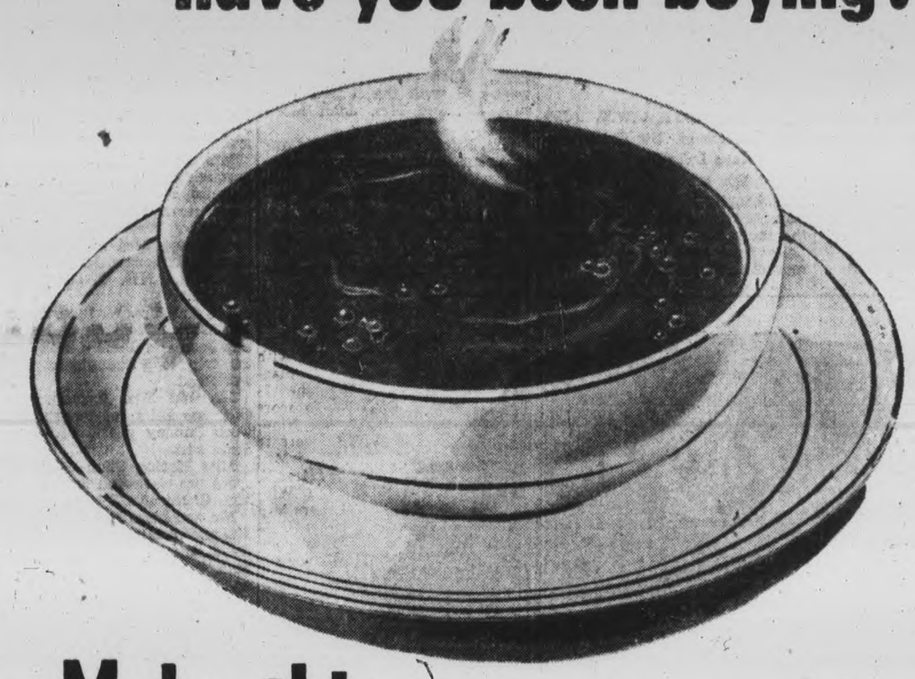
What kind of tomato soup have you been buying?



Make this TASTE TEST at home! . . . and your family will discover the wonderful difference!

If you have been relying on any other brand of soup for the utmost in flavour and nourishment you are likely to be surprised and delighted when you have made a comparison with Heinz.

Dietitians, who are supposed to know most about the good qualities of soup, lately registered a higher preference for Heinz than a group of housewives. A taste-test in your own home may result in the same verdict. Simply heat a tin of Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup and a tin of any other brand. Serve half-helpings of each. Then take a vote when your family has tasted the wonderful difference. It will be two to one for Heinz, probably.

Buy a few tins of Heinz Condensed Soups next time you shop. Compare them at the same meal with any other brand.

65% of a group of housewives voted HEINZ their top favourite

Some women who much prefer certain Heinz varieties have not yet made a fair comparison of Heinz Condensed Soups with other leading brands. When a group of housewives lately sat down to a taste-test (without knowing what soups they were being served), more than 65% preferred Heinz; while a group of dietitians in a similar test gave Heinz first place by a margin of almost four out of five.

If you have not yet tried all the delicious soups listed below, there is a treat in store for you.

110 Liberal Delegates Have Job Of Planning New Platform

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, July 7.—(CP).—A committee of 110 delegates, as yet unchosen, will have the delicate task of fashioning a new and revitalized platform for the Liberal party next month.

They will be drawn from among the 1,300-odd delegates who will attend the party's national convention here Aug. 5, 6 and 7 and will form the convention's resolutions committee, charged with a task rivalling that of selecting a successor to the party leader, Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

To a political party, its platform is a vital and all-important thing. It is the document on which the party bases its appeal to the people for election to office. Through it, the party seeks to meet the wishes and the preferences of the electorate in the governing of the country.

Aside from leadership and other considerations, the platform to be shaped at this 1948 Liberal convention, the first such party congress in nearly 30 years, may determine the party's chances of re-election in the next Federal vote a year or two hence.

Policies Refreshed

Although the last Liberal platform was drawn up in 1919, when the party met here in national convention and selected Mr. King as leader, the party policies have not remained static. They have been revised and refreshed each year by the Liberal Advisory Council.

The 1919 platform contained some 20 planks, three of which were complimentary and 17 of which were "working" resolutions. Additions have been made from time to time in the light of changing conditions.

Observers see the possibility of a behind-the-scenes struggle developing over the platform between those Liberals who have leaned to the left and embraced socialized government services and state trading of basic commodities and those who adhere to the old-line theory of non-interference with business and industry.

Finish Highway

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP)—Completion of the Grimshaw-Great-Slave Lake highway is expected this summer. It will enable heavily-loaded trucks to transport goods the year round to the south shore of Great Slave Lake from where they can be moved here by water.

6—In Memoriam

SWEET, Mrs. C. W.—In loving memory of my dear sister, who passed away two years ago today.

If I had all the world to give,
I'd give it, yes, and more,
To hear her voice and see her smile
And greet her at my door.
—Ever remembered by Mrs. C. Friendship.

TAYLOR—In fond and loving memory of Nellie M. Taylor, who passed away July 7, 1945.

God knew that she was suffering
That the hills were hard to climb
So he closed her weary eyelids
And whispered, Peace be thine.
Away in the beautiful hills of God
In the valley of rest so fair,
Sometime, someday we know not when
We shall meet our loved ones there.
—Ever remembered by her loving husband, sister Bella and brothers Harry and William.

Council Recommends D'Arcy Hill For Award

D'Arcy Hill, Lakefield, 46-year-old father of six children, will be recommended to two bodies for recognition of bravery. Hill was the man who rescued 12-year-old Billy Coleman from drowning in the Trent Canal on June 10. He dived into the Canal to rescue the boy who had fallen into the water from his bicycle.

Lakefield Council Monday night moved to have the action brought to the attention of the officials of the Royal Life-Saving Society and the Dow Award for bravery.

6,000 DP's Cross To Canada During June

OTTAWA, July 7—(CP)—The tide of refugees from Europe's displaced persons camps to the fields and factories and forests of Canada is at its flood.

Some 6,000 displaced persons crossed into Canada during June. That is almost half the number that had arrived between Aug. 31 and the end of May, and it brought the mass movement of workers close to two-thirds of the 30,000 quota.

At this point in the movement, Canada is leading all non-European countries in absorption of those whose homes have been left untenable by war or by post-war Communist domination. Outside continental Europe, only the United Kingdom outstrips this country.

The new arrivals are being sent to those areas where there is a surplus of jobs over available Canadian labor, either through shortage of workers or because of unwillingness of the home workers to take the type of jobs that are open.

For that reason ,the emphasis is on laborers than on skilled craftsmen or professionals. Among the men, woods workers have predominated, followed by heavy laborers for such jobs as railway track maintenance, steel mills and foundries; metal miners and hydro construction workers.

FLOOD REFUGEES picket the city hall in Portland, Oregon, while the city council meets inside. Refugees from Vanport, city of 19,000, which was completely destroyed by flood waters, demanded better housing and other relief grants. At present they are being housed in former Navy barracks and in trailers rushed to Portland by Federal authorities.

Decoration Service Held By Emly LOL

OMEMEE, July 7 — (ENS) — Hundreds of people from Omemee and the surrounding country attended the decoration service at Emily Cemetery Sunday afternoon. It was under the auspices of Emily District Orange Lodge and the Omemee Branch of the Women's Institute. H. Deyell was chairman in the absence of the District Master.

Rev. F. W. Pooley of Christ Church delivered the address.

Scripture was read by Rev. H. Kaye of Peterborough, who is at present supplying in the Omemee Presbyterian church. Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt of Trinity United led in prayer. Music was provided by the Millbrook band.

Decorate Graves At Fife Cemetery

KEENE, July 7—(ENS)—The Decoration Day of Fife cemetery, Otonabee township, was held on July 4th when many attended to decorate the graves. A short service was conducted by the Rev. George Murray. A few words were said on the topic, "The Faith of Our Fathers."

Reference was made to David Fife, the producer of Red Fife Wheat which revolutionized the farming industry.

G. A. Gillespie spoke about the memorial gates and fence in process of construction. It is hoped to have these finished this fall when a dedication service will be held. A financial statement was submitted by the treasurer, Miss Robena Carter.

Plan Bread Subsidy

OTTAWA, July 7—(CP)—Reports were current here Monday that the government is considering payment of a milling subsidy to keep down the retail price of bread when the export price of Canadian wheat advances at the month-end. Beginning Aug. 1, the wheat price under the four-year Anglo-Canadian contract rises from $1.55 to $2 a bushel.

Columbia River Flood Trouble To Be Discussed

OTTAWA, July 7 — (CP) — Columbia River flood conditions will be discussed July 27 at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, the International Joint Commission announced today.

Aim of the meeting is to work out a plan for "control of floods in the various states and in British Columbia within the Columbia basin," a statement said. Recent floods speeded up the original plans for a survey of Columbia problems

"The commission had planned to have hearings in the Columbia basin at a later date when the final report of the International Columbia River Engineering Board would be available to the commission and interested parties might be asked to discuss all phases of the investigation.

"In view, however, of the abnormal flood conditions which have caused heavy losses during the months of May and June in the Columbia basin and on account of the vital interest in this problem of flood control by Canada and the United States, the commission is calling a special meeting."

It is being held under terms of the commission's "Columbia River reference" of March 9, 1944, one clause of which provides for a study of flood control in that area..

Announcing the reference in the House of Commons,, Prime Minister King said at the time that the 1,200-mile Columbia is "a truly international river."

"Any development on one side of the boundary is certain to have an effect in the other country. For this reason it is necessary that the plans for development of the river basin in one country should be adapted to those in the other."

The Columbia's watershed is 259,000 square miles, of which 29,400 is Canadian.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

UNORTHODOX BIDS PAY

THERE are players who strenuously oppose unorthodox bidding at any time. They are the fellows who in golf would always try to hit the ball straight down the middle of the fairway and never try a cross-country shortcut in the effort to save a stroke. It may be that in the long run these tactics prove more profitable. But it is also undeniable that once in a while non-standard methods can pay handsome dividends to make up for what they lose on other occasions.

In the first sequence above is what was done by one able but conservative pair during the auction of this pair duplicate deal. The second sequence shows the bidding which won the tournament. There North felt that the contest was probably nip and tuck among his pair and several others, with only a couple, of rounds left to go. It was his estimate that the resuult would probably be decided by no more than a few match points, possibly a fraction of a point. So he decided to seek some result other than that achieved by rival pairs. If it happened to be better, it could decide the issue. If it proved worse, well, his pair might not have won anyway.

With a diamond lead headed off by the bidding, East led his club 4 at Table 2. The 10 won that trick, the diamond 9 was sent through, the 8 finessed, the A scored and a trick given up to the K. The spade Q was led to the A, the 3 to the K, dropping the J, and now North had established cards for the rest of the tricks to take eleven all told.

At Table 1, where bidding was standard. West led the unbid hearts. Normal play from there on resulted in the defenders getting tricks with the club Q, diamond K and spade A, so that the declarer scored only ten tricks. The slight difference gave the Table 2 pair top on the deal and victory in the tournament by exactly half of a match point.

Saunders To Examine Charges Against DP's

TORONTO, July 7 — (CP) — Chairman Robert H. Saunders of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario said today he would examine charges that Quebec workers are being replaced at the Portage du Fort, Que., Hydro project by displaced persons.

Alexandre Tache, Speaker of the last session of the Quebec Legislature, said last Friday he would ask the Quebec Government to investigate his charges. Mayor Roy Elliot of Portage du Fort said about 25 Pontiac county citizens have been replaced at the project by men brought from concentration camps in Germany.

Mr. Saunders said he "can't imagine anything like that happening." He would "look into it thoroughly," however, and if the charges were substantiated he would "rectify the situation immediately."

HALIFAX, July 7 — (CP) — The Nova Scotia branch of the Canadian Women's Press Club Monday night passed a resolution condemning the Nova Scotia government's action "in announcing that women be barred from taverns, if and when they are established in the province on the grounds that it is an act of discrimination against women."

War Resumed In Palestine As Arabs Refuse To Extend Peace Truce

Report Egyptian Troops Open Offensive 23 Miles South Of Jerusalem; Jews Agree To Keep Truce Another Month

CAIRO, July 8—(CP).—War is to be resumed in Palestine, Count Folke Bernadotte, the United Nations mediator, said today, the last day of the four-week truce in which he has mainly sought terms acceptable to both Arabs and Jews. The Jews agreed to a 30-day extension of the truce, he disclosed in a statement, but the Arabs refused.

The Jews alternatively were willing to allow a three-day prolongation to facilitate withdrawal of United Nations personnel and guards, but the Arabs "apparently" rejected this too, the statement said.

Issued from UN truce headquarters in Haifa, the statement said the entire mission would withdraw Friday.

The truce expires Friday at 6 a.m., EDT.

'I am disappointed that hostilities are to be resumed in Palestine," he Count said.

"Since it appears impossible to obtain the agreement of the two parties not to resume hostilities, I will now concentrate on obtaining a cease-fire in Jerusalem and its ultimate demilitarization."

Open Offensive

The Israel high command at Tel Aviv announced that Egyptian forces "opened an offensive" on the Jewish settlement of Beer Tuvia, 23 miles south of Jerusalem.

There was no indication in the Tel Aviv announcement whether the alleged attack was on a large scale or was another of the periodic clashes such as have marked the cease-fire.

The Israel communique said the Egyptians were attacking in the direction of Isdud, where an Egyptian spearhead was trapped temporarily before the armistice.

Tel Aviv dispatches said air raid sirens sounded in the Jewish capital shortly after noon, but there were no immediate signs of hostile planes.

New Bond Series To Be Offered During Autumn

OTTAWA, July 8. (CP)— A third post-war series of Canada Savings Bonds will be issued this fall, the government announced today.

The Bank of Canada, making the announcement for Finance Minister Abbott, said "the decision is based mainly on the widespread demand" that greeted the first two issues—2,100,000 applications worth $818,000,000. They followed nine wartime victory loans.

The statement said preparations for the issue were launched here this week. Terms would not be finally established until later, probably in September, but "it is expected that the bonds will retain the features which proved so popular in the first two series," the first in 1946. Their interest was 2¾ per cent.

It was believed "that a savings instrument with the features of Canada Savings Bonds would serve a useful purpose by giving further stimulus to the savings tendency developed by Canadians during and since the war.

As in the past, the new security will be available for cash or through various methods of instalment purchase, including the payroll savings plan, under which bonds purchased in quantities may be paid for through deductions from pay over a 12-month period.

To organize and direct this feature of the new series six regional payroll savings directors have been appointed. Director for Ontario is J. H. Ratcliffe, Toronto.

Rule Youth 19 To Stand Trial

THESSALON, July 8. — (CP). —James M. Walker, 19, of Iron Bridge, Ont., was committed for trial today on a charge of dangerous driving arising out of the automobile accident death Tuesday of Birrel Israelson, 25-year-old Toronto baseball player.

Walker was the driver of the truck which smashed head-on into Israelson's car, fatally injuring Israelson and severely maiming Dorothy Henderson, 18-year-old Toronto model. Walker, his head swathed in bandages, was committed for trial at the fall assizes and released on $2,000 bail.

Medical witnesses said Miss Henderson is still in hospital suffering from multiple cuts and shock. Her condition is reported as "good."

Expect Nick Minille To Be Returned Soon

OTTAWA, July 8 — (CP). — Nicholas (Nick) Minille, captured member of a trio who broke loose from Kingston Penitentiary last August, will likely be returned there within a few days, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said Wednesday night.

A spokesman for the R.C.M.P. said that Minille had appeared about three weeks ago before a United States immigration board in California and that the report of the board now is before the U.S. immigration service in Washington.

It was expected that a speedy approval would be given to the deportation of the Ottawa kidnapper who will face a charge of prison break which carries a seven-year maximum sentence.

Dutch Government Returned To Power

THE HAGUE, July 8 (Reuters) —The Netherlands' Labor-Catholic Coalition, returned to power in Wednesday's general election in which the Communists lost ground, will be eight seats short in the second chamber of the two-thirds majority it needs to ratify the constitutional changes over which the election was held.

With 59 seats, it will require the support of one of the smaller parties to pass the reforms, chief of which provides for greater constitutional unity between the Netherlands and the Dutch East and West Indies.

In Wednesday's election Labor lost two seats and about 84,000 votes compared with the 1946 elections. The Communists also dropped two seats and 120,982 votes, getting only eight men to represent them in the 100-member chamber.

Flagship Crew Attacked While Asleep In Bunks

By The Canadian Press

Crew members of the Colonial Steamships flagship Royalton were attacked and beaten with clubs as they lay in their bunks today as violence flared anew on the Welland Canal in the month-old seamen's dispute.

Four of the crew members were removed to Welland County Hospital suffering from severe head injuries as a result of the beating police said was administered by pickets of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC).

Scale Fence

Police said the CSU pickets scaled a fence of the Canadian Furnace Ltd. in Port Colborne and attacked the crew of the Royalton as she lay at the Company dock.

X-ray examinations are being made today to determine full extent of injuries but it was feared that 25-year-old Louis McKinnon of Sarnia may have suffered a skull fracture. Others in hospital are Clifford Bradley, 17, Toronto; Kendrith Rumney, 27, Midland and Morgan Given, Mar, Ont.

Constable Louis Potyok of the Port Colborne police force was called to the scene and said he saw about 25 pickets place a ladder against the fence and climb over. He solicited aid from the RCMP.

Captain James S. Walton of the Royalton said this morning's attack lasted less than 10 minutes from the time the pickets swarmed over the Canada Furnace Ltd. fence.

Wheelsman Jack Walker, who was going on watch to relieve McKinnon, said he saw the attackers as they came over the side and shouted a warning. The attack happened so quickly few of the crew got out of their bunks he added. There was no chance to warn the after crew.

Decide 'No Neglect'

OAKVILLE, July 8—(CP). —A five-man coroner's jury found there was "no evidence of neglect on anyone's part" in the death June 22 of two-year-old Karen Lorain Pell during a tonsil operation. Karen was the fourth child to die in Ontario in June during a tonsilectomy. "Cause of death was due to sudden cardiac failure during the operation over which the participants had no control," the jury decided Wednesday.

3 Men Killed In Well By Gas Fumes

TORONTO, July 8 — (CP)— Pitched into water in the depths of a well by lingering carbon monoxide fumes, three men were drowned Wednesday night in a suburban Toronto residential district.

Thomas Leadbetter, 56, a contractor, climbed down a stout rope to start cleaning the partly-emptied 60-foot well. He was overcome by the fumes. His son-in-law, William Collins, 33, went to aid him and he, too, was overcome. Another rescuer, John Donelan, 38, climbed into the shaft and died.

Donelan was only a few blocks from his North York home when a group of people gathered at the top of the well called to him. He stopped his automobile, clambered down to rescue his neighbors and within brief minutes was in the grip of the fumes, believed to have remained after a gasoline-driven pump was used the day before to remove some of the water from the well.

A few minutes after Donelan descended, Walter Clee and his son, Kenneth, reached the side of the well.

"I could hear them talking," Kenneth said later. "It was awful to stand there listening to them without being able to do anything. I was going to go down the well myself but my father realized there must be gas at the bottom and restrained me.

Hear Talking

"I could hear Collins say, 'I'm going' and then there was a plop in the water. Then I heard Donelan say, 'My God, how will I get them out of here?'

"I yelled down for Donelan to grab the rope. He took hold of it and I got him about halfway up. Then he let go and fell back down. I think he must have hit pretty hard on the platform (a small platform had been erected just above the surface of the water) because he was probably up about 20 feet when he let go.

"He made a couple more tries but each time he lost his hold and fell back. If he could only have wrapped the rope around him or tied it or something, we could have saved him."

500 Present At Dog's Funeral

NEW YORK, July 8 —(CP)— Roses were strewn over a "good" dog's grave Wednesday as the village of South Jamaica, in Long Island, buried a friend and 500 persons came to the funeral.

Teddy, a brown-and-white setter-collie, who had played and romped in the neighborhood for 18 years, died last Saturday. His owner, Mrs. Nora Gayle, said he should not be handed to the sanitation department as most dogs are.

Instead Teddy's body was placed on a satin-covered bier in a funeral home. Hundreds of persons filed past Monday and Tuesday and came back for the funeral.

Mrs. Gayle, mother of two children, placed a wreath of roses with the inscription "bless my beloved" on the casket and then, in a short tribute, said:

"He was a good, faithful dog and a pet to everybody. I feel as if I've lost one of my children."

Liberal Confirmed In Ballot Recount

PICTON, July 8—(CP).—A recount Wednesday of 14,000 ballots cast in Prince Edward-Lennox riding in the Ontario election June 7 confirmed the election of J. Donald Baxter, Liberal.

Official figures issued by Judge Wilfred Lane gave Baxter 6,202 votes, James Hepburn, Progressive Conservative Speaker of the last Legislature, 6,147, aand T. Creighton, Independent Progressive Conservative, 1,023. The official majority for Baxter now is 55 votes.

The recount was requested by Mr. Hepburn.

Conference Summoned By Mitchell

Cabinet Confers In Final Effort To Avert Walkout

OTTAWA, July 8 (CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell announced today he is summoning a conference of parties involved in the railways wage dispute in a final effort to avert a national transportation tie-up.

Following a cabinet meeting Mr. Mitchell said the disputants would be invited to meet him here at 2.30 p.m. tomorrow.

The statement:

"The minister of labor stated today that it was with regret that he learned that the direct negotiations between the railway companies and the negotiating committee representing the employees had broken down.

"In view of the extreme importance of preventing any delays in transportation facilities in Canada the minister has, with the approval of the government, decided to invite the parties to confer with him on the matter tomorrow at 2.30 p.m."

Those called to the conference will include representatives of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers (C.C.L.) and of the 18 international unions whose negotiations with the companies were broken off in Montreal this morning.

Word of the breakdown in negotiations reached members of the cabinet shortly before their meeting. Although it had not been called to deal especially with the rail crisis, it appeared likely that was one of the main topics in the agenda.

Complete Failure

MONTREAL, July 8 —(CP)— Frank H. Hall, chairman of a union committee conducting wage talks with the railroads, said today the negotiations had "blown up" and a strike of 122,000 rail employees would start July 15 as planned.

"Our wage talks have blown up," he said, "and there is no chance of a settlement by direct negotiation. The strike will start July 15 as planned."

"The company offered us 10 cents an hour and we refused. We offered to settle at 28 cents and they declined that," he said.

MODEL AIRCRAFT HOBBYISTS have a lot of fun planning, building and flying various planes and at the same time learn a great deal about aerodynamics, engine maintenance, and aeronautics. On Wednesday afternoon, Alex McLeod, Left, and Ted Sharpe were attempting to get the midget motors started for flight trials in Confederation Park; their models will travel from 20 to 50 miles per hour and stay aloft several minutes.

Drastic Cut In Berlin Power

BERLIN, July 8—(AP).—The Russians' economic strangulation of western Berlin today forced drastic new cuts in the use of electricity and gas. Unemployment grew among the 2,000,000 Germans in the blockaded American, British and French sectors of the city. The Western allies were working out emergency employment schemes to keep idle industrial workers off the streets. An unemployment assistance plan giving workers between 50 and 60 per cent. of their normal wages was introduced.

Col. Frank L. Howley, United States commandant, announced that the Western Powers had decided to maintain the present food rations but to cut coal.

Unfavorable weather slowed the allied air lift this morning.

There were unconfirmed reports, meanwhile, that Soviet Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky had gone to Moscow for consultations, presumably regarding an answer to the Western Allies' protest over the Russian blockade.

Wednesday night two American fliers told in a broadcast of strange radio interference in the air corridor to Berlin.

See 5 Fighters

A British transport pilot reported sighting five Russian Yak fighter planes in the British corridor. One of the Soviet fighters "peeled off and flew within comparatively close vicinity" of the transport, a British headquarters announcement said.

An American supply plane returning from Berlin to Wiesbaden was reported overdue today but later Tempelhof air base in Berlin said it had made a safe emergency landing in the United States zone. Officers said neither plane nor crew was harmed.

For the first time in the 20 days the Russian blockade has been in force, American airmen have succeeded in bringing in more than 1,000 tons of food and supplies to Berlin in a 24-hour period. The goal was reached

Black Bear Kidnaps Girl 3, Off Porch Rangers Find Mangled Body Beside Stream

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., June 8—(AP)—A black bear lumbered out of Michigan's north woods Wednesday, carried off the little daughter of a forest ranger and left her mangled body beside a forest stream.

Minutes after the body of three-year-old Carol Ann Pomrankey was found a quarter of a mile from her parents' isolated cabin, an angered posse shot and killed the animal.

The searching party had been frantically called by Carol Ann's mother, 28-year-old Mrs. Arthur Pomrankey, who saw the bear carry off her daughter. Another child, six-year-old Allen, was playing in the cellar.

Carol Ann was playing on the back porch of the cabin, which is situated on a knoll. At about 3 p.m. Mrs. Pomrankey heard a scream and looked out the kitchen window to see the bear disappearing over the knoll dragging Carol Ann by the neck.

She tried chasing the bear with a broom and then ran into the house for a pistol. When this failed she called her husband, who was at National Forest headquarters.

Watch Bears Near Cottages Warning Of Scott Dept.

TORONTO, July 8—(CP).—While Ontario wildlife authorities generally agree it is rare for a bear to attack a human they believe it is "bad business" to take chances. Commenting on a Michigan north woods tragedy in which a black bear carried off and ate a three-year-old girl, Frank MacDougall, Ontario Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests, said "bears will gene ally scare off if you yell at them."

He said the black bears come around summer cottages where people leave food lying around. He believes the black bear which mauled Carol Ann Pomrankey to death might have mistaken her for a pig.

"They are unable to distinguish between a small child and a pig. I certainly wouldn't leave a child around where bears are."

Meat Hunger

Another Ontario authority described the attack on the child as due to "meat hunger which obsesses some animals." He said marauding bears would kill a child or small animal indiscriminately.

He mentioned that farmers frequently see bear tracks in their pastures where there are young lambs. Although the lambs were seldom molested this was an exception. Once a bear tastes meat, a bear's hunger increases and he becomes audacious and indiscriminate, even forcing his way into a farm building to forage for meat.

Curtis To Head PriceCommission

OTTAWA, July 8— (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced today the appointment of Prof. C. A. Curtis of Queen university as chairman of the Royal Commission which will continue the work of the special Commons committee on prices.

Other members will be H. C. Bois, a Montrealer and secretary-manager of Co-Operative Federee De Quebec, and Mrs. T. W. Sutherland of Parksville, B. C., who was active for many years in women's organizations in the Prairie Provinces.

Prof. Curtis is professor of economics at Queen's and mayor of Kingston.

Rubber Union Head Shot In Skirmish With Troops

SINGAPORE, July 8 (Reuters) —Troops and police shot dead Tan Kan, president of the Johore Rubber Workers' Union and former officer in the Malayan People's Anti-Japanese army, in north Johore today during a gun battle.

The skirmish began when gunmen fired on the military and police patrol from a house a Sarakit.

Tan Kan, armed with a rifle was killed when he tried to escape into the jungle with other gunmen.

Another gunman, after slightly wounding a British officer in the shoulder, was also shot dead.

Police have arrested 10 villagers.

The beginning of a British military campaign against terrorism in the Federation of Malaya was announced over the radio Wednesday night by Rt. Hon. Malcolm Macdonald, British Commissioner General for Southeast Asia.

He said the nine-week-old terrorist outbreak in the Federation "is part of a deliberate plan by Malayan Communists to stage a violent revolution and capture by force the government."

British and Gurkha troops working with police, are campaigning in Johore, Perak and Pahang. RAF planes are hunting guerrilla hide-outs. Royal navy ships are guarding the coast against troop landings or gun running from Siam or South China.

Royal Air Force rocket-firing Spitfires which went into action Wednesday against a Malayan terrorist camp in the jungle near Ipoh today carried the "smoking out" operations farther into the jungle.

But the terrorist camp strafed had been evacuated before the Spitfires attacked, it was learned when ground troops went in to mop up.

Wheat Pact Collapses; Britain Quits

US Congress Fails To Ratify It; Canada Disappointed

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, July 8.— (CP).— The international wheat agreement, to which Canadian producers were looking for stabilized prices and markets, collapsed today—before it even got a chance to start operating.

The final knock-out blow came with Britain's announcement that she is withdrawing from the five-year pact, which would have provided a $2-a-bushel ceiling and a sliding scale of floors for world wheat prices in the five-year period beginning this Aug. 1.

However, the British action was anti-climax. Failure of the United States Congress to ratify the agreement before it adjourned in mid-June had made it apparent that the agreement was destined for collapse. The U.S. was one of the main exporters under the pact, along with Canada and Australia.

Canada gave the agreement parliamentary approval just 14 days ago and the reaction here to Britain's announcement was that it served only to underline the American failure to ratify the arrangement. The agreement now may die on the Canadian statute books.

Australia made her approval contingent on the U.S. Congress taking similar action.

The agreement was a multilateral arrangement under which 36 wheat exporting and importing countries agreed on amounts and prices for a five-year period in an effort to avoid high prices in surplus years and low prices when wheat supplies were scarce.

Report 4 Ships Having Trouble

HALIFAX, July 8.—(CP). — Three vessels were in trouble and one was missing on the Atlantic seaboard between New York and Newfoundland today.

The RCMP cutter French continued its search for the 38-foot trawler Mary C, reported overdue at Shelburne, N.E., Wednesday night. The Mary C was believed drifting somewhere in the Lahave Bank area.

A 60-foot Yarmouth fishing craft, meanwhile, was towing a smaller sister boat to the West Nova Scotia port. The smaller craft, an unidentified 30-foot smack, was found by an RCAF Lancaster.

Off New York, the Halifax tug Foundation Lillian was attempting to "re-connect" with the former frigate Hallowell. The Lillian had been towing two frigates in tandem to New York when the stern ship, carrying a two-man crew, was swept by heavy seas.

Another Foundation tug, the Josephine, was nearing St. John's, Nfld., by the side of the collision-damaged Norwegian freighter Beljeanne.

Drew Well Satisfied With Talks In London

LONDON, July 8 (CP)—Premier Drew of Ontario, who sails for Canada aboard the Queen Elizabeth from Southampton Friday, said today that he is "well satisfied" with discussions held with government officials about establishment of branches of British industry in Ontario.

Drew arrived in England by air June 12 with Mrs. Drew. After a week's business discussions, he proceeded to the continent for a holiday, returning last Sunday.

Last night, he dined with Winston Churchill, war-time prime minister, and was guest of honor at a government luncheon Tuesday. Today, he and Mrs. Drew are scheduled to attend a garden party at Buckingham Palace.

Will Investigate Czech Sokol After Parade

PRAGUE, July 8 — (AP). — The Czechoslovak government will investigate a Sokol congress that evidenced enthusiasm for former president Eduard Benes and apathy for his Communist successor, Klement Gottwald.

Paraders at the Slet, or congress of the cultural and athletic Sokol Society Tuesday cheered for Benes and passed Gottwald in silence.

Prague radio said Wednesday ministers had been ordered to report on "results of the slet" at the next meeting of the Communist-led cabinet.

"The question of future participation of foreign delegations in the slet will be studied," the broadcast said.

Yugoslav, Russian, Polish, Triestine and Bulgarian groups marched in Tuesday's parade, which also produced cheers for Premier-Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, lately criticized by the cominform.

Begin Purge

Another government move signalled the start of a purge of Czechoslovakia's army. The army's education director, Gen. J. Prochazka, wrote in the Communist newspaper Rude Pravo that political instruction was beginning in the military establishment.

Demonstrations for Benes continued Wednesday and last night. Police broke them up. Eye-witness accounts indicated at least 36 persons were arrested.

The police picked up half a dozen late Wednesday night from a group singing patriotic songs before Communist party headquarters.

About the same time, some 2,300 policemen blocked off about a third of Prague's central square in an apparent effort to forestall more demonstrations there.

One big group cried, those who are not afraid will join us," while demonstrating for Benes.

Hustled out of there, it went to a railroad station and sang the national anthem before the pedestal of a statue of Woodrow Wilson.

SENT TO CANADA by the Railway Board of India, three officials of India's railway arrived in Montreal on the first leg of a Canadian tour during which they will study recent trends in railway operations throughout the Dominion. War Resumed

A renewed outbreak of fighting was feared after Abdul Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary-general of the Arab League, declared after today's meeting of the League's political committee that Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator, "has been informed of the Arab rejection of his truce extension demand."

"War Is On"

In Tel Aviv, the American head of the U. N. truce team, Col. W B. McCoy, said he was informed by the Israel liaison officer that "the war is on."

The officer told him heavily fortified Beer Tuvia is being attacked by planes, armored cars and artillery.

U.N. truce observers were hastily evacuated from Tel Aviv this morning. All U.N. military personnel left by road convoy for Haifa, there presumably to board American destroyers assigned to the U.N. civilian employees have been ordered to remain in Tel Aviv.

Israeli governmet sources said they expected the real full-scale war to break out tomorrow.

Israel today appealed to the United Nations to meet the emergency of renewed warfare in Palestine.

Moshee Shertok, Israeli foreign minister, said in a cable to Trygve Lie, United States secretary-general, that the Jews accepted the Security Council plea for extension of the truce whch ends at 2 a.m. EDT tomorrow.

Demilitarization of the whole city of Jerusalem would also be accepted Shertok said.

Both the Arabs and Jews were making war preparations. Israel this week lifted the top draft age from 35 to 41.

Spy Hunt On

While the truce waned, Jewish forces were on a spy hunt in Jerusalem, a Jewish-Arab battleground in the weeks before the cease-fire.

Reliable sources there said the Israeli army convicted a Palestine Jew, who formerly had served as major in the British army, of spying for the Arabs. He was allowed to kill himself to escape public execution.

The extremist Stern group announced it had executed a pretty Jewish woman named Rosa Beiser after she was convicted on charges of supplying military information to a British intelligence agent in the Holy City.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, also an extremist Jewish group, was holding five Britons seized Tuesday night on charges of "intelligence with the enemy." The five were officials of the Jerusalem electric corporation, which has been supplying reduced power and light to Jewish Jerusalem throughout the war.

Can't Agree On Controls

OTTAWA, July 8.— (CP).— A difference of opinion between Cabinet members is holding up final decision on whether controls on domestic rentals will be lifted next March, it was learned here Wednesday night. A source said some members of the cabine favor the removal of the controls which were brought into effec late in 1940. Others have suggested that Finance Minister Abbott retain the controls for another year at least.

England Behind In Test Match

MANCHESTER, England, July 8—(Reuters).—England scored 231 runs for the loss of seven wickets in a comparatively poor start today in the third cricket Test match against Australia.

Denis Compton, cut on the forehead when a ball flew off his bat, returned to play after insertion of two stitches. He was not out at close of play with 64 runs.

At lunchtime England had scored 57 runs for two wickets and the tea-time score was 141 runs for five wickets.

England's opening batsmen, a new combination of Cyril Washbrook and George Emmett, were both out during the morning and only 57 runs were on the board at lunch.

Misfortune struck when Denis Compton, one of England's most dependable batsmen, was forced to retire temporarily after scoring four runs. He was hit on the forehead by a delivery from Ray Lindwall.

A stubborn third-wicket partnership of 68 in two hours by Bill Edrich and Jack Crapp improved the situation slightly. But another batting slump followed.

Then Compton, with plaster over his forehead injury which had required two stitches, resumed batting, opposite England's captain, Norman Yardley. He showed no ill effects and continued to bat with confidence. He was not out for 18 at the tea interval. Yardley had then scored 22.

A crowd of about 35,000 gathered in old Trafford Park to see the opening day's play. Washbrook and Emmett slowly settled down after a shaky start. Just when Washbrook looked set, however, he missed a full toss from Johnston and was bowled middle stump for 11.

Wednesday by planes which had added coal to their cargos.

Interviewed on a broadcast army show two American airmen said they experienced "continuing electrical interference" with their compasses while flying to Berlin. It appeared deliberate, they said.

There were new indications that the Russian blockade was pinching both ways. The United States military government made public a complaint from Soviet Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky against the halting of deliveries from the British-American occupation zones to the Russian zone. The deliveries were stopped after the Russians began their squeeze in Berlin.

Wheat Pact

Wheat Council, it was to have covered the sale of 500,000,000 bushels annually by the three major exporting countries—Canada, the United States and Australia. Canada's share of the annual sale was to have been 230,000,000 bushels, which equals her normal exportable surplus.

The agreement would have had no effect on surpluses available for export over Canada's 230,000,000-bushel quota. Nor would it have affected the four-year wheat agreement with Britain covering the sale of 600,000,000 bushels. This agreement is now entering its third year, with the fixed price at $2 a bushel.

6 Men Escape Death At Sea

MANILA, July 8.—(CP).— A harrowing tale of death and sacrifice when 11 men were swept to sea in a small boat Sunday was told today by one of six known survivors.

He is a brother Vincent Sheerer, 32, of Holy Hill Shrine, Wis., who described his experience as "a nightmare I never expected to survive."

He and two Flipino youths were rescued today by a flying boat 40 miles off Luzon.

Three Filipinos died of exhaustion and exposure.

Two other members of the party, including Father Leo McCrudden, 32, also of Holy Hill Shrine, are missing and feared dead.

Two members of the party swam ashore Sunday after a typhoon swept them to sea and another was picked up by a launch

Find 20 Victims

PARIS, July 8 — (Reuters) — The bodies of 20 persons, including a baby, killed when a DC-3 flying plane from Saigon to Dalat in Indo-China crashed into a 5,000-foot mountain near Djiring, have been found in the wreckage by a rescue party, Agence France-Presse reported today from Saigon. The plane carried 17 passengers and a crew of three.

Report Golds Firmer In Light Trading

TORONTO, July 8 — (CP) — Golds showed a firmer tone and industrials and western oils weakened in light trading here today. Base metals moved within narrow range and were steady.

Industrials were down on fractional losses. CPR, Dominion Foundries and International Petroleum eased ⅛, Canadian Locomotive was down ½ and Seagrams dipped ¼. Massey-Harris, Brown Pfd., Bell Telephone and Canadian Breweries strengthened.

Selected junior golds made good gains in light action. Macassa rose 2 cents and Kirkland Lake, East Malartic, Chesterville, Teck-Hughes and Pamour gained from 1 to 9 cents.

Waite Amulet, Osisko, Normetal, Golden Manitou and Eureka dipped from 1 to 10 cents in base metals. Gulf Lead gained 10 cents and Sherrit was up 2 cents.

Foothills and Anglo-Canadian were down 5 cents in western oils and Consolidated Homestead eased 1½. Central Leduc sold at 44 cents in its first day on the board.

Gets 5-Year Sentence

MONTREAL, July 8.— (CP).— George St. Armand, 37, Wednesday was sentenced to five years in penitentiary and fined $1,000 when he was convicted of possessing three pounds of raw opium. Police said the opium in its raw state was worth $1,000 but processed it would have a value of $60,000.

Animals Die Of Hunger

SHELBURNE, Ont., July 8.— (CP).—Body of John Theaker, 40-year-old North Amaranth township farmer, was found Wednesday in the kitchen of his home. Dead in a nearby barn were two horses, six cows, four calves and 400 chickens. Theaker was unmarried and lived alone. He had not been seen by neighbors since Sunday.

Ontario Crops Likely Exceed Billion-Kennedy

TORONTO, July 8 (CP)—Acting Premier T. L. Kennedy said Wednesday the value of Ontario's Agricultural production this year may exceed $1,000,000,000. He told a press conference that a survey of production costs now is under way. He said it will determine how much of that money will find its way into farmers' pockets.

The policy in respect to grants to farmer groups purchasing pure-bred beef bulls will have to be changed.

The present policy in respect to encouraging purchase of beef bulls has not been satisfactory. At the moment, the government will pay up to $150 toward the cost of any bull bought by three or more farmers at an authorized sale.

It has been found farmers are reluctant to go shares on a bull because of the inconvenience. Rather they prefer to own their own bull and have it always available on their own place, Mr. Kennedy explained.

Last fall, certain prominent business men predicted there would be a recession in the next five years and urged the government to bring in new industries that would serve to "cushion" the effect of any unemployment.

"As it takes years to establish new factories it was decided then to go after British firms by a personal approach on behalf of our government," he explained. "The premier was the logical man to make this approach. However, nothing definite could be decided until after the election."

Relief Program Studied In B.C.

VICTORIA, July 8 (CP)—The plight of British Columbians who lost homes and businesses in devastating spring floods now is before the provincial legislature, whose members are considering a relief program.

The legislature received a bill permitting the government to borrow up to $5,000,000 for reconstruction and rehabilitation in flood-swept areas.

A second bill set up a Fraser Valley diking board to supervise dike reconstruction and the removal of water and debris from the flood-swept lands.

Premier Byron Johnson said the Provincial government will pay the cost of rehabilitations in districts other than the Fraser Valley, where damage was estimated as high as $30,000,000. The Federal government will share rehabilitation costs in the Valley.

The Federal government has granted $5,000,000 for direct relief and rehabilitation, and another $4,500,000 as its 75 per cent share of rebuilding Fraser Valley dikes. A $2,000,000 public subscription fund is being used in addition to provide relief for families in the flooded districts.

Harrison Testifies

HOLLYWOOD, July 8.—(AP).—British movie actor Rex Harrison has agreed to appear for questioning today in connection with the suicide of actress Carole Landis, coroner Ben Brown announced. Harrison had dinner with Miss Landis last Sunday night, a few hours before she swallowed the sleeping pills which took her life. He also found her body Monday in the bathroom of her Riviera home.

Didn't Test Bomb

Aboard the Carrier Boxer in the Pacific, July 8.—(AP).—The United States battleship New York capsized and sunk unexpectedly Wednesday during the first day of the scheduled two-day fleet exercises 50 miles south of Honolulu. The New York sank under a barrage of nothing larger than 500-pound bombs and five-inch shells. Her unexpected sinking left untested the navy's "bat" bomb — the 2,000-pound bomb rigged with wings and a tail and guided to the target by radar.

New Zealand Expands Immigration Schemes

WELLINGTON, NZ, July 8 — (CP).—Although immigration to New Zealand this year will continue to be on a much smaller scale than to other Dominions, the government is steadily increasing the categories of assisted immigrants as more shipping becomes available.

The original target figure for the year was 3,000 but since then the basis of the scheme has been widened. The government has not yet announced a new quota pending further information on shipping.

Under the assisted passage scheme immigrants who served in the forces in Britain are given free passages and civilians pay $32 toward the cost of their fare. At present the scheme is confined to single persons aged 20-35. Despite an acute housing shortage a considerable number of single immigrants can be absorbed in private families, but there is still great difficulty in finding accommodation for married settlers.

Until recently the scheme was confined to workers for a limited range of essential occupations but the category now has been extended to cover most trades and professions. Immigrants must undertake to remain in employment allocated to them by the government for two years. The government now is prepared to receive nominations from private persons and civilians of eligible workers known to them in Britain for inclusion in the assisted passage scheme. Persons with guaranteed accommodation in New Zealand are being given absolute preference in selection.

Abandon The Trent Canal? Never!

The Trent Canal is an expensive waterway to maintain. There are some people, even in Peterborough, who think that the Federal Government should stop throwing money annually down its drain and abandon the whole thing. They say that tourists probably like to look at it as an antiquated survival of the lavish canal-building days of the last century but that few use it. They say it has never fulfilled its original purpose of providing a short water-way for transportation and commerce between Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario. They remark that now not even the steamers Stony Lake, the Empress and the Islinda ply its waters locally. Why, they grumble, should the country keep such an expensive system in working order for the sake of a few Toronto or American yachts?

• • •

We might ask the critics how one goes about abandoning a Lift Lock, 41 other locks and 79 navigation dams? The expense of "abandoning" them would be nearly as great as maintaining them, we suspect. However, no informed person who cares for the welfare of Central Ontario would consider abandoning them. There is more in the Trent Waterway System than meets the eye, and there is a lot of good that meets the eye.

• • •

Many sections of the canal, like that below the Lift Lock, are really beautiful. It is a major tourist attraction, and tourists do use the canals, channels and lakes of the system even if they do not go through the locks. Last year over the whole system there were 13,000 lockages. There are commercial uses, too; for instance the Nepheline Company sculls ore from Stony Lake to the railhead at Lakefield.

• • •

There is much misconception about the Trent Canal, particularly by Peterborough residents who think of it in terms of the artificial four-mile channel east of the river and the infrequently used Lift Lock on it. The Trent Canal is really not a canal—it is an improved natural waterway or channel ('canal' and 'channel' have the same root). Its total watershed is 4,837 square miles in extent. It includes the thirteen Kawartha Lakes, which, with Rice Lake, have a storage capacity of 76,000 acre feet of water. (An acre foot is water sufficient to cover an acre of land to a depth of one foot.) It includes about 44 lakes in Haliburton with a storage capacity of 354,000 acre feet, and Lakes Simcoe and Couchiching with a storage capacity of 220,000. All these waters are not only linked, but controlled by the locks and dams of the system. There are 66 reservation dams, quite apart from the navigation dams. The Trent System includes great power dams like that at Heely Falls (the provider of most of Peterborough's electrical power.) These dams are the property of the Federal Government; their power rights are leased to the Ontario Hydro.

• • •

It is obvious, therefore, that the Trent Canal System is now of primary importance as a regulator of water-flow and a provider of water power. The Otonabee, for instance, does not flood in spring like the Ganaraska at Port Hope (which has an abandoned dam). Allied with its uses as a regulator of the flow of water is, of course, the conservation of soil and reforestation. The Trent System does not unfortunately provide sufficient storage facilities to contain all surplus Spring run-off, but it does conserve vast quantities. This is attested by the absence of great floods along the Trent River and its tributaries, at times when towns in western Ontario are inundated. Further, the system does augment the natural flow during the summer and early autumn when evaporation and the demands of plant life are at a maximum.

• • •

Abandon the Trent Canal? Never—even if the Lift Lock operates only 150 times a year.

"Swe-e-et Adoli-i-ine!"

It is with some astonishment that we read of the death of the writer of the lyric of Sweet Adeline in New York last week. One does not think of such songs as having been written by human agency at all. But the words of the famous ballad were written by Richard Gerard Husch, who was 72 when he succumbed to heart disease; he wrote his hit in 1903. We had always assumed that it was much older.

Mr. Husch was foreman of the application file bureau in the money order division of the New York post office. He wrote the lyrics of many songs during his life, and estimated that he had made $20,000 in that way. Sweet Adeline brought him only $3,000, though it brought very large sums to the music publishers. Mr. Husch wrote it in collaboration with a composer named Harry Armstrong, who is still alive. It was originally called Sweet Rosalie, but as there was another popular song in 1903 about a girl named Rosalie, the name was changed to Adeline; it is said that this was done because of the popularity of Adelina Patti, but as Madame Patti was sixty years old in 1903, and almost at the end of her career, we think this unlikely.

Apparently Sweet Adeline originally had a full set of verses. It survives, however, merely as a chorus, usually rendered as a male quartet. The second tenor sings—

Swe-e-e-et Adoli-i-i-ine!

—in a loud and yearning tone, and the other three mumble "Sweet Adeline" confidentially among themselves. In this way each line is alternately howled and mumbled, until—

You're the flower OF MY HEART

—which is sung in a plangent bellow by all. An astounding song, and not the least astounding thing about it is its popularity.

Dutch Elections

Yesterday the Netherlands held a special general election. This came two years earlier than normally necessary, for the last States-General was elected in 1946. The reasons for holding the elections now are constitutional. There are four amendments to the constitution to be accepted, none of them highly controversial, but the law requires dissolution of parliament and a general election before they can be ratified, and then only on a two-thirds majority of both houses of the new parliament.

One of the amendments is to provide the constitutional bases for the relationship among the four territories to be associated in the Dutch Commonwealth under the crown: a homeland, the United States of Indonesia, Surinam (Dutch East Indies), and the Netherlands Antilles. A second amendment is to provide an annual income for a Dutch monarch who abdicates—an unusual and rather poignant provision made necessary by Queen Wilhelmina's forthcoming retirement from the throne on September 6th, after occupying it for fifty years.

Early results show Dr. L. J. M. Beel's Government retains its majority. The constitutional amendments are likely to be approved. The last Dutch parliament had ten communist delegates; the party lost ground in yesterday's polling.

Old Home Week In Lindsay

Lindsay is celebrating Old Home Week—a somewhat extended week, as the fun began on July 1 and will continue until Saturday. We had the satisfaction of being present at the Dominion Day events, which were largely attended, and we understand that things have been growing gayer in Lindsay every day since then. We are sure that the people of Peterborough would wish us to convey to their friends in Lindsay their warmest good wishes and congratulations upon this happy occasion.

We have been greatly interested, also, to receive a 48-page edition of the Lindsay Watchman-Warder, in which all the news relating to the celebrations is contained. The production of an edition of this size and quality is a heavy undertaking for a weekly newspaper plant, and we feel that the editorial and printing staffs deserve congratulation, just as Lindsay deserves congratulation on the alertness of its journalists.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"Three Curves Eliminated By New Highway" says a headline. Not a bad record, for a highway or a corset.

Barbers must often be surprised by the number of self-made men who forgot to put hair on their heads.

The rain which was produced by the dry ice method during the forest fires has attracted a great deal of attention. It apparently never occurred to anyone that the same result could have been achieved by holding a Sunday School picnic.

On Parliament Hill

By A. J. THOMAS

THE last fortnight in Parliament was devoted mainly to a hasty hodge-podge of estimates. The last bill passed by the Senate was "an Act for granting His Majesty certain sums of money for the public service of the financial year ending the 31st of March, 1949." This bill provided $781 millions for that part of the main estimates of $1,987 millions which is not composed of statutory items. The session tailed off. It did not end as was hoped on the Saturday preceding July 1st, but continued right up until eleven p.m. on June 30th. By this time there remained only a corporal's guard of members of both the Commons and the Senate.

✧ ✧ ✧

MR. MACKENZIE KING, making what is generally believed to be his last appearance in the House of Commons as Prime Minister, was deprived by the lateness of the hour, the rush of business and the slim attendance, of a triumphant close and fanfare of eulogy which might have been expected at the end of his twenty-one years in office. In fact, the estimates providing for the Prime Minister's Office, coming almost as the last piece of business, did not give him the anticipated opportunity for valediction. Mr. Pouliot, the Independent-Liberal member of Temiscouata, who seldom misses an opportunity for speaking, and frequently speaks too much and says too little, used the occasion to needle Mr. King. He felt that the Prime Minister had not consulted either his own supporters or Parliament sufficiently during the last dozen years, and hoped that the next Prime Minister would adopt a different attitude. "It is time the Liberal party changed its attitude of worship of one man, and returned to the old system of co-operation between all members of Parliament." Mr. King defended himself ably and took the opportunity to mention the need for a Prime Minister's official residence.

THE Commons is certainly a forum for public opinion, and readers of Hansard must constantly be amazed and sometimes bewildered at the variety and detail of the discussion on the floor of the House. Sometimes the debate is lamentably trivial or the speakers ill-advised in bringing up specific matters without sufficient prior consideration. For instance, even with the press of business of the last day, a dozen pages of Hansard are given over to detailed questions and answers relating to three veterans about whom Mr. Blackmore (Social Credit) was concerned. This long debate does at least show that private citizens can, through their members, ask for redress or lodge personal complaint.

A motion was approved for providing annual funds (this year $2½ millions were appropriated) to develop Ottawa as a national capital area. The planning and beautification of Ottawa has long been a pet project of Mr. Mackenzie King. Mr. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, was in agreement with the principle of making Ottawa a worthy capital for this developing country, but he warned against giving it and the country a "Queen Anne front and a Mary Anne back". He would like to see the housing situation in Ottawa—indeed across the country—remedied, and the cultural life of Ottawa and of the country catered to, at the same time as or before large expenditures are made on the capital's development.

IT is estimated that during the Session of Parliament which opened last December and ended last week, there was a torrent of fifteen million words—6,500,000 spoken in the House of Commons, and the remainder distributed among the Senate and the various Committees of both Houses. The Session was not all words and no action, however. Here are the main events and legislative acts of the fourth Session of the twentieth Parliament of Canada. Increased pensions were granted war veterans at an additional cost of $18 millio.. a year. A new labour code was devised. Freight rates were increased. The budget brought down in mid-May disclosed an unprecedented surplus. According to strict accounting methods it was $670 millions. The total cash surplus was $1,181 millions. An international wheat agreement was ratified by which the minimum price for wheat were increased. A comprehensive national health program was initiated to cost at the outset $30 million a year. A major concern was the rising cost of prices and this topic constantly came up in both Houses, and was under review by a Parliamentary Committee on Prices, headed by Mr. Martin.

This Committee after five months' investigation, submitted its report in the closing days of the Session. The report was approved in principle, but no legislative action taken on it. One item asked for the continuance of the investigation under a Royal Commission. Another Committee making a report was that on Indian affairs, which has been at work for three years. If their report is acted upon fully, there will be major changes in the official attitude to and treatment of our Indians. For two years experts and Parliamentarians have been busy on a revision of the Income Tax structure. This has long been needed, and now, through its report, order has been brought out of developing chaos. It will not, of course, affect Income Tax rates.

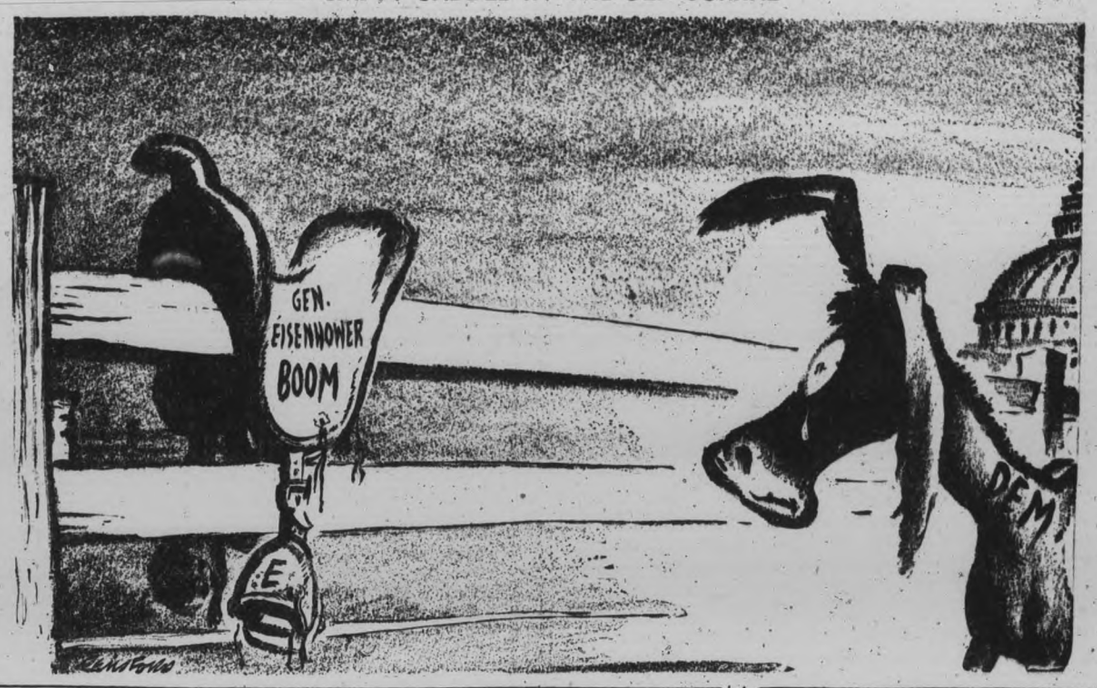
AMONG the things not done or approved were the following. The Geneva Trade Agreements were not ratified, and were not even brought up by the Government after Christmas, although the Government had given as one of its reasons for calling the Session as early as December the need for ratifying these agreements. No action was taken on the Parliamentary Committee's discussion of a Bill of Rights for Canada. The Committee reported among other things that "There is need for some public discussion before the task of defining the rights and freedoms to be safe-guarded is undertaken". Communism was not outlawed.

Canada's foreign policy was more clearly defined by Mr. St. Laurent than it has been in the last twenty years. The Government favours participation in the regional defence pact known as Western Union, if the United States should also participate.

✧ ✧ ✧

THERE were various changes in the Cabinet. Two members dropped out — the Right Honourable Ian Mackenzie, the former Minister of Defence and latterly of Veteran's Affairs, resigned and went to the Senate; the Right Honourable J. L. Ilsley resigned his portfolio as Minister of Justice, in favour of private law practice in Montreal. Party standing at the end of the Session was as follows: 125 Liberals, 119 others consisting of 67 Conservatives, 32 C.C.F., 14 Social Credit, 2 Bloc Populaire, and 5 independents. There was one vacant seat.

EMPTY SADDLE IN THE OLD CORRAL



Is Eloquence Outdated?

(W. J. HEALY IN THE WINNIPEG FREE PRESS)

IN these days when political speeches are being made all over the country, you are filled with wonder, if you have occasion to look into the newspaper files of the time when there were great orators in the public life of Canada, to find their speeches reported in full in column after column after column of solid type which people nowadays would not have patience to read, and you wonder how one of these long, resoundingly eloquent speeches would sound today.

I remember hearing many years ago an old man who came from one of the settlements in Bruce county in Ontario where the older people spoke Gaelic much more readily than English tell how a church full of people were swayed by a preacher from Toronto who was "without the Gaelic". The old man was asked if many of the people weren't unable to follow the preacher understandingly, and said, "That is true, but dear me those who couldn't, caught here one word and there another....grand words! And that was enough—whatever, I tell you, boy, it was a grand sermon!"

Truly that must have been an eloquent speaker, speaking to hearers who could appreciate eloquence. W. L. MacTavish, for years the editor-in-chief of the Winnipeg Tribune, told me that his grandfather, used to preach in such a community for an hour or two in English and then for an hour or two in Gaelic.

No longer do immense audiences assemble to be swayed by orators. Graces of speech and manner in public speaking are at a discount. Time was when the kind of speaker described as "a born orator" was one to whom people loved to listen even when he had nothing of value to say. There is no ambition more honourable than to serve the public good by taking part in the discussion of public questions and in the shaping of public opinion. But the speaker who is effective now is the one who speaks with businesslike directness and clearness, is master of his subject and wastes no time on ornaments and graces.

THERE was never a greater flow of oratory in Western Canada than in the years when the grain growers' movement was being organized and built up into political power.

One of the earliest organizers of the movement, Partridge by name, had an intensity of earnestness in his speeches that he aroused his hearers into outbursts of enthusiasm. He was badly lamed, as the result of an accident with harvesting machinery in the field, and it was said of him by some of those in Winnipeg who denounced him as a demagogic agitator that on the platform he somehow made it appear that he had been wounded in fighting against the oppressors of the farms. I can remember listening to a speech of his in which he quoted Clough's poem "Say Not, the Struggle Naught Availeth", with thrilling effect upon his hearers.

Occasionally Vere Brown, Western Superintendent of the Bank of Commerce, used to attend those meetings, mount the platform and asked to be heard, in defence of the banks against the attacks made on them by the speakers. He was always given a hearing, and in defending the banks he gave the assembled farmers advice on carrying on their industry which earned for him in Grain Exchange and banking circles the nickname of "the Kitchener of Agriculture".

One of the stories that went the rounds in Winnipeg was that he was interrupted in one of his speeches while he was advising those of his hearers who were engaged in hog raising to give their hogs hot food, as the hogs assimilated it more quickly and so saved time. The interrupter said he had a question to ask. Mr. Brown paused to hear it. The question was, according to the story, which was credited to Billy Bawlf, the Grain Exchange joker, "What, Mr. Brown, have you figured out the time of a hog to be worth?"

Letter To The Editor

HOW ASSESSMENTS ARE DECIDED

Sir: Appreciating the fact that ratepayers are concerned as the tax rate has been gradually rising and at the same time assessments have been increased I feel it is proper to offer some explanation of our assessment policy in the City of Peterborough.

May I point out at the beginning that assessments and taxes are two different subjects. The Assessor is concerned only with the values and comparative values of various properties. Two properties could be assessed for the same amount and yet A may pay more taxes than B simply because the local improvements have been paid for on B's property and not on A's.

In making an appraisal of the value of a property the Assessor must take a number of factors into consideration, such as replacement cost, history of sales, revenue, obsolescence and general condition of the buildings, etc. Section 39 of the Assessment Act reads as follows:

(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, land shall be assessed at its actual value. R.S.O. 1937, c.272, s.39 (1).

(2) In ascertaining the actual value of land without buildings thereon consideration shall be given to the present use, location, revenue, normal sale value and other circumstance affecting value.

(3) In assessing land having buildings thereon the value of the land and buildings shall be ascertained by giving consideration to present use, location, cost of replacement, normal rental value, normal sale value, and any other circumstance affecting the value, and the value of the buildings shall be the amount by which the value of the land is thereby increased, and the actual value of the land and the buildings so ascertained shall be set down separately in the columns of the assessment roll, and the assessment shall be the sum of such values. 1946,c.3c,s.7(1).

In estimating the value of properties the Assessment Department has been using figures based on 1940 building costs and sales of 1940-42 or sales that have not been at inflated figures. Also we must take into consideration rents and revenues prevailing for the same period.

The raises in assessment value have been made gradually establishing what we consider sound values which will stand the test in case of normal shrinking of values.

The question is often asked: "If I paint or shingle my house will the assessment be raised?" Shingling or painting is just ordinary upkeep and as such does not increase the value of a property in average condition; but, if it is a property which has been allowed to deteriorate for lack of ordinary repair, and is eventually put into a good state of repair, naturally the assessment is increased. In any case the owner of that building would expect a much better price if he were to offer it for sale.

Owners of older houses have asked as to their assessments have been raised as they have not added to or remodelled their buildings in any way. At the time these houses were erected carpenters possibly were receiving $1.50 to $1.75 per day; now carpenters are receiving $1.35 an hour. Therefore after allowing depreciation for age and obsolescence the building is worth more now than it cost when first erected. What is true of carpenters' wages is also true in respect to other labour and building material costs. The result is that these older houses have been selling for prices which would represent 2 or 2½ times the original cost price.

In conclusion may I say that it is the desire of this department to have values as equitable as possible but even after using all the facts at our disposal there are bound to be cases of inequity. The members of the Ontario Legislature have recognized this fact and so have provided a means of adjustment by way of appeal to the Court of Revision, the County Judge and the Municipal Board.

As Assessment Commissioner I desire to assure all property owners that I am pleased at any opportunity they may present to me, by calling at my office, to discuss with them any particular problem relating to the assessment value placed on their homes or buildings.

Yours truly,

B. C. GRAHAM,
Assessment Commissioner.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre. And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it....

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. (Matt. 28: 1, 2, 5, 6.)

✧ ✧ ✧

There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathaniel of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately; and that night they caught nothing.

But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore: but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus. Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No.

And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes....

As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread.... Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who are thou? knowing that it was the Lord. (John 21: 2-6, 9, 12.)

Indignity To Cows

"Take a seat," said the cow, gently waving her hand.

"By no means dear madame," said he, "while you stand."

JANE TAYLOR.

Jane had the right of it a century ago.

No cow possessed of that strong sense of personal dignity, peculiar to cows, would for one moment tolerate the practical suggestion put forward by E. C. Allard, head of Quebec's Municipal Milk Inspection that our farmers should go in for collective feeding of animals and, shame upon shame, leave to professionals the time honored chore of milking.

Indeed our cows will continue to demand the comforts of their individual stalls, the smell of new hay in the mangers, and buckets of bran mash at eventide. It is proper that this should be so. The cows expect it. How else could they, with placid bovine dignity, hear the call: "Far down the dusky dingle," or justify:

"Glory be to God for dappled things"

"For skies as couple-colored as a brindle cow."

Mr. Allard should withdraw. How could our cows, leaving these lovely things, come home to community feeding and commercial milking. Is nothing sacred these modern days? Not even, "a light tan cow in a purple mead," or even a brindle one?—J. E. M. in Montreal Gazette.

Billingsley Back On Slab As Petes Beat Whitby 8-4

By FRED MAYBEE

The Intermediate Petes evened the score with Whitby here last evening by taking the return game of this week's series by a score of 8-4, behind the six-hit pitching of Coach Jack Billingsley. Thus, the locals avenged the tough 2-1 setback of Monday to the Dairymen.

Billingsley was in fine form, striking out six and walking but two. He caught Spencer off first in the third with a smart peg, scored a run and had one hit for two. Conway hit three for four and drove in two runs as did White to lead the Petes at bat while Marshall turned in a good effort. Hurley showed well in the field for the visitors with Spencer collecting two hits for four and White driving in two of his team's four runs. The Billingsley squad meet Bowmanville here Saturday at 3:00 p.m. at Riverside.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

By the score of 20-17, V. Hill and H. Coleman defeated C. Williamson and R. F. Downey in the first game of the club play-offs. The game started out as if it was going to be a walk-away for Coleman and Hill, and in the first six ends they were leading 10-0. Then Downey and Williamson got going and very shortly tied it up. From then on it was nip and tuck, with Coleman having the edge. There was some good bowling and interesting ends.

Tonight W. Jeffries and R Gamble play A. Black and B Collis in the other half of the draw.

Tomorrow night's program calls for men's doubles. Choose your own partner and be out on the greens by 7.00 o'clock.

Last night winning skips were Judge S. Smoke, R. Burns and F. Parsons

Groups No. 3 and No. 4 continue with the schedule games this evening.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Senior "B" lacrosse returns to Miller Bowl tomorrow night at nine when Orillia plays the league-leading Petes a group fixture. And it ought to be a fine fray as these teams had a tough tussle last meeting in Orillia. The latter club has J. J. Hill back in the lineup and, of course, he'll be working his head off against the local gutted-stick guys. The Creighton crew are rounding into fine shape now as the schedule nears the halfway mark, having had some rugged encounters recently. Those two tilts earlier this week were humdingers and had the Petes humping plenty to keep their victory streak intact. Likely another big crowd out on the morrow.

Two junior Peterborough entries in the Lakeshore Baseball League tangle this e'en at 6.30 in Riverside, barring rain, in a loop encounter. And they'll be playing for keeps, not too much love being lost betwixt the southenders, coached by Art Pagett, and Jack Turner's East Citizens. Latter are known as the Kinsmen and the former as the Kiwanis, and both have plenty of smart ballsters on 'em. Several are playing more or less regularly now with the senior Petes, chaps like Don Pagett, Al Menzies and Jake Jaquith, for instance. Which shows the class of junior "A" ball these teams serve up. They rate better support from the fans.

Petes In COBL Action

Off to Belleville tonight go the Petes for a COBL contest with the second-place Batawa Shoemen, picking up that Tuesday night postponement. And then the Petes entertain Oshawa Merchants in Riverside Park this Saturday p.m. at 6.15—as there's an intermediate joust there that afternoon. The locals are riding the crest now with fine flinging by Edger and Loucks, plus some hard and timely bingling in almost every game. Oshawa will be making a determined bid to get into the playoff race and this could develop into a nifty diamond duel for the twilight customers.

* * * * * * *

The Saturday aft game we mentioned is a Lakeshore League go between Bowmanville Royals and the Billingsley bunch at three. Goose Osborne and his scrappy gang from the Rubbertown have always provided plenty of hectic opposition on local terrain, and generally good hurling. What the intermediate Petes do remains to be seen, but it might be a game worth viewing. Junior Kiwanis go to Whitby on Saturday. The east and west bantams play in the Ex. tonight while tomorrow sees the westend juves playing East City at Riverside while southend bantams meet Hawks in Morrow Park. Saturday a.m. peewee frays have east and south at Riverside and west with Crawford's Grove in the Ex.

Like "Old Man River"

Well, sirs, (and you, mesdames), Jack Billingsley up and did it. The lanky lefthander, who must be 42 or so, coaches the intermediates Petes and is doing a good job with what material is available. Last eve at Riverside he elected to go out and pitch against the good Whitby team, which had beaten 'em earlier in the week. All he did was go the distance with a six-hit pitching job as he fanned six and walked two. Also, he caught a guy off first with the old tricky stance he used years ago in the EPL. Nice going, Jack. Conway and White led the locals at bat and Marshall was smart in the field. Armour will likely throw Saturday.

Two girls' softball games run off in two hours last p.m. at the Bowl before a fairish gathering. CGE moved up in the standing with a 6-3 verdict o'er Lindsay with J. Hart pitching good ball. And the gallant Lock Co. crew finally broke into the victory list with a 6-0 blank against Woollens. M. Stewart gave but four bingles and had fine backing to earn this one. The standing is in elsewhere and we think it's right—if not, kindly correct us, as we sometimes slip up on a night's twin bill due to other jobs. Two more fixtures billed for Friday as the schedule shuffles right along.

Locos Take A Licking

Oshawa Merchants tightened their grip on third place at home last night when they coasted to a 14-3 COBL win over Kingston. It dropped the Locos deeper into the cellar. Jack Stone was nicked for 17 hits, including two homers, two triples and three doubles. Doug Sutton pitched nice ball for Oshawa. McMullen and Bidgood were the main stickers for the victors. Locos go to Belleville this weekend. By the way, the Toronto and district congress tourney entries will be accepted by Lloyd Douglas, 345 Yonge St., up to July 20. The Petes won a 14-4 Old Home Week exhibition in Lindsay last eve over an intermediate squad. Whitehill and Loucks pitched with Starr doing the catching. Latter takes a CGE course soon in the States.

Tadpole Tilt

Rockets triumphed over the Royal Spitfires 10-1 in a tadpole tussle, a fast and clean contest. Paul Dugan and Terry Davis with three each and Pete Heffernan with two were tops for the Rockets. Hickson and McInnis also went well. Hill Masterianni and DeNoble were best for the losers. The teams:

Rockets: Dugan, Stevens, McInnis, Davis, Hickson, Anthony, Crough, Olmstead, Faulkner, Heffernan, Mahoney, Reid, Doris, Martin.

Fly Reserve Gunners

PICTON, July 8 — Three Dakota artnsport planes landed at Picton Airport with 50 reserve army men from Sault Ste. Electrics Win Close One Over Lindsay

CGE climbed up closer to the leaders in the Girls' Softball League at the Bowl last night when they defeated Lindsay 6-3 in a fine, snappy fray. Their three runs in the first frame looked big for a time but it developed into a real scrap before the finish, as both sides fielded on pretty even terms. J. Hart of the winners pitched seven-hit ball while fanning nine and giving up four walks. J. Bryan of Lindsay was nicked for 11 safeties and five free tickets as she whiffed four.

T. DeCarlo and J. Burgess went best afield for the winners with P. Graham and D. Madill looking good defensively for the Lindsay lasses. M. Perrin led Electrics at bat with three for four, while A. Collins and R. Hewitt hit doubles. D. Madill topped Lindsay at the plate with two of their seven hits in three tries, and D. Hunter got a double. A catch by T. DeCarlo was a fielding feature.

The teams:

'I'm Not Rich' Gene Autry Tells Reporters

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 8 (AP)—Joltin' Gene Autry, a bit redfaced by reports of his wealth, reckons as how that jingle-jangle you hear is his spurs, not his coin.

"It's not as big as it sounds," Gene drawled, referring to accounts of his far-flung empire of holdings. He explained that his earnings go back into his many enterprises, leaving him not too well off in the cash department.

Autry is the exception among Hollywood's star-capitalists; he has no business manager. Piloting his own plane all over the United States (he has clocked over 5,000 hours in the air), he keeps a weather eye on his businesses. And it's getting him down.

"I think I'll start getting rid of them," he sighed, "no sense in working yourself to death. Besides, after taxes are taken out, there's not enough left to merit all the work."

"Our main problem in westerns is finding new plots," Gene told me. "So many regular westerns are made every year that it is hard to find new stories, Not only that, but the big-names stars are making more westerns, too. Everybody's getting into the act."

Star Notes

Rita Hayworth is expected to sail home Sept. 2 on the Queen Elizabeth. . . Robert Paige takes off July 12 on a flying tour of 20 cities to find a 4-H Farm Club Girl for "The Green Promise." That's the picture backed by Glenn McCarthy, the Texas moneybags. . .progress note: Walter Pidgeon, the star from Saint John, N. Indians Knock Off Chicago As A's Nose Out Yankees

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's Indians retained their slim 10-percentage-point lead over the runner-up Philadelphia Athletics in the tight American League pennant race Wednesday night, beating Chicago White Sox 10-2 while the A's nosed out the Yankees, 4-3 in New York.

Bobby Feller scattered eight White Sox hits in gaining his ninth victory of the year against nine setbacks. The Sox rocked Feller for two runs in the first inning but the big righthander then settled down and held the tail-enders scoreless.

The Indians stormed back in their half of the first and scored six runs off Earl Caldwell on five singles, a walk and error to sew up the game.

Hank Majeski was the star in the Athletic triumph over the Yankees. Majeski scored a two-run homer in the first inning and then tripled home what proved to be the winning run in the fifth. The A's managed to collect only four hits off Tommy Bryne and Frank Shea. Toronto's Dick Fowler scattered nine Yankee hits in posting his seventh triumph as against only one loss.

Knock Off Red Sox

Washington Senators came from behind and scored five runs in the ninth inning to beat the fourth-place Red Sox 7-6 at Boston. Vern Stephens clouted his 16th homer and Bobby Doerr his 14th for the Sox.

At Detroit, Hal Newhouser pitched the Tigers to a 6-0 seven-hit victory over St. Louis Browns. The triumph was Newhouser's 12th of the year.

In the National league, Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Cardinals 2-1 in St. Louis to move over the Cards into second place, 2½ games behind the front-running Boston Braves.

Tied at 1-1 going into the ninth inning, the Pirates broke the tie when Ralph Kiner doubled and Wally Westlake followed with a run-scoring single.

Nosed Out

The Braves were nosed out 4-3 in 11 innings by the Dodgers in Brooklyn. Roy Campanella's long fly with one out and the bases loaded enabled Carl Furillo to score from third after the catch with the winning run.

The victory was the Dodgers' sixth straight and it enabled them to take over fifth place from Philadelphia Phillies who were beaten 7-0 by the fourth-place New York Giants in Philadelphia.

Larry Jansen halted the Phils on only two singles while the Giants collected 11 including a three-run homer by Bobby Thomson in the eighth inning.

In the only day game in either league, Cincinnati Reds crushed the last-place Cubs 10-3 in Chicago. Frankie Baumholtz and Danny Litwhiler homered for the Reds.

British Writer Snickers At US Olympics Entries

LONDON, July 8—(CP)—Tension in sports circles is increasing and pen thrusts by some sports writers are sharpening as the days tick by to Britain's greatest athletic blowout in 40 years — the July 29-Aug. 14 Olympic Games. It all doesn't tend to further international amity, supposed keynote of the Games.

For instance, John Robertson, columnist with the weekly Sporting Record, isn't a mite impressed —is even doubtful—with what he terms those "fantastic" track and field record times by United States athletes emanating from "California, Chicago or Cincinnati." Shucks, he says, there's no need to treat the Yankees as "demi-gods."

In the same issue, Lord Aberdare, member of the Organizing Olympic Committee, takes a rap closer home, — at "certain British sports writers "who "misinterpret" and show "hostility towards international sport." Various writers have gone on record with the declaration Britain isn't ready to stage the Games and that British athletes are going to take a fearful beating.

Lord Aberdare finds it "distressing" to read such articles and wonders if "people abroad believe we have lost our love of sport and that sense of fair play which has in the past been so closely associated with the British race."

But it is Robertson who has directed a few well-aimed barbs at the United States.

Climate A Factor

"There is a touch of intimidation about these American figures and it is only fair to point out that, if present weather conditions persist, some of the Yankee athletes may look very common clay in our rain and mist (next July and August).

"We know well enough that the United States will win a big percentage of the events—on a population basis that stands to reason—but there is no need to treat them as demi-gods," he advised his readers.

He said Britain should send its best coaches to the Dominions and Colonies and, if public contributions are not sufficient, the government ought to finance an Empire scheme to discover talent "in the backwoods."

This suggestion, he realizes, is too late to be of any value this year, "but it is worth bearing in mind, for British athletic perstige is in serious danger and only co-operation can put us back in the saddle."

Then, to explode the "myth" that Britain will go away empty-handed from the "hectic" Olympic scene, Robertson climbs out on a limb with these predictions:

Glasgow's 19-year-old, six-foot-six Alan Paterson will win the high jump; Maureen Gardner, 18-year-old Oxford ballet dancer, will take the 80-yard-hurdles; and British champion Mrs. Winifred Jordan the 100-metre sprint; Jack Holden, 42-year-old tSaffordshire laborer who has been running nearly 25 years, will win the marathon.

BORN FURRED

Young Chinchillas are born fully furred, with their eyes wide open.

THESE SMILES OF CONFIDENCE should have been the tip-off that the Golden Bears of California had something up their sleeves besides arms as they listened to a last-minute pep talk by their coach, Hy Ebright, before their semi-final heat at the Olympic trials at Princeton, N.J. They were up against the Washington Huskies, winners of the Poughkeepsie regatta and overwhelming favorites. But when the smoke cleared away, the Golden Bears were the winners. Now they are favored to win the final against Princeton and Harvard. The oarsmen (bow to stern): John Stack, Justus Smith, David Brown, Lloyd Butler, George Ahlgren, James Hardy, David Turner and Ian Hunter.

Medals Delayed

OTTAWA July 8.— (CP).— Veterans of the Second World War will have to wait "several years' before receiving their victory medals, W. C. Ronson, master of the mint, disclosed Wednesday night. However, he said the mint was working as fast as possible to supply the 3,000,000 copies of the medal ordered by the government.

Sides Chosen For All-Star Baseball Game

CHICAGO, July 8 (AP)—The sides were chosen for the major league's 15th All-Star baseball game at St. Louis Tuesday with completion today of the domineering American League's full squad.

The hotshots from the junio circuit, 2-1 winners at Wrigley Field in Chicago last year, will be slugging for their 11th decision over the National Leaguers.

Manager Bucky Harris rounded out his 25-player American roster by nominating eight pitchers and nine replacements for the starters named at the other eight positions in a poll of fans across the United States.

The National League's squad was marshalled to full battle size Wednesday by Manager Leo Durocher, who elected only six pitchers—two under par for the All-Star course. Brooklyn's Lippy took up the slack by picking four third basemen instead of the customary pair.

Pilot Harris' own New York Yankees grabbed the most American All-Star berths—six—including pitchers Vic Raschi and Joe Page, the perennial reliefer.

Five Candidates

The rip-roarin' Cleveland Indians placed five solid candidates, among them the hurling "Bobsy" twins, Feller and Lemon.

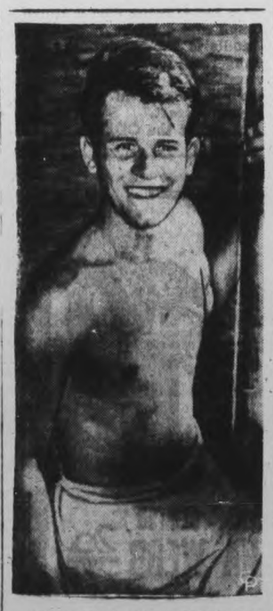
The American pitching staff is neat but not gaudy. Lemon and Lefty Hal Newhouser of Detroit lead the league's tossers in victories, each with a dozen verdicts.

Yankee Joe DiMaggio, centre-fielder, will be playing his ninth All-Star game in 10 nominations (he missed the 1946 game). Terrible Ted Williams of Boston will be in left field with a .500 batting average and nine RBI's in five previous games.

The two managers must play the starting line-ups for the first three innings. None of the pitchers may toil for more than three innings.

Need New Leaders

OTTAWA, July 8.—(CP).—M. J. Coldwell, national leader of the CCF, Wednesday night said a new group must first take over power in Russia before Russia's misunderstandings with the outside world are broken down. He addressed the district 3 convention of the Gyro international.



THE CALL OF ADVENTURE that we all dreamily dwell on, but that so rarely is realized, came true for 20-year-old Edward Schultz (above), when he brought his 16-ft. dugout canoe safely into Miami harbor. Edward started his amazing voyage in the Amazon river in May, 1947. Sailing alone, he made stops all along the river, and then headed out into the Atlantic, making stops at Trinidad, Puerto Rico and Cuba on his way to his final destination—Miami.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Max Silverman, president of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association, is already scouting talent for a Canadian hockey team he and Dinty Moore, of Port Colborne, will take on a good-will tour of Europe next winter.

The team would comprise 16 players, half from NOHA ranks, Silverman said at North Bay Wednesday.

Tryouts for the team will likely be held in Sudbury, in early autumn.

Financial prospects for the United States Olympic team brightened Wednesday but the team outlook was clouded by injury to Gil Dodds at Boston. The only U.S. runner with a real chance to score, Dodds strained the achilles tendon in his left leg. Olympic treasurer Owen Van Camp reported total funds had been boosted to $358,000. Budget needs are estimated at $500,000.

Britain announced its Olympic track and field team Wednesday and at London manager Jack Crump said "it will be one of the best trained and coached teams" ever to represent England. The team is short of stars of international calibre and its main strength lies in the women entries. One outstanding perofrmer is national champion Maureen Gardner.

Larry Bissell, of London, Ont., Wednesday won for the fourth time the 10th annual Western Ontario public links golf championship and the Hadley Williams trophy, at London's Thames Valley Club. Defending champ Bissell carded a 75-71—146 for 36 holes, five strokes less than Jack Pullen of St. Thomas. Larry also won the event in 1935, 1938 and 1940.

One of three competing Canadians won, another lost and a third gained a draw as the second round of the United States Chess Federation's open tournament ended Wednesday in Baltimore. Osias Bain, 20-year-old Quebec city champion, won his game. R. B. Hayes of Kitchener, got the draw and Redpath Drumming of Hamilton, lost his match.

Cleveland Indians Wednesday announced the optioning of catcher Ray Murray to Oklahoma City of the Texas League. Murray was returned to Oklahoma City to make room on the roster for Satchel Paige, negro pitcher.

Bill Herbert of London, Ont., is still Ontario's "colt king." Noted trainer and driver, he captured both divisions of the Dan Patch, three-year-old pacing stake at Norwich, Ont., Wednesday. He piloted Jay Herbert to three straight wins in the first division and drove home Oro G Herbert to two wins and a second in the second division.

Prospects that Theo Dubois of Winnipeg, holder of the United States singles rowing title, might represent his native Belgium in the forthcoming Olympics, appeared brighter Wednesday. Dubois said he had received a cable from the Belgian National Association of Oarsmen, asking him to furnish times and details of events in which he had competed during 1947-48.

England Makes Very Poor Start

MANCHESTER, England, July 8.—(Reuters).— England made a bad start in the third cricket test match against Australia at Old Trafford Grounds today. With only 57 runs on the board at lunch, both Cyril Washbrook and George Emmett, England's new opening pair, were back in the pavilion.

Denis Compton was forced to retire after he cut his forehead when playing a no ball from Ray Lindwall.

A crowd of about 35,000 saw Washbrook and Emmett make a shaky start, but they gradually settled down. Just when Washbrook looked set, however, he missed a full toss from Bill Johnston and was bowled middle stump for 11.

More misfortune for England followed quickly, for six runs later Emmett, playing in his first test, gave Barnes an easy catch at short leg off Lindwall, after making 10.

Bill Edrich and Compton, Middlesex pair, then came together and the score stood at 32 when Compton hooked a short, rising no ball from Lindwall into his face.

Jack Crapp, making his Test debut, joined Edrich and the pair, batting dourly, held on until lunch. Both defended with great resolution, being content to keep their wickets intact, and maiden followed maiden.

So subdued was Edrich that the only scoring strokes he made during his first 50 minutes were a snick for four at the start and a leg hit for two.

Wings Blank Royals 6-0; Newark Winner

By The Associated Press

Montreal Royals are running away with the International League but the red-hot fight being waged by six teams for the three remaining first division berths is holding the interest of the fans.

While the Royals are riding high, 10 games ahead of the field today, only two games separate the runner-up Newark Bears from Rochester Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs tied for sixth place.

The Red Wings, behind the seven-hit pitching of lefty Ken Johnson, blanked the Royals 6-0 Wednesday night to tie the Leafs —who along with Buffalo Bisons were idle—for sixth place.

The Wings clinched the decision in the seventh when Chuck Diering poled a grand-slam four-bagger.

The Wings and Leafs are only half a game behind Jersey City Giants and Syracuse Chiefs who are deadlocked for fourth place, a half game back of the third-place Bisons.

Trounces Giants

Newark trounced the Giants, 7-2, while the last-place Baltimore Orioles knocked off the Chiefs 4-3 in 10 innings.

Clarence Marshall limited the Giants to four hits while the Bears bunched their five hits along with three errors and five walks to spoil the debut of Bob Callen, recently recalled by the Giants from Albany of the Eastern league.

The Orioles, mired 20 games off the pace, scored their winning run in the 10th against the Chiefs after two were out when Ed Levy singled and Al Cihocki doubled.

Howie Moss clouted his 20th four-bagger for the Orioles in the fourth inning with the bases empty.

BRITISH ACTOR REX HARRISON is shown in his car after finding blonde film star Carole Landis dead in her luxurious Brentwood home in Hollywood. Peculiar Fluke Goal Gives Win To The Legion 2-1

One of the most peculiar goals ever witnessed eliminated O'Halloran's from the Phelan Charity Cup 2-1 in favor of the Legion on Wednesday evening, in King Edward Park. A. Ross, Legion, shot the ball across the goal and it bounced on a little hill to roll back into the vacant goal as the custodian had expected it to go past the goal. Winners now meet winners of the Petes-C.G.E. game.

Within a minute, Duffus missed an open goal, on a pass from Cribbis of O'Halloran's. Legion retaliated with a series of raids that went abegging with flag kicks going wide of the mark. Pyle, O'Halloran's, with his systematic feeding up the centre caused many anxious moments in front of the Legion goal with Jones being brilliant. Smart, at inside right, drove hard for the far corner of the net but unfortunaley Duffus diverted the ball into the other corner while standing in an offside position.

On resuming, Legion gained the opening goal through Newt Downer who jumped in between tunately Duffus diverted the ball into the rigging. Thereafter O'Halloran's carried play into Legion territory to miss their objective through over-anxiousness in front of the goal. With 10 minutes to go, Sandy Ross shot the ball across the goal mouth from an oblique angle. Chamberlain, O'Halloran goalie, expected it to go past, but it hit a small knoll to be diverted into the open goal to give Legion a 2-0 count. O'Halloran's went right back to get a smart goal through Featherstone. Towards the finish, O'Halloran's hemmed the Legion into their own area in an attempt to get a drawn game, but it ended, Legion 2, O'Halloran's 1.

Canadian Legion— A. Jones, goal; T. Foster, Jr., and Al Downer, full-backs; A. Smith, B. Grant and C. Murduff, half-backs; Newt Downer, H. Duff, A. Ross, T. Foster, Sr., and G. Downer, forwards.

O'Halloran's —J. Chamberlain, goal; A. Downer and A. O'Halloran, full-backs; D. Gray, H. Pyle and T. Scott, half-backs; E. Boone, C. B. Smart, E. Duffus, A. Featherstone and W. Cribbis, forwards. Sub, D. Duncan.

Golfers At Scarboro Aim At Locke Record

SCARBORO GOLF CLUB, Toronto, July 8.—(CP).—Canadian and American golfers who tee off today to start the Ontario open golf championship are aiming at Bobby Locke's par-shattering score in the Canadian open last year.

The South African wizard fired an 11-under-par 202 at Scarboro for 54 holes, which is the Ontario open distance. Par on Scarboro's 6,430-yard course is 36-35-71.

Defending champion Bob Gray, the home hero, has as good a chance as any of the 138 entries of matching Locke's score. In the Canadian open, he had 204 at the 54-hole mark.

The 60 low golfers and ties on to-day's 18-hole play qualify for the final 36-hole medal play Friday.

Fear Free-For-All

KINGSTON - ON - THAMES, Surrey, England, July 8.—(CP).—A judge said Wednesday there would be many dead husbands and wives in Britain if they had the right to shoot each other for infidelity. A jury was trying Mrs. Doris Ellen Wiles, 27-year-old mother of four, on a charge of shooting her husband, Frederick, to death. She contended he was unfaithful. The jurors reported they could not agree on a verdict.

Kawartha Golf News

By JERRY SEABROOK

Saturday, July 10, sees the return engagement with the Peterborough Club boys for the Glover-Dobbin Trophy. When the first half of this engagement was held at Peterborough, a very fine time was reported by one and all; a good turnout is therefore expected to return the favor. Not only that but at this particular time we are enjoying only a slight margin in points over our rivals, and a lot of good golf will have to be played if we are to regain possession of the cup this year. Match play Nassau rule is used in this competition; therefore all the players will have to be matched as closely as possible. Tee off one o'clock or shortly after.

Our good friends Ned Vitarelli and Les Reid report that all the handicaps have been reviewed and a little surgery has occurred in a goodly number of cases. Might be a good idea to check the file the next time yo u have a chance just to see how you fared under the knife. All mild beefs should be directed to the aforementioned as they have the answers.

Oshawa Pounds Out Verdict Over Kingston

OSHAWA, July 8 — Oshawa Merchants trounced Kingston Locos, 14-3, in a Central Ontario Baseball League twi-light fixture here last night, as they pounded Jack Stone, erstwhile catcher, for a total of 17 hits, including two homers, two triples and three doubles.

Manager Doug Sutton of Merchants, went to the mound himself, with his ace, Paul Michael, forced out of action with torn ligaments. He came up with a nifty display of six well-spaced hits. Kingston had three runs, all earned but other than Sutton's wildness in spots, they never really threatened until after the game was in the bag.

Andy McMullen paced Oshawa at the plate with a perfect night, five for five, including a triple and a double while Freddie Bidgood continued his terrific .600 pace with three for five, including a homer and a triple and he reached first the other two times on infield errors.

The defeat leaves Locos deeper in the cellar and Oshawa a little closer to the second place Batawa shoemen.

Pupils Of 1875 Hold Reunion

LONDON, July 8.—(CP).—Dr. John Dearness, 96-year-old educationist and scientist, sat at the teacher's desk at nearby Denham public school Wednesday and looked over a roll of 13 names.

Before him were the bearers of those names, all but four of the school in 1875. That was the year 17 pupils enrolled in Denham Dr. Dearness, at 23, became district school inspector for East Middlesex.

This first re-union of the pupils of 73 years ago stirred memories.

"Do you remember the time the boys locked out all the girls and the teacher and wouldn't let us in?" asked Mrs. John Farrish, 84, of Carlisle, Ont.

"And the time one of the boys fought the teacher?" rejoined Llewellyn Mattehws, 80, of Detroit. "I can't remember who won but I kind of think it was the teacher."

Cheese Producers Approve Margarine

TORONTO, July 8 — (CP) — Ontario cheese producers said Wednesday they were willing to see oleomargarine sold in this province—but on their own conditions.

They want the export market for dairy products thrown wide open and import barriers lifted from certain materials they would like to buy in the United States.

Their views were expressed in a resolution passed Wednesday at a meeting of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Marketing Board. The resolution will be sent to the Dairy Farmers of Canada, a national association of dairymen.

Plan Alterations To Legion Building

CAMPBELLFORD, July 8 — (ENS).—Repairs and alterations to the Canadian Legion building will shortly be undertaken, and authorization has been given to th executive to spend the sum of $3,000 for this purpose.

The present plans consist of tearing down the partitions in the downstairs portion of the building and removal of the large staircase which divided the lower floor. This will make available enough space for a large auditorium with a tiled floor.

Other alterations are also being considered to the building, which was given to the Legion by the town in October, 1945, when Campbellford celebrated the return home of the troops on Soldiers' Day. Known as the armouries, because of its use for several years by the Midland Regiment, the edifice was originally the home of the Ogilvie family, among the earlier settlers of Campbellford.

The next meeting of the Legion branch will be held on Monday, July 12, and a large turnout is expected, in view of the important matters coming up for discussion.

Party Meets Animals On Haliburton Trip

LINDSAY, July 8 — (ENS). — Anyone who has been led to believe that Haliburton County hasn't its full share of wild life (of the animal variety) should have been a member of a fishing expedition which set out from the Kennisses Camp of Hay and Co. one night.

In addition to landing a fine catch of lake trout, several of which were five and six pounds in weight, in the vicinity of MacDonald's and Clear Lakes, the group encountered a half-grown red fox, a number of porcupines and a buck deer, besides being badly frightened by an unexpected "encounter" with a lean and hungry looking black bear.

LINDSAY, July 8 — (ENS). — Frank Darwell, of Bedford, Ohio, pleaded guilty to having a muskie less than the minimum length of 30 inches and paid a fine of $20 and $2.50 costs.

Darwell was picked up by Game Warden Fred Walton of Lindsay on the Pigeon River in Emily township on July 6. It was one of the first convictions in this area under section 42, sub section "A", Clause 3, of the Special Fishery Regulations for Ontario.

Ray Milburn, 34 Crofton Road, Leaside, paid a fine of $10 and $2.50 costs for fishing illegally. Milburn was casting out of a boat and drifting at a prohibited time before the opening of the lunge and bass season, on Crane Bay, Sturgeon Lake, June 27 when noticed by Game Warden Walton. Milburn's fishing equipment was confiscated.

Cobourg Harbor Out-Of-Bounds

COBOURG, July 8 (ENS)—The drowning a few weeks ago of a youngster who fell in Cobourg harbor has aroused the town council to the need of some supervision at the waterfront. Two years ago, following a number of drownings, council installed life preservers and pike poles at various points along the piers but where an adult is not around these are not regarded as adequate.

"We are going to declare the area around the harbor as out-of-bounds for children and if any youngsters are found playing around down these the patrolling constable will take them to their parents for the necessary discipline. With Bob Cooper (Rotary lifeguard) at the beach, the place for children to play is at the park beach where the lifeguard can keep an eye on them," Mayor Joseph Smith told The Examiner.

17 Western Farmers Come To Cobourg

COBOURG, July 8—(ENS).—Seventeen farmers from the West have been placed this season by Ralph Banbury, Northumberland county agricultural representative, on farms in this county.

"Of these, two or three have found themselves not suited with farm work but the majority are enjoying a good experience in learning eastern farm practice, while helping to harvest the hay crop. In past years many pleasant connections have been made between eastern and western farmers and quite a number regularly write to exchange ideas. With the good hay crop in this county, more of these men could be used, especially those who are genuine farmers at home," Mr. Banbury said.

Say New Bureau May Reveal Crash Secrets

TORONTO, July 8 — (CP). — The many facets of airplane crashes will be explored by an identification laboratory just set up at the R.C.A.F. Institute of Aviation medicine here.

Inspiration for its establishment came from a piece of kapok-like material dredged up in the search for wreckage of a Vampire jet aircraft which recently plunged into Lake Ontario near Bowmanville.

Peter Dale of Vancouver, a medical student at McGill University, might well be called the father of the identification bureau idea.

Dale's examination of the material from the plane established that it came from the air frame, not from the parachute backpack, it would have indicated the presence of the pilot in the aircraft at the time of the crash.

Although the examination proved nothing definite in the foregoing case, the possibilities of achieving positive results in future investigations led Dale to ask permission of the institute's commanding officer, Wing Cmdr. B. R. Brown, to set up an identification laboratory. This was granted and, with the assistance of the R.C.M.P. and the provincial police laboratories, one has been established.

A University of Toronto student, Norman Law, is attempting to develop a practical method of using liquid oxygen to overcome the effects of rapid decompression in pressurized aircraft.

Should a hatch or astrodome blow out — as has sometimes happened—on a pressurized aircraft flying at 30,000 to 40,000 feet, the occupants would have only 37 seconds of "useful consciousness" before they lost consciousness from lack of oxygen.

Polish Protest Refuted By Great Britain

LONDON, July 7. (Reuters)—The British government, rejecting a Polish protest against recommendations on Germany by the recent six-power London conference, has told the Polish government that it considers Soviet Russia solely to blame for the absence of four-power accord on Germany.

(In Washington, the United States State Department also rejected Poland's protest against a plan to set up a separate government in western Germany. In its note, the department suggested that Poland complain to the Russians about the division of Europe and Germany.)

"Since the Polish government is understood to support the policy of the Soviet government towards Germany, the British government do not understand on what grounds the Polish government bases their argument," the British note states.

It was sent in reply to a Polish note of June 18, the foreign office disclosed Wednesday night.

The British note said Britain deplores four-power disagreement as much as Poland does. Britain the United States and France had repeatedly sought such agreement.

"The lack of success which has so far attended these efforts is to be attributed solely to the government of the Soviet union, who, actuated by motives which can only seriously interfere with the peaceful and democratic reconstruction in Europe, including Poland, have consistently prevented agreement."

Burma Anxious To Rid Land Of Foreign Business Men

By G. MILTON KELLY

RANGOON, July 8—(AP)—Little Burma is just plain weary of the foreigner.

When Britain yielded crown power Jan. 4, Burma walked out of the commonwealth, declining dominion status. She chose a path leading sharply to the left. Strong forces are trying to lead her all the way to Communism and close association with Soviet Russia.

The announced objective of the government as now constituted and of the constitution drafters is to give their country a democratic, socialistic people's government. These men want Burma to be a rich, peaceful export country, running her own affairs. They have drawn a policy which boils down to "Burma for Burmans."

Burma wants to trade with the world. She welcomes the foreign business man who has the wares she needs. She welcomes foreign air lines. But every proposition is examined closely to determine who will reap the benefit, and whether it involves even a hint of economic domination.

May Have Setback

Both foreign and Burman business men speculate privately—it is not wise to criticize this tough government openly — that the country may suffer a setback from too rapid a change to government ownership. They are especially concerned by the loss of western engineering skill which has kept the war-battered inland fleet and docks of the Irrawaddy Flotilla Company in operation.

Indians and Britons own more than half the real estate in Rangoon. Indians own about one-fields, and hold mortgages on oth-fourth of the country's rich rice er large tracts.

Now the squeeze is being placed on all of them. No foreigner is permitted to purchase land without special permission from the president of Burma. Such permission is difficult to get.

Rents are frozen at levels which would make it unprofitable for the landlord. The housing shortage has made this policy ineffective in the cities, but in rural areas the big landlord really feels the squeeze. Government levies upon his fixed revenues leaves only modest profits. Frequently tenants refuse to pay anything to foreign landlords.

Refugees Seek Safer Haven; Fear Russia

ST0OCKHOLM, July 8—(Reuters)—The latest Russian moves in Finland and Czechoslovakia have caused considerable uneasiness among Sweden's 60,000 stateless refugees, 40,000 of whom have come from the Baltic countries and thus, technically, are former Russian citizens.

Through their representatives, they have expressed their fears to the Swedish authorities, and they are continually making inquiries about the possibility of leaving the country and emigrating to, primarily, North and South America.

The refugees fear the Communists and regard them as a threat not only to themselves but to Sweden too. They believe that what have happened to Czechoslovakia or Finland might easily happen also to Sweden. Nor have the assurances of the Swedish authorities that they have an entirely mistaken idea of Sweden's inernal and external situation been wholly successful in calming these fears.

At the same time, the influx of refugees seeking safety from Communism in Sweden, is increasing.

The inhabitants of the little northern Swedish town of Haparanda on the Finnish frontier have recently had occasion to recall the hectic days towards the end of the Second World War when people fearing a German reign of terror in face of defeat poured across the frontier from Finland.

A new wave of refugees began a few months ago following the Finnish government's acceptance of the Russian demand that a number of former Estonian citizens be handed over.

Refugees arriving in Sweden have reported that this Finnish decision gave rise to rumors that another 2,000 Estonians and Karelians—all of whom were Russian citizens before the war — were to be handed over to Russia.

Road To Safety

Many of them sold all their belongings for a pittance and set out on the road to safety—the Swedish frontier.

The flow of refugees reached a peak during the 10 days following Marshal Stalin's offer to Finland of a pact of friendship and mutual defense. During these 10 days came most of the 607 refugees officially reported to have arrived during the last three weeks of February and the first week of March.

The Swedish authorities and the press are very secretive about the refugees reaching the country. Their names and photographs are never published, the aim apparently being to keep the Russians in the dark about their identity and thus avoid any demands for their extradition.

The same policy was applied during the war when the Germans were searching for people fleeing from Nazi oppression.

After a short time in the transition camps in and around Haparanda, where their identity is checked and where they undergo medical examination, they are sent south to work on farms or in the forests.

There are plenty of helping hands on the Finnish side, too, the refugees say. But all of them are not clean. Many criminal elements feather their nest at the expense of the refugees, buying their belongings on the black market for example, against faked Swedish money.

Others, for political reasons, lead refugees right into the hands of the Finnish Communist Home Minister Yrjo Leino's state police —known as "Stapo"—while pretending to conduct them to safety.

Two Million Voters Mean Quebec Ballot Boss Busy

QUEBEC, July 8 (CP).—The man who sees to it that the names of 2,000,000 Quebec voters will be on proper lists and that all will have a voting slip July 28 is Francois Drouin, K.C., a young Quebec lawyer.

Drouin, son of a lawyer and grandson of a judge, was appointed to the permanent job of chief returning officer for Quebec three years ago.

A law graduate of Laval University, Drouin was in practice himself with a brother when he received the appointment. Since then has had workouts in four provincial by-elections for the big general election.

As administrator of Quebec electoral laws, Drouin runs the machinery that will have everything ready for election day.

Polling places will be chosen, printed booklets for voters' lists spread through the province, and packages of ballot papers will pass through the hands of 92 divisional returning officers to their 10,000 deputies.

Quebec Headquarters

July 28, everyone is eligible to vote who shows up at the polling booth will be handed a ballot slip that originated at Drouin's headquarters in Quebec. His head office is in an old stone building, formerly a private residence, across tree-lined Grande Allee from Quebec's legislature building.

With the July 28 election in the wind for several weeks before the date was announced, preparations for the job of equipping county returning officers and their deputies were started early.

Since announcement of the date, the pressure is on the comparatively small staff working under Drouin among piles of copies of the election act, reports of voting in 1939 and 1944, and maps and charts showing the latest style in ballot papers.

All official stationery used in connection with the election goes out from Quebec. Ballot paper forms, minus candidates' names which are printed on in the various divisions, also go out from here with voters' list books ready for local inscription of the names of eligible electors.

Need Eskimo Skill To Conquer The North

ROCK ISLAND, Que., July 8. (CP).— Dr. Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Arctic explorer, said here Wednesday that if the white man is to conquer the north, he must use some of the techniques of the Eskimo.

In a public lecture sponsored by the McGill University summer school of geography, the Canadian-born Arctic authority said that modern western man is far too ready to boost his own ideas and far too reluctant to learn those of others.

"We must learn all we can from the Soviets, the Eskimos, the Laplanders and other before we can succeed in the trying field presented by the Arctic," Dr. Stefasson said.

Exiled Boy Lama Awaits Recall To Tibet

By JOHN RODERICK

KUMBUM LAMASERY, Southwest China, July 8—(AP)—On this quiet hill-side in northwest China an 11-year-old boy dreams of his lost kingdom in Tibet.

He is the living Buddha of limitless light, the holiest of the holy, tenth incarnation of the Panchan Lama. He rules in name only over 9,000,000 followers of Tibetan Buddhism. In fact, as an exile in China, he is an Asiatic Pope without a flock.

Today he is installed in the centuries-old Kumbum Lamasery in the towering mountains near the great salt lake of Koko Nor in Tsinghai Province.

Over teacups and dried persimmons I interviewed the boy saint in the lavishly decorated throne room of his red-walled palace 20 miles from Sining, capital of the province.

Was the Panchan interested in other countries? Did he wish to visit America?

"Yes," replied the Panchan, who had been sitting gravely attentive. "All these things are attractive. Some day I should like to visit Shanghai, Nanking and the United States.

Devoted To Study

"But now I must devote my life to study in order to become a religious leader. I have little time for anything else."

His day begins at 4 a.m. and ends at 9 p.m. It is spent largely in poring over 108 volumes of the Kangyur, the Buddhist Bible, and the Tangyou, the commentaries. For recreation he plays table tennis, goes for brief walks, or frolics with his three black Tibetan poodles. In his home, where I later saw him murmuring the Buddhist litany, there are gifts from all over the world.

The ninth Panchan Lama came to China in 1924, shortly after the British had moved into Tibet. China, who claims the mysterious region as its own preserve, was busy with internal troubles.

The British played off the Dalai Lama, who was pro-British, against the rival Panchan Lama, who favored the Chinese. The Panchan Lama fled to China.

In the 24 years since then much has happened. The exile grew to manhood. He was succeeded by the present child, who was found in a small town in this province seven years ago.

Soon after the Panchan Lama ascended his golden throne the Dalai Lama sent him an invitation to return to his old capital at Shigatse, west of Lhasa, the present capital of Tibet.

This would help to unify Tibet, which now is split between the two spiritual allegiances.

Whether the Panchan returns to Tibet, where he rightfully belongs, depends upon hard-headed men in Nanking and London. In this international game he is a scarlet-robed pawn.

Leaning forward, I asked the Panchan Lama if he would go to Tibet.

"I will return," he answered in a low, intent voice, "if and when China asks me to."

Apparently China, once more torn by internal strife and too weak to back this Tibetan god with guns, does not think the time is ripe.

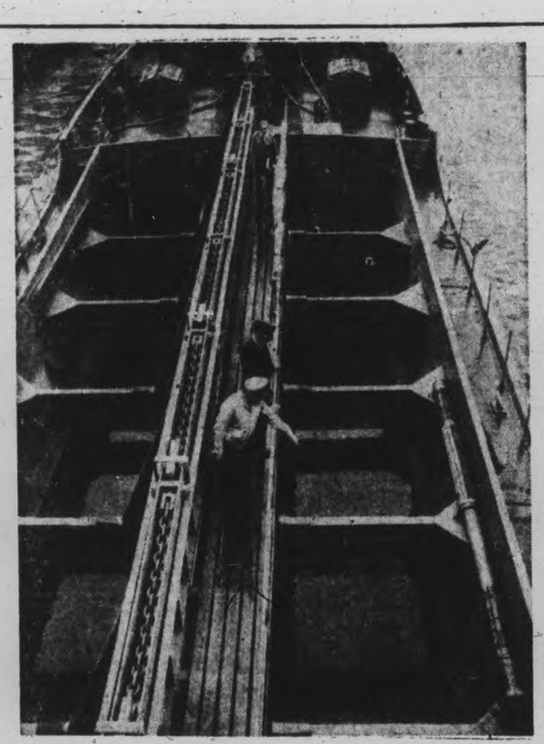
FRENCH ORIGIN

In the Germany of the Middle Ages, Gothic buildings were generally imitative of the French.

PRIME MINISTER J. B. Chifley of Australia, above, who is en route to London to link plans for mass emigration of Britons and decentralization of Commonwealth defence industries in talks with the British government. Chifley discussed the plans with the British government in 1946. The British government turned down a mass emigration scheme proposed by Australia and New Zealand, but Chifley was expected to renew the proposal with more hope than expectation.



CAPT. CLIFFORD MANLEY, noted British skipper, has sailed almost every type of ship during his many years with the merchant marine. "But now," he said as he walked "the deck" of his new command, the Algonquin, in port in Montreal, which left recently, "I'll take out the first that didn't have a bottom in it." And he wasn't kidding. The 162-foot ship is supported only by air tanks on the sides, the bow and stern and her entire mid-section is open to the sea. From bow to stern the Algonquin has her holds filled with water and crewmen have nicknamed the ship "the floating fish pond." Capt. Manley doesn't rule out the prospects of a stormy Atlantic crossing. He hopes to return to Canada after he gets the Algonquin over to bring over several more. Fifteen of them are built in Canada for the French Government. The boats will be placed alongside dredges working off the coast of France and will be filled with mud then moved out under their own power to a dumping ground. They will eliminate the use of tugs and bulky, unwieldy scows.

EDGE OF THE WORLD

The Rock of Gibraltar and Mount Atyla on the African coast across the Strait of Gibraltar were known to the ancients as the "Pillar of Hercules," and were thought to be the western extremity of the world.

THE TINY 139-TON WOODEN VESSEL "Regina Polaris" will take over some of the duties of the famous Arctic ship "Nascopie" when she leaves Montreal Saturday to sail into northern seas with supplies for isolated settlements. Commanded by Capt. Thomas Bannerman of Montreal, the vessel was built last year, and was used to supply their northern missions. She will call at 15 main missions and because of her small capacity she will put into Churchill, Man., several times to pick up new cargo.

Closer Working Relations Sought In Administering Parks and Recreation Work

For purposes of consultation and closer working relations, the parks committee of the council and the Recreation Commission proposed Wednesday night a joint subcommittee which the parks committee subsequently recommended to the Council. Its members are: Mayor Ovens, chairman; Mr. W. B. Gordon, chairman of the Commission; Ald. Herbert Young, chairman of the parks committee; Jack Dane, director for the Commission, and Armar Butcher, superintendent of parks.

One of its accepted assignments is to determine the bounds of authority of the two bodies where their separate interests and responsibilities appear to overlap or are not clearly defined and understood.

Placing Guide Ropes

Toward the end of the conference, a question of responsibility for the placing of guide ropes, attached to wooden floats, at the Inverlea Park beach for the protection of children, was asked by Ald. Douglas Miller.

Jack Dane, director of recreation, answered: "I'd say the parks committee."

Mr. W. B. Gordon: "Who put them in last year, and who took them out."

Armar Butcher, parks superintendent, replied that it was done by the parks department.

Mr. Butcher explained that these lines of blocks were customarily set out by the life guards appointed to the park beach.

At that time the beach guards were appointed by the parks committee. They are now appointed by the Recreation Commission.

The point of responsibility for the placing of the lines of blocks was not pressed further. "It will come out at the inquest," Mr. Gordon remarked.

An issue of authority in designating playgrounds was stressed by R. J. Bolton of the Commission. Women in the Dutton housing subdivision (McKellar St.) had requested the council to equip a tot plot, using the ground which had been left for children's play in the designing of the area.

Preference of the Commission was for a larger playground adjoining Confederation School, but the council, it was said, had acceded to the wishes of the McKellar section residents, and thereby had overruled the Commission. That divided opinion, Mr. Bolton said, indicated the need of setting out clearly the authority of the Commission in such matters.

Mr. Gordon said that according to the legislation providing for the establishment of recreation commissions, they were responsible for programs. "We get government grants only on programs and on the money that is expended on behalf of them. We wouldn't get grants on some of the things Ald. Miller suggests."

Ald. D. Miller expressed his opinion that the parks committee should be required to look after parks and their maintenance, and the beautification of the city. But, playground work might include the marking out of baseball diamonds, tennis courts, volleyball courts, comprising details that might need a specialist. "In that case what we might need is a playgrounds supervisor."

Prefer School Site

Referring to a letter from the Commission read by Ald. Herbert Young, parks committee chairman, expressing willingness to supervise a play lot in the new south end, Mr. Dane observed: "It says in that general area. Mr. Butcher and I liked another location, but it was taken for housing. The site at Confederation School was next best."

Mr. Dane said the McKellar housing area lot was not large enough. "At Confederation School we have grounds 120 yds. by 130 yds., and the school is not in the way. There were 35 children there today ready to take up crafts, but we had nothing for them to sit on and work on. We can't carry on a project that way."

CLOSER WORKING

Home Owners Complaints Are Cleared Up

Race track home owners' complaints were cleared up Wednesday night at a meeting of the owners with Mayor William Oveens. A mix-up had resulted from conversations between owners and the agents of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, which led them to believe their homes were to get the same foundation as those still owned by Wartime Housing.

Mayor Ovens told them that their homes were not included in the contract; that only houses still being rented by Wartime Housing were receiving the foundation about which they had complained.

The mayor added that Central Mortgage and Housing intended to write each owner, offering a certain amount of money with which the owner can build foundation walls or complete cellars, as they chose.

Certain owners claimed the houses were having unnecessary strain put on them by the use of only two jacks. This claim was refuted by the contractor, who said he had used four and six jacks on houses of this sort before, and that somehow several had been thrown out of line. Since then, he said, he has used only two jacks.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

BANK CLEARINGS

Total clearings passing through the Peterborough Clearing House during the past week ending today amounted to $2,424,178.

REDECORATE COLLEGIATE

By the time students get back to PCVS next fall the place will have had a facelifting. Six rooms and two corridors of the academic part of the building are in process of receiving a coat of paint. The machine shop ceiling will also be painted.

FLATTENED MUFFLER

One local motorist heard his muffler drop from the bottom of his car on George St. He stopped and just as he got out heard the sound of a heavy truck rolling over it. When he reached it, the muffler was flat enough to be pushed under a door.

DECORATED METER

The shiny aluminum paint of the city parking meters is not enough for some color-loving person. Today one George St. meter has a hair ribbon tied around its shaft, and passersby looked twice to be sure of what they saw.

LINDSAY WARRIORS' DAY

Branch 52 of the Canadian Legion is planning to attend Lindsay Warriors' Day on Saturday, July 10. A special bus will be chartered if sufficient members wish to take advantage of the opportunity to visit the new Legion building at Lindsay. Lindsay branch is expected to attend Peterborough Warriors' Day on Saturday, July 17.

NEARLY LOST HIM

Fishing last night near Kelly's Island in Chemong lake, Mrs. Vern Selkirk tied into her first muskie, a 17-pounder. Her husband gaffed the fish, brought it aboard, and whacked it over the head. The muskie jumped over the side, and the Selkirks circled the spot for five minutes. Then they spotted the fish floating belly up and brought it into the boat for keeps.

FLOOD RELIEF FUND

Local contributions to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce British Columbia Flood Relief Fund include $100 from the Peterborough Lock Company and $25 from the Women's Friendly Bible Class of St. John's church. Donations to the fund are being accepted by the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES McLACHLAN, who came all the way from Taunton, Somerset, in south-west England in time for Lindsay's Old Home Week celebrations. Married in Lindsay, the couple left Canada in 1935. They are holidaying at the home of Mrs. McLachlan's brother, Mr. G. J. Edwards, 9 Russell St. East, and expect to visit many friends in Lindsay, Peterborough and surrounding district, during their six weeks' visit.

Jean Hazelton Captures Lindsay's Beauty Contest

LINDSAY, July 8—(ENS).—The strong arm of the law gave way to a minor Wednesday evening as the old tyme fiddlers' contest was run off as part of the Old Home Week celebrations. Diminutive Jimmy Butt, 15, of Lindsay, won the acclaim of the grandstand crowd at the Exhibition Grounds with his "Rural Rhythm" to edge out left-handed Constable Hunter of the local police department.

After several plays the beauty contest was held with contestants parading in bathing suits. Jean Hazelton, tall, shapely, 21, of 24 Regent Street, was crowned "Miss Victoria," while Louis Johnson, 16, of Angeline, Lindsay, was second. In the evening thousands of boys and girls, including many Torontonians, old and young, stopped to the music of Graydon Sheldon and his orchestra on Kent Street in front of the Town Hall.

Wrestler Jailed

Toar Morgan, internationally known professional wrestler, has been jailed on a charge of obstructing an officer following a scuffle with local police at his home here on Wednesday. Chief R. H. Lawler, who answered a call to the Morgan home along with Constable John Hunter, was badly injured in the fight, receiving four broken ribs, a bruised chest and a sprained ankle. According to Police Chief Lawler and Constable Hunter they tangled with the 260 lb Morgan and James Coffey, a cousin from Honolulu, Hawaii. The officers withdrew, with Morgan threatening to come down to the police station and continue the fight.

T. A. Hargrave was summoned and when Morgan entered the station he was taken to the county jail with the aid of Constable Hunter.

Chief Lawler has been X-rayed for possible broken bones and has since been confined to his home

Rev. P. L. Jull Dies In Brooklin

BROOKLIN, Ont., July 8 (CP)—Rev. P. L. Jull, 69, minister of the Brooklin United Church for 22 years prior to his retirement last April, died today at his home in this community near Oshawa.

A 1914 graduate of Queen's Theological College, Mr. Jull was secretary of the Oshawa Presbytery for many years. He served in Carp, Ont., for three years and at Lakefield for nine years before coming to Brooklin in 1925.

He is survived by his wife, the former Annie Stewart of Renfrew; two sons, Rev. Kenneth Jull of Minden, Ont., and Gordon Jull of McKellar, Ont.; a daughter, Mrs. Mathew Agar of Brooklin.

Delivery Service

THINGS are looking up for the fire department. On Wednesday morning a fire was delivered to the front door. A car belonging to Ideal Auto Body, Hunter St., had a smouldering floor mat caused by a misplaced cigarette and the driver instead of trying to put it out himself, drove to the fire station. A few squirts from a hand pump were sufficient to end the blaze.

Two Convicted For Having Guns

MADOC, July 8 (Special)—Fast radio contact of provincial police resulted in swift apprehension of two Americans wanted by police at Madoc on Monday. Alertness of officers who had their eyes open at 2 a.m. is credited with the arrest which led to a conviction at Madoc on a charge of possessing an unregistered firearm.

While at the village of Pickering, Cpl. Gordon Campbell heard a radio message in his car that an American car was beng sought by Provincial Constable Jack Hatch at Madoc. Campbell and two other police finished their lunch at a Pickering restaurant and came back to the police car just as the American auto answering the radio description drove by. After chasing it a few miles, the car stopped and the two men arrested. They gave their names as Harold Rice and John Salamanski, New York.

Back at Madoc, in court, two charges of firing with intent were withdrawn by the crown and a fine levied for the lesser offence of possession.

Pets already entered include a turtle, a horse, a squirrel and one chicken. The Pets will be judged on their originality, behaviour, appearance, and ability to do tricks.

Judges for the show will be Alderman Hurrell Dodds, P. D. Scollard, and chief playground supervisor Bill Harle. The show has been organized by playground instructors.

Port Hope Students Visiting In Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermnda, July 8—(CP).—A group of students from Trinity College, Port Hope, are on a visit to Bermuda and have joined with local graduates of the Canadian school in providing opposition for local cricket clubs.

A series of seven games will end July 15. The college team has drawn one and won the second game, defeating the Somerset Workmen's Club by 137 runs.

TO HIRE FOUR MEN

Parks committee recommended Wednesday night the hiring of four additional men for employment into the fall. Economy at the city hall reduced Armar Butcher's maintenance crew to ten men, half of his staff last year, and Mayor Ovens said no one would approve enforced neglect of cutting grass and general look of parks and flower beds.

Combat Flies With DDT In Some Centres

Use of DDT spray to combat the fly menace has not yet been discussed in Peterborough, Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health, said today. "To eliminate flies, the breeding places must first be eliminated. But I don't think flies have reached the menace stage here," he said.

Toronto is experimenting with DDT spray as protection against infantile paralysis, and similar plans have reached the discussion stage in Oshawa. Dr. Kelly said nobody knows for sure how polio spreads, and that theories have been advanced saying that anything from flies to peach fuzz may carry the disease.

No Quarantine

In parts of the United States and in England, health authorities no longer require quarantine for polio, but in Ontario it is still regarded as a communicable disease.

Only two cases of poliomyelitis were reported in the city in 1947, and so far this year there have been none, Dr. Kelly said.

Several places in Quebec are also experimenting with DDT spray to try to control polio. First use of DDT as a disease control was made by the United States Army in Naples.

Protect Breeding Places

Breeding places for flies, such as garbage dumps, manure bins, and livestock barns, must be protected in some way against the spread of flies. Certain municipalities require that these be sprayed with DDT.

In Peterborough, spraying is not required, but a by-law states that manure bins must be kept flytight. Garbage dumps are nonexistent here, since the city uses an incinerator to dispose of all garbage. Garbage must be kept in a covered metal container until it is collected.

Brooklin Man Jas. Routly, 92

OSHAWA, July 8. — James Routly, 92, and the oldest inhabitant of the village of Brooklin, returned last week-end to his customary spot sitting on the lawn at the front of his small house watching the traffic go by.

Mr. Routly spent last Saturday at a family reunion, and what did he think of it? He thought that there were a lot of people, a lot of noise, and a lot of fun but he's glad to be back sitting quietly on his front lawn watching the cars go by.

Mr. Routly came to Brooklin from Devonshire, England, 89 years ago, and has lived in the community ever since. "When I came here there was lots more going on. There were more stores and grist mills and there seemed to be more farming," Mr. Routly said.

The elderly resident has nine children, three sons and six daughters, all living, plus "about 40 grandchildren I guess." The family is scattered in many parts of the province and in the United States but "they all manage to get back and see the old man once in a while," Mr. Routly said.

Up until recent years Mr. Routly has been a staunch Salvation Army man and tells of his early days walking 19 miles to the Salvation Army services.

Mrs. Marion Moore Heads Hairdressers

The Peterborough and District Hairdressers' Association was organized at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Wednesday night. It will be affiliated with the Ontario Hairdressers' Association. Those present at this first meeting represented nearly all such establishments in the city.

J. Satchell of Toronto, president of the Ontario Association, was guest speaker.

Officers elected were: Mrs. Marion Moore, president; Mrs. Ella Goulah, vice-president; Madame May Merriam, treasurer; Reginald Moore, secretary.

General Electric Workers In Toronto Stage Demonstration By Walking Out

TORONTO, July 8 —(CP)— While company an union officials met today with a provincial labor conciliator in contract renewal negotiations, some of the employees of the Canadian General Electric Company's plant staged a walkout.

An official of the company said there was "a bit of a walkout" by workers at the plant today. He would no comment further.

The head office of the company said it had no knowledge of a strike though "there have been rumors of something like this for the past three days."

Ross Russel, organizing director of the United Electrical Workers (CCL-CIO) said: "It appears there have been some demonstrations or walkouts at some C.G.E. plants today. C. S. Jackson our president is meeting company officials with Louis Fine labor department conciliator."

Contract renewal negotiations have been in progress for a week.

Fall Wheat Ripening Fast, Spring Grains Are Filling

Fields of fall wheat are showing a change of color these days in the first stage of ripening heads. The green of June is gradually dissolving into a primary shade of brown, and combines should be rattling out the grain in another two weeks or thereabouts. Some farmers are estimating that it will be nearer three weeks than two.

Many strong looking stands of oats are filling with cereal these days, feed for livestock locally. The big rolled oats mills makes longer hauls of its porridge material. There are fewer fields of barley in this county, but they are amplifying the agricultural scene, fitting into the picture of maturing crops.

Busy Haying

District farmers Wednesday and again today were running hay to the barns. Every buckrake and baling machine in the country was loaded with fodder tonnage with hardly a stop between trips from field to mow. Harvest days are here, longest of the year, but still not long enough for farmers who haven't the help they need.

Corn is showing promising growth, pastures are green, and herds rest and ruminate in the shade of trees these July afternoons. The countryside is a broad prospect of luxuriant greens these days, pleasant to drive through, but, on the land, long hours of work that must be done while the sun is shining beyond the whistles of the eight hour day and the 40-44 hour week.

Plan Report To Membership

All was quiet at the Peterborough plant of CGE at noon today though reports from Toronto indicated that union members had walked out at three plants there this morning. As the throngs of workers hurried through the main gate on Park St. after the noon whistle they seemed unaware that anything unusual had happened at the sister plants in Toronto.

When queried on the subject one worker said: "We're having our big meeting tonight. We'll see what happens then. The boys at this plant are pretty level-headed."

He was referring to a membership meeting which is being held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Market Hall. The Negotiating Committee back from Toronto for the occasion, will address the workers and report on the state of present negotiations which are continuing at Queen's Park.

It is expected that a vote will be taken to determine the union members' attitude to the latest company offer.

High Fatality Rate

MONTREAL (CP)—Nearly 110 adults and more than 40 children will die accidentally here during July and August according to Dr. Antonio B. Valois, superintendent of the division of vital statistics in the department of health.

MAROONED ON BOOM

At Riverside wading pool on Wednesday afternoon, a four-year-old girl waded out to the boom which encircles the pool and climbed onto it. When she realized she was there alone, she panicked and began to scream. Playground instructor Amy Curtis went out and brought the little girl back.

Stand Ordered At Inverlea

Construction of a stand for the swimming beach guard at Inverlea Park was ordered by the parks committee of the council Wednesday night.

It was an idea that cropped up in the discussions with the Recreation Commission, and Armar Butcher, parks superintendent, was asked to drop everything else until this job was done. Mayor William Ovens' motion, seconded by Ald. H. Dodds, stressed the requirement of immediacy.

Mayor Ovens asked members of the Commission whether the guard was on duty Monday at the time of the drowning of the Toronto boy, Gerald Harran.

Jack Dane, director of recreation, said "to my knowledge, he was on duty. That can be verified by 50 or 60 people. He had also six beach patrols, older boys who were there to help watch the swimmers."

Mr. Dane said he did not know of any boy who could be better qualified than Ron Gynane, the Inverlea guard, "and he had nothing to do with the swimming class that was on at the time."

W. B. Gordon of the Commission said he had been informed the children went to the park Monday to join a swimming class. Enquiry showed they did not register with the instructor.

The drowning, it was said, occurred north of the area usually marked off by rope lines. Mr. Dane suggested there should be a stand for the guard, and there would be further advantage in having a public address system

Four Boys Pallbearers At Harran Funeral

A large number of relations and friends attended the funeral on Wednesday afternoon of ten-year-old Gerald (Buddy) Harran, who drowned at Inverlea Bathing Beach on Monday. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Harran, of 64 Dundas St. E, Toronto, he was born in Peterborough and had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs Jac. Richardson, 633 Donegal St., for four days before the fatality occurred.

The Rev. Ivan C. Morgan, of Murray Street Baptist Church, officiated at the ceremony which was held at the Kaye Funeral home Burial took place at Little Lake Cemetery. Four Peterborough boys, Jack Richardson, Donald Clarke, Bob Brady and Billy Greene, were pall-bearers There were a great many floral tributes.

Many Inquiries For Information Being Received

"Is there anywhere on Stony Lake where we can rent an outboard?"

"Is this the highway to Niagara Falls?"

"How do you get to Lakefield from here?"

"Is it far to the Waterlog Inn?"

There's a comfortable stream of questions pouring through the tourist bureau of the Peterborough Junior Chamber of Commerce these days. And, from reports throughout the Kawartha Lakes district, it is indicative of a gradual increase in the number of tourists in the area. The number so far this year is believed by officials to be perhaps ten per cent greater than in 1947.

August Is Peak

It is pointed out that June or July are not peak months. The top crest of the tourist wave is usually reached in August, building up from early June to more than double the rate of influx in the opening weeks.

The bureau acts as a go-between for those seeking and those offering accommodations. Tourist resorts, fishing lodges and other places for tourists can contact the bureau so that visitors can be directed there if the accommodation details given fit the bill.

Merchants of the city, who are quite pleased with the amount of business to date think that the incoming traffic will increase within the next few weeks It usually begins to climb towards that top summer level about the middle of July.

Hotels and most resorts close to Peterborough are doing a steady filled-up business at present, a trend which started about the time of the long holiday weekend and has continued.

Doing Good Business

Restaurants— always the most sensitive barometer of the shifting population of a city—report a roaring business, although not at its peak yet either.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Jay Cees believe that the Peterborough graph to date is also a rough guide to the situation throughout Ontario. Provincial officials have been predicting a somewhat larger year than 1947. In that year, nearly three-quarters of a million American tourists cars came into Ontario

In the softball tournament between team representing the three centres, Peterborough defeated Oshawa in the finals. Chairman of the day's outing was John Lewis of Peterborough.

Nationalization Sting Eased By Col. Brown

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, July 8 (CP)—Soft-voiced Colonel Douglas Clifton Brown, 69, Speaker of the Commons, has drawn the sting from political controversy over questions on nationalized industries.

In effect, the former cavalry Colonel has said to Labor and Conservative antagonists:

"Well, if you can't agree on the question yourselves I'll take the responsibility and you'll have to accept my decisions."

The Conservative opposition had become increasingly angry over the Labor government decision that boards incharge of nationalized industries should be exempt from "pin-pricking" questions in the Commons about their day-to-day operations.

Transport Minister Barnes brushed off questions about lateness of railway trains with the reply that this was a matter for the National Transport Commission. The Opposition protested parliamentary rights were being infringed if detailed questions could not be placed on the order paper.

But House rules excluded questions on matters outside Ministerial responsibility, said the government. Late trains had become the responsibility of the Transport Commission.

Speaker's Ruling

The Speaker, at once the master and servant of the House, said he did not propose to change the rules but was prepared to "exercise my discretion to direct the acceptance of questions asking for statements to be made on matters previously refused, provided that, in my opinion, the matters are of sufficient public interest to justify this . . .

"I think it is essential if this experiment is to succeed that the allowances or disallowance of questions, after the application of this test, must be left to my discretion . . . I cannot allow my decision once it has been given to a member to be argued or questioned by the House."

SELDOM HAVE ESSEX potatoes approached the quality they are this year and never have they been available to consumers in large volume so early. Ten men and women are required to operate a digging rig efficiently. Power-operated and drawn, machine will harvest as many as 500 bags a day. Early potatoes cost about $30 an acre to plant.

Born at Bournemouth, England, he came to Canada in 1928 and at one time was employed on the staff of radio station CFCN, Calgary.

Loss Of Steel Serious If Miners Strike

NEW YORK, July 8—(AP)—Loss of steel output from a prolonged shutdown of "captive" coal mines would be a severe shock to American steel consumers, the defence program in the United States, and the European Recovery Plan, The Iron Age, metal-working trade weekly, said today.

It noted an earlier coal strike this year cost production of 1,600,000 tons of steel "that cannot be made up."

This week's output, estimated by the Iron Age at 93 per cent of capacity, was described as "far below the total demand."

Troops Who Revolted Swing To Loyalists

LIMA, Peru, July 8—The Peruvian government announced today that troops in Puno who took part in Sunday's revolt had swung over to the Loyalist side.

The Communique said the Puno garrison had decided to break with the rebel leader at Juliaca in southeast Peru where the revolt broke out for unexplained reasons.

The announcement added that the general staff at Lima had appealed to Peruvian newspapers to confine their stories on the situation to official communiques. The government warned that any infractions would be dealt with.

CALITHUMPIAN PARADE Featured Wednesday's program during Old Home Week in Lindsay. Toronto Air Cadet Band of the Mosquito 180 Squadron received a tremendous ovation from spectators.

Toronto People Take Over Town of Lindsay For Day

LINDSAY, July 8 — Toronto moved to this Victoria County town Wednesday as it marked "Toronto Day" of its Old Home Week celebrations. Former residents of Lindsay and district poured in from the Queen City during the day and were given the freedom of the town by Mayor Charles Lamb, who also turned over the authority of his office to their delegate head.

From early morning, when scores of Torontonians started flocking into the town to join the "Old Home Week" celebrations, it was difficult to determine who owned the town. The visitors made no bones about it and the locals didn't argue.

Shortly before noon the largest group of visitors from Toronto arrived in a horn-tooting flag-bedecked motorcade. Soon after another group arrived by train. Then all the visitors, led by the Toronto Air Cadet Band of the 180 Mosquito Squadron, paraded through the main business district to the Town Hall.

Mayor Charles Lamb officially greeted them and turned over his office to Victor L. Gladman, chairman of the Toronto delegation.

"Today is Toronto Day," said Mayor Lamb. "Toronto's mayor is to be our mayor today. But as Mayor McCallum is not here, I turn my office over to you. For the next 24 hours, you are in charge and responsible for the affairs of the town."

In the afternoon, the Toronto delegation, riding in automobiles, took part in the parade, led by the air cadet band. Later they invaded the fair grounds for the grand stand show and the midway.

At night, the main street was blocked off and the visitors took part in a sing song and square dances. Shortly before midnight the Torontonians left and the town settled down to normal quietness.

British Commandant Of Berlin Says Reds "Milk" East Germany

BERLIN, July 8 — (AP). — While Marshall Plan millions are being devoted to the economic rehabilitation of western Germany, the Russians are "milking" their eastern Germany occupation zone on an increasing scale, according to official Allied reports.

A partial but graphic account of how the Russians are exacting their "take" was given recently by Maj.-Gen. E. O. Herbert, British commandant of Berlin, in a meeting of the city"s Allied Kommandatura.

Herbert made his report in reply to what he termed "wild assertions" and "traversities of fact" uttered by the Russian commandant, Maj.-Gen. Alexander Kotikov.

The Russians had claimed that the standard of living of the German population in the western-occupied areas was below that in the Soviet occupation zone and that the "anti-workers position" of the U.S., British and French authorities was to blame for lowering of living standards.

The British commandant quoted heavily from statistics compiled by the Russian zone's own German governments to support his assertions that the Soviets were conducting large-scale exploitation in industrial and manufactured reparations, building materials and in public finances.

Herbert asserted that the Russians had so depleted public finances of their zone that these now were largely dependent upon taxes on alcohol made from large-scale distillation of potatoes which should be used as food.

Hide Unemployment

In the industrial field, he said, the Russians were covering up unemployment in their zone's run-down economy by sending thousands of German workers into their uranium mines in Saxony.

On the state of industry and reparations in the Russian zone, the British commandant reported:

"Reparations are taken from current production in contravention of the Potsdam agreement. They include large quantities of goods essential for Germany's rehabilitation as well as foodstuffs and consumer goods. The dismantling of Soviet zone railways is well known."

After dismantling many German factories for reparations and carting them off to Russia, Herbert asserted, the Russians seized ownership of hundreds more factories and lumped them into their Soviet Aktiengesellschaften trust to produce reparations goods. This trust, he said, represented one-third of the remaining industrial capacity of the Soviet zone.

"The Soviet foreign industrial trust," Herbert said, "not only has a monopoly in many industries but takes priority over German requirements in the allocation of raw materials and labor.

Gen. Herbert asserted that taxation in the Soviet zone was 450 reichmarks per head compared to 270 marks in the British zone (the pre-war value of the mark was 40 cents).

In housing, Herbert said the Soviet occupation zone and Soviet sector of Berlin were behind because the Russians took most of the building materials for their own purposes.

PUBLIC DEMAND for comfort has led to the rebuilding of CPR parlor cars at $125,000 a car. First of the new BBL (bedroom, buffet, lounge) cars will be on display in London this week. The new cars have plushy lounges, finished in expensive tropical woods. The railway even designed a new tray table to leave aisle space clear. Cars have indirect lighting.

Fitness Division Appoints Specialist In Drama

OTTAWA, July 8—Michael Meiklejohn, B.Sc., M.B.E., of Ottawa, for 18 years active in the development of drama in Canada, has been appointed by the Civil Service Commission to the staff of the national fitness division of the Department of National Health and Welfare.

"Drama is playing an increasingly important part in the recreation programs sponsored by the provinces," Hon. Paul Martin, minister of National Health and Welfare, commented. "This is a very encouraging and worthwhile development. The addition to our staff of a man with such extensive experience in this field will make available to the provinces advce and assistance of the highest calibre."

Played 60 Roles

Mr. Meiklejohn has appeared as an actor in more than 60 roles with the Ottawa Drama League and as a producer of a large number of one-act plays and of four major productions. The most recent of these was "The Cherry Orchard" earlier this year. He was co-producer of "Blithe Spirit", the Ottawa Drama League's entry in the Dominion drama festival in 1947 and co-producer and principal actor in the Ottawa Drama League's Workshop's presentation of "Eros at Breakfast". This play by Robertson Davies won the Fulford shield for the best presentation of a one-act play in the Eastern Ontario regional festival at Kingston in 1948 and the Barry Jackson trophy for the best play by a Canadian author in the Dominion drama festival this year.

In 1937 he was one of the founders of the Ottawa Drama League Workshop whose annual play-writing contest now attracts entries from every province and is the most important contest of its kind in Canada.

Drama League Director

A governor of the Dominion drama festival, Mr. Meiklejohn is also a director of the Ottawa Drama League and vice-chairman of the Eastern Ontario regional committee of the Dominion Drama Festival. He has worked extensively with rural community drama groups in Eastern Ontario and is currently working with Carleton College, Ottawa, on a recreational leadership course which includes special skills in drama.

Mr. Meiklejohn, who was born in England, is a graduate in science from St. Andrew's University, Scotland. He came to Canada in 1930 to teach at Ashbury College, Ottawa, later joining the Canadian office of the British Ministry of Pensions.

During the war he served in the King's Shropshire Light Infantry in France and Belgium, including the evacuation from Dunkirk. Later he served in Tunisia (where he was mentioned in dispatches for gallantry in action just before the fall of Tunis), in Algeria, Italy, Greece, Jugo-slavia and Austria. He was awarded the M.B.E. for meritorius service in Greece.

Thieves Break-In Three Havelock Establishments

HAVELOCK, July 8 (ENS) — Thieves raided Havelock Tuesday night when they broke into the garage of Bert Jewell, the Havelock Co-Operative Services and the CPR freight sheds.

Nothing seems to have been taken from the freight sheds although the place was ransacked and several cartons were ripped open. Entry was made by prying the lock, which is missing, on the large east door on the south side of the building. Entry to the Co-Operative Services was made by prying open a window on the west side. From here they obtained $25 in cash, a few locks, pliers and rulers.

Mr. Jewell's garage was also entered by forcing a window on the west side with an iron bar. They took $45 worth of tobacco, cigarettes and chocolate bars and $3 in silver. Several wrappers from chocolate bars were found strewn behind the weigh shed of J. Leask, coal merchant.

The bicycle of James Simpson was also stolen from the verandah at his home. It has been badly smashed, the front wheel being found near the residence of J Quinlan and the badly twisted handle bars, the broken fork and one tobe were recovered on the back lawn of T. P. Lancaster's property. Police are investigating.

Studios Offer To Pay For Plastic Surgery

TORONTO, July 8.—(CP). — Commercial photograph studios here offered Wednesday night to pay for plastic surgery for a Toronto model whose face was cut Tuesday night in an automobile accident near Thessalon in Northern Ontario.

But Jack Bernand, head of the agency which employed Dorothy Henderson as a model, said his firm would take care of all medical expenses of 18-year-old Toronto beauty.

When injured, she had been driving to Sault Ste. Marie to model dresses. Killed in the crash was Birrel Israelson, 25, son of the Toronto dress manufacturer who sponsored the trip.

The girl's condition was reported "good" Wednesday night.

Rap Marriage Customs

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., July 8. —(CP).—The United Nations Trusteeship Council condemned the marriage customs of the Fon of Bikom who has 110 wives. By a vote of 9 to 0 with Russia abstaining, the Council passed a resolution urging attempts at a modification of the polygamus way of the 80-year-old leader of an African tribe in the British Cameroons.

He expressed belief that the shooting occurred "to terrorize my family."

Say Provinces May Join Freight Inquiry

OTTAWA, July 8 — (CP). — Provincial participation in the government's general freight-rate inquiry is expected as a sequel to the latest move in the rate controversy.

That move was the Dominion's formal rejection of the request of seven provinces for a stay in freight-rate increases and the appointment of a royal commission on railways.

More than two months after the request was made, the Dominion's decision was announced Wednesday in Edmonton by Premier Manning of Alberta. He had been advised of it in a letter from Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Earlier, Mr. Manning had indicated the seven provinces—all but Ontario and Quebec—were boycotting the government's inquiry until they received a clear-cut answer to their demand for a royal commission.

Will Confer

He said Wednesday he plans to confer with the other six governments on future plans.

Should the provinces decide to take a hand in the investigation as charted by the federal government, it was expected their first move would be to file briefs with the board of transport commissioners.

The board has been ordered by the cabinet to inquire into the whole freight-rate structure of the Dominion, with a view to levelling off rate inequalities in various regions. It had set a June 19 deadline for the reception of provincial submissions, but the provinces ignored this pending a direct answer to their royal commission request.

Meanwhile, the board was going ahead with preliminary studies in connection with its inquiry. One of its moves has been the ordering of a survey designed to show existing trends in freight movement in various parts of the country.

Will Press For Deletion Of Citizenship Bill Changes

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, July 8—(CP).—The House of Commons Wednesday night gave a divisionless second reading to the British Nationality Bill but it was apparent the Government would press, in committee stage, for deletion of the House of Lords' amendments to the bill. Lord Hinchingbrooke, a Conservative, said the bill was wanted by "nobody but the Liberal Government of Canada."

The bill, in its original form, provided for creation of "citizens of the United Kingdom and the colonies."

The Lords changed this to read "British subjects of the United Kingdom and the colonies," although Viscount Jowitt, Government leader in the Lords, said it was desired to have "British subject" used to all in the Commonwealth and not apply the term to citizens of a particular country.

In the Commons, Home Secretary Chuter Ede, criticizing the Lords amendment while moving the second reading, said it was intended that each self-governing country in the Commonwealth should have its own legislation to determine citizenship as done by the Canadian Citizenship Act of 1945.

"Wreck Bill"

A Dominion would then declare its citizens were British subjects and would recognize citizens of other Commonwealth countries as British subjects also.

The change made by the Lords "wrecked the bill" which was drafted so that "our fellows in the Dominions can understand and can realize that we are, in fact, recognizing equality of status of the Dominions," the Home Secretary said.

It would be contrary to the scheme that any country should create British subjects "without passing them through the gateway of its own citizenship."

Ede commended the amendment made by the Lords at the suggestion of the government to allow the use of "Commonwealth Citizens" as an alternative to "British subject."

"British subject" was an honored title but people not of British descent felt it hard to reconcile it with their sovereign powers within the Commonwealth, he said.

Osbert Peake, Conservative member for Leeds North, said that Eire had introduced its own nationality code in 1935 and "therefore the Canadian Act of 1945 cannot be the compelling reason for introduction of the nationality bill at the present time."

Want It Explained

He said the opposition wanted assurance that the government had made representation to the Canadian government before the Canadian bill was passed pointing out the "serious implications of departure from the common code of nationality within the Commonwealth."

In 1945, Canada established an entirely new principle in passing a Canadian Citizenship Act.

The Canadian Citizenship Bill established a citizenship for Canada and declared that Canadian citizens should be British subjects. As a result the acquisition of nationality by descent differed in Britain and Canada.

Crown Finishes Assault Evidence

By The Canadian Press

The trial of 10 Canadian Seamen's Union members on charges of assault with intent to maim resumes Friday at Welland.

The Crown late Wednesday completed its case in the trial which arose from an attack on 17 members of the rival Canadian Lake Seamen's Union near Welland early June 24.

Police evidence was that the ends of two pieces of metal pipe found at the scene of the attack fitted two pipes found in a former army truck in which the 10 accused were arrested.

The continuation of the trial was a late development in the dispute over contracts for Great Lakes sailors. Four major lines have signed contracts with the CLSU. The CSU, which the shipping operators claim has Communist leadership, has been trying since last fall to force the lines to sign contracts with it.

Canadian Veterans Repay Some Highland Hospitality

BY JAMES McCOOK

STIRLING Scotland, July 8 — (CP). — In this lowland city live two sisters whose hearts are divided between the Scottish Highlands and Canada.

Theirs is the story of wartime friendships that did not end when the last Canuck sailed home. For Amy and Ibel Robertson, peace was the beginning of adventure across the Atlantic.

During the war they had a shop and boarding house called Orchil House in the Perthshire Highland Hamlet known as Pool of Muckart. Soon even the Highlanders knew Orchil House as "Canadian Haven."

The sisters had cousins in Abbotsford, Que., 40 miles from Montreal, and when the war began they passed along the word that any Canadians in the services would be welcome. Almost every lad from the Abbotsford district found his way North; one soldier spent 14 leaves at Orchil House.

When the troops went home, they sent cables. One of many was signed by 14 veterans: "Arrived safely in Montreal. Love from us all."

Then the veterans, out of uniform, determined the sisters should have a holiday and they flew from Prestwick, Ayrshire, to Montreal where, as they said afterwards, the "whole gang" awaited them.

"Only once did my sister and I travel by ourselves and have the satisfaction of paying our own fares," said Ibel.

And they remember — "We were deeply touched that night" —a surprise party in their honor when what they thought was to be a concert turned into a reception for them as guests of honor on a platform where the words 'Canadian Haven' were emblazoned with maple leaves.

QUESTION: I would like a fruit punch recipe for a reception after a wedding, something to serve about 40 people. Would you be kind enough to print it as soon as possible. Could I serve crushed strawberries in it? Mater.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:

Fruit Punch

Make a sugar syrup of 1½ cups water and 3 cups sugar by boiling them together 1 minute. When this is ice cold add 1 cup strong freshly made tea, 2 cups finely crushed strawberries, 1 cup lemon juice, 2½ cups orange juice, 2 cups crushed pineapple and juice, 4 quarts ice cold water or 4 quarts ice. Let stand 30 minutes. Half of the water may be replaced with charged water if it is ice cold. This amount makes 6 quarts.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Please excuse this short note but I thought you could probably help me. Do you have a recipe for a chocolate sauce that I could make up—about a pint—and keep in the refrigerator to serve over ice cream—one that does not form a crust. Mrs. Innes.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:

Chocolate Sauce

One and one-half squares chocolate, 2 tablespoons sugar, 7-8 cup milk, ½ teaspoon cornstarch, 3 tablespoons cream, 1 tablespoon butter, 3 tablespoons powdered sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, shake of salt. In top of double boiler cook chocolate, sugar and milk together for 10 minutes. Mix the cornstarch and cream and salt and add to first mixture, and cook 10 minutes longer, stirring until perfectly smooth. Then melt the butter and add powdered sugar and stir over direct heat until they bubble and brown a little, and immediately add to chocolate stirring until smooth. Add vanilla. Serve hot or cold. Keep covered if stored in refrigerator.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: I want to give you my receipe for Egg Fritters that are really like very nice scrambled eggs cut into squares when cooked and served hot. I usually use them for the centre of so-called vegetable plates. I surround each serving on a dinner plate with something like shredded or slivered cooked carrots, diced or sliced beets opposite, and something like a large floweret of cauliflower on the one side opposite potatoes in parsley sauce. It is very pretty, and colourful and I seldom see recipes for any kind of fritters on your page. Please print some sometime — since we can buy all the shortening we need now. Neighour.

Egg Fritters

(Contributed by "Neighbour.")

Six beaten eggs, 1 tablespoon cream, ½ cup grated cheese, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 1 teaspoon minced chives, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup small bread dice, panfried. Mix the eggs, cheese, parsley, chives, cream and seasonings. Melt the butter in a saucepan. Turn in the mixture, add the fried bread dice, stir and cook slowly until thick enough to spread. Cut into 1½-inch squares (like you would for Yorkshire pudding). Garnish with sprig of parsley.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:

Corn fritters are my favourite so as a swap for that delicious sounding egg dish (we are trying them tonight) I will give you

Corn Fritters

One can or 2½ cups drained kernel corn, 1¼ cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 2 eggs. Add dry ingredients to drained corn, after they have been mixed and sifted, then add yolks of eggs, beaten, and fold in whites which have been beaten stiff. These may be fried in rather shallow hot fat, turning when golden. Drain on unglazed paper and serve as soon as possible. These are good with a vegetable plate too.

WARDROBE FOR LITTLE BOYS—Four years old in a few weeks, the lad above has yet to meet the contumely of Easter egg colors and cute embroideries; too, the day has not yet come when he has been turned out to resemble a midget dressed to scale, in clothes which ape his Pa's. You see him here in a suit, very not girlish, very not mannish, made of checked flannel, cut with a youthful softness not achieved by smocking and such, and also cut with extra seams and hems so that it can keep up with his growing achievement. Everything from shirts to overcoats is included in these wardrobe designs, sized from one to four years.

Afternoon Tea Aids Girl Guides

MILLBROOK, July 8—(ENS)—The local company of Girl Guides held an enjoyable afternoon tea in the parish hall of St. Thomas' Anglican church on Tuesday, their leader, Mrs. G. MacKay, being in charge. Patrol Leaders Ann Dawson and Jessie Lunn acted as cashers, and the program was announced by Patrol Leader Vivian Chapman.

Tea was poured from silver services at the lace-covered hostess table, centred with a silver basket of summer blossoms, by Mrs. T. A. Campbell, president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Guides and by Mrs. Edmund Ball, secretary-treasurer. Individual tea tables were centred with bud vases of flowers, and members of the Guide Company served the guests.

One of the highlights of the program was the fairy dance by Leslie Baker and Helen Wright, dressed in green and white and rose and white. Accompaniment was played by Mrs. W. Patterson.

Others assisting with the entertainment were Luella Kellett and Ann Dawson, who contributed piano solo; Arlene McPherson, who sang unaccompanied; Margaret MacKay, and her visitor, Donna MacLean of Toronto, who were heard in duets, as were also Francis Dawson, and Marlene Richards. Groups of the Guides gave demonstrations and songs, round an imaginary campfire.

Money raised goes toward meeting expenses of the camp, near Campbellcroft, where the Guides go on Friday of this week for a 10 days' stay.

Mrs. MacKay will be assisted by her sister, Mrs. Jessie MacLean of Toronto, is carrying through the project. The Lions' Club has voted $20 to help and has given other practical assistance as well. Members of the Legion prepared a swimming pool by buliding a dam on the wide creek which runs through the camp ground on the property of Mrs. Robert Wright, Sr.

The Brownie Pack will have a week end at the camp under the supervision of Guide Lieutenant Betty Wright, who is to be tested shortly for her gold cord—highest award in the Girl Guides. Only a few Guides in Canada have attained this honor. She had charge of the Brownies' part of the program at the tea on Tuesday, and directed the Guides in their campfire songs and demonstrations.

DONE AGAIN WITH MIRRORS—The lady behind the dark sunglasses is, just as you suspect, a Hollywood actress, Miss Dorothy Malone. But these glasses (besides being styled as of today with rhinestone tidbits about the bows) are scientifically manufactured to help her eyes while protecting them from the glare. The novelty of the glasses is their mirrored out-surface, quite baffling to the beholder, and possibly of use to the wearer as a handy periscope on occasion. The lady's frock is charming; we hope she has a parasol to carry with it. Embroidered linen skirt and bolero, lingerie waist, velvet girdle and locket string.

NAVY WITH WHITE PIQUE—Sure promise of a change in the weather, and much more often to be seen than the traditional bluebird of Spring, is the daytime costume of navy blue. Or maybe the bluebird has become just a navy blue outfit, in these days of civilization and repressed wild life. This frock is made of navy crepe, with a smooth bodice, fullish skirt, and snowy pique collar and deep cuffs. Brass buttons trim the cuffs and the slashed hip pockets.

DOROTHY DIX

Lover's Continual Quarrels Point to Stormy Marriage

Among the baseless superstitions that have warped the judgements of mankind and brought untold suffering upon millions of people is the belief that there is some conjure in the marriage ceremony that alter the natures of men and women and change them from what they are to what they should be

Dorothy Dix

Rarely, if ever, does this miracle happen. For we are, for the most part, what Nature made us, with the kind of disposition that she allotted us. And, for the other part, we have taste and habits and opinions that we have spent twenty years in acquiring and that are practically unbreakable.

Yet in spite of all of this, which is a matter of common knowledge, we are credulous enough to think that when we get married we can not only make over our husbands and wives to our hearts' desire, but that we will be automatically turned into household angels ourselves.

In proof of the blind faith that we have in the fallacy, take the letter that I got today from a young woman who writes me that she is engaged to be married to a young man with whom she is much in love, as he is with her, but that instead of billing and cooing as lovers are supposed to do, they fight like the Kilkenny cats. There is no subject so innocuous that they cannot get into a hot argument over it. Neither one can express an opinion without starting something. They are bitterly critical of anything the other one does, or says, or has, and they almost come to blows over a book, or the movies, or where they shall go when they step out.

Peaceful Marriage?

"My fiance," goes on the girl, says that this does not matter, and he quotes to me the old proverb that a stormy courtship makes a peaceful marriage, and he tells me that after we are married and settled we won't have any difference of opinion. Do you think this is true?"

No, it isn't true. It is the most mischievous falsehood that was ever promulgated, for the marriage ceremony is not a peace treaty. It is a call to arms. Husbands and wives whose interests, whose taste and upbringing and desires conflict at every angle have a thousand more things to quarrel over than sweethearts have, and if before marriage they cannot get along harmoniously together, after marriage they will either fight their way to the divorce court, or else become one of those pitiful couples whose whole married life is just an endurance test.

Of course, there are husbands wives who are natural scrappers who were born with a chip on their shoulders, and who enjoy nothing so much as handing each other knockout blows on their most vulnerable spots. Each to his taste. And if they get a pleasure out of insulting and abasing their mates, who shall say them nay?

But the great majority of married people do not want a home that is a dark and bloody battleground. They want a place of peace and quiet and love and tenderness. They are not looking for a sparring partner. They desire an appeaser, somehow who will stroke their fur the right way instead of getting into their hair. And the time to make sure that they will get what they want is before marriage, not afterwards.

So, no matter how much an engaged couple think they love each other, they should break off their marriage if they find themselves antagonistic. They have had their warning, and if they are wise, they take it.

Those whose birthday it is, may prepared for a prolonged period of advancement, promotion, tokens of honor and preferment from those generously ready to reward and show esteem for solid labors, perhaps against impediments, obstacles, delays or handicaps. There may be surprises as well, involving new ways and means perhaps changed environs or associations, but it would be unwise to block benignant prospects and openings by too ardent or eager feelings or emotions, personal or ambitious.

A child born on this day is excellently endowed for a successful and honored career, its earnest, diligent and clever efforts bringing rich rewards and personal happiness as well.

MR. AND MRS. KARL A. DUFFUS, whose marriage took place in Windsor last week. Before her marriage Mrs. Duffus was Elinor Jane, daughter of Magistrate and Mrs. J. Arthur Hanrahan of Windsor. The groom is the younger son of Senator and Mrs. J. J. Duffus of Peterborough.

Muriel Crouter Takes Vows With John Joseph Harris

St. George's Anglican Church was beautifully decorated Wednesday for the wedding of Miss Muriel Geraldine Crouter, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Crouter, to Mr. John Joseph Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Harris, all of Peterborough. The marriage rites were performed by the Rev. E. C. Moore.

Bouquets of delphinium with baby's breath were at the altar, and banked with ferns. Daisies, tied with satin ribbon, marked the guest pews, and were in bouquets of summer flowers at the windows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and attended by her sister, Mrs. Viola Farr as matron of honor, and Miss Shirley Crouter as bridesmaid with Mrs. Betty Faux. Mr. Charles Dunford, was his cousin's groomsman. Ushers were Al Davis and Wesley Ellis.

During the signing of the register, the bride's younger brother, Mr. Gerald Crouter, sang "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Mrs. A. Watkins who played the wedding music.

White slipper satin fashioned the exquisite bridal gown with bead trimming on the high collar, repeated at the points of the front peplum. The moulded bodice was fastened at the back to the hipline with tiny covered buttons and had long sheeth-like sleeves with lily points over the hands. The skirt was full beneath a back bustle and flowed into a graceful circular train. A diamond-shaped tiara of seed pearls held her trailing embroidered net veil and she carried a crescent of Bettertime roses with bouvardia.

The attendants were dressed similarly in frocks designed on princess lines with wing sleeves and sweetheart necklines of moire taffeta in yellow, turquoise and mauve shades. They wore mittens of the same material and large picture hats of white mohair with ribbons to match their dresses, and carried wedding-ring bouquets of variegated sweet peas.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Crouter wore a gown of turquoise faconne crepe with white accessories and a corsage of Briarcliffe roses. Mrs. Harris, mother of the groom, was gowned in blue crepe with lace trim and had matching blue accessories and a corsage of Bettertime roses.

Following the reception in the church parlors the couple left on a trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo. The bride was wearing a dress of grey crepe with flowered design in green and her accessories were of carousel green with a short topcoat of white wool.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris will live at 178 Morrow St.

Mr. Karl A. Duffus Wed at Windsor

Of interest was the marriage in St. Clare's Church, Windsor of Elinor Jane, daughter of Magistrate and Mrs. J. Arthur Hanrahan, to Mr. Karl A. Duffus, son of Senator and Mrs. J. Joseph Duffus, Peterborough. Right Rev. Monsignor Francis J. Brennan, London, officiated at the ceremony, which was held on the 29th anniversary of the bride's parents. The bride wore a handsome gown of camellia white satin, made with square neckline and short sleeves accented the ruffles of dotted Swiss organza. The fluted peplum was also outlined with dotted swiss, forming a bustle back, and the hooped skirt of organza over satin formed a slight train. Her fingertip veil was held with a latticed Juliet cap embroidered with seed pearls and featuring side clusters of valley lillies, and she caried a cascade of gardenias and stephanotis, Mrs. Thomas J. Brennan, Jr., matron of honor, and Miss Dorothy Hanrahan, both sisters of the bride, chose white organdie embroidered with pastel pink and blue flowers. The hooped skirts were finished with crushed sashes of ice blue satin; they had matching picture hats and carried nosegays of pink rosebuds. Mr. Gerald Duffus, Vancouver, B.C., was groomsman for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Frank Sloan, Toronto, and Mr. Robert Juby, Peterborough. Miss Catherine Howard was soloist, and Mrs. John Hudson was at the organ.

After the reception at the Manor, the couple left to spend the summer at Clear Lake, and will then make their home in Peterborough.

Briton Takes Tents Family to Australia

SYDNEY, Australia, July 9 — (CP). — Dr. J. W. Thornton of Portsmouth, England, came to Australia "to give his children a chance."

I knew I couldn't keep my children fit and well in England, so I've brought them here," he said on arrival in Sydney.

"The children themselves first suggested it. They deserve a break for they were right in the front line at Portsmouth during the war—1,800 air raids.

"You only have to look at them to see what is happening. The older youngsters are big and strong; the younger are thin and pale."

Dr. Thornton brought a number of tents with him. "Your housing shortage is well known, so I've come prepared," he said. "We shall tour the country and have a good look around before we settle down."

Syrup for Thirst Quenchers During Hot Summer Days

By MARY MOORE

Spasmodically I am the personification of efficienty, but it does not last long (thank goodness).

Last night I made up three quart jars full of different kinds of beverage syrups. One was lemon, another was lemon-mint, the third was chocolate. Of course, with those inviting syrups in the refrigerator it is only normal that everybody in the family stops coloured and flavoured drinks, drinking water, and sips fancy until they are gone (the syrups, not the people).

I like the lemon-mint syrup the best because I can put my patch of mint in the garden to some good use. (The price of lamb is too high for us, so—no mint sauce.) The lemon-mint syrup is perfect in iced tea, or diluted simply with ice water, or will stretch a bottle of ginger ale almost twice as far as usual.

Lemon-Mint Syrup

Boil together 1 cup water, 1 cup sugar (or ½ cup sugar and ½ lemons, and the leaves from 10 cup corn syrup), grated rind 3 sprigs of mint, for 5 minutes. Let stand overnight. When ready to pour into jar to chill add juice of 3 lemons. This may be strained or not, just as you wish, but I like the lemon rind in my drinks.

Lemon Syrup

Make lemon syrup same as lemon-mint syrup, but omit the mint leaves, and make double the quantity for this syrup has many uses.

Chocolate Syrup

In top of double boiler melt ½ lb. unsweetened chocolate (see recipe for making this with cocoa blow), then add 2 2-3 cups sugar and ¼ teaspoon salt and stir until mixed. Gradually stir in 3 cups boiling water, then cook 5 minutes over boiling water.

To make Chocolate Syrup using cocoa, substitute 2 cups good quality cocoa for the ½ lb. unsweetened chocolate in this recipe.

Fruit Punch (for 12 people)

This is an excellent punch which can be prepared ahead of time except for the ice and charged water. Mix together 1 cup lemon-mint or lemon syrup, 1 cup cold water, 1 cup thinly sliced strawberries or sweet cherries, juice 2 lemons, 2 cups canned grapefruit or orange juice. Just before serving time add the same quantity of ice as you have liquid and 1 quart charged water or ginger ale.

Coffee Milk Shake

Flavour 1 quart homogenized milk with coffee syrup made by adding 1 cup sugar to 2 cups double-strength coffee and boiling together 1 minute. Add ice if you do not want your coffee strong.

Coffee Cream Punch

One quart freshly brewed strong coffee, 1 pint chocolate ice cream, grating of nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon almond flavouring, ½ pint coffee and pour into punch bowl. heavy cream whipped. Chill the Add ½ the chocolate ice cream and stir until partially melted. Add almond flavouring to the cream and whip until stiff. Place whipped cream and remaining ice cream in layers on top of first mixture. Sprinkle cream on top lightly with nutmeg. If you prefer a richer thicker beverage use 1 quart chocolate ice cream.

Orange Mint Julep

Two cups granulated sugar, 2½ cups water, 16 sprigs mint, chopped, ¾ cup orange juice, 1 cup lemon juice, 4 tablespoons grated orange rind, ice charged water. Boi lsugar and water 5 minutes. Add mint, juices, rind. Chill 1 hour then strain. Chill. When serving fill glasses with ice, add 6 tablespoons syrup for each glass, fill with charged water.

One-Burner Dinner

Potato, Cucumber and Chive Salad
Mayonnaise
Orange Cornstarch Pudding Cold Custard Sauce Iced Tea (see notes)

Directions:

For the poached salmon in the one-burner dinner wrap the piece of salmon in parchment paper, boil it in water to cover for 20 minutes for a 2-lb. piece — timing it after water comes to boil. (I suggest a 2-lb. piece even if the family is small because salmon is delicious cold, if leftover). Make the Egg Sauce in top of double boiler by making a medium white sauce and adding 2 hard-cooked eggs, and 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley just before serving.

For the Orange cornstarch pudding substitute ½ orange juice and ½ evaporated milk for the milk in Blanc Mange pudding and add 1 tablespoon grated orange rind.

See Few Signs In Midlands Of Boom Waning

By C. H. AVERILL

BIRMINGHAM, England, July 8—(CP).—Boom conditions in industry in Birmingham and the near Midlands show few signs of waning, although some pessimists claim to see storm signals.

These include a slump in the demand for aluminum ware which makes some think that domestic demands at last are being met; heavy drawings on bank deposits; a more selective tendency among shoppers and a decline in attendance at holiday resorts.

On the whole, however, there is little slackening in orders and, due to their diversity of production and high output, the Midlands lead the rest of Britain in export.

Overcome Shortage

Even steel shortages have been largely overcome, although wire of all sorts remains scarce and creates a difficult problem, since it is used in every industry—even brewing—in some form or another. The position is expected to ease within a couple of months when increased allocations go into effect.

Many Birmingham firms are developing sidelines so they will not become too dependent on one product. Thus, the Alvis Motor Factory is making printing machines; Fish and Ludlow Company is manufacturing washing machines and conveyor belts, one car manufacturer is developing a tractor; another may turn to the sewing-machine field.

Building shortages hold up widespread expansion although the firm of John Garrington has completed the first clean, silent forge in this area. Roaring flames and clanging drop hammers will be replaced by high-frequency electrical apparatus which silently heats metal. Enormous pressure instead of hammers shapes the metal.

Closer Working

We had 30 girls out the other evening playing softball and we have three teams of boys. The rinks there last winter were successful. What we need is the help of one of the departments of the city to do the work that has to be done."

Ald. Young inquired whether anything was being done in stimulating community interest in different parts of the city, recruiting parents and elders to promote sports and playground activities.

Mr. Gordon reviewed the contributions of service clubs of the city. Lions Club had spent about $18,000 in preparing and equipping Riverside Park, including the waterfront, for a playground, siwmming place and wading pool. They had made of it a splendid community centre, especially for the children, with a great deal of equipment, and with expenditure of money in altering the shore line. Kinsmen Club spent $3,500 at Inverlea Park, and B'nai B'rith had built a club house at Turner Park, High street, where the field was being levelled. That work was not yet complete. Kiwanis Club was developing Hamilton Park, in the west end, a gift to the city by Mr. James Hamilton.

Mr. Dane enlarged that review of work that was directed by the Commission and which it was instrumental in initiating and advancing. At Ashburnham town hall 2,400 people controlled their own programs and social evenings. At Dixon House in the west end, 18 different organizations carry on their own programs with 9,600 attending in four months. Swimming instruction, ski school, handcrafts, open air skating rinks with 93 teams last winter, these and other activities represented valuable help which the Commission obtained and made available for the community. "We couldn't afford to hire the 24 qualified swimming instructors," Mr. Dane said.

Armar Butcher said the floor was not yet in the club house at Turner Park. A slide for children was not placed at Inverlea Park because it was broken. Children had used swings before they were set in the cement. They were loosened, but that repair job was done yesterday. Three "horses" for children were recently broken.

Mr. Gordon: "By three youths of 19 or 20, a week ago, at 9.30 to 10 p.m."

Rubble Left In Grass

Mr. Butcher said rubble had been left in the grass, causing a broken clutch in the lawn mower. "Kinsmen knew before they started at Inverlea that we couldn't help them. Clean up the rubble and we'll cut the grass." Mr. Butcher said his department had a staff of 20 men last year, but only 10 now.

The house at King Edward Park was tidied when the hockey season ended, Mr. Butcher said, but when he went down there recently towels were thrown around on the men's side, and there was a collection of football nets and other articles in an unsightly mess. "It was worse today with stuff thrown around. The football clubs have been notified that they have to keep the room cleared up.

Replying to Mayor Ovens, Mr. Dane said playgrounds and parks were maintained in most cities by a parks committee or board of works. Several cities had their own maintenance men.

In regard to liaison members, Mr. Gordon said the chairman of the parks committee was ex-officio a member of the Commission. Mr. Bolton said Mr. Butcher's term expired and he did not wish to be reappointed.

"I did not," Mr. Butcher said. "I put in three or four evenings a week on this work."

Ald. Dodds said it was the custom of the service clubs, and particularly the Lions Club: "When we want something done, we do it."

Recommend Project Work

Mr. Gordon: "The Recreation Commission wants to know whether we are to recommend projects to the council."

Mayor Ovens: "Certainly. You study the needs and propose them. As to the work that must be done, I think there has been some misunderstanding, but we can iron that out."

The detail of budgeting for expenditure was also mentioned. Mayor Ovens said the work estimated came through Mr. Butcher. If a major project was proposed by the Commission there should be some one to sit in and discuss it with the Commission.

Major Bolton: "If we send in our budget by Dec. 1, and it includes a project the council says it can't afford, whose prerogative is it to say cut out this or that or cut down the appropriation by $2,000 for example?"

Mayor Ovens: "As a matter of courtesy a small committee from the Commission should meet with the parks committee. There should be no waiting until the middle of June."

Major Bolton: "I don't mind you saying cut out $1,000 or whatever it is, but I don't think we should be told to cut out a certain project."

Mayor Ovens: "We always have to creep before we run. The Board of Works could double their budget, and everybody would be happy to see improvements, but the pinch comes when the expenditure shows in the tax rate."

Struck Out of Budget

Mr. H. E. Wales said the Commission included in their budget an item of $2,500 for the kind of work that was being discussed, but the council struck it out. "So we have to get the parks department or some one else to do it."

Financing and other matters of joint concern to the two bodies were considered, and Mr. Gordon finally suggested the committee which has been recommended to the council "to discuss our common affairs." It was at first—the chairmen of the Commission and parks committee with Mr. Dane and Mr. Butcher. The idea of a fifth member followed, and Mayor Ovens accepted it "to endeavor to get this committee going."

"I think Mayor Ovens should be chairman," said Mr. Gordon.

"I'll do anything to help. We are all interested in the same thing," His Worship replied.

Today's walkout came a few hours after police riot squads hurled tear gas bombs while coping with labor unrest in Milan.

Gen. Eisenhower Out Of U.S. Race

PHILADELPHIA, July 8 — (AP).—President Truman's aides counted Gen. Eisenhower definitely and finally out of the Democratic presidential race today.

They did this, a Truman spokesman told a reporter, after receiving private assurances from two close personal friends of the General.

The word they took to the White House was that Eisenhower himself believes he left no loophole for a draft movement in his statement that he couldn't take any party's nomination.

The wartime European commander gave some public support to this view when he told a crowd of 5,000 gathered before his New York city home Wednesday night to chant "We want Ike" that "all I have to say I said in a letter the other night."

This was the statement in which the Columbia University president declared he "could not accept nomination for any public office."

Street Railway Men To Strike In Oshawa

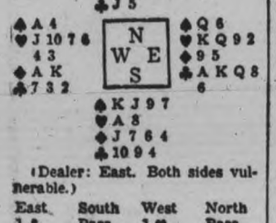
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

AVOID THOSE TWO SUITS

IF ONE of your opponents had bid one suit, the other a different suit, and they wind up playing the contract in either of those two suits or No Trumps, the duty of the opening leader is pretty clearly delineated. Unless he has something very freakish or at least unusual about his own hand, he should avoid those two suits as he would poison. The declarer's probable playing plan is marked as getting rid of losing cards in the remaining two suits by discarding them on a suit which has been bid. Therefore it is usually incumbent on the opening leader to seek quick winners, or the establishment of them, in one of two unbid suits.



(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	6 ♥

Against that bidding North made the lead which West should have called if some irregularity by his opponents had given him the right to command one. It was a trump, the singleton heart 5. It was won by the A. South refrained from repeating it since he saw that North's original idea, to prevent ruffing by dummy, was a futile one. The sole hope to beat the slam was that North could get a trick quickly in diamonds before any losers of that suit were discarded on clubs. So he returned the diamond 4, and it was all over. West took out the last trump, scored three clubs, ruffed the fourth, re-entered dummy with a trump and on the fifth club tossed his losing spade.

Marked by the bidding was North's sound lead, as being a choice between the unbid spades and the unbid diamonds. With nothing particular favoring one suit as against the other, the major would have been a more intelligent selection, for a simple reason. With a good major suit, the strong side might have bid it along the way, but with a strong minor it probably would not. If North, following that reckoning, had led a spade, a trick would have been set up quickly in the suit. And when South got in with his heart A, he could have beaten the contract promptly.

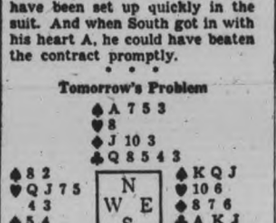
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

After North answers South's 1-Diamond with 1-Spade and East bids 2-Clubs, what would be your bidding plan in the South?

Rice Lake Fish So Tame They Will Swim Right In Hands Of Camp Operator

GORE'S LANDING, July 8 — (ENS)—To add to the attractions of beautiful Rice lake, the fish are now becoming so tame that they eat out of your hand.

At Herald's Camp, John Dear has four sunfish who ogle him from the watery depths coaxing for a meal of wriggling juicy dew worms.

Two males and two females, the sunfish swim lazily around in the shallow water near the boathouse and when Mr. John Dear comes into sight, they come to the top of the water and open their mouths for the worms to be dropped in. John can get them to swim right into his hand to be fed.

30,000 Offer To Guard Christian Shrines

ROME, July 8 — (Reuters). — Sorting has started of some 30,000 applications from all parts of the world for enrolment in a proposed Christian volunteer militia to protect holy places in Palestine.

Recruiting is closed. It was started by Father Alberto Gori, a Franciscan who originated the idea of a 1000-man force representing all Christian sects.

Application letters poured into the drive's headquarters, near the Church of St. John the Lateran, at a rate of more than 2,000 a day. Hundreds of volunteers queued for hours to be interviewed.

Formation of the volunteer militia depends upon one important factor; whether the United Nations decides to internationalize Jerusalem and the administration of the area is entrusted to the custodian of the holy places.

Moves have already been made in the UN security council for the custodian to be granted this administration, and hopes are high it will be effected. But, until a definite announcement is made concerning the future status of Jerusalem, Rome headquarters of the delegation for the Holy Land will not make any public statement concerning the personnel of the volunteer militia.

Circles close to the delegation say that those chosen will be asked to sign on for two years.

Stomach Out Of Order Felt Fatigued; Wornout

Nerves On Edge; Was Unable To Sleep; Got Indigestion, Headaches and Dizzy Spells; "Whole Condition Changed Since Taking Syntona," He Says.

"Any medicine that will help a person the way Syntona helped me deserves the highest praise possible," said Mr. Arnold W. Woolvett, 217 Wood Street, Hamilton, Ontario, in a recent report. "For a long time my entire system was rundown. My nerves were so on edge I spent many sleepless nights. I would get throbbing headaches and dizzy spells. Food I ate gave me indigestion. I felt sick and bilious, tired and worn out. Many days I had rheumatic aches and pains all through my limbs, joints and muscles.

"After everything I tried failed to help me, the whole condition has changed since I've been taking Syntona. This medicine certainly lost no time in getting my stomach settled and I began to enjoy my meals again. My nerves settled down and now I get sound, restful sleep and my entire system feels built up and improved. I am free of headaches and dizziness, the aches and pains are relieved and it is years since I've felt so well."

Many people suffering as Mr. Woolvett did have reported equally good results by taking a short treatment of Syntona Herbal Compound. Why not give this grand medicine a chance to help you, too. It is pleasant to take and the results are quickly felt.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store.—(Advt.)

Jewish Troops And Planes Begin Big Attack Against Arabs In Galilee

Bombs Dropped On Tel Aviv As Truce Ends; UN Discusses Invoking Sanctions To Halt Threat To Peace In Palestine

HAIFA, July 9—(Reuters).—Jewish forces, including warplanes, today started operations against several thousand Arabs in western Galilee, it was officially announced tonight. Jewish aircraft raided enemy concentration at three points this area as well as concentrations in lower Galilee as the four-week truce officially ended.

In Israeli spokesmen said that Arab irregular forces had been built up in western Galilee during the first fortnight of the truce.

Tel Aviv, the Jewish capital was bombed five hours after the end of the four-week truce at 2 a.m. EDT. Haifa, Jewish held port city, had its first air raid alarm since the end of the Second World War.

An Israeli spokesman said several persons were wounded when a bomb hit a school for farm workers in the northern section of the Jewish capital.

Take 3 Villages

A Jewish communique said Israeli's troops counter-attacked and captured three Egyptian-held villages near Majdal, 28 miles south of Tel Aviv, but admitted loss of two other villages to the Egyptians. The communique said fighting continued all last night after being started by the Egyptians at dawn Thursday, 24 hours before the end of the truce.

Haifa dispatches said Iraqi troops and planes attacked a Jewish position in the arc north of Jenin in northern Palestine.

In Cairo the political committee of the Arab League has approved a plan for establishment "as soon as possible" of a provisional government in Palestine, it was disclosed tonight.

The plan provides for a unitary state representing all communities in Palestine in numerical proportions.

The provisional government will work out an electoral law for formation of a constituent assembly.

Rule Insufficient Evidence To Commit Him For Trial; Child's Description Varies

Only Evidence Against Him From Girl Magistrate Points Out; Charge Child Confused In Identification

TORONTO, July 9 — (CP). — Gordon Harvey, 21-year-old Toronto boilermaker, was freed today of charges of abducting and assaulting eight-year-old Teresa Dowling. The court decided there was not sufficient evidence to commit Harvey for trial. The only evidence against him was "the uncorroborated evidence of a child of tender years."

Magistrate O. M. Martin said that Harvey's description did not agree with the child's description of the man who led her into a field last May 17, beat her, and left her for dead.

Harvey was arrested June 21 after the child pointed him out as he walked near the scene of the attack.

At a preliminary hearing a week ago defence sought to show that the girl, who recently underwent a brain operation as a result of the attack, was confused in her identification of the attacker.

Alters Statement

Inspector Albert Gray of suburban York township police said the girl had denied having seen Harvey before and then altered her statement and claimed he was her attacker.

Defence counsel, Eric R. Marsden told the court: "I suggest that you have no alternative. I can't see where you can put a man on trial on such flimsy evidence."

The description of the attacker issued by police from information Teresa gave them was between 18 or 21 years of age, about five feet six inches in height, slim build, full face, stained yellow teeth, dark brown unruly hair, average nose, and blue eyes with bushy eyebrows.

Harvey is five feet seven and a half inches tall, fair complexion, medium build, lean face and fair, short, curly hair.

Railway Unions Pledge Close Co-operation

OTTAWA, July 9. (CP)—Rail union groups, fighting separately for wage increases up to now, will merge their efforts in today's government called conference here aimed at averting a railway strike, it was learned.

Union officials said there would be "close co-operation" between the group of 18 international unions and the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers (CCL), despite the fact they were going into the meeting with wage demands pegged at different levels.

Today, A. R. Mosher said he had not lost hope of a settlement, in spite of a difference of 18 cents an hour in the International Unions' demands and the railways' latest offer.

They will meet at 2:30 p.m., EDT, in the minister's office, in an 11th-hour attempt to avert a walkout that could cripple Canada economically. It was the first time in more than 20 years that Canada had been so close to economic paralysis.

Fishing Crew Discovers Plane

SYDNEY, N.S., July 9.—(CP).—A fishing boat captain returning to port here reported the discovery of a light plane in the water off nearby Low Point but no sign of its crew.

Capt. Brydell of the fishing boat RBC said the plane was partially submerged and his efforts to take it in tow were unsuccessful although he managed to salvage its compass. It was drifting about six miles off Low Point.

Transport Department officials said they had no knowledge of a plane missing in the area. RCMP began an immediate investgation.

Blizzard in July

FRANKFURT, July 9 (AP). — A summer blizzard hit southwestern Germany today. Temperatures fell well below freezing over a wide area. Thirteen feet of snow piled up on the 9,730-foot Zugspitze, highest peak in the Bavarian Alps, where normally no snow falls in July. Snow also blanketed the famous Black Forest, near the French border.

Hold Boatman Under Bond For Smuggling

WINDSOR, July 9—(CP). — A 30-year-old LaSalle boatman, Edward Wollison, is being held under $1,000 bond at Detroit on suspicion of smuggling Elaine Peltier, 19, Windsor, and Harold Jamieson, 37, Hamilton, across to the American side in a rowboat.

Jamieson, alias James Labard, was killed last June 1 by a spray of machine gun bullets in a Cincinnati rooming-house during a raid by police of that city.

Wollison will appear before Federal Judge Frank A. Pickard next Thursday on charges of smuggling into the United States two aliens wanted by Canadian authorities.

Jamieson and the Windsor girl escaped to the United States a short time before the Cincinnati raid after skipping bail in Hamilton on narcotics charges.

Held By Authorities

Elaine was captured in the raid and has been held since by immigration authorities. American officials will not say where she is in custody but it is believed she is in Detroit.

The attractive Windsor girl said last June 1 that Jamieson forced her to skip bail in Hamilton and made her accompany him across the border in a rowboat.

She said she first met Jamieson last spring after he had been fined $100 in Windsor on a cigarette smuggling charge. The two then became sweethearts and moved to Hamilton, where they were arrested a short time later on narcotics charges.

American police officials said they thought Jamieson was involved in a holdup of a bank in Akron, O. Empty sacks were found in his hideout. He was slain by a fusilade of shots when he reached for a sawed-off shotgun after being confronted by Cincinnati police.

Donald (Mickey) McDonald, bank robber and hijacker, who escaped Kingston Penitentiary last Aug. 18, may have slipped through the net at Cincinnati. Jamieson was a pal of both McDonald and Ulysse Lauzon, who escaped Kingston with the notorious "Mickey."

Runaway Train Injures Three

CORNWALL, July 9—(CP).—A wildly plunging runaway freight train, roaring its way through Pitt Street North traffic, Thursday smashed towards the doorstep of a frightened couple, wrecking two vehicles and causing injuries to three on its way. The train, minus its engineer and fireman, flattened an automobile and wrecked a light truck when the locomotive became uncoupled from the empty freight cars and sprawled over the street.

Arnold Pitts, owner of the automobile, leaped from his car seconds before the careering locomotive crashed down upon it.

Firemen found the locomotive sprawled across the thoroughfare, its front end resting a few feet from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lalonde.

The couple were waiting for a street-car on the veranda of their house when they saw the train rumbling towards their house. They jumped to safety but not before Mr. Lalonde was burned on the hand by escaping steam from the overturned engine. Both were treated for shock.

A power pole was snapped in two by the toppled locomotive. High tension wires hung precariously until a utility crew removed them.

Fires in the engine were extinguished quickly by city firefighters.

Escaping with slight injuries were the train's engineer, William Nicholson, 52, of Montreal, and Fireman Gerald Suffle, 25, of Ottawa.

Nicholson suffered a head cut when he leaped along with Suffle from the engine cab as the train was set in motion while standing on a siding near the CPR yard.

Suffle sprained an ankle in the leap.

Nicholson said his switching engine had been coupled to nine cars on a Cornwall street railway siding when several box cars slipped down a grade and crashed into his engine. The collision ripped off the top of the engine cab and jammed the throttle in reverse gear. The engine's steam and air pipes were wrecked.

Nicholson said the locomotive pushed the freight cars along the siding towards Pitt Street at a rate of about 15 miles per hour. The two trainmen tried desperately to free the jammed mechanism. When they realized the train could not be stopped they jumped.

A wrecking crew from Montreal worked through the night removing the 98-ton locomotive. By mid-morning conditions had returned to near-normal on Pitt Street North. Street car traffic re-routed after the accident, was again running on the customary routes.

Singapore Hears 400 Guerrillas To Attack But Rocket-Firing Planes Find No Army

SINGAPORE, July —(AP)— Advices to Singapore newspapers said today 400 Communist guerillas were believed preparing an attack on Kuala Lumpur from a base eight miles to the south.

However, an Associated Press dispatch from the same city, capital of the Federation of Malaya, quoted a British officer as saying the report probably was overdrawn but was being investigated.

Later scout planes of the R.A.F. reported they found no signs of such a concentration and said the report might be "a false alarm." The planes, however, were broadening the radius of their search in case the guerrillas changed their position. The officer said rocket-firing Spitfires would attack if an unusual concentration of insurgents should be discovered.

The officer, Maj.-Gen. C. H. Boucher, told a press conference he had a report "from a local planter" that 400 guerrillas were based eight miles below Kulala Lumpur and were preparing a drive on the capital.

Boucher said the situation in the federation is "a battle—nothing less." The army now is "virtually controlling the show" because co-operating police are not strong enough.

Say Democratic Convention More Like 'A Funeral'

PHILADELPHIA, July 9—(AP).—There is a for-whom-the-bell-tolls atmosphere in Philadelphia today. The Democratic Convention opens Monday, and, according to the sign on the depot, this is the same city that entertained the Republicans two weeks ago.

The Republicans came convinced they were nominating the next President of the United States.

The Democrats act as though they have accepted an invitation to a funeral.

Old-timers, veterans of many a convention, claim they have never seen one start under such a cloud of plain depression.

In memory of past glories, the party has placed a large portrait of Franklin D. Roosevelt in convention hall. President Truman's portrait smiles down from the wall at headquarters

Some of the delegates still speak wistfully of Gen. Eisenhower, and when they mention his name it takes on the quality of a magic word, the secret Abracadabra that might have opened all doors and resolved all problems.

"If only Ike would ..."

Rebukes Quebec Liberal Party

OTTAWA, July 9—(CP)— The apostolic delegate to Canada today rebuked the Quebec Liberal party for its use of statements by the pope in a series of newspaper advertisements which appeared in French newspapers in Quebec Thursday.

The rebuke was contained in a telegram of the provincial Liberal organization in Montreal and released to the press here. It was signed "Chancellor of the Apostolic Delegation" and was in French.

The telegram referred to the newspaper advertisements and said that it was "very regrettable" the pope's words had been used for political propaganda when it was well-known that his doctrines were above party politics.

Hit Policeman Twice Woman Remanded

OAKVILLE, July 9. (CP)—Patricia McArthur of Toronto, was remanded in custody for one week for sentence in Magistrate's court here Thursday on a charge of assaulting a policeman.

Constable William Duncan testified he stopped a car on the Queen Elizabeth Highway after watching it proceed "in a dangerous manner." The driver refused get out and when Duncan reached in to force him, Miss McArthur "hit me twice in the face with her closed fist."

Theatre Roof Falls

ST. LOUIS, July 9—(AP).—The roof of a motion picture theatre collapsed under the weight of a falling brick wall here Thursday but most of an audience of about 150 escaped severe injury. Seven injured persons were taken to hospital in the first hour after the crash, and two of them were reported severely hurt.

Ottawa To Pay Subsidies On Prairie Grain

OTTAWA, July 9.— (CP).— Trade Minister Howe today announced the Federal government will pay five cents a bushel on oats and 11 cents a bushel on barley delivered and sold by western producers between Aug. 1, 1947 and last Oct. 21, when price ceilings on these grains were removed.

The payments will compensate farmers who sold their grain at the ceiling price before the ceilings were lifted.

The Canadian Wheat Board has been instructed to proceed with the payments as rapidly as possible, Mr. Howe's statement said.

The statement noted that elevator companies have already made substantial payments to producers who delivered oats and barley before removal of the ceiling.

"After reviewing the price situation which existed last fall and taking into account the adjustment payments which have been made by the elevator companies, the government felt that producers. . . were entitled to an adjustment on the part of the Dominion government."

The minister emphasized the payments apply only on oats and barley delivered and sold by producers between last Aug. 1 and Oct. 21.

Canadians Go To Polio Session

OTTAWA, July 9 — (CP)—A Canadian delegation will leave here tomorrow for the first international poliomyelitis conference in New York, called by the United States to discuss the disease.

The Canadian delegates are Dr. Ernest Couture, director of the child and maternal health division of the national health department and Dr. F. W. Peart, chief of its epidemiology division. The conference will last from July 12 to July 17.

The conference is intended to combine the knowledge of all workers and researchers in the infantile paralysis field through a series of round-table discussions.

Interning of B-29 and Crew By Russians Finally Told

WICHITA, KAS., July 9—(AP) —This is a Rip Van Winkle story from the second world war: how a B-29 and its American crew were interned by the Russians in 1944 and how the story was "hush-hush" until now.

The Superfort, which made a forced landing on Soviet soil Nov 11, 1944, still is in the hands of the Russians. And the whole thing might be one of those forgotten incidents of the war except for one fact.

The big bomber happened to be the "General H. H. Arnold Special," significant both for its combat record against the Japanese and a symbol of stepped-up wartime production at home.

The Superfort held a special spot among the 1,644 B-29s produced by the Wichita division of Boeing airplane company. Because of that Boeing has wanted to tell the story ever since he heard about it.

They heard about it Nov. 23, 1944, just 12 days after "the Arnold" had been interned.

When the superfortress, first of the giant planes to bomb a Japanese target, came down on Russian soil its crew was interned also.

Lieut. John E. Flanagan of New York City, co-pilot of "the Arnold," told of the last mission:

She took off from an advance base in China at 1 A.M. that Nov 11 for Omura, Japan. On the way home, the radar went bad and the airmen found themselves 900 miles off course and running low on fuel.

Realizing they lacked fuel to make it to home base, the fliers had the choice of crashing in enemy-held China or landing in Russia.

Twelve hours and 45 minutes after takeoff, the fliers brought the B-29 down at a Russian naval air station, Vladivostok.

When crew members climbed out of the Superfort, they were hurried over to Russian naval headquarters. It was the last time they ever saw the "Arnold."

February 2, 1945, the crew reached Allied air lines in Iran and from there returned to the United States.

Takes $5 From Mails Mailman Sentenced

KINGSTON, July 9—(CP)—For stealing five dollars from the mails, Donald Denee, 28, Kingston mail carrier, was today sentenced to six months in Ontario Reformatory. County Judge J. C. Reynolds pronounced sentence.

Denee previously appeared in City Magistrate's court and asked to be tried in the next highest court. When he appeared before Judge Reynolds Monday he pleaded guilty and was remanded to today.

He was arrested after postal inspectors sent to Kingston for investigation work had planted money in some letters which were put through the local post office. Denee was found to have the money in his possession.

Hurl Stench Bombs In Four Detroit Bars Police Fear New War Over Coin Machines

DETROIT, July 9 —(CP)— Four widely separated bars were stench bombed early today and in three of the instances, the owners attributed the attacks to revenge for changing coin-bowling game and juke box distributors.

Similar bombs were used in all attacks—a glass fruit jar filled with foul smelling fluid. Police believe that each of the missiles was hurled from a moving automobile.

The special investigation squad launched an immediate investigation. It was feared this might start a new war between coin-operated machine syndicates.

The first bombing occurred at 3.10 a.m. in Clark's Bar, in West Detroit. The second bombing took place 20 minutes later in the Cotton Club in East Detroit. The third bombing was discovered by William Banski, 41, co-owner of the Paradise Show Bar in the city's western outskirts, when he opened up at 6.30 a.m.

Fighting In Palestine Deplorable—Marshall

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)— State Secretary Marshall today termed deplorable the renewal of fighting in Palestine between Jews and Arabs.

Marshall said that according to news reports it appeared the hostilities were resumed by the Arabs.

He told a press conference, however, that the official determination of who is to blame will have to be made by the United Nations Security Council.

The secretary emphasized that United States policy is being conducted through the Security Council.

Orangemen Will Celebrate 258th Anniversary Twice

By The Canadian Press

King Billy will ride his white charger at Orangemen's celebrations again this year—but the question has arisen whether he rides tomorrow or Monday.

The Glorious Twelfth 258th anniversary of the battle of the Boyne, falls on Monday. Some lodges decided to put their parades and speechmaking ahead to Saturday.

In Ontario, where this Protestant order claims most of its Canadian adherents, there is about an even split between Saturday and Monday.

Orangement in and around Toronto, Hamilton, Sarnia, Kitchener, North Bay and Dunnville march to fife and drum tomorrow.

Celebrations Monday include those at Ottawa, Cobourg, and Clinton.

John Smith of Toronto, grand master of the Grand Black chapter of British America, will attend the Manitoba celebration at Portage La Prairie Monday

The Winnipeg lodge will parade through city streets before boarding a special train for Portage La Prairie.

In Ontario the Orangemen, with their young men's sections and women's auxiliaries, will be out in strength.

At least 25,000 Lodge members are expected for the Sunday-Monday rally in Ottawa, with special trains going from Perth, Prescott, Chalk River, Campbell's Bay, Havelock and Brockville.

It is estimated that more than 3,000 will march in Toronto, 10,000 in Sarnia including many Western Ontario lodges and those from Neighboring points in Michigan, 15,000 at Kitchener and 15,000 at Cobourg.

The "Glorious Twelfth" will be celebrated twice by Owen Sound District Orangemen this year. On Saturday, July 10, there will be a celbration in the Grey county town of Thornbury while on Monday, July 12, the Bruce county capital of Walkerton will be host to the Orangemen.

Outline Rules For Nominations At Liberal Meet

OTTAWA, July 9 — (CP). — Candidates who drop out of the balloting at next month's National Liberal convention will not be able to swing their supporters towards other nominees, Finance Minister Abbott said Thursday night in a broadcast address detailing procedure at the party congress, being held Aug. 5, 6 and 7.

In an address prepared for delivery on the CBC free-time broadcast, he said that if the procedure used in the 1919 convention is adopted this year candidates announcing their withdrawal during the balloting may make no remarks in favor of other candidates.

Nominations for the leadership will be written out, signed by a mover and a seconder from among the delegates, and handed at the convention secretaries. At the hour of balloting, the chairman will announce the close of nominations and read out the names of the candidates.

No Campaign Speeches

There will be no campaign speeches by the candidates or their proposers and balloting will begin immediately. The secrecy of the ballot will be preserved and none will be able to tell how each delegate votes.

The results of the voting will not be announced by provinces, merely the total of ballots cast for each candidate. The first candidate to win a clear majority—plurality—over all opponents will be the new party leader.

Sometimes, tail-end candidates drop out of the running when they see they have little chance of winning. If, after the fourth ballot, no candidate has been given a clear majority, then on the fifth and subsequent ballots the candidate with the lowest total is automatically eliminated.

with the United States and Russia to support a security council ruling under Chapter VII of the UN charter which provides for use of economic or diplomatic sanctions and armed force in the event of a threat to peace.

Must Act

American delegate Philip C. Jessup told an emergency session of the council Thursday night that the United States believed action under Chapter VII would be necessary if the Arabs flatly rejected the council plea for a truce extension.

He added, however, that a report on the Palestine situation by Count Folke Bernadotte, UN mediator, was not sufficiently detailed for a basis of council action. Russian delegate Andrei A. Gromyko agreed.

So the council postponed making a decision until Count Bernadotte reports in full regarding Arab answers to the council's request and Israeli charges of an Egyptian violation of the truce.

Surprise Visit

CAIRO, July 9. — (AP) — Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator for Palestine, paid a surprise visit to King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan in Amman today. He said the two talked over the possibility of reviving a four-week Holy Land truce that had expired a few hours earlier.

The end of the truce opened the way for renewal of full-scale Arab-Jewish warfare. A public relations officer of the Egyptian defence ministry said "there is no doubt that the Egyptian army resumed fighting this morning," in Southern Palestine.

Apparently by invitation of Abdullah, Count Bernadotte flew from his Rhodes headquarters to Amman with an aide and spent an hour with the king. He said they discussed "many things, including the prospects of another truce in Palestine." Under Count Bernadotte's so-far-unapproved plan for lasting peace in the Holy Land, Arab parts of country woud be lumped with Abdullah's realm.

Thursday night the Count had given up hope of halting the warfare and was concentrating instead on saving Jerusalem's holy places. But when he reached Amman today, he told a reporter he still thought there was a chance for a new truce. He added: "It depends upon the Arab countries."

Evening Fire Razes Wooden Barn, Shed

Fire totally destroyed on Thursday night a small wooden barn and an adjoining shed at the rear of the residence of V. L. Walling, on the continuation of Sherbrooke St., west of Highway 28.

The barn contained a variety of garden implements such as hoes, rakes, spades, and also furniture and clothing. No estimate of loss has been made.

The blaze of unknown origin spread rapidly and soon consumed the two-storey structure.

Firemen used booster tanks but were too late to save it. Mr. Walling was away at the time and returned to find his children safe in the home about 25 feet away from the burning building. Nearby chicken coops and the home were both saved.

U.S. Rail Dispute Settled; Accept Increase

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP)—The wage dispute which threatened a country-wide rail strike and caused United States Government seizure of the railroads was settled peaceably today.

The settlement was announced by the White House. Representatives of management and the three railroad brotherhoods which called the strike adjusted their differences in a series of conferences there arranged by John Steelman, presidential assistant.

The engineers, firemen and switchmen accepted a wage increase of 15½ cents an hour, retroactive to last Nov. 1, plus several changes in operating rules, some of which will increase the railroadmen's take-home pay.

Railroad management representatives said the settlement was virtually the same as that recommended by the President's emergency board March 27.

The settlement means that the railroads will be turned back to private management as soon as necessary papers can be drawn up. Steelman estimated that that could be done in "a day or two."

Nominally, the railroads have been under government control since May 10, with Army Secretary Kenneth Royall directing their operations. The government got an injunction against the threatened strike.

England Makes Strong Stand

MANCHESTER, England, July 9 (Reuters)—England tallied 363 runs in the first innings as the third test cricket match continued today and Australia replied with 43 runs for two wickets at the tea interval.

The English eleven made a strong stand after a shaky start in the five-day match which began Thursday.

Sidney Barnes of Australia was taken to hospital after being hit near the kidneys by a ball driven with tremendous force from the bat of Dick Pollard late in the English innings. Four policemen carried him off the field.

This injury forced Captain Don Bradman to revise his batting order. Bradman relied on Ian Johnson to open the innings with Arthur Morris but the move was not successful.

Johnson snicked a catch to wicket-keeper Godfrey Evans with only three runs scored. Johnson was a victim of Alex Bedser's bowling, in Bedser's second over.

Bradman then went to bat and was out in short order, leg before wicket. He scored a single and followed with a four in the next over. Then Pollard pitched him a ball which swung in late and eluded his bat. Instead, it struck the Aussie captain's pad. The crowd in old Trafford Park is jubilant as Umpire Davies ruled Bradman out.

Morris and Len Hassett then concentrated on defensive play and were still batting at the tea interval.

Railway Unions

and possibly affect radio broadcasting has been sent out to the membership of the railway brotherhoods, as last-minute efforts are being made in Ottawa today to avert a strike by the July 15 deadline.

Trains that leave their terminals before 6 a.m. strike deadline, will complete the runs assigned to the train crews. The night train from Toronto to Montreal will be tied up in Montreal on the morning of July 15. Trains leaving Toronto for the west will end their run at Sudbury. Trains that have left Sudbury before the strike hour will continue on to the next terminal point.

Unless the government is successful in bringing about a settlement of the strike before July 15, this is a picture of what will happen on and after that date:

No Trains

There will be no trains operated by the CNR and the CPR running in Canada. This will include subsidiary operations such as the Niagara and St. Catharines service and the radial from Galt to Port Dover, owned by the CPR and operated by the Lake Erie and Northern. The strike will also shut down the Ontario Northland Railway and Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway.

The Royal York Hotel service will be cut off, as waiters, bus boys, maids, kitchen employees, and other service staff are members of Hotel and Restaurant Employees International, affaliated with the railway brotherhoods. The walkout will hit all hotels owned by either of the railways.

Telegraph Service Cut

All telegraph service, ranging from the 1-word telegram used by individuals for greetings and urgent messages to the telegraph oprations running into millions of words employed by press services and newspapers, will shut down.

The strike will extend to the British Columbia coast service from Vancouver to Victoria, Seattle and Nanaimo. It will hit the east coast, stopping the Dominion and Atlantic Railway.

New York Central, Michigan Central and Wabash trains, which are hauled by Canadian crews, will be halted along with CNR and CPR rail traffic in and out of Windsor.

Instructions issued to the membership of the railway brotherhoods warn that acts of violence of any nature will not be tolerated.

All employees on strike are instructed to keep away from company property, and those living in company quarters are to lock the connecting doors or doors between the office and the living quarters.

14 Train Cars Jump Tracks

DASSEL, Minn., July 9 — (AP). — The Chicago - bound Great Northern Oriental Limited from Seattle was partly derailed Thursday night as it sped through this central Minnesota town.

One person required hospital treatment and several others were bruised or shaken up as 14 of the 19 cars and the rear section of the Diesel engine jumped the tracks.

A Great Northern official said preliminary investigation pointed to a hot-box as the possible cause of the derailment.

Capt. Reuben Mattson of the Dassel fire department, who witnessed the derailment, said two baggage cars and an express car which jacknifed served to cushion the passenger cars behind them and save them from greater damage.

Base Metals Weaken In Light Trading

TORONTO, July 9 — (CP). — Base metals weakened in very light trading here today and industrials, western oils and golds were steady on mixed gains and losses.

Industrials moved quietly with losses ranging up to a point. Brown Pfd., Abitibi, Great Lakes Paper Pfd. and Consolidated Paper weakened and Bell Telephone dipped ⅛. Canadian Celanese rose 2 points. CPR, Massey Harris, International Paper, Brazilian Traction and BA Oil were fractionaly better.

Losses doubled gains in base metals. Eureka eased 10 cents and Waite Amulet was down 5. Sherrit, Quebec Labrador and Gulf Lead were up 1 to 10 cents. Torbrit Silver, in its first day on the exchange, was down a cent at 84 cents.

Chesterville, Sylvanite, God's Lake, Armistice, Aunor, Bevcourt and Duquesne strengthened in golds. Holinger and Kerr Addison were ahead in senior issues. Pickle Crow, Cochenour, Elder, O'Brien, Bordulac and Central Patricia eased from 1 to 5 cents.

Home Oil was down 10 cents at $8.15 in western oils and Okalta and British Dominion weakened. Calmont, Pacific Petroleum and East Leduc gained a cent.

Believe Cabbie's Wife Slain In Apartment

MASUSTON, Wis., July 9—(AP)—District Attorney Charles P. Curran said Thursday night he believed Mrs. Mollie Hoffman, 24-year-old wife of a taxicab driver arrested in Alberta, was slain in her Chicago apartment.

Mrs. Hoffman's battered body was found in a truck-trailer near Wisconsin Dells June 5. Chicago police reported finding blood stains in the Hoffman apartment.

John J. Hoffman, 31, is charged with first degree murder in the slaying under a Wisconsin warrant. He has signed a statement admitting the slaying of his wife, Curran said.

Three Killed Flying Food

BERLIN, July 9. (AP)—Three Americans were killed Thursday night when a United States Air Force plane, flying food to Soviet-blockaded Berlin, crashed near Frankfurt. They were the first lives lost in the Allied lift to the isolated city. Despite the accident and bad weather, the western Allies kept the momentum of the air ferrying service going today.

In London, diplomatic officials said Thursday night that Britain, the United States and France had decided to delay for at least 24 hours publication of their notes demanding an end to the blockade, while Russia thinks the matter over.

The plane which crashed was a two-engined C-47. The crash occurred deep in the Taunus mountains, 20 miles northwest of Frankfurt. The plane burned after plunging into the woods on a peak.

Three charred bodies were dug from the wreckage. The victims were two United States Air Force officers—the pilot and co-pilot—and a civilian passenger. Their names were withheld pending notification of relatives.

Sudbury Hydro Group Resents Headquarters

SUDBURY, July 9.—(CP). — The Sudbury Hydro Commission came forward today with a protest against an announcement that North Bay has been selected as headquarters for the newly-formed north-eastern Ontario region of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario.

"It is ridiculous to have the headquarters in North Bay when the centre of power use in the north is Sudbury," said Mayor W. S. Beaton as the Commission urged that headquarters be located in this city. The protest developed from a statement by H. H. Leeming, manager of the new division, that his office began operating in North Bay July 1.

Mennonites Give Wheat Fields For Oranges

ASUNCION, Paraguay, July 9 (CP) — Canadian Mennonites bound today for a new home here will trade wheat fields for orange groves.

The 1,689 men, women and children sailed from Quebec June 26. They are descendants of Dutch families who centuries ago fled to Germany, then Russia.

The sect gave up their Manitoba farm homes in an effort to maintain their orthodoxy.

Elders of the sect, which includes fourth and fifth generations of Mennonites who migrated to Canada in 1874 from Russia, said they wanted to live according to the teaching of the Bible. In Canada, too many of the sect drifted away.

The Mennonites will meet a warm welcome from the Paraguayans. There are already 9,000 fellow church members here, most of them in the waterless and flat Chaco Plain in the far north. But the Paraguayan governments has recognized their virtues and the doors are open to more of them.

A special law enacted in 1922 was the basis of the Mennonite colonization.

At that time the settlers were limited to the Chaco Plains, which are far from the inhabited part of the country. There are only a few scattered nomad Indians in this part of the country.

Dunbar Urges Burwash Visit

TORONTO, July 9 (CP) —Reform Institutions Minister Dunbar Thursday invited members-elect of the Ontario Legislature to visit the prison farm at Burwash near Sudbury where prisoners recently staged disturbances.

He said he issued a similar invitation at the last session of the legislature. He was repeating it now so that the public could learn the facts through their elected representatives.

The members-elect could obtain admission to Burwash and to other institutions under his jurisdiction merely by identifying themselves. It would not be necessary for them to arrange for a visit beforehand.

Mr. Dunbar said he would be glad to broaden the invitation to include representatives of responsible organizations. But to facilitate their admission he would have to be advised in advance of their visit.

Fined On Fishing Charge Complains Laws Not Clear

COBOURG, July 9 (ENS). — Claiming that he had never seen a copy of the fish and game regulations, Carl Henry of Saratosa, Florida, who has been summering for years at Rice Lake, paid a fine of $10 and costs in police court Thursday for drifting while fishing for pickerel.

Fish and game inspector Clair Harris told the court that he found the accused drifting between Black and Spook islands around noon on June 29. There was an anchor trailing, which was much too light for the size of the boat, an 18-foot craft with a 115 h.p. motor. There were four pickerel in the boat and with the accused was Donald Tissot of Cleo Heights, Ohio. The charge against Tissot for drifting was later withdrawn.

Mr. Henry told the court that people who live all year around at Rice Lake had told him that it was all right to drift if your anchor was dragging. Provincial police in Peterborough had told him the same thing, the accused testified.

"I've spent $30,000 in this country and I've been coming here for 20 years. There is no way of knowing all the fish and game regulations. It doesn't tell you on the back of the fishing license. I have had enough of this and I'm through," declared Mr. Henry.

"It is the intention of the Act," said Magistrate R. B. Baxter, "that a boat is stationary when the anchor is holding it, otherwise it is drifting and you are violating the regulations. The people out at Rice Lake who you said told you it was all right if you drifted with your anchor dragging, should learn better and so advise their United States guests correctly. We appreciate the visitors from the United States but the fishing regulations are there to be obeyed and it is not fair to everyone if we make an exception and let a United States visitor break the law. A warning from the game warden might have sufficed but I am not in a position to know as to that. If people think that the fishing regulation in this regard is not right, they can appeal to the Legislature and ask to have it changed," said the Magistrate.

Mr. Henry's boat was seized by the fish and game inspector at the time and he will have to apply to the department for its release.

Compulsory Social Security

On Monday, July 5th, the most comprehensive social security plan ever introduced anywhere went into effect in Britain. Three integrated reforms went into operation simultaneously—National Insurance, the National Health Service and National Assistance. These aim at providing economic security for all the people of Britain for ever.

• • •

The National Insurance scheme is made compulsory for everybody whether his income is three or a hundred pounds a week, except for the self-employer or "non-employed" person with less than two pounds a week. National Insurance is primarily unemployment insurance. The National Health Service makes medical, dental and hospital service available free to every person in the country from cradle to grave—and even beyond, for there is a twenty pound death grant. National Assistance revises the old Poor Law and guarantees a minimum income to every person who can prove need.

• • •

The National Health Service has been the most controversial issue, for the British Medical Association was dead set against it. Doctors remain free to practise with private patients if the patients wish to pay. For treatments under the Service, a doctor is to receive $2 a year for patients registered with him, plus grants for medicaments supplied. In addition to free care and treatment there are cash benefits—$3.60 a week for men from the fourth day of incapacity for 26 weeks, after which $2.10 a week if necessary; Maternity benefit is a single payment of $8 on confinement of the insured woman.

• • •

The whole scheme for social security is expected to cost $600,000 in the first nine months of operation. The cost is borne by the taxpayers. Employers and employees will pay an approximate two-thirds of the total and the remainder will come from other taxation. People in Canada and the U.S.A., which have been supplying large credits to Britain will wonder how a nation apparently impoverished can afford such a scheme. The argument of the British proponents is that the cost places no new burden on the national income but merely redistributes it. Some people may think that this argument is too facile and that the scheme encourages Britons to believe that social security need not be worked for.

• • •

It is an extensive experiment. Its development and results will be watched by other nations with great interest. The medical profession in Canada is particularly interested—perhaps apprehensive. For instance, Dr. J. E. Carson, president of the Ontario Medical Association, speaking personally, said "I am not in favour of the scheme or of any scheme administered by the government". If the Canadian doctors fear that such a scheme might be foisted on them we suggest that now is a good time to begin to set up alternative, better schemes and that they themselves should be taking the lead in reform.

Eating To Be A Big Man

People eat for a variety of reasons, so they say. One of them is often dinned into children's ears: "Now eat up your porridge so that you will grow up to be as big and strong as your father". As a matter of fact, Canadian children are growing up to be bigger than their parents and experts say that the increased average stature is due largely to diet. Canadian soldiers overseas looked like big fellows compared with Britishers, but more elevated still were, in this war and the last, the Australians. It is therefore interesting to compare the diets of Canadians and Australians. Are the Australians bigger than Canadians because they eat more, differently or better?

Last month the Department of Trade and Commerce issued statistics which show that Australians consume almost twice the quantity of meat per capita that Canadians eat. They use more sugar, syrups, fruit and fruit products, other than tomatoes and citrus fruits, more vegetables other than those classified as leafy, green and yellow. We Canadians consume more milk, milk products, eggs and egg products, potatoes and fats. Here is the table. The Australian figure for beverages shows wine and beer, which are not included in the Canadian figure. The table gives the consumption per capita in pounds.

Milk, milk products	46.5	71.1
Meats	211.2	122.7
Poultry, game, fish	18.1	26.8
Eggs, egg products	29.2	33.8
Oils and fats	31.0	36.5
Sugars and syrups	120.5	85.0
Potatoes	132.7	217.3
Pulse and nuts	10.0	14.7
Tomatoes, citrus	65.9	114.0
Other fruit	139.7	123.7
Leafy, green and yellow vegetables	53.8	52.3
Other vegetables	79.7	43.2
Grain products	217.8	222.5
Beverages	178.5	14.0

Medical men may be able to make learned deductions from the table. We can merely observe that it would be rash to assume that we are smaller than Australians because of Canadian milk and the Aussies are bigger because of Australian wines.

Do We Need A Code For Crime Comics?

We do not share the popular alarm over the circulation of 'crime comic books' in Canada. Since the introduction of compulsory education children have always read a good deal of lurid stuff, and we cannot feel that it has done them any harm. We repeat what we have said many times before: only a mind already corrupt is turned to crime by books and movies; children of normal mind and good home training have nothing to fear from lurid reading.

It is interesting to observe that the Association of Comic Magazine Publishers, of New York, has devised a "code" for its members. They will not publish anything which is indecent, in defiance of the law, descriptive of morbid crimes or tortures, or couched in vulgar or obscene language. We cannot feel that this means very much. It is illegal to publish such matter anyway, and publishers of acknowledged pornography are few; legitimate publishing pays far better. The Comic Magazine Publishers have simply announced that they will not publish matter which they never had any intention of publishing in the first place.

The harm, if there is any, in comic magazines, lies in the vulgarity of taste which they display, rather than in any vulgarity of language. The "good guys" who are held up for admiration are about on a par with Fearless Fosdick, the hero of Little Abner Yokum. If we chose to become heated about the matter, we should complain that the comic books display cheap virtue in a cheap way, rather than that they make vice attractive.

Taste, however, does not form until adult years have been reached. Many a young reader of comic books will grow up to be a professor of English Literature in our universities. Contrary to common belief, it is quite possible to touch pitch without being defiled.

"Hostilities Are To Be Resumed"

The four-week truce in Palestine has led to neither an armistice nor peace. Today the war begins anew. A spokesman for the Arab League, when asked if his statement that there would be no extension of the truce meant that warfare would start again, said: "I mean nothing else". Count Bernadotte, the U.N. mediator, issued a statement yesterday: "I am disappointed that hostilities are to be resumed in Palestine".

Man, the noblest work of God, the chief of the animal kingdom, the most knowledgeable of living things, has advanced a long way from barbarism and monkeys, has he not? How sweetly reasonable, how intelligent, how humane he is to have reached the exalted stage of being able to say: "We shall now go to war again". Words may fail him, but not his belief in the efficacy of superior arms.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A good motto for summer motoring is "Children should be seen, and not hurt".

Approximately six million words were spoken in Parliament during the session which has just closed. Perhaps six thousand of them were memorable.

"How Big Is A Billion?" asks a headline. We aren't quite sure, but it seems to be growing smaller—about the size a million used to be before the government took up 'cyclical budgeting'.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

NOTE: Questions, particularly those relating to local history or tradition, are invited by this column, and should be addressed to "Alpha: Notes and Queries", in care of this newspaper.

SIR: A New Yorker whose father was raised in Peterborough says that the old man had told her that there were "upside-down trees" in Central Park in Peterborough. Is that true and where is Central Park?

ANSWER: Central Park is now known as Confederation Square (the park between George and the Armouries). It was renamed in 1927, when Peterborough, like other Canadian cities, celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of Confederation. There are three of these so-called upside-down trees in the Square—three dwarf umbrella-shaped elms which resemble catalpas, a West-Indian flowering tree. They are nevertheless elm trees, with elm leaves. Nurserymen have a way of grafting trees to make them grow in this odd way. The art of dwarfing trees is centuries old. The Japanese are expert in it, and create elaborate tray landscapes ("bon-seki") using potted dwarf trees ("bon-sai"). The trees have been in the park for many years, perhaps forty. There is a story that these trees were really planted upside down—that young elms were uprooted, their branches and leaves clipped and the saplings planted with the roots in the air. This summer a blight has affected the trees and the city Parks Department despairs of saving them.

ANSWER to last week's question about the increased price of beer. The increase dates from June 17th, and is relatively small. The gross increase on a case of two dozen pints is 25 cents (to $3.75). Prices on other quantities vary in proportion. Since the refund for empties has gone up from 72 to 75 cents, the net increase is 22 cents. Of course, the really interesting point is how prices are set. Business in spirits and beer is virtually a monopoly; therefore the prices cannot be set arbitrarily. The Liquor Control Board must authorize them. It obviously believes that the rising costs of labour and raw materials which go into the making and distribution of beer warrant the increase. In Britain changes in the price of beer rouse nationwide interest and are headlined in newspapers, but Ontario is mum about such things. Perhaps the theory is that alcoholic beverages are not polite things to talk about in public, and certainly not fit for newspaper comment.

WHICH is the wickedest city in Canada, Toronto or Montreal?

ANSWER: I am not qualified to say. Ask any former R.A.F., R.A.A.F., or any other Raf type who was stationed in or near both cities during the war. Certainly the gay blades among them preferred Toronto.

DEAR Alpha: I was interested in your explanation last week of George Street's name. Please tell me why Rubidge Street is called by that name.

ANSWER: It would seem logical to call it Church Street, since there are so many churches located on it. However, it got its name before the churches came to it in quantity. It commemorates Captain Charles Rubidge, R.N., a man with an interesting foreign and local career. He was born in England in 1787, joined the Royal Navy as a midshipman, saw service with Nelson at Aboukir Bay and Copenhagen, was wounded, attained the rank of Captain, and at the end of the Napoleonic Wars came with other military and naval officers to this country to settle on the free land granted servicemen by His Majesty's Government. He took a holding in Otonabee, and was the first to perform the settlement duties in the district and to obtain title to his land (1820). He kept the first Post Office in Otonabee. During the time of the Peter Robinson immigration he was immigration agent at Peterborough and was instrumental in 1831 in bringing out and settling 4,000 people from England, Ireland and Scotland. He became Registrar of the County of Peterborough and held the post until his death in 1873. He had a wife about whom little is known except that the couple celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary in 1862. He attained the age of 86 and the reputation of being one of the oldest British naval officers of the time.

SIR: When Premier Drew went to England after the elections, why did he go, and who is paying his expenses?

ANSWER: My partner Omega attends to all political questions. He is not available at present, being himself in England to take the cure at Bath. It can be assumed that Premier Drew is in England to try to entice British industries to establish branches in Canada. Since his is therefore Government business (he obviously prefers not to burden any of his cabinet ministers with the laborious trip and delicate negotiations) it is right and proper that the people of Ontario should foot the bills.

FOR THE RECORD: Changes in social and industrial conditions usually occur imperceptibly. A noticeable one this year is the long week-end holidays enjoyed by workers in local factories. Not only do they have in almost every factory a five-day week, but management is catering to the workers when a national holiday falls in mid-week. Christmas and New Year's Day came on Thursdays. By working two preceding Saturdays, the employees were able to have a four day holiday in either the one week or the other. July 1st fell on a Thursday, and workers again secured a four-day holiday. The people in the Westclox factory were particularly fortunate, for they began their two weeks' vacation on the Monday following the long week-end. The Westclox was the first Peterborough plant to begin the now general practice of shutting up completely (except for a maintenance staff) for two holiday weeks.

"JUST A MOMENT!"

Judgement Upon Editors

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

EDITORIAL sanctums throughout Canada reel today about their occupants' eyes. For unbelievable as it may appear, a majority of Canadian readers think that they could not do the editor's job better than he is doing it himself.

For this astounding conclusion the evidence is conclusive. That indefatigable investigator of the odd and curious, the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion, put the insidious question to a national sample of citizens whether if any one of them held the editor's chair for a time, he would make any changes in the editor's newspaper. And 55 per cent of them said no!

Now, seeing that almost every other national activity from bad verse to the inadequacy of the weather service, from commercialized sport to the quality of sermons, at one time or another comes under the cold dispraisal of the ordinary citizen, this verdict upon Canada's editors is so perilously intoxicating that they may be led to imagine for a moment their life-long dream has come true and they are getting out the Perfect Paper.

Happily for their sanity, not so. There is another side to the story—humbling and corrective. Thirty-six per cent. of the readers of the daily press would make changes. And changes galore—more accurate reporting, more facts and less rumours and guesswork, not so much crime and scandal, more attempts to treat politics impartially and so forth. In short, the whole familiar list of things which every editor knows people want to read about but who usually do not want other people to know they do.

With the initial editorial exhilaration thus qualified and dampened, only one mysterious criticism remains to be noted. Some folks somewhere in Canada want "more obituaries" in their daily newspapers. So morbid a request must surely raise the horrid suspicion—whose?

Letters To The Editor

SHOULD HAVE STAYED DEAD

Sir:

Jesse James is found we're told, now 101 years old,
Seems Ford shot some other guy;
A natural mistake, and with me it's jake,
I'll tell you the reason why:

Every day or so, I turn on the radio,
And they sing of poor old Jess,
And "the dirty little coward who shot Mr. Howard",
For that 10,000 bucks, I guess.

And a girl in Ottawa says she's kin to the outlaw,
Who hid out then up our way,
And left Robert Ford to collect the reward—
And only re-appeared the other day.

All of this is fine but there's this upon my mind:
Mr. Editor, I'm asking you,
For libel many years, couldn't Robert Ford's heirs
That wretched song-writer sue?

C. J. PERDUE.

THE JUDGEMENT OF SOLOMON

Sir: Being a veritable stranger, in your fair city, it is quite natural that I should peruse the columns of the local daily newspaper and it is certainly very gratifying to find that your editorials and correspondence are entirely devoid of malice or contempt, and may they ever continue as such.

A rather contentious bylaw is apparently sponsored by the older and perhaps larger and consequently wealthier garage and service station owners and operators. These worthy business men assert, and perhaps rightly so, that the major oil companies may insist on their outlets remaining open for the sale of their commodity, for twenty-four hours per day; unless they are protected by a city bylaw, defining of course, shorter hours. This condition, with prevailing wages, would certainly result in severe financial losses to many operators and undoubtedly they should be protected by the requested municipal legislation. The vast majority of these dealers have their places of business, largely, in the down-town or business section of the city. On the outskirts of Peterborough, in close proximity to the dancing pavilions there are a number of the newer and smaller type of gasoline service stations, catering to the tourist traffic, generally, and to some extent to the younger element, who are confined to office or factory during the day and require some relaxation, usually entailing motoring, after the close of the usual service stations.

The good King Solomon would indeed be sorely pressed to reconcile both types of gasoline vendors as well as the great travelling public and tourist population, who inevitably pay the freight, anynow. During a discussion with a few legal associates, recently, a solution to the whole problem was suggested and I pass it along with the fervent hope that the aldermanic board adopt something of a similar nature, that harmony may continue to prevail rather than rancour and deception, in our great city. An elder authority on municipal law stated that in general practice the Garage Operators' Association were privileged to request the passing of a bylaw, specifying the business hours, etc., but that the penalty clause, if any, in the said bylaw remained the perogative and must be drafted by the legal department of the city council, this latter procedure being beyond the rights of any petitioners, and justly so. All bylaws require their several readings, three in number, and become operative on proclamation of the mayor; concerning those relative to statutory or civic holidays or other relevant matters no penalty is mentioned for non-observance of the same, but on the other hand His Worship urges all good citizens to observe the same, which the majority of residents usually do. A similar bylaw, without mention of drastic penalties but rather the mayoral exhortation would appear to be a logical solution, the small operators, the office and factory employees and tourists would be looked after and the non-offensive bylaw would be there to appease the oil companies; who I imagine would be the last to ignore the worthy mayor's proclamation; wherein he would request "All Good Citizens To Act Accordingly and If In Their Best Interests, Observe The Same."

Yours truly,
SOLOMON PHILLIPS.

STORMY WEATHER

The primitive savage could cry
To Him who hurled bolts from the sky,
Our thunderstruck forbears could say,
"Let us pray".

Modern man discourses learnedly upon
The interaction of electron and proton,
Looking upward just as apprehensively,
It seems to me.

Hardy

There will be general satisfaction that the house at Higher Brockhampton where Thomas Hardy was born is to become the property of the National Trust. Not often in English letters can one find like evidence of the place so shaping a man and patterning his moods, his style, and content. Dorset made Thomas Hardy, and soon Hardy was bringing back to Dorset a lustre almost without comparison in the story of the English countryside. In "The Return of the Navtive" he described "the great and particular glory of the Egdon waste." There was no limit to his feeling for his home pastures or his understanding of their magic.

"It was a spot which returned upon the memory of those who loved it well an aspect of peculiar and kindly congruity. Smiling champaigns of flowers and fruit hardly do this . . . Twilight combined with the scenery of Egdon Heath to evolve a thing majestic without severity, impressive without showiness, emphatic in its admonitions, grand in its simplicity."

Fair prospects, he noted, wed happily with fair times, but then (as indeed now) times were not always fair.

"Men have oftener suffered from the mockery of a place too similing from their reason than from the oppression of surroundings over sadly tinged. Haggard Egdon appealed to a subtler and scarcer instinct, to a more recently learnt emotion, than that which responds to the sort of beauty called charming and fair."

The delicate child born in the seven-roomed house at Higher Bockhampton on June 2, 1840, confounded the doctors. He grew up on that lovely and silent spot between woodland and heathland, and took it and the six counties around it into his heart and into literature. Nothing distressed him more towards the end of his life than the fear that his birthplace might become shabby and overrgown. Now that need never happen.—Manchester Guardian.

How Time Flies

JULY 9

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs.

He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep. (John 21: 15-17.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock. And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away. (I Pet. 5: 2-4.)

A False Move

"The planes would be out of range of England in very small groups . . . flying at more than thirty-five thousand feet, they would seek to slip into Russia unnoticed. Their targets: first, Moscow—Moscow above all. . . ." This is "Newsweek's idea of the role of the United States Strategic Air Command, whose chief recently spoke of the present peace as "little more than a superficial armistice." It is against this sort of war talk that the Russians have now protested to the American Government. Certainly they over-estimate its seriousness; they understand neither the workings of a free press, nor the time taken in a democracy to translate fighting talk into action. But it is important to understand that they, as also the many European near-Fascists who quote such articles with glee, do take it seriously and see it as perhaps meaning an eventual American attack. It is all the more unfortunate that the Senate, with Mr. Marshall's blessing, should now have amended the Conscription Bill to allow the recruitment into the United States Army of 25,000 anti-Communist aliens from behind the Iron Curtain. No move could cause more bad feeling to less purpose. The intrigues of the Allied secret services with individual malcontents, including alleged war criminals, are already enough to make the Western Powers distrusted in Eastern Europe, and this will simply widen the gap. Can the Americans not understand that it is equivalent to the formation by the Russians of a Negro division for the liberation of the Deep South, or a huge Stern Gang for the struggle against Imperialism? They have not even announced any measures for the screening of Ustachi or members of similar Fascist organizations. Small wonder that many Germans believe that S.S. men may yet be acceptable to the Allies. If the Americans are really so short of man-power, why not admit more D.P.s?—Manchester Guardian.

CAROL ANNE POMERANKY, three (left), shown at her home in Detroit, Mich., was snatched from the back doorstep of summer home near Sault St. Marie, Mich., by a huge black bear and partly eaten by the animal. The family had arrived at Brimley, Mich., only a few weeks ago. Parents of the bear's victim (right), Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pomeranky, are shown here. The mother saw the bear drag the child off, telephoned her husband at fire tower where he worked. He called for help throughout the district and nearly 100 persons had arrived at his home by the time he got there.

FAMOUS BEAR HUNTER and prize Labrador retriever, Snowball, led posse to child's body. The dog is seen with master, Alex Van Lunen, wolf-trapper, who headed searchers. The bear was shot returning to spot where it killed the child.

Cheese Producers Worry About Youth Leaving Farms

TORONTO, July 9.—How to keep 'em down on the farm was one of the chief problems commanding attention of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Association Ltd., meeting here Thursday.

The meeting followed close on the heels of a meeting of the Cheese Producers' Marketing Board, which deplored the tendency of even new arrivals in Canada to move cityward. Producers struck a similar attitude.

Although most of the meeting was given over to discussion of the financial standing of the association and future problems, members decided the basic cause of the labor problem was the tendency of the farm youth to toss aside his overalls and milk pail, pick up a lunch box and head for a city factory.

Reasons behind this trend are many. In the first place, according to cheese men, work on a dairy farm of any type is hard, despite such modern innovations as milking machines, tractors and balers, while the pay is not usually high.

"People who work on dairy farms today are made up of two groups," said one member of the executive. "Those who really like the life, and those who are stuck there and can't get out."

Prices, most of which haven't been too attractive from a farm point of view, were discussed. There were plenty of comparisons with the situation in the United States and association members thought something of the United States system might be adopted here.

High Prices

It was pointed out that in Canada prices of manufactured articles are high, whereas prices of agricultural products are usually low in comparison with United States levels. In the United States the man who gets a better deal on his car or refrigerator isn't so unhappy about paying a higher price for butter, meat and other farm produce.

In Canada, members feel, things are more or less in reverse. The city dweller has to pay through the nose for his so-called luxuries and by the time he gets around to buying agricultural products he's ready to raise a howl about prices.

This, it was agreed, was one of the chief reasons behind controls on farm produce prices, while costs of manufactured goods moved steadily upward.

Association brought in the question of an open export market, which was mentioned a day earlier by the marketing board. With government concessions permitting export of dairy products, better conditions could be introduced on Ontario farms, giving the agriculturist a chance to make a dollar and encouraging his sons to remain on the farm.

With an all-round scheme to encourage farmers, the association decided, there would not be nearly as much of a trend for farm youth to head toward the city. Wages have discouraged farm workers, they agreed, but only because the farmer was not in a position to pay at better rates.

Reimpose Mark-up On Onions, Apples

OTTAWA, July 9.—(CP).—The Prices Board Thursday night announced re-imposition of mark-up or margin-of-profit controls on imported apples and onions, effective today.

The action is in line with the policy of imposing markup controls on fruit and vegetables subject to import restrictions.

Under the new system, importing wholesalers are allowed a margin of profit of 12½ per cent for apples and 15 per cent for onions on sales to retailers. If an importing wholesalers sells to another wholesaler he is allowed a mark-up of seven per cent for apples and nine per cent for onions. Retailers get a margin of 25 per cent on both products.

Generous Canadians

EDMONTON—(CP). — Canadians are more conscious of the relief needs of Europe than their United States cousins, says M. L. Smith, educational director for the Committee for American Remittances to Europe—better known as CARE. CARE is an organization for the mass dispensing of food parcels to Europe. During the last year Canadians have sent $1,000,000 worth of parcels, while the amount from the US was $3,500,000.

Loses His Ear

BOSTON, July 9—(AP).—The French handler of five yearling horses en route from Paris to New York by plane came into East Boston airport minus one of his ears Thursday. Eugene Elepicien, 22, of Paris, reported one of the animals bit the ear off while the plane was flying from Paris to Shannon, Eire, airport.

LONDON, July 9—(AP).—The Moscow radio said Thursday night Russia and Poland signed a treaty Thursday in Moscow fixing their mutual frontier. The treaty sets up a convention to settle any "frontier conflicts and incidents," the broadcast said.

Toronto Studies Traffic Problem

TORONTO, July 9.—(CP). — Ontario's biggest city has a traffic problem of "exceptional magnitude,' it was indicated in the publication this week of the findings of a greater Toronto planning board.

Facts and figures in the report show that 25 per cent of all vehicles registered in the province are owned by citizens of Toronto and suburbs. They also reveal that for the 15,000 cars that daily enter the downtown area, parking spaces number but 16,500.

The traffic experts predict that in another 10 years 200,000 cars will cram the same area unless steps are taken to prevent it.

Every day now, cars are jammed into every laneway, empty lot, crammed into every street storage building and manoeuvred into every legal and illegal curb space.

Magistrate Conducts Eight-Hour Marathon

TORONTO, July 9 (CP)—Despite defence claims that he had no right to try a case in Ontario, Magistrate A. H. Gibson of the Northwest Territories Thursday held a marathon 8½-hour session to hear evidence in a charge of false pretenses laid by the Ontario Securities Commission against Harold P. Killoran.

Killoran, a 45-year-old prospector, was accused by Robert E. Kemerer, New York mining operator, of selling him eight gold mining claims at Yellowknife for $2,500. Kemerer alleged the claims had never been staked.

Kemerer is in ill health and it was because of the difficulty he would have in travelling to Yellowknife that Magistrate Gibson came to Toronto for the preliminary hearing.

The case was adjourned to Thursday at Yellowknife whether further evidence will be heard. Killoran was refused bail and will be taken to Yellowknife under guard.

Kiwanis Take Close One Over Kinsmen

By FRED MAYBEE

Junior Kiwanis defeated their local rivals, Kinsmen, last evening 6-4 in a hard-fought Lakeshore Baseball League game at Riverside. Despite 13 errors, eight by Kiwanis, the game produced some excellent play that thrilled the fans throughout.

Ernie Wade and Doug Plunkett each struck out seven, the former walking one, the latter three. But when hits meant runs, Kiwanis were effective enough to eke out the necessary margin of victory. Stewart drove in three and, with Menzies, led the Kiwanis offensive, with Estlick and Giardino also having two hits apiece. For the home team, Ferguson had three for five while Sullivan and Hall each hit homers. Sullivan handled nine tough chances at short without a flaw. Sisson fielded well also but for one slip. A neat double-play by Kiwanis in the eighth also featured.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

The larruping lacrossers go at nine tonight in Miller Bowl and, lo, a goodly crowd of rabid fans will attend. It's the scrappy Orillia outfit against the not-too-gentle Petes in an OLA senior "B" fixture, third this week for the Creighton crew. Same squads met recently in Orillia's rink and had a hectic time of it ere the Petes kept their victory streak of the season intact. One J. J. Hill did his darndest to beat 'em single-handed and he'll be trying hard again tonight. But the '47 senior "B" champs are tough onions to mastigate on their own pitch and we look for a local win again this time. But it should be a swell scrap first.

A Brantford item says: "Lacrosse is doing a comeback here and Saturday the Six Nations Indians will meet the Buffalo Athletics....Ed Croley is the only paleface on the lineup." Back in the early 30s, we recall motoring with Bill Saunders to Brantford to see a furious lacrosse battle between the Petes of those days and the Indians. Had car trouble and switched to another jalopy coming home. Well, it was late autumn and we ran into a snowstorm coming back. So the long haul was made with one front window down and a guy (using a cloth-bound lacrosse stick) cleaning sticky snow off the windshield when the wiper wouldn't work. Got home at 7.30 a.m. nearly frozen and had to go to work. A trip one doesn't forget.

Boys Of Bowman Villa

* * * * * *

So does the twilight COBL contest at 6.15 tomorrow evening in Riverside Park as it's between the up-and-coming Oshawa Merchants, now crowding Batawa for second slot, and the loop-leading Petes. We can't tell you which hurler Eddie Murphy will start, Edger, Loucks or Whitehill. Paul Michael may be the Merchants' slab selection as Doug Sutton pitched them to an easy win night before last over the Locos. The hard-hitting Petes hope to take this one and they're also hoping for a hefty turnout of fans. It is likely some good baseball will be dished up.

Three Tied For First

Legion beat Knights 6-0 and Comstock's took B-A by a 9-2 count at the Bowl last e'en before a hefty gallery in men's softball. They weren't fast games but every tilt is getting right interesting now as they set their sights on those three playoff spots two weeks hence. And it doesn't look too good for the Knights at the moment. They've really got to hustle hard or they're out. On account of Comstock's, B-A and Legion are now in a three-way tie atop the heap with nine wins and seven losses each. While the K. of C.-ers have won five and dropped 11.

* * * * * *

Greenlaw had a little edge on Woods in the first fray as far as hurling goes, and Legion were a bit tighter defensively. Homers by White and Lewis didn't hurt their cause either. Hard hitting by Comstock's—with Thomson having a homer and three doubles to lead—was the main difference in the second scrap. Lucas was pounded out and Akers relieved in good style—though busting his shutout run—while Eakins pitched fine ball except for too many walks. Ed Starr caught for B-A and we hear Wimp Borland is after his release to catch for Legion. It was refused last eve and the loop executive will have to rule on this. July 15 is the deadline for signing players in this league and a player must take part in three games to be eligible for playoffs.

Smart Junior Baseball

Despite some loose fielding, the two local junior Lakeshore League baseball squads turned in a tight tilt last p.m. in Riverside. Kiwanis beat Kinsmen 6-4 and both Wade and Plunkett pitched nice ball. Kiwanis hit with ducks on the pond as the losers left a flock stranded. Menzies and Ferguson were the main stickers, while Sullivan and Hall hit homers. Sullivan looked real good at short in this nifty fray. A lot of fine baseballers coming up out of these two teams.

Legion Takes 6-0 Win From Knights

Bob Greenlaw blanked Knights 6-0 at the Bowl last night to give Legion a win and put them in a three-way tie for top place in the men's softball circuit. He gave up eight hits and fanned seven in a good showing, while Terry Woods was nearly as good on the losers' mound but for one bad frame. The fielding was pretty fair on both sides with catches by White and Condon defensive standouts. Apart from the Legion's five-run splurge on a walk, three singles, an error and a homer, it was a neat tussle.

Ken Withers turned in a fine show at the plate for Legion with three for three, while Lewis and White clouted homers. Tompkins and Kumpf had two for four each to lead the Knights at bat. Both teams were short-handed, and Legion had to use Doug Loucks as catcher, and he went good, while Knights put Kumpf out in right field, though he still has a bandaged finger.

Blackburn Triumphs

HAMILTON, July 9 (CP) — Cliff Blackburn of Montreal on Thursday night settled the question of Canadian representation in the welterweight boxing division of the Olympic games when he defeated Larry Simons of Brantford in their three round main bout on boxing card. Blackburn won every round. He floored Simons in the first round with a left hook and it was later revealed that in that round Simons suffered a nose fracture.

TRAFFIC AT THE CLUBHOUSE turn during the feature race at Arlington Park, Ill., recently was very heavy as the five horses were jockeyed into position for the drive down the stretch. The winner, Riot (3), ridden by Freddy Smith, hugged the rail as he took the lead, which he never relinquished. Riot was followed across the wire by Tri Step and Showdown (2) in that order.

Leafs Trounce Rochester Red Wings 8-3

By The Associated Press

Manager Eddie Sawyer's Toronto Maple Leafs continue to move up in the International League race, taking over a first-division berth after an early stay in the basement.

The veteran Luke Hamlin boosted the Phillies farm hands into fourth spot by an 8-3 edge over Rochester despite ragged fielding by both clubs. Of the seven errors, Toronto made four.

A big six-run second inning did the trick for Hamlin, who batted in two runs and scored another in the rout of starter Glen Gardner.

Montreal maintained its 10-game lead by blasting Buffalo 6-3 before 8,825 Montreal fans. Little Al Gionfriddo, who never hit more than 11 homers in any one season and who collected only three in the last three years, hit his 20th homer for the Royals. He shared batting honors with Chuck Connors who had three hits. Walter Nothe was the winner although he required help from Don Newcombe.

Dick Starr hurled Newark to an 8-3 decision over Baltimore, yielding nine hits. Bud Heslet homered for the Bears while Howie Moss and Ed Levy hit for the circuit for the Orioles. It was No. 21 for Moss.

Syracuse outlasted Jersey City in a slugfest, 10-6, on a two-run double by Frankie Drews in the eighth. This helped overcome a four-run homer by Sal Yvars in Jersey's half of the seventh.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

It will be W. Jeffries and R. Gamble vs. V. Hill and H. Coleman in the final game of the club's play-offs. This game is called for 7.30 o'clock Saturday evening.

In the other semi-final game, of the club's playoffs, played last night, W. Jeffries and R. Gamble won from B. Collis and A. Black by 27-9. So completely did the winners dominate the play that A. Black and B. Collis called it a day at the 18th end. The game itself was only spotty and in fairness to all the boys, they are quite capable of playing far better than they did last night. It looked to us as if it was just an off-day.

The open doubles for tonight is on at 7.00 o'clock. Choose your own partner.

The committee in charge of the big doubles tournament for next Wednesday is working hard on all details. All they need now is a fine day and the event is bound to be a success.

Comstock's Get 9-2 Verdict Over B-A Team

Comstock's beat B-A 9-2 last night before a good crowd at the Bowl to make it a three-way tie for first place in the City Softball League, with Knights trailing. In a slow game, Eakins pitched six-hit ball and fanned seven, but walked eight, and did not have too good support. Lucas was hit hard on the other mound and Akers relieved him in the third inning. Ron broke his shutout streak in the next heat. Their support was good but the heavy hitting of Comstock's meant the difference.

Blair Thomson paced the winners' attack at bat with a homer and three doubles in five tries, while McCarthy hit a home run and had two singles in five. Eakins, Anderson and Mackness each hit safely twice. None of the losers got more than one safe blow nor an extra-base hit. Eddie Starr caught for B-A in this game and Wimp Borland is seeking his release to catch for Legion.

Blackwell Shows Old Zip As Reds Dump Cubs 4-0

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer

Ewell Blackwell's return to his 1947 form is the saddest news National League hitters have heard since opening day.

The lean Cincinnati ace showed his old time zip Thursday in striking out 13 Chicago batters while blanking the Cubs with seven hits for a 4-0 victory. It was his first complete game since the opener.

In the wild National League scramble which has failed to produce a standout consistent club, the return of a sure-fire winner like Blackwell could be decisive. His importance might well be the number of defeats he can hang on Boston, New York, St. Louis and Brooklyn rather than the number of wins he produces for the Reds.

Eddie Stanky, the National League's all-star second baseman, was injured in Brooklyn while his Braves were snapping the Dodgers' six-game victory string, 7-4. Stanky suffered a sprained ankle in a collision with third baseman Bruce Edwards who got off lightly with a spiked right shin. Boston's peppery infielder may miss the all-star game at St. Louis Tuesday.

Braves pulled the game out of the fire on Jim Russell's bases-loaded homer off Joe Hatten.

Dump St. Louis

Pittsburgh kept pace with the Braves, remaining 2½ games back in second place, by dumping St. Louis 6-4. The Pirates scored five runs in the first inning after two were out.

An epidemic of injuries also hit the American League where pitcher Early Wynn of Washington and third baseman George Kell of Detroit, an all-star team regular, suffered sprained ankles.

Wynn was forced to retire in the second inning of a night game at Boston when Birdie Tebbetts lashed a single off his right ankle. The Red Sox nicked Wynn for two runs before he left and added another pair off Forest Thompson for a 4-1 edge behind lefty Mel Parnell.

Kell's injury, described as "not serious" forced him to retire from Detroit's game with St. Louis in the eighth inning. The Tigers were well on their way to a 12-2 romp at that time.

Slug White Sox

Cleveland opened up a full game on Philadelphia by slugging the hapless Chicago White Sox, 14-1, while New York edged the Athletics, 6-5.

Ken Keltner hit his 20th homer and Jim Hegan his fifth for Cleveland.

Tommy Henrich's grand slam homer helped the Yankees and a four-game losing streak by beating the A's. The four-run clout tied the score at 5-5 in the seventh and New York took the nod in the eighth on George McQuinn's double, a sacrifice and Cliff Mapes' fly.

Commisso Leads Scarboro Play

TORONTO, July 9.—(CP). — Twenty-three amateurs and 38 professionals tee off today in the 36-hole medal play final for the Ontario open golf championship, being played over the Scarboro Club layout.

Led by Frank Commisso, professional at Rochester, N.Y., Irondequoit, who fired a three-under-par 68, the players required a 79 to qualify and not the 77 that pre-tournament speculation had indicated.

In second place was Bill Kerr, Montreal Beaconsfield pro, with a 69, one stroke ahead of Elmer Blower, Toronto Weston pro. The leading amateur, Bernard Johnson, Hamilton Chedoke, was fourth with a 71.

Other scores included Hugh Logan, Jr., Peterborough 38-42—80, and L. Ross, Cobourg, 40-40—80.

Rochon Victory StartlesMexicans

MONTREAL, July 9.—(CP).—Henri Rochon's sparkling singles victory Thursday threw a scare into the Mexican Davis Cup camp, and the invaders reacted promptly with the announcement that their singles ace, Armando Vega, will play in the doubles today, partnered by Gustavo alafox.

In the opening singles match of the North American zone tie Thursday, Rochon gave Canada an early lead by running away from Francisco Guerrero in three straight sets, 6-2, 7-5, 6-4. Then Vega of Mexico gave Canada's Brendan Macken the same treatment to even matters, winning 6-4, 6-1, 6-3.

With the matches tied 11, and a doubles and two singles left, the Mexcan team captaip, Ignacio De La Bordolla, apparently wants to make sure of a doubles triumph today, leaving Mexico needing only a victory in one of Saturday's last two singles clashes.

Rochon's brilliant victory gave the Canadian team a much-needed lift and sen their confidence soaring. Canada hadn't won a Davis Cup singles match since 1939, when the Canadian team won one match while losing 4-1 to Cuba. One has to go all the way back to 1933 to find the last Canadian victory in a Davis Cup when Canada beat Cuba 4-1 that year.

Bumper Crop Of New Plays Aids Broadway

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 9 (AP). — A bumper crop of new plays by top-American playwrights will make the next Broadway season one of the brightest in years, John Garfield predicts.

"Odets, Kingsley, Kaufman, Hart, Ferber and Anderson all have fine work to present," the actor said. He's none too happy about it, however.

"So many productions are being readied that I can't find a theatre to stage my own play," he declared. He wants to appear in "Peer Gynt," but so far he hasn't been able to rent, or buy a theatre.

Film Finances

"Arch of Triumph" ran up a bill of $4,250,000 before distribution, which will add about a million more. It can't show a profit at those prices. Even name draws like Bergman and Boyer can't pull a picture out of the dumps these days.

On the brighter side is Red Skelton's "Fuller Brushman," which was made for $750,000, a minor sum in this high-priced era It is cleaning up everywhere, being an entertainment film geared for solid laugns.

About People

Janis Paige is testing for "Happy Times" with Danny Kaye . . . It's Hizzoner the Schnow now. Jimmy Durante was named honorary mayor of Arrowhead . . Walter Huston is taking life easy waiting for the right scrift.

Dennis O'Keefe limped back to the "Cover Up" set after a siege of a throat infection and sunburn. He plans his own production of "Draw Sabers," to star himself, Sonny Tufts and Broderick Crawford. It's a cavalry and Indians story along the lines of "Fort Apache." Nothing succeeds like success.

Bill Bendix, who plays his first Western in "Streets of Laredo," says it was inevitable. "I've done everything else, from throwing pies to playing Santa Claus," he says. "It had to happen." . . .

Sunday Football Dealt Blow, By Hamilton

OTTAWA, July 9 (CP)—Sunday football almost was driven out on a rail when Hamilton Wildcats—new blood in the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union—launched an all-out effort here Thursday to scratch out the Sabbath from a Big Four schedule.

The final upshot saw the Wildcats' proposed two games in Montreal on the Sabbath sliced to one to clear the fields for a grand football opening in Montreal Aug. 31.

Hamilton, taking its cue from the old die-hards Toronto Argonauts who all along have refused to play on the Sabbath, told a Big Four executive meeting here they would lose a heap of players plus financial backing if the schedule goes through as proposed.

One of their players, said the Wildcats, was the son of a clergyman. A financial sponsor, they added, was also a prominent church leader.

Costly Business

The all-day squabble behind closed doors ended with Montreal taking two games at home on the Sabbath, one with Hamilton as visitors on Oct. 17 and the other with Ottawa on Oct. 10.

One fact not talked too much about was that Montreal with its games at Delorimier Stadium took it on the chin, losing an expected $20,000-a-game revenue through the Sunday football clip.

The schedule as in 1947 gives each team six games home and six away. The opening game is under the lights at Montreal Aug. 31 with Ottawa Rough Riders as the visiting team. Last regular games are scheduled for Nov. 16.

SOMETHING NEW has been added to the equipment needed by a baseball umpire. It's a new type plastic body protector that is 75 per cent lighter in weight and costs 50 per cent less. The chest protector weighs three pounds as compared to the 12-pound handicap of the old protector. Cal Hubbard demontrates above.

The first heat of the class was won by Hal Stout which edged out Stewart Worthy by a head in a driving stretch duel.

Two trotters, Scott Pointer and Petro Lee, battled it out in the 2:26 class with the former, owned by J. L. Waples of Victoria Harbour, winning two of three heats.

Voodooism, a primitive form of fetish-worship was brought from Africa into America and the West Indies by the imported Negro slaves.

EVERY OUNCE of effort has just been put into the shot made by Louise Brough, US national tennis champ, as she is shown during her semi-final game against Mrs. Todd in the Wimbledon championships at London, Eng. Miss Brough defeated Mrs. Todd and went on to ditto Doris Hart in the final. Miss Brough may now take a bow as the world's top woman tennis player.

Queen's And Legion Take Lacrosse Wins

Queen's Hotel continued their winning ways last night in the first game of a scheduled juvenile lacrosse doubleheader at Miller Bowl, defeating Scouts 12 to 5. Goal scorers for Queens were G. Robinson 4, R. Robinson 2, Beavis 3, McMaster 2 and Whitnall 1. Webb led the Scouts with two goals while Sadler, Berwick and Willshaw each had one. Queen's featured nice passing while attacking, however their backchecking could stand a lot of improvement. Scouts were very disorganized.

Queens—B. Robinson, R. Robinson, Crowder, Whitnell, Beavis, Shearer, O'Donnel, O'Donoghue, McMaster, Batley.

Scouts—Webb, Sadler, Berwick, Willshaw, Curtis, Farley, Casey.

Second Game

The second game was the most exciting juvenile lacrosse game at Miller Bowl to date with the Legion, coached by Jerry O'Toole, coming from behind to edge the Comstock entry, coached by Ira Dundas, 9 to 8. Comstock's were leading 6 to 1 at half time, but were unable to cope with the fine team work displayed by Legion in the last half.

Crowley led Legion marksmen with three goals with all the team playing well. Sedgwick and Dewar led the Comstock attack, with Dewart notching four goals.

Legion: Crowley, Wakeford, Fontaine, Carravaggie, Mullen, Foster, Levasseur, Fitzgerald, O'Reilly, Hickson.

Comstock's: P. Holland, Vincent, Russelle, C. Russelle, Grant, Dewar, Payne, Lagano, Carveth, Sedgwick.

England Shows Better Score

MANCHESTER, Eng., July 9—(Reuters)—England had scored 323 for seven wickets in their first innings by the luncheon interval today on the second day of the third cricket test match against Australia.

Denis Compton, with his left eye badly bruised and partly closed following his injury Thursday, when a ball struck him, continued his brilliant fighting innings this morning and reached his second century of the season against Australia.

A fine unfinished stand of 107 for the eighth wicket in just over two hours between Compton and Alec Bedser enabled England to put together a better score than was at one time thought possible.

Compton showed no sign of any handicap when he batted today and was completely at ease against the Australian attack. He reached his century in just under four hours and hit nine 4s.

Bedser also batted confidently and reached his highest score in a test match against Australia. The pair took England's score along steadily and at lunch their stand was only 21 short of the record partnership for England against Australia, set by Patsy Hendren and Harold Larwood in 1928-29.

The score-card:

ALTHOUGH HE HAS TRIED to discourage those who want to see him president of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower seems happy enough to be president of Columbia University. The popular general is shown waving here after he delivered an informal address to more than 17,000 summer students from the steps of the Low Memorial library. The general stated uneqivocally that he would not accept nomination for political office. "Eisenhower-for-president" advocates, however, still hope that he can be persuaded to accept the Democratic nomination for president.

Harrison Denies Any Knowledge Of Second Landis Suicide Note

LOS ANGELES, July 9 (AP).—The Carole Landis suicide case is closed, as far as the coroner's office is concerned.

After actor Rex Harrison's statement at an informal inquiry Thursday that he did not know why the screen star took her life, Coroner Ben Brown said: "I have gone to the limits of my authority."

Harrison's testimony from the deposition stated that the death of Miss Landis, 29, and his friend and neighbor, was a "great tragedy."

"She was a fine actress and a wonderful woman," said hsi deposition.

It was then that Harrison, in his deposition, said that he knew of no second note. The police found one note addressed to Miss Landis' mother, in which she said she was sorry.

After the depostiion was read Harrison was called to the stand. He reiterated he knew of no second note.

Maid Testifies

Later at the hearing Miss Landis' maid, Mrs. Fannie May Bolden, testified that after Harrison took her to the actress' second-floor bedroom he went to a table "and found a note."

"He cried 'Oh darling, why did you do it, why did you do it'," the maid testified.

At this point Deputy Coroner Ira Nance showed Mrs. Bolden the note Miss Landis addressed to her mother and asked the witness if she could identtify it as the note she had seen.

The maid said she couldn't but it resembled that note.

"Did Mrs. Florence Wasson (a friend of Miss Landis who went to the actress' home after the body was found) say anything about a second note?" asked the deputy coroner.

"She told me on the note it said for me not to say anything and to take care of the cat; to see that the cat was taken to the veterinarian and its leg fixed."

Mrs. Wasson, the next witness, said someone, she didn't know who, handed her a note at the Landis home.

"It was addressed to anyone," Mrs. Wasson saaid. "It just saaid 'please take Miss C (the cat) to the vet's.' There was nothing in the note about not telling anybody. I just told the maid that as I would tell my own servant."

Note Vanishes

Mrs. Wasson said. "It just said note back to someone, she didn't know who, and hasn't seen it since.

Harrison's lawyer, Judge Downing, said the depostiion would answer all the questions everyone had been asking."

Among the questions "everyone has been asking" are the exact reasons for Miss Landis' suicide by taking sleeping potions in her luxurious hillside home, and whether she left another note besides the one found, addressed to her mother.

Downing did not say specifically whether the depositions would answer these questions, or whether Harrison knew the answers.

Harrison found the body of the slumped on the bathroom floor at 29-year-old film beauty Monday her Riviera home. He had dined with her Sunday night and apparently was the last one to see her alive.

U.S. Starts Biggest Peacetime Defence Program In History

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

NEW YORK, July 9 (CP)—The United States has started its biggest-ever peacetime armaments program.

President Truman's signature on defence bills passed by Congress means sharp boosts in manpower and equipment for all three services.

Between 200,000 and 250,000 men will be drafted for military service during the next year—the first peacetime conscription in American history.

Fear of Russia spurred Congress to pass the administration's defence legislation and provide more than $10,000,000,000 for the navy, army and air force in 1948-49.

Kenneth C. Royall, secretary of the army, has forecast a mobile striking force of 18 infantry and armored divisions by next year. He acknowledged the armament drive, forced as it was by "bitter actualities, might itself create a risk of war."

Increases Expected

Congress' money bills provide for these increases in service strength:

	To (Approx.)	July 1 1949
Navy	390,000	434,675
Army	550,000	790,000
Air Force	380,000	444,500
Marines	80,000	89,225
Totals	1,400,000	1,758,400

But the draft act authorizes a total strength at next July of 2,160,200, without providing the necessary funds. Supplementary appropriations may be asked for later.

Expand Reserve Forces

In addition, the reserve (part-time) forces will be expanded. For instance, the National Guard, American equivalent of Canada's Civilian Reserve Army, will be boosted from 250,000 to 341,000.

September 22 is the possible starting date for compulsory call-up under the Draft Act. Selective service, idle since April 1, 1947, when the wartime draft ran out, probably will start registering draftees Aug. 15.

All men 19 to 25 years of age are subject to call into the regular forces, unless they are veterans with one year's peacetime or 90 days' wartime service. President Truman may set up deferments for married men, men in essential jobs, or men in scientific or medical research and study.

Until next July 1, the navy has more than $5,000,000,000 to spend, the army and air force together $6,705,418,163.

Cattle Market Hits Old Stride With Prices Steady

TORONTO, July 9.—(CP). — The livestock market here this week hit its old stride as trade bounced back into activity and prices steadied at good levels. The cattle run of 4,600 head was more than 3,000 head greater than the previous week but some 300 head less than for the same week in 1947.

Prices advanced $1-$1.50 on all good grades of butcher cattle and 25-50 cents on plain to common grades. Several small lots of outstanding weighty steers were offered Tuesday resulting in a broad price range for weighty steers. The highs of $23.50 and $24 was not actually an increase in price but an increase in quality.

Good cow heifers and fed yearlings featured the largest increase in price. Good stockers increased 50 cents a hundredweight over last week's close on brisk market. Poorer quality stockers sold steady on a slow market. Included in the run were some 400 western stockers.

Weighty steers sold from $18-$24 and butcher steers from $17-$22. Heifers ranged from $15-$20.50 and good cows sold from $14.50-$15.50 with light heifer cows up to $17. Canners and cutters sold downward to $6.50. Good bulls brought $14.50-$15.50 with common and plain lightweights selling downward to $8. Fed yearlings sold from $19-$23.50 with the bulk at $20-$22. Ordinary quality milkers and springers were $100-$160 each, and a few grass cows sold from $9-$13.

Calves totalled 2,300 head. Choice vealers opened steady at $21.50 to $23 with an odd top of $23.50. Common to medium sold slow with narrow demand at one dollar lower for the week and downward to $12.

Hogs totalled 2,200 head. Grade A were unsettled until Wednesday when the price settled 50 cents lower at $31.25. Sows were unsettled at the beginnings of the week at $20 but settled later at $21, a decline of $2.

Sheep and lambs were $1,400 head. Good spring lambs sold $1 a hundredweight lower than last week's close at $22 a hundredweight. Good light sheep were slow at $5-$9 while fat heavy sheep were slow and hard to sell at $5-$6. Fat heavy sheep are expected to get little demand during next week.

District Farms Fail To Attract City Students

With the schools closed for the summer, a few Peterborough students are working on farms, but the figures are small in comparison with some cities in Ontario. More than 325 Ottawa students, for example, are working on farms in all parts of the province.

A total of 32 students were excused the June examinations at the Collegiate and allowed to go on farms, but most of these students were the sons and daughters of farmers and were excused to help at their homes.

William Mellis, manager of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, says that students earn more money working in plants and at summer resorts and that few want jobs on farms. Boys wanting to become engineers naturally prefer to work in a factory, and students who have no particular choice will go where they earn the most money.

A student working on a farm has no expenses to pay and can save the major part of his salary. If he has been working on farms during the summer for several years, he may earn as much as $60 a month, but if he is just starting he will earn about $40 a month, depending on his age and ability. These figures are not sufficiently attractive to local students and so construction work, plants and summer resorts employ the majority of them.

SUMMER SCHOOL STUDENTS are sweating out five of their summer vacation weeks at the PCVS, taking one or more of nine subjects, that will enable them to gain sufficient Upper School subjects to become fully-qualified teachers. Humor Lightens Heavy Figures

Mayor Ovens and Ald. Dick Raine are probably the wits of the council. After the conversations of the parks committee and the Recreation Commission Wednesday night, Armar Butcher of the parks department was recounting some of the frictions in his experience of trying to keep parks tidy and orderly. One of the incidents was the location of the play plot at Inverlea Park.

In the midst of the incidental blues session, Mayor Ovens said: "You wouldn't have an aspirin on you, Dick?" Ald Raine said: "Our motto is we try to please the customers," as he fingered a white pellet out of his pocket. Mayor Ovens went through with the jest by swallowing it.

When John R. Marshall mentioned Thursday night the prospect of approximately $1,750,000 for the completion of Civic Hospital as planned for 256 beds, Ald. Raine said: "Maybe you need two aspirins tonight, Mr. Mayor."

"Past the stage of aspirin aid," His Worship replied.

Canada Needs Many More Small Industries

MONTREAL, July 9 (CP) — Canadians lack interest in raising funds for industries in the Dominion although there is "plenty of money for mortgages on homes and office buildings," John Brockhouse, British steel executive, said here Thursday night.

"It would be much healthier for Canada's economy if her industrial set-up comprised a lot of small organizations rather than a few monopolistic big industries," said Mr. Brockhouse, chairman and managing director of John Brockhouse and Co., Ltd.

It appears to me that most of Canada's large firms are subsidiaries of firms owned outside the Dominion."

He is returning to Britain after establishing a receiving depot for his firm in Lindsay.

Playground Planned For Small Children

To recognize the evidence of community spirit in the Hamilton-McKellar streets area, the parks department has arranged a little ceremony for the opening this evening of its playground for small children.

Mayor Ovens, Ald. Herbert Young, chairman of the parks committee, Ald. Hurrell Dodds are three of those who Superintendent Armar Butcher reports as having promised to attend.

"I'm going to do my best to be there," said Ald. Young. "This is the kind of community enterprise which I think should get any encouragement we can give. Personally what I would like to see are neighborhood groups like the Trojan Athletic Club. It must be operating five or six years, and men like Mr. Arthur Pagett and those who have been so effectively associated with him down there have done a real service. They have carried on most of their financing themselves."

Ald. Young said that when civic spirit is aroused in one direction it was likely to remain active and seek other things to do.

67.7% Children Are Found Require Dental Treatment

Dental Officer Dr. S. J. Graham reported to the Board of Education on Thursday night the results of a checkup at Queen Alexandra and King George Schools, which showed that 493 pupils were examined, and 1,425 cavities found.

During the school year, a total of 3,423 pupils were examined in the various public schools, and 1,125 were found to have teeth in good condition. However, 67.7 per cent. needed treatment of some sort, and altogether 2,743 cavities were treated, and 229 extractions made.

Average attendance for all public schools was 94.85 per cent., and a total of 3,627 students were on the rolls. This is an increase of almost 300 over last year's enrollment.

At PCVS in June average attendance on the academic side was 98.75 p.c. and on the vocational side 98.84 p.c., with an average overall average of 98.78 p.c. This is a better record than for June of 1947, though there were 1,007 enrolled this year against 1,027 in June, 1947.

Superintendent of schools K. S. Wightman and board secretary J. E. Huggins will attend this fall a convention of the international Association of School Business Officials to be held in St. Louis from October 10 to 4.

A letter to the board from F. S Rutherford, deputy minister of education, approved the board's appointment of K. S. Wightman as superintendent of schools.

The board approved a recommendation of the property committee that a new boiler be placed in May's school, to replace the 36-year-old boiler that is in bad condition.

A vacancy on the PCVS caretaking staff resulting from the resignation of D. Flint, brought about the board's approval of the appointment of Edgar Ritchie.

The board also gave its approval to the commencement this summer of a six-week English course to be taught girls who have recently arrived in Canada from Europe, at the PCVS under the same system as fall and winter night school.

Meeting Every Night For Mayor Ovens

In the holiday absence of Mayor William Ovens, Ald. Max Swanston will preside as acting Mayor at a special meeting of the Council Monday, July 12, "to consider the bylaw for the early closing of gasoline sales outlets." It will be followed by the regular meeting of the finance committee.

Mayor Ovens has had a meeting every night this week, one of the busiest of the year. These are just the evening engagements apart from the affairs of the day and private business. Council meeting was Monday night, property committee Tuesday, dealing with the problem of city-owned buildings and houses; Wednesday evening was the session with the Recreation Commission; Thursday evening—the appointment with representatives of the Board of Governors of Civic Hospital; and the Mayor goes down to the McKellar section tonight to congratulate citizens of the neighborhood for playground interest.

That program suggests Mayor Ovens has earned a rest as he turns the reins over to Ald. Swanston for several weeks.

Union To Accept 13 Cents CGE Settlement

Included in a tentative agreement between CGE and the UEW at present negotiating in Toronto are: a 13-cents-an-hour increase, increased overtime pay, and the checkoff for all new employees of the firm.

Members of the Joint Negotiating Committee brought back this news to union members who packed the Market Hall on Thursday night. They pointed out that final settlement has not yet been reached as 16 or 18 articles of the new contract still remain to be discussed.

Those present were not asked to ratify the articles tentatively agreed upon. Committee members pointed out they were only giving a progress report and a union expression of opinion at this stage of negotiations was not necessary.

Mervin Chambers, president of Local 524, told the workers that the committee was satisfied with the 13-cent boost and Jack Morton, a committee member, said that a master agreement (that is an agreement embracing all CGE locals) had been accepted by the company. Any local however retains the right to put in its own termination of contract.

All new employees must from now on be subject to the checkoff The present employees, apparently, remain unaffected. There will still be an open shop and new employees need not join the union.

45-Hour Week

According to the terms of the new contract still being hammered out at Queen's Park the workweek remains at 45 hours but time on Saturday or Sunday is paid at time and a half basis. If the shifts fall on statutory holidays the wage will be two and a half times the normal rate.

The 13-cent-an-hour clause, retroactive to July 1, is operative for one year and no "wage opener" is provided.

Negotiations are continuing with piecework, vacations, and job evaluation, among other things, still to be decided.

C. S. Jackson, district president, said the walkouts at Toronto plants on Thursday were not ordered by the committee. He described them as spontaneous demonstrations on the part of the workers who were tired of waiting for a settlement.

Tribute was paid to the mediating abilities of Louis Fine, chief conciliation officer of the Ontario Department of Labor who sat in on negotiations and finally broke the deadlock.

Piano Mover Badly Injured

LINDSAY, July 9.—(ENS). — Pinned against a platform while moving a piano from in front of the town hall, Don Embury, 53, of Lindsay, was rushed to Ross Memorial Hospital today, where it was found that he was paralyzed from the waist down. X-rays revealed no fractures, Dr. W. C Blackwell said. Embury was one of six Board of Works men who were moving away the piano following last night's dance on Kent St. According to the report, the piano slipped and pinned Embury, William Rose and Robert Williams. The latter two men suffered bruises to the arms, shoulders and neck, while the other workers, George Saville, Sonny Saville and Art Peters were unhurt. Rose and Williams were released after treatment.

Board Requires $1,850,000 Of Additional Money To Complete New Hospital

By HARRY THEOBALD

To complete Peterborough Civic Hospital as planned originally for 265 beds will require approximately $1,850,000 more than the funds now available and estimated, John R. Marshall, chairman of the Board of Governors, informed the committee of the whole council Thursday night. He was accompanied by T. T. Rodger, treasurer of the board. Ald. Richard Raine was chairman of the meeting.

The first proposal coming from the Board, as reviewed in a financial brief by Mr. Marshall, was the approaching necessity of preparing to build the power house and laundry.

"We should have a decision on that matter within 30 days," Mr. Marshall said. "We expect to have the present building enclosed, with the roof on, for work inside during the winter, and it will be necessary to provide some way of heating. By arranging to proceed with power house and boiler plant we can save $6,000 or $7,000 that would have to be spent for temporary means of heating."

Commence Study

The committee recommended to the council:— the general undertaking to begin study of ways and means of financing the construction for the entire design and accommodation for 265 beds.

Nothing binding or committing was implied in that motion by Ald. Hugh Waddell and Mayor Ovens. It was an affirmative answer to the proposal that the council consider the broad plan of the hospital and the financing of the work.

The next step in the discussion was immediate agreement with the obvious fact that a heating plant and laundry, combined in one building, was an integral part of the hospital. Nothing could operate without that power source It seemed then to be a discovery of the members of the council that this unit was not included in the Eastwood Construction Co. contract. It further transpired that the contract embraced only the building now in progress.

It was recommended to the council, to facilitate the approaching stage of expanding construction, that a supplementary agreement with the contractor, Eastwood Construction Co. to provide for the erection of the boiler plant and laundry. The council undertakes also to finance this additional construction from within the present funds.

Nurses' Residence

A residence for nurses is another separate building that has yet to be designed and let in contract for construction. The architect's estimate for this residence, as quoted by Mr. Marshall, is $738,000, and the contractor's estimate is $634,685. Both these figures were regarded as mere approximations with a difference of 14 per cent generally between the two. Mayor Ovens insisted that the item of the nurses residence be eliminated for the present from the undertaking to explore the prospect of financing the 265-bed institution. His Worship said he could not understand how such a total was arrived at. He estimated as an illustration of the cost that it would average something more than $6,000 for each nurse for whom it would be built.

Mayor Ovens said the council heartily wished to see buildings worthy of the city and also of service to the hospital, but he declared that he wanted more information as to why the residence should mount up to $738,000 as figured by the architect and $634,688 in the estimate of the contractor. The committee made the request that the Board of Governors should do some more exploring on their part of the probable cost of the nurses residence.

In arriving at an aproximation of the additional funds, if the 265-bed building was to be erected, Mr. Marshall used the figures obtained from the contractor.

Four Million Dollars

These are the achitect's view of costs: the main present building $2,245,319; boiler house and laundry $218,000; additional east wing $549,000; nurses residence $37,000; furnishings and fixtures $336,000. Total—$4,086,319.

The contractor's corresponding estimates were: main present building $1,930,890; heating plant and laundry $187,450; additional east wing $472,140; nurses residence $634,688; furnishings and fixtures $289,000. Total—$3,514,178.

These amounts relate to the entire original project for 265 beds. Mr. Marshall presented other outlined figures what is likely to be required from the present financial prospects::

Contractor's estimate of the final cost $3,514,178, funds as estimated from various sources $1,680,000; leasing a gap of $1,834,178 to be contemplated by the council in their promised survey of the possibilities.

One of the statements from the Board was that the estimated basic cost of the hospital was $1.25 in 1946; to which should be added the graded increases: 20% in 1947; plus 15% in 1948; plus 10% to provide for contingencies. Total as Ald. Waddell computed it, $1.87 per cubic foot.

Mr. Marshall said the roof would be on the present building by August, and it would all be enclosed by the end of the year, permitting interior work to go on without interruption.

The present building provides for 180 beds, but the power plant, laundry, operating rooms, nurses' residence, the necessary services are designed for the eventual accommodation of 265 beds.

Cty Clerk Outram interjected the observation that the increased financing which was being discussed represented roughly five mills in the tax rate on the basis of the assessment of $35,000,000.

Another aspect of costs as quoted by Mr. Marshall was: "It will cost $1,000,000 as it stands and $2,000,000 more than we have for the buildings as planned."

Mr. Marshall suggested the further financing might be kept to $1,750,000 if conditions were favorable. He also remarked later that the council would understand that a round sum of $2,000,000 would provide sufficient margin for roads, and landscaping and generally the finishing touches.

The government and municipal grants were taken into consideration in the compiling of the available funds, Mr. Marshall said. Aid from the province and dominion was computed on the most recent intimations of contributions based on the number of beds.

Several thousand veterans are expected to take part in a grand march past planned for Warriors' Day, Saturday, July 17 at the Exhibition Grounds. Final plans were made on Thursday evening at a meeting of the general committee of the Old Veterans' Home at the Legion Hall.

Three trotting events are to be held with a $200 purse for each and well-known horsemen from Oshawa, Cobourg and other points will be taking part.

Admission tickets will be good not only for admittance to the grounds and grandstand, but also for the many gate prizes. All proceeds will go to the fund for an Old Veterans' Home in the Peterborough district.

Ex-RSM Andy Jackson of the Prince of Wales Rangers Association will be in charge of the parade and march past in front of the grandstand. The Ladies' Auxiliary of Branch 52 Canadian Legion, the Duffy Club of the Hasty P's Organization and the Peterborough Naval Association are to sell refreshments. The CGE Veterans' Association will run several games.

Mel Morrow presided at the meeting at which representatives of six local veterans' organizations were present.

FRIENDLY PIGEON

A pigeon that is apparently too friendly for his own good spent a social morning at the farm of Donald Cameron on the boundary between Asphodel and Otonabee townships. Early in the morning Neil Cameron, 18, found the bird in the barnyard eating from a pail of corn. He seemed so matey with all the farm animals that the Camerons were worried lest he decide to sport with the cat who, it seems, has a short way of dealing with pigeons. The grey-colored bird has a band with the stamp TEC (42) 4151.

The Act, introduced late Thursday at the special three-day session, will remain in force until the close of the first session of the legislature next year.

It followed a charge that the government had been negligent in failing to strengthen the Fraser River water defences.

Peel Sportsmen To Provide 4,000 Pheasants

BRAMPTON, July 9.—(CP).—Peel county sportsmen, some 500 of them, have gone into business—an unusual enterprise from which they expect not to get one thick buck.

All members of the Peel Game and Fish Protective Association, they have invested money, time and labor in a plan that will provide 4,000 pheasants for the fall hunting season.

Using converted airport buildings from nearby Dunnville, they have established a comfortable hatchery in which 120 hen pheasants have been laying eggs at the rate of one a day. The incubator chicks have thrived and they will be ready for release in time for the open season.

The only gain foreseeable for "directors" of the business is the knowledge the shooting should be good.

Superintendent Bert Large, former Dominion championship lacrosse player, blames skunks for the heaviest raids on the game bird population. He said they will destroy far more eggs and birds than any fox.

Large believes a change in fur fashions is responisble for the increase in foxes and skunks. Fox pelts formerly fetched $18. Now they sell for $2. Skunk pelts bring 50 cents.

Arrest 15 Pickets At Port Colborne

PORT COLBORNE, July 9. — (CP).—Fifteen CSU pickets were arrested in Port Colborne and vicinity over night and charged with carrying offensive weapons.

They were arrested by Port Colborne and RCMP police who collected an assortment of clubs and bats as the weapons.

The arrests are a sequel to the early morning raid on the freighter Royalton, when crew members were assaulted and four put in hospital.

U.S. Navy Vessels Join Canadian Ships

BOSTON, July 9.—(C).—United States navy vessels will sail from here next week for Arctic exercises with Canadian warships, it was reported today.

Several American fighting vessels were expected to rendezvous at Boston and then sail to meet the Canadian ships to form "Task Force 80" for manoeuvres in Northern Canadian waters.

The task force would operate northward toward Greenland and westward through Davis Strait and Baffin Bay as far as ice conditions permit.

Purpose of the expedition to the north was said to be visit weather stations and observation posts manned by Americans and Canadians in Northern Canada.

He returned to India in March, 1947, as the last viceroy and he was Britain's instrument in the transfer of power to India and Pakistan.

The First Cruiser Squadron, now commanded by Rear Admiral R. V. Symond-Taylor, is part of the Mediterranean Fleet. It is normal for it to operate in that area.

Australia Drops Price Controls; Fears Inflation

CANBERRA, July 9 —(CP) — Federal government ministers predict a long period of inflation in Australia.

They base their fears on the abolition of controls on rents and prices, and the possibility of the treasury abandoning prices subsidies following the government defeat on the prices referendum last May 29.

Some ministers say the states will not take over effective control of prices because they fear to impose restrictive measures after the people voted against them. One minister said in an interview that the people did not realize what the government had been protecting them from and attributed the huge "No" vote to their general irritation with controls and administration from Canberra.

The federal cabinet's decision to hand over price control to the individual states within three months has set the state governments a problem. They have not the necessary legislation or manpower to take over and would have to summon their parliaments —now on mid-winter recess—to rush through legislation to hold prices at their present level when the federal government hands over to them.

It is believed the federal government will suggest that the states "freeze" prices to allow themselves plenty of time to get together and form a uniform policy for all the states.

Business men have welcomed the government's decision. Retail merchants argued that control on such items as leather goods, cosmetics, travel goods and millinery should be abolished as these things are in plentiful supply throughout the commonwealth.

But the removal of controls on food and clothing is not contemplated at present because of its possible effect on supplies to Britain, particularly in the case of meat and butter.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK —By J. R. Scott

Australia Wants 15 Million People

LONDON, July 9 —(CP)—The Evening Standard says in a front-page story today that plans for migration to Australia of up to 15,000,000 British men, women and children is "expected to be put before the Government" by Prime Minister Chifley of Australia, who arrived here Wednesday.

It added that the plan "is unlikely to find immediate favor with the Cabinet."

The paper said that Chifley, attending a Cabinet meeting today, "will presumably argue that Britain cannot on economic and strategic grounds continue to maintain her present population of more than 45,000,000, whereas Australia with only 7,000,000 is underpopulated and desperately needs immigrants to build up her economy and ensure her safety."

It added: "Migration from Britain of whole factories, industries and even towns is believed to be a part of Chifley's plans."

Fashion Flashes

Right straight atop the head sits the plateau hat. A nice design is in white straw, the front slightly rippled. It is trimmed with upshooting wings of white, and a white sling veil.

❖ ❖ ❖

Latest fad is to invest in one of those grand terry towelling robes and to have it dyed to match the color of the bathroom color scheme or at least, to dye it to match the towels. Nice and practical.

❖ ❖ ❖

Best bet for the rather heavy of figure, is one color from head to feet. All beige and all gray, especially a deeper tone are two colors that do well. A famous movie star, blonde and beautiful, but inclined to a little heft, goes in for this and has top-to-toe outfits in gray, and in beige, which were included in the recent fabulous trousseau, as well as outfits in all pink, navy and bottle green.

❖ ❖ ❖

A beach beauty of a two-piece suit is of a sort of glossy chintz fabric in a pink and green shell and marine print. The wide bra is molded and strapless, the full skirt is edged around the hem with bands of whiite eyelet embroidery.

❖ ❖ ❖

Getting lighter in color is the silk suit. A beautiful evening suit is of turquoise blue silk faille, the snug, collarless jacket trimmed with tiny circles of pearl and golden bead embroidery.

❖ ❖ ❖

Linen looms large for Summer wear. A pretty frock in white linen with a wide panel of eyelet embroidery from neck to hem. High-round neckline with tiny, turn-down collar.

DOROTHY DIX

Couple Happy With In-laws When No Meddling Allowed

DEAR MISS DIX: For the life of me I cannot understand why any married couple has in-law trouble. If they do it is their own fault. Both my mother - in - law and my father-in law live in the same house with my wife, two children and me, yet we have no difficulty in getting along amicably together.

Dorothy Dix

The reason is that my wife will not permit her mother to butt into our private affairs. I use the same tactics in dealing with my mother. I make her keep hands off and no meddling in our business, so my wife gets along beautifully with my mother, and they are friends instead of enemies.

I write this letter to show that it is perfectly possible to live in peace with your in-laws if you use the right tactics.

A HAPPY HUSBAND.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Um. Yes. No doubt. Your theory is unassailable, but making it work is another pair of sleeves, as the French say. It certainly would make for peace and harmony if when Mother went to live with her children she would keep her fingers out of their pies, but, human nature being what it is, she simply can't do it.

Won't Take Back Seat.

You see, Mother never gets over the idea that she has a perfect right to boss her children and their husbands and wives, and run their houses, and tell them how they should rear their youngsters. She doesn't think it is meddling when she interferes in all of their affairs, and she expects them to be grateful, instead of resentful when she advises them about every move they make. So to expect her to take a back seat in her sons' or daughters' homes, instead of managing the whole show, is mere wishful thinking.

No one will deny that at the bottom of mother-in-law trouble is Mother's interference in her children's private affairs, but any son or daughter who can keep Mother from butting in with her little two cents' worth would be something out of this world.

DEAR MISS DIX: We have one child, a daughter of 18, who is married and expecting a baby next month. I have just found out that her husband is having an affair with another woman and I do not know what to do about it, as I do not want to be a trouble-making mother-in-law.

Should I talk to my son-in-law about his conduct, or should I tell my daughter, or should I just let the situation drift along until she finds it out herself? My daughter is very devoted to her husband and I fear the shock of finding out that he is untrue to her might be very injurious to her in her condition. Her husband is very high-tempered and insanely jealous of her.

What should I do.

MRS. G. C.

ANSWER: If it is possible, keep your daughter from finding out about her husband's dastardly conduct until after the baby is born. The poor child-wife and mother will have all of the trouble that she can stand up under right now without adding to it the grief beyond all other husband and finds that he has begriefs for a woman who loves her trayed her.

You say that your son-in-law is insanely jealous of his wife. Surely that is an ironic situation that would make even a fiend laugh. A man who could not be true to his wife even when she was going that she should still love him grave to bear his child, demanding that she should still voe him and be faithful to him!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have a niece of whom I am very fond and for whom I do many nice things. Always on her little boy's birthday I send a gift, but she never in any way acknowledges it. I never even know whether she receives the present or not. Am I wrong in feeling hurt over the matter?

R. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Evidently your niece is one of the self-centred, selfish people who takes a favor, but who never even bothers to make the small return of sending a postal card to acknowledge it. Not to write a "thank you" letter is the height of bad manners, and people who are guilty of such a breach of etiquette deserve to be ignored. For every favor we receive common decency requires a gesture of appreciation, even if it is nothing but writing a note.

THE STARS SAY....

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, July 10

It is probable that a new idea, a fresh twist of applying tested ways and means for important problems, a sudden innovation deviating from established procedures or customs, may greatly accelerate affairs, and assist in placing lagging or static situations on a sound and practical basis for future development. Change or environs, associates or supporters, might result in long-range benefits, with increased capital or influence from those in high places. Personal or social prestige may enhance values as well as assist serious effort where practical values have worth. Investments should expand.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, have definite promise for success of their efforts to promote future security and establish a firm basic foundation for increased progress and solid possessions. This is due largely to personal ability, practical plans and objectives, sustained by sterling worth, recognized by influential persons disposed to generous rewards and tokens of preferment. Social position and personality have force in winning substantial expression from desired sources. Ingenuity and change also prosper.

A child born on this day should have much substantial worth to enhance its native originality and brilliant ideas. These, put to practical and constructive effort, mean security.

MAIN BUILDING of the Workers' Educational Association school near Port Hope was an old mill and once housed the Ontario College of Art. The WEA is a non-profit organization supported by AFL and CIO Unions.

Percy, Prize Porky Pursued By Planes

ROCHESTER, Kent, England, July 9 — (CP). — Percy Prune, prize pig of Rochester Airport's Flying Club, returned quietly to his sty after a three-hour hunt in which airplanes joined.

Percy went absent without leave after jumping a two-foot electrified wire fence around his sty. Spotter airplanes circled overhead as ground search party set off for the woods in pursuit armed with sticks, pails and a net.

Life At "Labor College" Teaches Co-operation

PORT HOPE, July 9. — Education of young union members and other workers from all vocations is being carried on in a "Labor College" near here, the only permanent one of its kind in Canada. Housed in a rustic building on the banks of the Ganaraska River, the courses, which cover a wide field, are made easier to take with a summer-holiday type of surrounding and program.

The combined vacation and "college" instruction is easy on the budget, too. For $17 a week there are three man-sized home-cooked meals a day, the refreshing waters of the Ganaraska to swim in, a choice of lectures ranging from psychology to current events; or if you are attending a trade union course, a study in union techniques.

The school sits along the bank of the Ganaraska River, one mile north of this picturesque little town, where the Ganaraska empties into Lake Ontario. The sign over the main school building reads, "WEA Labor College." The WEA stands for Workers' Educational Association, a non-profit organization supported by both AFL and CIO unions.

As much as anything else, the Port Hope school is a model in communal living, since every student of the college plays an active part in the maintenance and operation of the school. There are only three paid staff members at the school, WEA director Drummand Wren, a cook, and an assistant.

The school is used equally by trade union groups, which take it over for a week at a time for the exclusive use of their members and individual workers, who spend a week or two during other periods.

This is the 18th year of the WEA College, and the 9th year in its own permanent quarters at Port Hope. The buildings once housed the Ontario College of Art. But their history dates back to the early years of the town when the waters of the Ganaraska provided power for the little mills along its banks. The main building of the college at one time was part of an old mill.

Today, the students who gather in the lecture room of the building come from offices, factories and union halls. The school has a capacity of 60 students, but attendance at its peak has touched the 90-mark, and the extra students were placed in accommodation in town.

Many of the students are surprised to find that they have a talent as dish washers, or waiters. For the school is run on a co-operative basis, with committees chosen from the vacationist-students to wait on tables, wash cups, saucers and silverware (larger plates and pots are washed by the kitchen staff), and to look after the grounds and first floor of the main building.

The main building, itself, is the product, in part, of volunteer help from carpenters, plumbers and painters, as well as other less skilled workers who helped to renovate and enlarge the building.

For the general classes, lectures occupy half the time, recreation the rest of the day. Lecturers, many of them members of the University of Toronto staff are called upon for talks on psychology, economics, literature, drama and current events.

The more intensive studies are taken by trade union groups. These are made up of presidents of union locals, shop stewards, organizers, and rank and file unionists. These courses deal with training of union shop stewards, collective bargaining procedure, arbitration, economics and the function of the trade union in the community.

Lecturers, who are experts in their field, are brought in to discuss these subjects. During the opening week of the 1948 season, the school heard from P. M. Draper, chairman of the Ontario Labor Relations Board, Prof. J. Finkelman, specialist in arbitration and labor law, and Prof. L. T. Morgan of the University of Toronto, whose specialty is political economy.

Says Battleships Still Needed

LONDON, July 9—(Reuters)—The modern battleship will continue to be "of the utmost importance" in any war fleet despite the invention of the atomic bomb, Rear Admiral Henry Thursfield says in the authoritative Brassey's Naval Annual published today.

The appearance of the atom bomb "does not in any way do away with the necessity for the provision of defence forces, sea, land, or air, of the general type hitherto known and existing today," he says, but like every other new weapon it would lead to important changes in methods of sea fighting and design of fighting ships.

A warship powered by atomic energy does not seem to be in sight, he writes. Experiments now proceeding might show a great future for the gas turbine engine "as the standard form of prime mover for warships."

Detailing difficulties of trying to harness atomic power to drive warships, Thursfield says that an atomic pile powerful enough to provide power for driving a ship of battleship size would need something like 1,000 tons or more weight of screen to protect its operators from its dangerous radiations.

Children Enjoy St. Paul's Picnic

MARMORA, July 9 —(ENS)— St. Paul's Sunday School held its annual picnic Wednesday afternoon on the grounds of Wanganui Lodge. Weather conditions proved ideal.

Swimming in Crowe River was followed by boat trips. Softball was played and races held for the children.

Parents of children brought baskets for the meal in addition to which ice cream and lemonade were served.

Studying Hard At City's Summer School

While their pupils disport themselves in holiday fashion, 15 public school teachers will be hard at work for the next five weeks studying for examinations to some in August. They are Normal School graduates and teachers who are taking the summer course at PCVS to make up a deficiency in their Upper School credits.

During the war years and since then the shortage of teachers has been so pressing that Normal Schools have lowered their entrance qualifications to increase their numbers. Previously applicants for Normal School had to have nine Upper School credits before they were admitted. When the need for more teachers became acute this was reduced to six on the understanding that the three extra credits would be picked up at some future date.

At one time the Department of Education sponsored summer schools. In the lean days before the war, there was keen competition for every vacancy and prospective teachers were not even considered if they were not well qualified. Eventually the Department's schools were closed and those deficient in the required subjects had to study them as best they could.

Two In Province

The Peterborough summer school is the second of its kind in Ontario. There is another at Toronto which has been operating previously and this year it has about 75 students. As a service to teachers, and indirectly the general public, local teachers have organized a course of study and arranged for instructors. It was pointed out that this is the pioneer year for the venture and a larger enrolment is expected next year.

Students pay a nominal fee to take the course and are allowed to study for as many subjects as they wish. They must also find their own board and lodging. The Department of Education plays no active part in the organization of the present summer schools but is understood to approve of them and provides the examination for the students to write, sometime in August.

Howard Moebus, who organized the Peterborough school, said that it is hoped to have an examination centre in Peterborough at the Normal School. Before this can be done, the Department of Education must agree.

Permission had to be obtained first to hold the summer school at PCVS and then a teaching staff had to be picked. At present three Collegiate teachers are giving a total of nine subjects: James McNab, sciences; Arnold Noftall, English, and Alex Londry, mathematics.

Streamlined Courses

To cram the subjects into five weeks the course has been streamlined and the work speeded up. For example in biology, the Upper School student would have a total of 120 hours to learn his subject while the summer school students must complete it in 56 hours.

To a large extent this is offset by the amount of individual tutoring given and the hard work put in by the earnest summer students.

There are no Peterborough teachers enrolled, nor any from Toronto. The majority are those from rural areas. They come from from such communities as Barry's Bay, Coe Hill, Hartington, Ruby, Lakefield, Harrowsmith, Cameron, Crookston and Napanee.

DON'T TELL TOO MUCH

THERE is no point in straining to tell your partner everything you can about your hand. It is better sometimes to keep away from him information which is not too important from the standpoint of what he can do with it. That is particularly so if keeping that information from your opponents is likely to tempt them to do something which will be advantageous to your side. In a nutshell, if the information is likely to be more valuable to them than to your partner, keep it secret.

	♠ A 7 5 3 ♥ 8 ♦ J 10 3 ♣ Q 8 5 4 3

Rdbl

In a tournament in which every slight margin might prove decisive, South planned to "give the works" to his opponents, who were both noted exponents of aggressiveness as a means of earning good scores. After North bid his spades, South decided to create an illusion of relative weakness. Over East's club call, he could have cue-bid the suit with his blank to show his four-card spade fit and game strength. He also could have shown his spade fit enthusiastically with 3-Spades. Instead he deliberately chose the 3-Hearts so that later he could make it appear he had none-too-good spade support.

West obliged beyond his expectations when he doubled that, and East still more so when North's takeout into 3-No Trumps was doubled. When he then slipped into 4-Spades, it sounded to East like a desperation escape. That induced the most welcome double. South, now realizing that his opponents had no safe escape at that height, redoubled, which also had the dual purpose of keeping North from taking out into diamonds.

East of course took nothing except two trump tricks, so an extra was made for as overwhelming a top score as you could expect to see. Nobody else got doubled, because at every other table South cue-bid the clubs somewhere along the way.

Owner Of Truck Withdraws Charge

A police charge of taking a vehicle without permission, laid against Richard Hunt, Toronto, was dismissed by Magistrate Baxter today. Another charge, of stealing the truck, which had been laid by the owner, was withdrawn by him.

Evidence of John C. Murphy, owner of the truck, was that he had loaned the accused a truck to go to Toronto. It was to have been returned the following day. It had not been returned for about 10 days, he said. The accused had told him, he said, that the reason he had been delayed in Toronto was that Mrs. Hunt had been ill. Murphy said he accepted Hunt's explanation and had withdrawn the charge laid. He added that he was appearing as a witness for the crown under subpeona.

Charge Dismissed Against Mitchell

A charge of receiving stolen goods, laid against Kenneth Mitchell, 453 Bellevue Ave., was dismissed by Magistrate Baxter today. Evidence had been heard previously.

In dismissing the charge, the magistrate said that he believed the suspicion of the police had been aroused against Mitchell as circumstances indicated he was implicated in some way.

Driver Is Fined $25 For Leaving Accident

Cecil Lloyd of Campbellford was fined $25 and $2.50 costs by Magistrate R. B. Baxter in court today when the accused pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. It was the minimum fine under the charge.

Evidence given from the police report by Inspector J. F. Reid was that the accused had sideswiped the car of George Johnston, 839 Water St., as it had been parked on George St., on June 29. The accused, he said, did not stop. He was followed for three blocks by a nearby motorist and brought back to the scene.

Judgment Reserved On Charge Of Assault

Judgment was reserved for one week on a charge against Philias Cloutier, 377 George St. south, of assaulting six-year-old Marguerite Pound.

Evidence was given by the alleged victim and her brother, Gordon, eight year old, and by Det.-Sgt. John Stevenson. The two children testified that the accused had "pulled Gordon by the arm" into his house and was showing them fishing equipment. Later, they said, he took the little girl on his knee and hugged and kissed her. The girl said, question by Defence Counsel W. B. Gordon that she had not been afraid and neither children had cried during the visit. (They both cried on the witness stand).

Cloutier denied pulling the boy into the house or kissing the little girl. He said that he knew the parents and the children

Railway Deadlock Continues

OTTAWA, July 10—(CP).—After an initial failure, conferences aimed at averting a national rail tie-up resumed today under the Government's direction. Informed sources predicted the meetings, called by Labor Minister Mitchell after the breakdown of direct negotiations between the railways and spokesmen for 150,000 union members, possibly would go on until Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the companies and unions were still as far apart as they were when their negotiations broke off, with the unions still demanding a 28-cents-an-hour increase and the railways offering 10 cents.

Whether or not the Canadian economy was to be crippled by a country-wide rail transport stoppage July 15 depended on the government's getting the disputants together.

Stand By Decision

Frank H. Hall, chairman of the negotiating committee of 18 international unions representing 122,000 men, Friday said his group was still standing by its refusal to deal directly with the railways at this stage.

A. R. Mosher, president of the 28,000-man Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers (C.C.L.), also declared his union was not dealing directly with the companies.

Mr. Hall also declared the international unions were standing by their latest demand of 28 cents an hour increases, and Mr. Mosher said his smaller organization was going along with the international unions in this respect.

Both officers said that the July 15 general strike order of their unions was still in effect.

Girl Drives Off Attacker By Using Palette Knife

TORONTO, July 10 — (CP). — Police continued to scour Rosedale Ravine today to uncover clues which might lead to the arrest of a wounded man who "looked like a laborer" and who Friday night attacked and beat a 22-year-old hospital technician as she painted a landscape.

Authorities at Wellesley Hospital, where Miss Trixie Trexall worked in the radiological laboratory, said the girl's condition was "satisfactory." X-rays have been taken to determine the extent of her injuries.

Among the clues being followed by police was a trail of blood, believed caused when Trixie defended herself with a palette knife. Police said the girl fractured her leg when she tripped and fell after breaking away from her attacker who threw a coat over her head and attempted to tear off her clothes.

Police found the girl's easel near the Don River bridge, along with canvas and paints and one of her stockings, neatly rolled up.

The semi-hysterical girl was not found by a passerby until three hours after the attack. Her injuries included a cut and bruised mouth One eye was cut and the other discolored.

Although not able to talk coherently when first interviewed by police, the girl described her attacker as about 30, five feet, six inches tall, with medium brown hair and a thin, tanned face, wearing a blue shirt and darker trousers, he remembled a laborer. His breath smelled of liquor.

Pay Goodwill Visit

MONTREAL, July 10. (CP)—Three light cruisers of the United States Navy paid goodwill visits at St. Lawrence rover ports Friday night with the Portsmouth arriving at Montreal and the Providence and Little Rock docking at Quebec. A round of social and sports events have been arranged during the Portsmouth's two-day stay.

New Hydro Dam Opened In North

TERRACE BAY, Ont., July 10—(CP). — Two steel gates in the newly - constructed 1,400 - foot Hydro dam across the Aguasabon River have been lowered into position marking "one of the really important milestones in the history of Northern Ontario."

Robert H. Saunders, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, speaking at a brief ceremony which marked the closing of the dam gates, said occasion was "striking evidence of what could be done by co-operation between a private enterprise (a pulp company) and a public utility (Ontario Hydro)."

By the lowering of the gates the flow of the Agussabon into Lake Superior was blocked and waters of the river will now flood an area to the north and west of the dam, creating a water storage basin of 4.1 square miles.

The basin will feed two generating units now being installed in a powerhouse under construction on the shore of Lake Superior. The units will produce 55,000 horsepower and the first is expected to go into production in September.

Canada Now In Front Line Of Science, A-Chief Says

OTTAWA, July 10 (CP)—History will judge Canada's "revolutionary" rise from scientific adolescence to maturity as one of the major factors—and possibly the major factor—of her wartime development, the government's top scientific figure prophesied today.

Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, president of the National Research Council and head of the Aatomic Energy Control Board, said the Dominion now "is in the front line of the scientific world for the first time in any sizeable way."

This, he said in an interview, is little heralded by publicity and little known by the general public.

"Atomic energy is certainly the best known feature of them all, but this is a broad development of greater significance than any of fact, I wouldn't say that what we its component parts," he said. "In are doing in atomic energy is even the most important single part."

The ultimate proof of a nation's fundamental quality in science, he said, lies in the marketplace of ideas. For years, generations of Canadians have been trooping to foreign lands ot study under the great minds of Oxford, Cambridge and other universities.

Under the impact of war, the picture changed: Study has become a two-way street. Canadians still go overseas, but now Oxford, Cambridge and other graduates come to Canada to do not only post-graduate but post-doctorate work under Canadian experts.

The NRC, the Defence Research Board and the universities possessed men with world reputations, the surest magnet for ambitious minds. (It may be inserted here that Dr. O. M. Solandt, Canada's top military scientist, is so good that several other countries have tried to hire him away.)

Mothers Plan To Supervise New Tot Lot

There were 100 happy children, residents of the McKellar subdivision nomes and surrounding district, who watched Superintendent Armar Butcher and his workmen of the parks department rigging their new playground with fun equipment on Wednesday. On Friday evening the ground was officially opened by His Worship Mayor W. G. Ovens with a representation from the city council and parks department.

The project was sparked off last March by a resident mother, Mrs. K. E. Pilkington who canvassed the neighbourhood in an effort to have the city create a safe playground for southend children. Some of the ladies who assisted her were Mesdames D. B. Kitchen, G. B. Moore, L. Falls, J. A. Buchanan, James Dutton, Jr. and D. Beggs. They examined the housing project plans at Dutton Place and found that provision had been made for a playground to be created in about an acre of land in the centre of the new allotment. They drew up a petition of more than 128 names and presented it to the council for assistance in the scheme.

It went forward favourably and was named the Dutton Place Tot Lot and the busy parks department went all out to provide the necessary equipment to make it a success. There are two sets each of swings and teeter-totters, a large sandbox and a slide, total outlay of $1000.

Parents in the new vicinity realized their children would ordinarily have to attend the King Edward playground but there are many children of pre-school age, who would have been obliged

Rescue Two Men From Blazing Cruiser

ANGOLA, N.Y., July 10 (AP). —Two men who abandoned a burning cabin cruiser were rescued from Lake Erie near here Friday.

Dr. Robert Tuttle, 54, owner of the boat, and Clinton Witherell, 56, both of Gowanda, N.Y., were rescued by Vincent C. Manzella of Buffalo, who noticed smoke while cruising in his speedboat.

The fire started when alcohol spilled and ignited as he was filling the fuel container on a galley stove, Dr. Tuttle said. Both he and Witherell suffered burns attempting to put out the blaze.

Jews Capture Airport; Big War Prize

Mortar Bomb Hits British Consulate; Artillery Duel Rages

TEL AVIV, July 10—(AP)—An Israeli government spokesman, said today Jewish forces Friday night took Lydda airport, one of the biggest prizes in the Palestine war and killed 300 Egyptians to the south. He said several neighboring Arab villages on the coastal plain, partly held by Iraquis, were occupied in a large-scale Jewish army sweep and many Arabs were reported fleeing the area.

South of the Lydda-Tel Aviv region, the spokesman said, Egyptian units suffered a heavy defeat near Isdud village. He said the 300 Egyptians were killed in that operation and 200 of the enemy were taken prisoner, a number of them Sudanese.

Consulate Hit

The British Consulate building in Jerusalem was struck today by a Jewish two-inch mortar bomb which exploded against the wall and shattered windows. No casualties were caused.

Jewish and Arab forces were fighting mortar duels throughout the city. The rattle of machine-gun fire also marked the end of the month-old truce.

Legion officers threatened to open heavy artillery fire on the Jewish quarter of Jerusalem if the Jews continue to mortar the old city. This Jewish mortaring has been going on since early Friday.

Plans Report

CAIRO, July 10—(AP).—While war raged anew in Palestine, the United Nations mediator left Rhodes by air for Lake Success, N.Y., today to report to the Security Council.

Count Folke Bernadotte departed his island headquarters before receiving Arab or Jewish answers to his plea for a new cease-fire.

"I hadn't expected to receive replies by this time,' the Count said.

"With the utmost urgency," Count Bernadotte proposed a new 10-day cease-fire to start this noon,

Neither side replied to this proposal.

The Egyptian defense ministry communique said Egyptian and Saudi Arabian troops and Sudanese volunteers Friday killed 325 Jews in capturing places the Jewish forces had occupied during the truce.

U.S. Farm Crop One Of Biggest

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP).—Prospects of the biggest general farm crop in history today gave American housewives and diplomats alike reason for rejoicing.

A record corn crop of 3,328,862,000 bushels, nearly 41,000,000 above the previous top crop of 1946, was forecast by the Agriculture Department late Friday This is far above last year's total of only 2,400,000,000 bushels.

At the same time, the Department predicted a wheat crop of 1,241,751,000 bushels, only some 123,000,000 bushels short of the record set last year.

Malaya Army Dragnet Out For Terrorists

SINGAPORE, July 10—(Reuters)—Malaya police and troops today cast a dragnet over the thickly-populated area south of Kuala Lumpur in a determined effort to clear out armed terrorists.

A communique from the federal capital Friday night said the drive was expected to take some time.

Earlier reports had stated that 400 guerrillas were massing in the area.

Police and Gurkha troops today captured two Chinese eight miles outside Kuala Lumpur in this area.

39 Fire Deaths

TORONTO, July 10—(CP). — Thirty-nine persons, including 16 children, were burned to death between April 1 and June 30 in Ontario, the Fire Marshal's report covering the second quarter of the year said on Friday. There were 4,823 fires, causing damage of $3,572,379, as compared with 4,450 and $3,940,677 for the same period a year ago.

Amusement Tax Doubles Hospital Grants

TORONTO, July 10 — (CP). — Ontario government maintenance grants to hospitals were more than doubled in the first quarter of this fiscal year compared with the corresponding period of 1947, it was announced Friday. Grants to 155 institutions from April 1 to June 30 , totalled $1,275,334, compared with $512,058 a year ago. On the basis of the first quarter payments, grants for the year will exceed $5,000,000.

The increase was possible as a direct result of the hospital tax on amusements.

Toronto hospitals were paid $549,000, compared with $232,000 a year ago, while Hamilton hospitals received $97,000 as against $35,000 in 1947.

The provincial grants are paid on a basis of public ward beds, whether or not they are occupied and are graduated according to classification. Class "A" hospitals receive $2.35 per day per bed; class "B" $1.76 and class "C" $1.41. Class "A" hospital have teaching facilities for medical students; class "B" hospitals are public hospitals without such facilities and class "C" hospitals are those caring for the chronically ill and convalescents.

While the hospital tax did not go into effect until May 19, the day after the Dominion government withdrew from the amusement tax field, the increased grants were made etroactive to April 1.

Lower Rates

Health Minister Russell Kelley, who is convalescing in a Hamilton hospital following an eye operation, could not be reached for comment, but officials of his department expressed the opinion that the greatly increased grants should serve to lower rates which hospitals are now charging private and semi-private patients.

In addition to the higher provincial grants, the grant for indigent patients by municipalities has also been raised. Class "A" hospitals are now paid $3 per day and class "B" hospitals $2.50 per day. The former rate was $2.25 and this paid only to class "C" institutions.

There was no information as to what grants the province has made toward new hospital construction to date. These grants, which are over and above those for maintenance, amount to $1,000 per active treatment bed and $2,000 per chronic or convalescent bed.

Soviet Clamps New Bars On Car Traffic; British Follow Same Plan

Believe Moscow To Reject Allied Note Demanding Lifting Of Blockade; Allies Refuse To Submit To "Pressure"

BERLIN, July 10—(AP).—Maj.-Gen. P. Hays, United States Deputy Military Governor, said today the Americans have "no intention of submitting" to new Russian restrictions upon allied motor traffic between Berlin and west Germany. British military authorities at the same time announced they would "completely ignore" the new Russian move. A British spokesman said no official notification of the new order had been received from Soviet authorities early today.

The Russians had announced through their official news agency, ADN, that henceforth no Western allied highway traffic to or from Berlin would be permitted except on special Soviet travel permits.

The Russians also ordered their border patrols to search every allied vehicle to "prevent the transport of forbidden goods."

No Notification

Hays said the Russians had not notified the United States military government officially of these new regulations. The Russians have been issuing such notices through their controlled press with increasing frequency of late.

When the Russian announcement was read to him over the telephone Hays said:

"There is no change in our attitude regarding free access to Berlin. We don't intend to submit to an ynew restrictions. We have the right to free access and we intend to get it."

Hays was not prepared to say what the United States action would be but referred to the Washington protest note to oMscow.

The note, issued jointly with British and French notes, demanded that the Russians lift the ground blockade of Berlin before there could be any negotiations of the issues involved in the east-west crisis.

Murdered Woman Believed Alive

CLEVELAND, July 10 (AP)—The Detroit woman whose "body" police have been digging for on Cleveland's lakefront the last two days probably is alive, authorities announced today.

George R. Andrews, 32, a prisoner in Pittsburgh, told police last week he killed a girl known only as "Lorna" and said he would show where he buried her.

But Detroit police, it was announced here, said they think the "murdered woman" is Lorna Rowe, 21, and that she now is living somewhere in Ontario. They said she was arrested June 19 on an intoxication charge in Detroit, about five months after a Andrews said he killed a girl.

They are convinced, Cleveland police said, that she is the same woman. A picture of her is expected today. Police plan to show it to Andrews.

Man Fires Shot In Dress Shop Misses Woman

TORONTO, July 10 — (CP). — Police Friday night arrested Charles J. Toner, 50, on a charge of attempted murder after he was caught and disarmed by two men on a west-end street as he fled from a dress shop where they said he shot at — and missed — 44-year-old Mrs. Dorothea Rowney, the proprietor.

The woman rolled to the floor as the bullet sped past her into dresses on a rack. She played dead and later fled.

More than 12 women were trying on dresses in the shop when Toner entered and ordered Mrs. Rowney to "get back in there!"

Then he said: "You're going to take me back."

"Get out of here and stay out," the woman told him.

Police said Toner was a roomer at Mrs. Rowney's house until last Christmas when he was ordered to leave.

Run for Police

At the sound of the shot, two passers-by ran to No. 9 police station, a few hundred yards away, and summoned three officers. Sgt. Robert Battersby and Cons. George Dennis and Stanley Wood ran to the shop just as Toner was trying to free himself from the pedestrians who were trying to hold him.

The pistol, covered by a handkerchief, was still in his hand, Sgt. Battersby said. It had been cocked and was ready to fire again.

While Tone was taken to the station to be charged with shooting with attempt to maim, Mrs. Rowney told how she feigned injury to make her escape.

MAN FIRES SHOT

Engine Explodes One Man Missing

OTTAWA, July 10 — (CP). — One man was missing, believed drowned, and another was in hospital with severe burns after a new, 21-foot motor launch exploded on its first trials at nearby Lake Deschenes Friday night.

Missing was Levis Desroches, 42, president of Desroches Motors Limited, Ottawa. In hospital was Eugene Marcil, 38, of Ottawa, with severe burns to his face and body. His condition was described as serious.

The two men were alone aboard the craft when the new gasoline engine rocked it with a double explosion, hurling the two men from the launch and ripping the cabin from its seams.

A young Ottawa couple rescued Marcil as he clung desperately to the side of the burning boat. He repeated pleas for the rescuers to hurry and ried out that Desroches was "gone."

Censure Motion Meant Downfall Of Government

WINNIPEG, July 10—(CP)—Few persons in public life ever have the experience of taking the chief role in an act which defeats a government.

But this moment came to P. A. Talbot, former speaker of the Manitoba legislature, at 6 p.m. March, 1922. Mr. Talbot retired in April as clerk of the executive council. He had been a member of the legislature for 21 years before entering the civil service.

In the session of 26 years ago, Hon. J. B. Baird, then speaker of the assembly, announced a vote of 27 to 23 in favor of a resolution introduced by Mr. Talbot. The resolution ended the days of the government headed by Premier T. C. Norris. And it uhered in the administration headed for 20 years by John Bracken, now natonal leader of the Progressive Conservative party.

In the 1921 session Mr. Talbot had moved a resolution calling for the abolition of the public utility board. It proposed also that the provincial secretary assume the duties of the board. The House accepted the resolution.

But by the time the 1922 session came around, the government had done nothing. Mr. Talbot put on the orders another resolution censuring the government for not having followed the legislature's instructions. The censure carried, and Premier Norris had to call an election.

Elected Speaker

At the first session of the Bracken government, Mr. Talbot was elected speaker of the house. He presided over the assembly for 14 years—longer than any previous speaker—though Robert Hawkins, the present incumbent, is approaching the mark.

Mr. Talbot's exit from public life came in 1936. At a Ste. Anne convention he lost by one vote the government nomination for the constituency of La Verendrye, which he had represented for 21 years. He was defeated by the Hon. S. Marcoux, now minister without portfolio in Premier Garson's coalition administration.

In 1937 Mr. Talmot was appointed clerk of the executive council. He has been chief electoral officer in five provincial elections. He was born in Montmagny county, Que., came to Winnipeg in 1900 and opened a real estate office after a short period in the grain business.

For nearly 30 years nearly everyone has called him "Pete". His real name is Phillipe Alphonse Adjutor Talbot. To this day he doesn't know how the nickname became fastened upon him. But so many of his friends have used it so often that once he made out his nomination papers incorrectly, had to rush back to see that his right name was on the official documents.

the Serbian Ministry of Communications, while not denying there had been a wreck, refused details.

GENEVA. — The Communist bloc, including Yugoslavia, condemned the International Refugee Organization as an obstruction to peaceful international relations.

DUBLIN.—Prime Minister John Costello's Government was accused by the Opposition of bungling negotiations for aid under the United States' European Recovery program. The recovery program appeared to have become the hottest Irish political issue since Eamon de Valera's government was voted out of office last February. The argument was over whether the United States originally offered Eire grants-in-aid rather than loans.

OTTAWA.—A 21-gun royal salute will be fired by army gun-crews at the nine provincial capitals, Vancouver and Ottawa, Aug. 4 to mark the birthday of Queen Elizabeth.

Ohio Scouts Vacationing In Kawarthas Meet With All Saints Rovers Around Camp Fire

Canadian-American friendship was further strengthened during the past week when a group of Peterborough Rover Scouts and a crew of Explorer Scouts from Euclid, Ohio, became acquainted while camping in the Kawartha district.

The Peterborough youths were from the All Saints' Church Rover Scout crew who had pitched their tents at the Sandy Lake Scout Camp last Saturday. The Americans spotted them as they were driving past the site, and then decided to come in and have a chat on matters of mutual interest.

They were welcomed at the Scout camp by several of the Rovers who were that week-end serving as assistant scoutmasters, looking after younger boys. Before they left they inspected the Canadian camp thoroughly and joined in the campfire program which was held that evening.

Visited Ohioans

Then on Wednesday night the hospitality was reciprocated when seven of the local Scouts—Gordon and Jack White, Jim Webb, Bob Soles, Bob LeBarr, Doug Harris and Walter Booth—accepted an invitation to the Ohioans' camp at Buckhorn Lake. The two groups swapped warns on Scouting experiences and exchanged tips on camping. They were so interested in each others' activities that they decided to correspond.

The Americans, all from Euclid, Ohio, included Fred Krauss, Jr., Post Advisor, and the only one of the visitors to have been in the Kawarthas before; Don Moser, Glenn Crawford, John Wright, Gerald Yeary and Carl Diener.

Apparently the Buckhorn campers had not been idle when it came to fishing, for their had caught 23 bass and a muskie, all of good size.

On Friday morning the Ohio Scouts headed for home, saying that they would revisit the Kawarthas.

From the scene of activity on Friday evening it proved their claim admirably. A supervisory staff of two mothers each morning and afternoon has been drawn up and will be followed rigidly for the balance of the summer season. Aiderman Hurrell Dodds was asked if the grounds would be devoted to winter sports as well but he declined to comment so far ahead.

Pocket Mirrors Aid Inspectors In Narcotic War

NEW YORK, uly 10—(AP)—Day and night, squads of armed men carrying flashlights and pocket mirrors board ships entering New York harbor.

The alert, eagle-eyed men of the U.S. customs enforcement division don't carry the glassware from milady's handbag to use in combing their hair or prettying their features. Pocket mirrors are standard equipment in the grim, unrelenting war on narcotic smuggling.

Placed strategically, a mirror shows up what may be ingeniously hidden behind a lavatory washbowl, a seaman's bunk, or in the machinery of the ship's intricate engine room.

From stem to stern, expert searchers go over a vessel like a fine tooth comb..

Vigilance of these customs officers has paid off handsomely. In the last year they've confiscated contraband drugs valued at several million dollars in the illicit market, said Harry M. Durning, U.S. customs collector for the New York port.

New York, in law enforcement parlance, is a "hot" port—about the hottest in the world.

International smugglers have renewed efforts to penetrate port surveillance with narcotics for American dope peddling rings. History, said veteran port officials, is repeating itself. A post-war resurgence of narcotic smuggling is comparable to one after the First World War.

Collector Durning attributes the alarming increase to a breakdown of prewar safeguards abroad, worldwide unrest and unsettled economic conditions and the age-old desire for quick, high profits.

Suspect Sources

In tightening their vigil against smuggling, customs officers pay particular attention to all ships coming from French and Mediterranean ports. That's where, they said, most shipments of illicit drugs originate.

Ships from Britain and Ireland, the officers said, seldom figure in drug smuggling. Always suspect, however, said Herman Lipski, chief of the U.S. customs enforcement division, are vessels coming from Naples, Genoa, Marseille, LeHavre and Antwerp.

Lipski's men recently scored their biggest catch of the year when they discovered narcotics valued at $1,000,000 secreted about a ship from LeHavre.

One bundle of drugs was found in the ship's galley at the bottom of a full barrel of flour. Another batch, encased in a waterproof bag, reposed in a soup tureen full of water. Other packages were discovered inside the lining of the ship's oven and in a box of sea biscuits.

Another recent haul came when shore patrol officers under Durning raided the basement of a dingy waterfront tenement. They found 36 ounces of narcotics and complete equipment for testing, diluting and preparing drugs for illicit sale to addicts.

In a drainpipe in the basement they found $18,000 in cash and a pistol. From a man caught fleeing the basement they confiscated four more ounces of drugs. Total value of the catch was placed at $200,000.

We cannot describe this man in print. You must see him and hear him. Having been in India for a number of years and travelled extensively around the world, he has many very interesting things to tell.

MUSICALLY we will have Norman Budge, recently arrived from bonnie Scotland, playing his concertina and Mr. Foster will be with us again with his violin.

Canadian Students Join University World Parley

VANCOUVER, July 10 (CP).—Four Canadians will sail for Europe to represent Canada's 60,000 university students at the second annual meeting of the International Union of Students.

The meeting, originally scheduled for Prague in August, was recently postponed until September, and no one is quite sure now where it will be. Both Paris and Budapest have been suggested.

Canadian students are not yet a part of the w rld student group. In January, through their National Federation of Canadian University Students, known to college men and women from coast to coast as "Nifcus," they moved to affiliate with the international union, and aroused country-wide comment.

With a Prague birthplace and now headquarters, and a central European temperament, IUS has been labelled "Communistic." Many of the 52 countries at its charter meeting had sent along Communist party members as their delegates.

Nifcus held its 12th annual meeting in Winnipeg late last year. Students from 21 universities, voted 16 to 4, with one abstaining, both to take steps to join IUS and to demand, as a condition of the proposed affiliation, two conditions: first, IUS must immediately cease engaging in partisan political debate and activity. Second, IUS must make its conference membership more equitably representative. The Canadian universities each name two delegates to NFCUS, and enjoy only one vote between the two.

Join For Two Years

With these provisions, NFCUS agreed to meet the larger body this summer, offer its conditional membership, and hold on for two years to give the experiment a try.

Grant Livingstone, Vancouver, past-president of British Columbia University's student government, will head the party. Immediate past-president of NFCUS Maurice Sauve of the University of Montreal, will represent the French-speaking central region; Miss Nancy McCormack, University of Toronto student from Milwaukee, Wis., the English-speaking central region. The Maritimes have yet to name the fourth man.

Clifford Smith, an IODE overseas scholarship student, will join the group as an observer, and will represent the Prairies.

If they cannot achieve from IUS an affiliation that is acceptable, they will have the full backing of the Canadian body to take other steps for world-wide student co-operation. Already Europe's western democracies are hinting at the formation of a second world student group.

Quebec Liberals Apologize To Pope Pius

MONTREAL, July 10 (CP). — Quebec Liberal party officials said Friday they regretted that a party advertisement, quoting Pope Pius XI, was interperted by the apostolic delegation in Ottawa as a misuse of His Holiness' words.

They expressed their regret in a telegram sent to the delegation after it had rebuked the party for its use of the Pope's statements in newspaper and advertisements which appeared in French-language newspapers Friday.

The delegation telegraphed its protest to Liberal headquarters here and released the text of the telegram to newspapers in Ottawa.

The telegram said in part:

"It is very regrettable that the words of His Holiness the Pope should be exploited in the pages of the newspapers for the ends of election propaganda in favor of one particular political party when it is well-known how the social doctrine of the sovereign pontiff is far above any party differences."

The telegram from Ottawa was signed simply "Apostolic Delegation." The Liberal officials, in charge of organization for the party in the July 28 Quebec general election campaign, sent a reply signed "The Liberal Organization."

The reply said that "we have taken note of the message of July 9 from the apostolic delegation and we regret that the text of an advertisement distributed by the Liberal organization has appeared to be an exploitation of the words of His Holiness for the ends of election propaganda in favor of one political party.

Minille is wanted under that name as a fugitive from Portsmouth Penitentiary, Kingston, from where he escaped while serving a sentence for armed robbery.

Briton Heads World Union Of Six Million Farmers

PARIS, July 10 (CP).—Big Jim Turner, six feet tall and 224 pounds, with a voice to match, against is the spokesman in high places for farmers of Canada and Burma, Britain and New Zealand.

This former English rugby football star was re-elected president at the recent meeting here of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, composed of farmers' organizations representing 6,000,000 members in more than 20 countries.

Turner, paid £100 ($400) weekly as president of the British National Farmers' Union, jumped into the international spotlight in 1945 when he headed a delegation organized to tour the Dominions and drum up interest in a common international farmers' association.

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture welcomed his idea with open arms. In 1942 it had proposed an international conference of farm organizations. CFA officers, headed by Herbert Hannam of Ottawa, president, said the British delegation should visit the United States and make the proposed conference international rather than confine it to the British Commonwealth. The visit was a success.

The first international conference was held in London in 1946 and the 40-year-old Turner was president from the start. Since then he has spoken for world farmers at international gatherings, including the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization annual conference.

"World's Greatest Industry"

"We speak on behalf of the world's greatest industry and with full weight of responsibility that such a status imposes," says Turner of IFAP.

At home, Turner is undisputed chief of Britain's farmers, consulted by the agriculture ministry on all phases of food production. He helped in creation of a new agriculture policy which sets prices and assures markets for British producers.

Turner came up in response to farmers' demands for a powerful leaders to state their case before the government. They were willing to pay for a suitable man.

Turner, after graduating from Leeds University with a B.Sc., was NFU chairman for Nottingham County before he was 30 and vice-president of the national organization at 36. A year later he was president, winning price arguments with the government and whipping up statistics to back farmers' claims.

He checked organization findings about farm policies with practical experience on his own West Bank Farm, South Anston, Yorkshire, where he lives with his wife and two sons. It has been estimated farmer Turner, from his pigs and livestock, makes a profit of nearly £1,000 ($4,000) yearly.

With a becoming faith in his own colleagues he proclaims that British farmers now are the most efficient in the world.

Professor Matthews is a recognized forestry consultant in the United States and Canada, specializing in forest operations and appraisals. Professor Love, a graduate of the University of New Brunswick, took post-graduate work under Professor Matthews.

The object of the course is primarily to give Ontario Government foresters a better working knowledge of the economic aspect of forest management, and as the Department believes that the best progress will be made if company foresters obtain the same knowledge, at the invitation of the Department twelve foresters from various pulp and lumber companies across Ontario are taking the course with the nine Government foresters selected. This course is part of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests' general program for improved management of the timber resources of Ontario.

The course has particular reference to integrate operations and includes classes of costs, stumpage appraisals and other related financial or economic factors.

By "integrated operations" the forestry experts refer to cutting operations, having in view the removal of all classes of timber regardless of whether it is used in the conversion plant of the operator for one class of product, or in some other conversion plant for another class of product, e.g., pulp, timber, and ties.

Successful Evacuation

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP).—The United States Navy said Friday that United States military and United Nations workers have been successfully evacuated from Palestine. No number was given.

GENERAL DWIGHT EISENHOWER, president of Columbia University, issued a statement definitely removing himself from consideration for the Democratic presidential nomination. In clear, concise language, he punctured a score of trial balloons raised all over the U.S. by saying he "could not accept the nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contests." Photo shows Robert Harron, Columbia director of public relations, issuing statements from office of school of journalism.

Gordon Fogo, KC, Liberal Trouble-Shooter Deluxe

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, July 10 (CP). — A friendly, smiling man with easy efficiency of a big corporation executive is the trouble-shooter deluxe for the National Liberal convention.

He is J. Gordon Fogo, K.C., lawyer from Halifax and president of the National Liberal Federation, who is the man-behind-the-scenes in these days of preparation for the three-day monster party rally which opens here Aug. 5 to select a new Liberal Leader and shape a new and refurbished party platform.

In the background now laying the groundwork for smooth-running continuity once the convention opens, he will step into the front ranks Aug. 5 as convention chairman, a tough, nerve-straining job in which he will preside over some 4,000 delegates and other party adherents.

Troubleshooting Background

Fogo gained fame as a troubleshooter in a different field—war. He came to Ottawa in 1942 as an associated co-ordinator of controls and was handed the ticklish assignment of liaison man between the munitions department and those dealing with labor and production. He soon had the official channels functioning smoothly.

He became president of the National Liberal Federation in 1945 and, in that capacity, is said to be the man closest to the ear of retiring Prime Minister Mackenzie King. The approaching convention will be his biggest job for the party.

Slugs Ahead

Now 52, he slugged up to the top the hard way. Son of a railroad engineer, he is a native of Halifax and was a steel worker and high school principal at Sydney, N.S., before he entered Dalhousie Law School. Between those years, he served overseas with the Canadian forces in the First World War.

He graduated from Dalhousie as a gold medallist in 1924, practised at Amherst, N.S., and later entered the firm which included such legal stars as the late Col. J. L. Ralston and Charles Burchall, former Canadian High Commissioner to Newfoundland.

He now is a partner in the firm and an expert in Admiralty law.

Hier Spricht Kanada

The C.B.C. has an international service and broadcasts regularly in ten languages. This service is not an attempt by the Government to convert Czechs and Danes to Canadianism but to explain this country to them; to tell the world that we are not buried in perpetual Arctic snows; to keep alive the accent of Canada so generally welcome abroad during the war years and almost universally heard from serviceman's lips, and to link the folk at home in Europe with emigrant relatives now becoming Canadian citizens. It is generally a voice of the Department of External Affairs.

• • •

The International Service of the C.B.C. was evolved from the C.B.C. Overseas Unit and the home broadcasts to Canadian men serving abroad from 1939 to 1945. It was inaugurated in February, 1945. An indication of its success and the interest aroused is that during the first two years of operation more than 20,000 letters were received from listeners in all parts of the world. The transmitters (built at the request of the Government) are located on reclaimed marshland near Sackville, N.B., which are linked by land-line with the studios and program headquarters in Montreal. The two 50,000-watt transmitters are powerful — listeners in Europe report constantly that the programs are heard more clearly and loudly than any other broadcasts from the Western Hemisphere.

• • •

"Hier Spricht Kanada" say CKNC (19.75 meters) and CKCS (19.58 meters) to German listeners every night at 1900 hours Greenwich Mean Time, followed by a half-hour of Canadian news and views. Earlier there is "La Voix du Canada" for French listeners, "Kanada vola Ceskoslov" for Slavic ears, and "Kanada till Sverige", "Hallo Norge", and "Hallo Denmark" for our friendly Scandinavians. The current programs in Dutch include "Voor de Nederlandse Jeugd" and "Canada Roept Nederland". European transmissions are continuous from the two stations named and CKCX (19.75 meters) from one o'clock in the afternoon to 10.30 p.m. (Greenwich Mean Time) in some or all of the ten languages: English, French, Czech, Dutch, German, Danish, Norwegian, Swedish, Spanish and Portuguese. Currently we are beaming to Britain "Barlows of Beaver Street" (Barretts and Wimpole Street being not quite Canadian) and "Prairie Schooner", among other programs.

• • •

We cannot comment on the quality and character of the broadcasts, not being an accomplished linguist or having a radio which picks up the short waves from CKNC. Nevertheless, we applaud the enterprise. During the war Canada came to the fore as an international power. We are taking a goodly part in world councils. It is well that the people of the foreign countries whose welfare concerns us and whose interest in Canada has been stirred, should be able daily to hear of and from this country.

Refurbishing "The Beggar's Opera"

An interesting new version of The Beggar's Opera was given its first performance in Cheltenham, the charming English spa in Gloucestershire, on July 5; the musical arrangement was by Benjamin Britten (famous as the composer of Peter Grimes and Lucretia and Albert Herring), the producer was Tyrone Guthrie and the scene designer was Tanya Moiseiwitsch. More gifted interpreters of the classic, which first appeared in 1728, could hardly be imagined. The new version of the Opera has been enthusiastically received, and it will undoubtedly be seen on this continent before long

When it is seen here it will undoubtedly cause some surprise to people who saw the famous production of 1920, which was directed by Nigel Playfair, designed by Lovat Fraser, and which was given its musical character by Frederick Austin. Many people assumed that in that form The Beggar's Opera was the quintessence of the eighteenth century; as a matter of fact, the Playfair production was a brilliant creation based upon the bare bones of the original opera, in which much that was harsh and disagreeable had been suppressed. Frederick Austin's arrangement of the tunes (which were arranged in 1728 by the celebrated Dr. Pepusch) was anything but eighteenth century in technique; but it evoked what many people imagined to be the spirit of the eighteenth century, and that was in itself a brilliant feat.

The new production is said to stress what is sordid in the Opera; the costumes and the scenery are derived from Hogarth's grimmest depictions of Gin Lane. Britten has used more of the original tunes in his version than Austin, and he has treated them more weightily, creating choral passages and climaxes which are truly operatic. The impression given by English critics who have seen the new version is that The Beggar's Opera has gained in dramatic scope whatever it may have lost in charm.

Communism Loses Ground In Finland

The moral courage of the Finnish people has never been more clearly shown than in the recent elections, in which the Communist party dropped from first to third place in the national Diet. Finland is to a great extent under Russian domination at present; according to the latest Russo-Finnish pact even the fortresses and strategic centres of Finland are for Russia to use as it pleases. But the Finns are not broken. They have spoken through their ballots in unmistakeable rejection of Communism.

We must not attach too much importance to this. Russia could crush Finland with very little exertion whenever it seemed expedient. But Russia, for some strange reason, has permitted a free election in Finland, and Finland has taken the fullest advantage of the election to reveal its opinion of the Russian creed. That takes courage, and courage is never wasted. Its heartening example spreads everywhere.

Russia is finding out a few of the problems of an imperial state. Conquerors are never popular, ancient loyalties are long-lived under oppression and arbitrary rule is galling to folk who have known freedom. The existence of even the most generous imperial states is plagued with difficulties; a tyrant state such as Russia may expect those difficulties to be sharply augmented. Russia can crush Finland at will, but can never, while sun shines and water runs, count on Finnish loyalty.

Sassenach

The Cornwall Standard-Freeholder draws attention to a curious error in the usually impeccable Christian Science Monitor; in a recent article on Scotland the Monitor said that the Scots referred to the English by an archaic term which meant "assassins". The word referred to, of course, was "Sassenach", and of this the Freeholder says:

> Actually, the word means a Saxon, or Englishman, or a Lowlander. The Scottish people use it as a sort of all-inclusive term to cover those inhabitants of their island who unfortunately come from less worthy stock.

We have no desire to be captious, but we feel that we must point out that "Sassenach" is not exclusively a Scottish word; it also occurs in the Irish tongue, and in Welsh it appears as "Saesneg"—which is pronounced in much the same way. And we must point out also that, whatever the Scotch may mean when they use it, the Welsh and Irish mean nothing more than "English", and attach no opprobrious signicance to the term.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The St. Thomas Times-Journal is thirty years old this month, and it says that it was born during one of the very blackest periods of the First World War. We congratulate our contemporary, and point out to other war babies this promise that their future need not necessarily be gloomy.

Dr. G. H. Stevenson of London, Ont., says that insanity should not be entered as a defence in criminal cases, but that the decision in such matters should be left to the judge, who would have an opportunity to consult psychiatrists in vexing situations. "Juries have not the technical training necessary to appreciate the scientific aspects of sanity", says Dr. Stevenson, and we think that many thoughtful people will agree.

Diary Of A Jolly Blacksmith

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: A rainy, cold day, and what with the smell of fresh paint in the house and the discomforts of the out-of-doors I could find no rest for the sole of my foot. Passed some time in staring helplessly at a maple tree which is one of the chief ornaments of Marchbanks Towers, and which has developed peculiar, repulsive growths on its leaves. Strange green excrescences like worms grow out of the leaves, disfiguring them and giving the beholder the creeps. Otherwise the tree appears to be healthy. Gazed raptly also at Marchbanks' Night-Growing Larkspur, which is entirely in shade, never receiving a twinkle of sun, and which nevertheless blooms (albeit weakly and pallidly) every year. Any prolonged consideration of my garden depresses me, for I have not yet discovered the secret of combining total shade with a riot of bloom, and until I do so my garden will fall short of my ideal.

◇ ◇ ◇

MONDAY: I have some new patent folders for holding papers, and they have forced me to a reconsideration of the old question: is it better to have a neat desk with all the papers in folders where they cannot be found, or should I retain my accustomed, highly efficient system of strewing papers everywhere, so that I can find what I want with a little rummaging? I have never been able to decide this to my satisfaction. Captains of industry, I know, are famous for having perfectly clean desks, but then captains of industry never do any work. I once heard of a captain of industry who even had a special drawer made in his desk which held nothing except the box of tissues upon which he blew his ultra-efficient nose. My desk must somehow accommodate a telephone, two ashtrays, a cigarette box, a daily calender, three bottles of ink (two empty), paper clips, unusable stubs of pencils, scissors, a scrofulous pastepot, a marble paperweight and countless pieces of paper, books, pamphlets, letters and newspapers. In addition I must have someplace to put the giant fish, double-yoked eggs, two-headed calves and gargantuan vegetables which people bring in to show me. What use have I for patent folders?

◇ ◇ ◇

TUESDAY: Children ask the damndest questions. Today a tot with an enquiring mind tackled me on the subject of yeast; why did it make bread rise? I had no idea, but I do not like to display ignorance, so I said: "It is like this. The yeast is full of tiny, greedy little animals, and when they find themselves in the dough they immediately set to work to eat it all up. But they eat quickly, without chewing their food enough, and that gives them indigestion and makes them belch. Each time a yeast-creature burps it creates a tiny air-bubble in the dough, and in a short while the dough is full of such bubbles and has increased to many times its proper size". I consider this very good for the spur of the moment....Later today another child asked: "Is it true that girls are God's flowers, and boys are God's weeds?". "Nay, little one", I replied; "boys and men are God's noble, self-sacrificing, large-souled doggies, and girls and women are God's cream-devouring, comfort-loving pussies". I hope that this subtle reply goes back to whoever had been filling the child's head with such nonsense.

◇ ◇ ◇

WEDNESDAY: Planned to pass the evening listening to the radio, for the C.B.C. had scheduled some excellent entertainment. Put my radio on the verandah, therefore, and stretched myself at length in a deck chair, with cigarettes and a pewter pot of beer. For perhaps half an hour all was well, and I was bathed in that delicious mixture of creature comfort and intellectual snobbery which so well becomes a man who is listening to a Haydn Concerto on a summer evening. But then my radio began to make noises which reminded me of a pony named Mabel whom I used ot drive a good deal, and who suffered from gas. This trouble increased until the ghost of Mabel had vanquished Haydn altogether, and I turned off the radio with many a harsh imprecation. Mark my words, radio will never be anything but a toy until somebody finds a way of eliminating these incidental shrieks, moans and breakings of wind which spoil so many evenings of entertainment.

◇ ◇ ◇

THURSDAY: Saddened by the news of the death of Professor George Wrong. Remarkable in so many ways he was almost certainly Canada's foremost consumer of snuff; he took it in very great quantities, and with relish. In the course of an evening, he would empty a box containing an ounce or more. If anyone thinks this a simple feat, let them take a few pinches, and try it. The nose of a snuff-taker must be habituated to his indulgence, like the lungs of a cigar-smoker. One good pinch of snuff throws the novice into paroxysms of sneezing, weeping, coughing and gagging. Voltaire was a mighty snuff-taker, and it was said that after he died his brain was completely preserved in that substance.

◇ ◇ ◇

FRIDAY: Amused to read reviews of Evelyn Waugh's book "The Loved One" in the American papers. Most of them agree that Waugh should not have been critical of the U.S.A., and many of them accuse him of "bad taste". I have never heard a really good definition of bad taste, but I find that very often it merely means something which a great many people do not like to have said... To the movies tonight to see "Nicholas Nickleby" which was excellent, though it is impossible to crowd all that is good in that huge book into a single film. Was interested to observe that old Arthur Gride had been cut almost to nothing, and in the film the beautiful Madeline Bray was about to marry Ralph Nickleby. Was saddened by the fact that in the film as I saw it the wonderful Mantalinis had been cut out altogether, though their names were in the cast of characters....It is astonishing how this film and "Great Expectations" bring out the real Dickens, whom the sentimentalists have tried to quash—the violent, cruel and melodramatic Dickens, who revelled in beatings, hangings, burnings-to-death and the like.

◇ ◇ ◇

SATURDAY: I see that a War Assets shop quite near my place of business is selling a lot of interesting things, including several forges. It occurs to me that a forge is just what I need, for I have long wanted a constructive hobby. I could set it up in my cellar, get a few bars of iron, and amuse myself during the long winter evenings by making beautiful and acceptable gifts for my friends. The upper chambers of Marchbanks Towers would resound with the merry ring of my hammer on the anvil, my loud Yo Hoes (is it blacksmiths who cry Yo Ho?), and the hiss as I plunged a white-hot bookend or umbrella stand into the water to temper it. I would develop the biceps of a blacksmith, and the jolly, great-hearted disposition of a blacksmith. The homes of my friends would be enriched with ornaments which I had beaten out at the forge with my own hands—wrought iron garden furniture, wrought iron cocktail sets, wrought iron spittoons — the possibilities are illimitable. And any time anyone wanted a sword beaten into a ploughshare, I would be just the man to do it (though I have often thought that a sword would make a pretty measly ploughshare). I shall 'phone at once, and tell them to wrap up a forge for me.

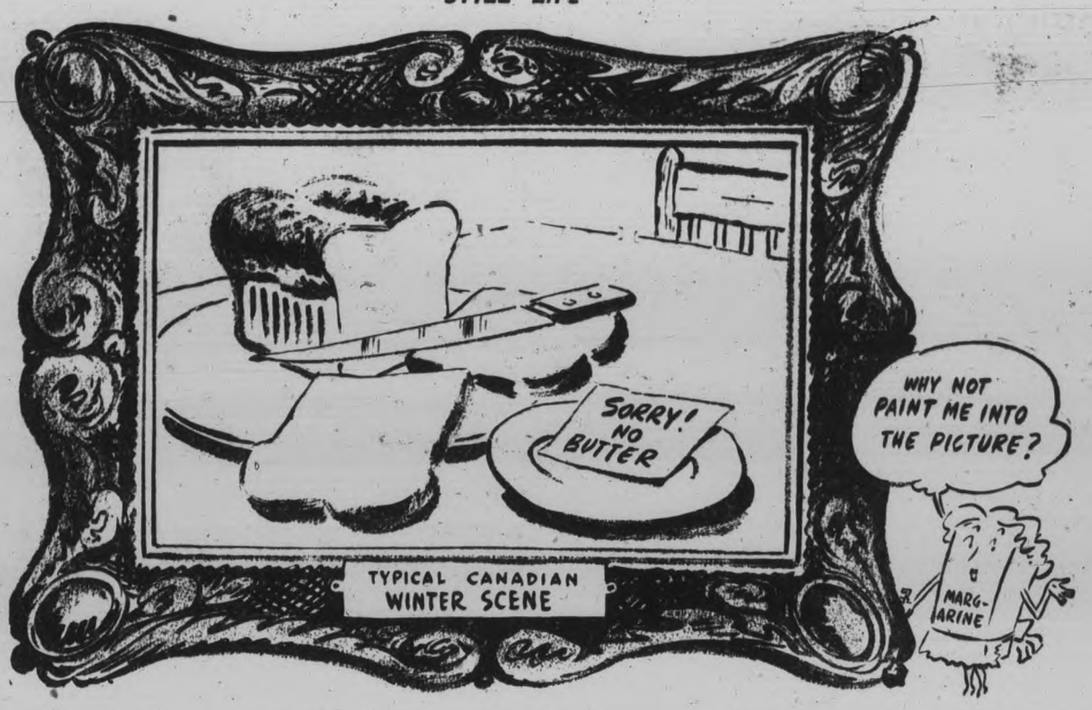
"STILL" LIFE



'Early to Bed' - - Nonsense!

From the New York Times

OF all the vain talk in the world, there is none more foolish than that line—credited to George Herbert and widely believed—"One hour's sleep before midnight is worth three after."

This has been sheer nonsense since the middle of the 17th century. An hour's sleep before midnight is worth absolutely nothing on the credit side of the ledger, and, in fact, it should be entered as one hour on the debit. Any hour before midnight that is spent in sleep is an hour wasted, an hour lost from important things, an hour gone to eternity, vanished, departed, fled. Bed, itself, is a last resort for any moment of the day or night, and to seek it deliberately for an hour before midnight is a sign of perverse madness.

A certain amount of sleep may be desirable, of course, and there can be no quarrel against that set belief on the part of many. Sleep however, is not a primary thing in life and, indeed, it ranks just following the dentist.

Sleep should be taken casually and without respect, and only when there is nothing else to do. Sometimes the hours long after midnight find very little going on, in the intellectual sense, and so they may as well be used in sleep. But the hours just before midnight are the finest in the day, and to throw them away is an action comparable only to that of the unhappy man who buried the 10 talents. This relative importance of the hours before and after midnight tacitly is conceded even by Herbert, at a ratio of three to one.

The evening offers the best hours of the day, and they increase in wealth and beauty as they approach midnight. Eleven o'clock is a far better hour for not going to bed than is seven. An iconoclast can go to bed at seven occasionally, and it is far better to do that than to make a regular habit of going at 11. The hours of the evening are the hours of relaxation and discussion, for the general advancement of knowledge, and even petty gossip can be indulged in more profitably in the evening than at any other time of day. There can be no telling how many neighbourhood secrets are lost during any hour wasted in sleep before midnight.

The evening, itself, is good because by then the day's work is over except for members of a few peculiar trades.

◇ ◇ ◇

BY the end of supper, all the day's resentments have been placed in the background; very often they have been discarded by the end of cocktails. On only one or two nights early in the month is it necessary to prod the keeper of the household accounts into adding up the bills, and perhaps another night later on in urging her to pay them. The evenings of the rest of the month are free for whatever may develop.

To be sure, it often is possible to get to bed before midnight on the nights the discussion of bills takes place, for the discussion ruins the evenings anyway. Going to bed before midnight under such circumstances is not to sleep, however, for the dream bark of the wolves is too loud, the wood of the door seems too thin.

PEI's Vote

Now that the (prohibition) question has been settled, it is to be hoped that all will cooperate in observing the spirit and letter of the law. The chief criticism levelled at prohibition was that it was unenforceable, and was obnoxious to many otherwise law-abiding citizens who felt that it invaded their personal liberty. The new act concedes the right of citizens to purchase liquor in moderate quantities for beverage purposes, but the abuse of this privilege will unquestionably bring a reversal of public opinion. If the act fails in its declared object of promoting temperance, it will deservedly come under condemnation from thousands of our citizens who yesterday gave it their support.—Charlottetown Guardian.

Eagle's Eye View

TIME still is strong who lifts us all one day
On eagle wings above our little selves,
And sets us down on high but frail rock-shelves
Where winds of God drive every mist away;
Yes, Time is kind to lift even once so high
If we but trust his talons, bear their sting,
And gladly soar to unguessed heights, and sing,
And dare to stand with eagles in the sky.

With awe we gaze on freedom's ocean sweep:
Our own small crafts with timid pilots hug
The rock-ribbed shore which like a perilous drug
Lulls them in silly safety from the deep.

Shipwards we plummet, eager eagle-eyed,
To sail brave seas we feared before to ride.

JOHN DAVIDSON.

Mulches Save Much Work Keep Top Soil Porous

Mulches should be applied to tomato plants while the soil is well supplied with moisture. They will prevent the soil from drying out, when hot weather arrives.

Tomatoes require a regular supply of water. Unlike many vegetables, it does not benefit from alternate drying out and soaking. When they lack water, the disease called blossom-end rot develops a black decayed spot opposite the stem. When they are soaked after being too dry, cracking of the fruit is likely.

Old newspapers, fastened down with wire staples, make a good mulch

By covering the soil about them with lawn clippings, straw, hay, leaves, peat moss or manure, weeds can be kept down and moisture kept in the soil. Thorough watering when rains are few will still be necessary. Poor drainage may have the same effect as a drouth, if the soil is continually so wet as to affect the root growth, and prevent the plant from taking the water it needs.

Lawn clippings, which are the most convenient mulch material with most amateurs, should not be applied green, but dried out first without piling them up, since they heat and decay with a bad odor when piled. It is best to apply a thin layer of clippings and work it into the soil first, then put on clippings to a depth of six inches, which is sufficent to keep down weeds.

After tomatoes have begun to bear they do not need so much water as before.

Many vegetables can be mulched with good effect on the crop, and a reduction in the work of cultivating and frequency of watering. Cucumbers, melons and squash will benefit especially. A much paced on the ground beneath vines, as well as tomatoes, which are not trained to supports, but lie on the ground, will keep the fruits cleaner, and protect them from decay.

Tomatoes are susceptible to two diseases, which careless handling may spread. Mosaic disease may be spread by using a knife in pruning, and a disease which persists in tobacco after it is cured, may be transmitted to tomato plants handled by careless smokers, who fail to wash their hands.

THESE HISTORIC BOWLS were once the property of Sir John A. Macdonald. Discovered in 1947 in Kingston in the office once occupied by the former prime minister of Canada, they were presented to the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club by James Skinner. Herb Martin, long a member of the club, is seen holding them.

Men's Crazy Summer Hats Gone Helicopter In Style

By NICK NICKELS

The fine old social gesture of males doffing their headgear when meeting the opposite sex may well become a thing of the past, for, among many of the wonderful things the atomic age has invented, is a helicopter cap. It is a skullcracker affair in bright felt with two plastic propellors that turn lazily in the breeze as you walk along. Perhaps the general idea is that instead of taking the cap off, it now takes itself off but nothing but a wind tunnel test will ever prove it.

Store windows on Main Street are full of these things, either as a summer hat novelty or a come-on premium for buying ships, shoes or sealing wax. Kids seem to be going in for them in a large way for it is hardly the the sort of thing you would expect to see an adult wearing. But there was on brave soul on George St., yesterday with a bright red creation blissfully walking along with both props spinning in the wind. We sized him up as a tourist, possibly a sportsman, for he wore high-cut smoked elk hunting boots just to round out the general effect.

Men have always made fun of women's hats and women try to get even by pointing out no matter what type of hat a man wears, it still looks silly on him. There are others who rave about men wearing no hats at all, it does things to the hair, it causes colds, it isn't right.

To see whether or not women are justified in their ridicule we visited a few haberdasheries to find out why their remarks were so scathing about men's skimmers. And this is what we saw.

If your taste runs to straws, and you are conservative, there is the old-fashioned stiff straw boater with a black band; panama fedoras with colored bands are snappier. Merchants tell us that there is no such thing as a workman's straw hat but there are harvester's straws, the same thing. They come in creased crowns and two and one-half gallon western style and are not made of peanut straw but of Canadian basswood bark. The old-time cow breakfasts were made of rye straw but have been off the market for years.

The boys that bowl buy white cotton-brimmed hats, the kind that get all soggy and shapeless after the first shower. Golfers favor a gabardine baseball cap with a foot-long visor and built-in swinging eye shield. Uniform caps in eight-pointed crowns and shiny black visors are the choice of chaffeurs, truck drivers and delivery men. Men who fancy they might look like tropical big game hunters have a choice of sun helmets in fibre, cork and pressed paper. There are tables full of multi-coloured felt baseball caps to delight the young gaffers.

Just to show you how old-fashioned we are, it was disappointing to find that the white cotton gob hats are strictly passe. Remember the messages they used to carry, "I need a nurse," and "Oh, you kid?" The store clerk said they had gone by the boards long ago and looked several times at our thinning hair.

"If you want something snappy, look at these helicopter caps," said he.

A survey showed that over 50 dozen of these weird things had been sold in Peterborough during the past ten days. The manager of a George Street novelty store said they were going like hot cakes and that there were only a few left. As we walked out of his establishment we looked over some very conservative-looking lamp shades and wondered how the male would look in some tidy pink number with fringed edges covered with celephane.

96 Pairs of Bowlers Entered In Liftlock Golden Doubles

Largest of Ontario's lawn bowling groups, the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club will hold its third annual Liftlock Golden Trophy Doubles tournament on Wednesday, July 14. Opened to all bowlers in the province, the lists are already filled, and 96 pairs, the cream of Ontario's lawn bowlers, will compete.

Herb Martin, well-known member of the club, said that nobody knows for sure when the club was first organized. "I think it was in the late 1890's. Anyhow, the club is at least 50 years old," he said.

There are 286 members in the Peterborough club, 196 of whom are men. Though some people believe that lawn bowling is an old man's game, there are enough young men in the club to give the lie to that belief. At least five of them are under 20.

Until 1904 the club occupied property at the northeast corner of Aylmer and Simcoe Streets, where the YWCA now stands. In that year, the lot was purchased by the YWCA, and the club had to move.

The lot on the south side of

E, president of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club, which will sponsor on July 14 the largest doubles tourney ever held in this district.

Brock Street between Aylmer and Bethune became the new home of the club. For 26 years, what is now a city playground echoed to the click of bowls. Membership grew and the club was forced to expand.

In 1929 a committee composed of J. T. Braund, Andy Brown, Walter Oke, J. D. Fitzpatrick, and B. Chesler, was selected to pick a new site for the club's operations. That year the present site on McDonnel Street was bought and by 1930 the new grounds were ready for use. Two greens, each 120 feet square, had been built and a tennis court added on the east end of the property.

Later the tennis court was discarded and plans were made for the construction of a new green. Last year, work was begun on the new green, and it will be opened on Tournament day.

A treasure of the club is a set of bowls that are believed to have belonged to Sir John A. Macdonold. These bowls were presented to the club last year by James Skinner. They were found in Macdonald's office in Kingston, and it has been established that they were used by him.

The Peterborough club has won many trophies. At one time or another, said Herb Martin, members have taken nearly every trophy in the district.

The Stratton Trophy, presented in 1912 by a former owner of The Examiner, is one of the oldest trophies in the district, and last year won in the annual tournament by the Peterborough club. Other trophies that have been captured by the club include: the Hiram Walker Trophy of Lindsay, the Oshawa Sinclair Trophy, the Bickell Cup of Cobourg, and the Nicholson File Trophy of Port Hope.

On July 14 the tournament and the new green will be opened by H. C. Baillie, president of the Ontario Lawn Bowling Association. Bowling will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until midnight.

Lazy Lips Spoil Speech

Canadians speak the most consistent English in the world—even if it is consistently wrong, says Mrs. Florence Aymong, well-known examiner in speech arts and drama.

"We tend to flatten our vowels and take the music out of our speech," she said. "But on the coast, in Vancouver and Victoria particularly, vowels in general are very good. We have musical vowel sounds without affectation."

Mrs. Aymong, a Torontonian, went to Victoria to examine applicants for entry in the speech arts and drama section of the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

"Lazy lips" account for many of the defects in speech of Canadians, she said.

"We don't articulate our t's and d's too well, particularly the final one. We slight them and it takes away from the vigor of the language."

Mrs. Aymong also said Canadians tend towards harshness of speech, and blamed it on the tremendous pace of living. Rushing, she said, tends to tighten the muscles, so that we scant our words and don't take time to articulate.

The speech record of the British Columbia coast is above the Canadian average in Mrs. Aymong's opinion. She put forward the presence of many educated English people as a possible reason.

Great Blue Heron Nests In Big Tree On Douro Farm

By HARRY THEOBALD

A community of the great blue heron on the farm of Walter Garbutt, lot 5, concession 10, Douro, was photographed this spring by V. R. Henry of the Collegiate and Vocational School staff. The exact location of the place was obtained from Allan T. Brown, who, like Mr. Henry, has long been interested in the birds and other natural life of this district.

These birds had previously frequented a group of swamp elms on the old Cowie farm, one concession south of the Garbutt property. With the felling of the tall elms to which they returned every spring, they found themselves homeless, not a trace of their high platforms of loosely assembled sticks.

For all their appearance of being crude and jerry-built contraptions, in contrast with the fine workmanship of the golden oriole, the nests of the herons were securely anchored in crotches of lofty limbs.

Summarily evicted from their eyrie domicile in the Cowie swamp, they refused to leave the familiar neighborhood, and winged over to the Garbutt trees where they set up a new colony.

Lack of leafage in the accompanying photograph indicates that the herons arrived back early from the south. The group of nests in the picture, with several birds shown awing, suggests a numerous congregation. But they are believed to have been depleted recently by men and youths with guns killing as they tramp the countryside such graceful creatures as the Great Blue Heron.

Information obtained by Mr. Brown boded injury and death among these birds in the Garbutt tree tops. Such wanton killing in these days of diminishing wild life in the Peterborough district is beyond the understanding of ordinary citizens who are getting farther afield than ever in this generation and delight in seeing the living things that have survived the gradual disappearance of timberland and bush where birds and little animals are at home.

The heron is a first cousin of the bittern and the egret, other waterfowl that should receive the protection of men. He is a denizen of marshes, and his long slender form of legs and bill and body, and also of color, harmonizes with the vegetation in which he silently stalks fish and frogs. There is death in the swift stroke of his darting beak. He is a wader, but he also finds food ashore, and is thereby amphibious.

A heronry is a noisy community when the nestlings catch sight of parental wings arriving with food they have speared in shallows of swamp and shoreline. Raucous calls announce the expect meal time as the elder herons return in graceful flight from trips that may be some miles distant from the community in the township elm tops.

The fate this season of the herons on the Garbutt farm is not definitely known, neither is the identity of the triggermen who shoot at them.

BLUE HERON EERIE on the farm of Walter Garbutt, Lot 5, Con. 10, Douro. People who are not concerned about differences call the heron a crane. "There are no cranes in this part of the country," Alex. Kay says. "You have to go a long way north to see them." The heron is protected by law and penalty, and the public will be deeply indignant to know that youths are permitted to carry guns in the countryside and shoot at these splendid birds. They are waterfowl, related to the bittern and egret.

Veteran Movie Projectionist Operated For 22,000 Shows

By NICK NICKELS

It is pleasant to go to the movies occasionally but it must be boring to go too often. How would you feel if you had seen more than 22,000 complete shows over the past 18 years? And yet there is a man in Peterborough who has done just that; he is small wiry John J. (Paddy) Cooke, movie projectionist at the Centre Theatre.

We stumbled through the darkened theatre house the other afternoon to the third story projection booth with visions of seeing Paddy wilted from the heat of his mammoth machines, seated on a stool watching the film from the projection slot. Nothing could have been more incorrect for Paddy was busy, setting ammeters selecting sound tones, threading new reels into one machine and ready with a watch to stop another reel that had all but run out.

It was cool in the booth too, through modern air conditioning and to a background of sound affects of a Western bad man shooting it out with a Sheriff's posse in Cactus Gulch, we managed to follow Paddy from one projector to another and get a story of the theatre in Peterborough as experienced by him.

Paddy was born in Fenelon Falls and came to Peterborough at the age of 18 to work. He had a passion for the theatre and although he worked in a factory by day, he would be found at night working as "grips", or electrician, at the old Grand Opera House. He tells of "bringing a show in" for 50 cents, which meant that he had to go to the railway station with workmen and drays to bring trunks and properties to the Grand. Through the performances he worked the coloured spot lights and later "took the show away" when it was over. He recalls performances of such great troupers as Sir John Martin Harvey, Sir Harry Lauder, the Marx' Brothers and hosts of others.

Two favourite silent movies that have remained in his mind for years are the "Four Horseman" and "The Sheik". Paddy even had a hand in making movies fo rthree years in Trenton. That was when Capt. Bruce Bairnsfather produced several movies for the Canadian International Film Company. Paddy acted as grips again arranging studio lighting and remembers sorrowfully that the last production they made was rather good but died a sudden death when it was launched on the eve of the talkie era.

By this time movies had got into his blood and he was apprenticed in a Port Hope theatre, secured his license and operated in Trenton for seven years. He came back to Peterborough to work at the Centre in 1938 and has been there ever since, four shows a day, six days a week, fifty weeks a year.

The mechanics of a modern projection machine is very complicated. Yards and yards of 35 millimeter film are fed before strong lenses at just the right exposure and accompanied by just the right amount of sound. In order to throw an enlarged image on a screen 100 feet away, the most powerful manmade light in the form of electric carbons is used; the illuminated gas from the carbon tips produces more than 20,000 watts of light and theh heat is drawn off by an exhaust fan. Sound is produced by a photo-electric cell system in conjunction with recorded markings on the edge of the film.

Unknown to the audience, a movie reel that takes only 14 minutes to play in one projector is cut out while the following reel is cut in on the companion machine without a flicker.

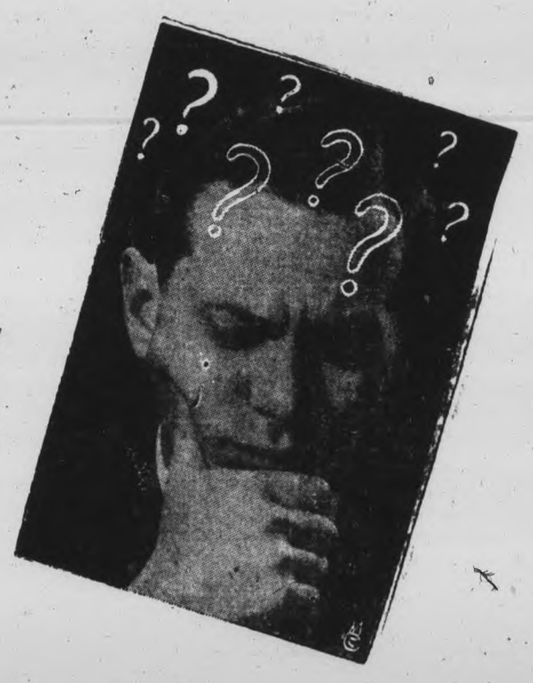
"Don't you get tired of watching shows?" we asked Paddy.

Apparently he didn't and we could see the reason why. He was so busy that the snatches of film he saw from time to time took him about two days to piece the complete story together. Paddy likes the virile male actors of the present day, but has no use for "love mush". Historical films rate highly with him and he tries to make a point of seeing each newsreel.

As we left the projection room, we saw flashes of two huskies battling each other on a salmon cannery dock in Alaska; there was a great thudding of fists and terrific groans. It set an entirely separate train of though going through Paddy's head, the groans, no doubt.

"Sorry I can't spend more time with you Mac," said Paddy. "As soon as a relief operator gets here, I have to go to the dentist's to get a new upper plate fitted. It's going to hurt for awhile." There was a scream from the loudspeaker. Paddy winched noticeably.

"One-Man Headache!"



Looking after an estate is too much of a task for any one man — or your wife. There are taxes . . . appraisals . . . reports . . . inventories . . . investment decisions . . . often the operation of a business . . . and many other responsibilities. When the Grey and Bruce Trust and Savings Company acts as executor a "one man headache" becomes an orderly, efficient and economical procedure.

Executors' fees are determined by the court — based on the amount and kind of assets in the estate and the amount of work involved. The fee allowed a trust company is the same as that allowed an inexperienced private executor.

Late Drive By the OLA Petes Beats Orillia By 14-11 Count

A three-goal drive in the final three minutes of play by the Petes pulled out a 14-11 OLA Senior 'B" victory for them over Orillia lacrossers in Miller Bowl last night. A big crowd saw the best home contest of the season with the count tied at 11-all with slightly over three minutes remaining in a speedy, even fray. While there were 10 penalties handed out, eight to the homesters, it was generally a clean game, and plenty exciting the last half as the visitors outscored the Creighton crew 8-7.

It was 3-1 the first quarter for the locals and they had a 4-2 edge next heat to make it 7-3 at the half. They needed this early margin as Orillia had a 3-2 bulge in the third quarter and the final flurry was 5-5, but the Petes scored the winning markers late to keep intact their undefeated record for the season. The crowd was probably the biggest yet this year.

Dootch Vitarelli starred on the offensive, and won a hat, being in on seven goals in a fine showing. Foote, Dugan, Chute and Jack Breakspear also shone, the latter two both on the attack and defensively. It was Jack's best home showing so far this season. Bun Hill turned in a nifty chore in the net as he had to stop a lot of hot ones from the battling Orillia bunch. Fagan, too, pulled off some good saves in the rival net and let few easy ones by him. One of the Orillia goals was pulled into the local net by a home player. Hammond, Beaton, J. J. Hill and Burrell were the best of the visitors.

The teams:

Orillia: Goal, Fagan; defence, Balkwell and Hammond; centre, Price; wings, Crowe and Beaton; rover, J. J. Hill; alternates, Varty, Johnson, Scarlett, Street, McTaggart, Burrell and Antonia.

Marines Win Over CGE In Late Heats

Outboard Marines mauled CGE 15-5 at the Bowl last night in a girls' softball tussle to climb close to the top-place Westclox crew and drop Electrics a bit in the standing. The CGE-ers played good ball for five innings but errors eventually beat them while Marines played smart ball and kept hammering away to finally roll up the count in the last several frames. It was a nice number to view till the late innings and then it got too one-sided. M. Hill hurled a fair game for the winners, while M. Perrin had to take over from J. Hart in the sixth for CGE and she didn't fare so well. J. Hart had six strikeouts but was weakening.

S. Curtis, A. LaPointe, M. Batley and R. Todd all turned in a nice defensive job. V. Mitchell led the Outboards at bat with four singles in five tries, and S. Curtis hit a triple. T. DeCarlo topped the losers at the plate with three for five and J. Hart banged out a three-bagger.

The teams:

CGE—I. Stewart, 3b; M. Batley, cf; T. DeCarlo, ss; R. Hewitt, 1b; M. Perrin, lf, p; E. Thompson, c; M. Aitkins, c; R. Todd, rf, 2b; A. Collins, 2b; M. O'Brien, rf; J. Hart, p, lf.

Peewee Lacrossers

Peewee lacrosse started out here two weeks ago with two teams. Since then, enough players reported to organize four teams. However, Jack Foote advises that teams will have to field all their own players every game during the schedule if at all possible. The age limit is 12 years, and more boys are invited out. The weekly schedule will be published every Friday or Saturday, and following are the teams and players:

Lions: D. Sutherland, J. Sutherland, D. Leach, D. Finn, C. Morgan, D. Chambers, J. Kane, E. Robins and C. Woodcock.

Petes: Bud McDougall, G. Cairns, R. Saunders, D. Horton, F. Ball, B. Godfrey, M. Hynes, L. Pearl and C. Simmons.

Port Hope Pair Winners Bowling Play

By HERB MARTIN

Playing under ideal weather conditions the ladies of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club held their first annual doubles tournament for the Lincoln Shoe Cup on Friday morning and afternoon.

And to the veteran pair from Port Hope, Mrs. McLaughlin and Mrs. McTaggart, goes the honor of winning this beautiful trophy, in the first year of competition. Other three-game winners were: Mrs. Doughty and Mrs. Bearne, Peterborough, Mrs. Meade and Mrs. Highfield, Port Hope, and Mrs. Brennan and Mrs. Taylor, Campbellford.

The entry was all that the committee had expected and we are told that it was the first time some of the ladies had ever played on our greens. There were pairs entered from Belleville, Brighton, Campbellford, Cobourg, Port Hope, Lindsay and Peterborough.

Many nice compliments were heard on all sides and the ladies are to be congratulated on the success of the tournament.

Liked Setup

The idea of playing in the morning and afternoon, instead of afternoon and evening, served to go over big. It s not a new idea but it is a good one.

The prizes were fairly well divided, three being won by the local club and five by the visitors. One of the nicest features about the tournament was that it was all over around 6 o'clock. Taking it all in all, it was one of the most successful tournaments the ladies have ever sponsored.

The "family hour" mixed rink tournament is on the program for tonight 7.30 o'clock.

Winners

1st (Port Hope) — Mrs. McLaughlin and Mrs. McTaggart—Lincoln Shoe Cup and each a replica presented by Mrs. H. Emmerson.

2nd (Peterborough) — Mrs. Doughty and Mrs. Bearne.

3rd (Port Hope)—Mrs. Meade and Mrs. Highfield.

4th (Campbellford)—Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Brennan.

5th (Peterborough)—Mrs. Ackford and Mrs. Cameron.

6th (Belleville) — Mrs. Cross and Mrs. Mott.

7th (Peterborough)—Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Dawe.

8th (Brighton)— Mrs. Drewry and Mrs. Conn.

Local Cricketers Play In Ottawa

The Peterborough County team play Carleton County in Ottawa today in the first round of the competition for the R. C. Matthews Trophy, emblematic of the county cricket championship of Ontario.

The team is, with one exception, the regular Peterborough-Whitaker Club team and the exception is W. Rashleigh, a Grove School master.

Some of the team left last night but the main body left at 5.30 this morning for their 150 mile road trip; not a very good preparation for a day's play, but it was unavoidable.

The men left in good spirit and determined to do their best to play to the good form shown against Toronto Parkdale last Saturday. The strength of the opposition is quite unknown.

Peterborough County have been regular contestants for many years and have twice been in the semi finals and once in the finals. Last year they defeated Welland County in the semi finals but fell heavily before Wentworth County in the final.

East Beats West

East City juveniles yanked out a 5-2 Baseball League victory over the westenders last night in Riverside in a fine ball tussle. Shaughnessy pitched three-hit baseball for the winners and fanned 11, while Dorris and Corkery split hurling duties for the losers, giving up but seven hits and whiffing 10. Both sides were rather loose in the fielding department and an error figured in the victors' three-run rally to win out in the seventh. Swanston and Casey each hit safely twice for the victors and McGillen had a double. Griffin hit a triple and Corkery a double for the other side. The teams:

West: Robinson, rf; Berwick, ss; Grainger, cf; Griffin, 1b; Kumpf, 2b; Killingbeck, lf; Corkery, 3b, p; Bigford, c; Doris, p, 3b; Taylor.

East: Plumpton, 3b; Casey, ss; Hill, 2b; Swanston, c; Langhorne, cf; McGillen, rf; Welch, lf; Wyatt, 1b; Shaughnessy, p.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Lots of baseball in Riverside Park today, weather being okay. Intermediate Petes play Bowmanville this aft at three here while a COBL contest goes at 6.15 betwixt Oshawa Merchants and the senior Petes. Following their one-sided win over Kingston the other day, the Merchants are out to knock off the league-leading locals right here. Ed Murphy has three twirlers available again, Doug Loucks, Bill Edger and Gunner Whitehill, but hasn't announced which one gets tonight's call. Two of the top thumpers in the circuit, Fred Bidgood of Oshawa and Howie Dalton of the Petes, will be in action in this game. It deserves a big twilight crowd.

From 250 to 300 boys are playing lacrosse in Peterborough this summer. Isn't that something? Yeah, a real gutted-stick boom in this borough, with the senior "B" Petes parent club responsible. Two tadople teams in the setup, kids up to 10 years of age; four peewees, up to 12; five bantams, up to 14 years; four or five midgets, going to 16; and four juveniles, who range up to 18. The local intermediates are on their own and then the senior "B" Petes run their own show, of course. All these minors, except tadpoles, will affiliate with the OLA with all-star squads picked early next month. Games and drills daily from 10 a.m. to five p.m. Next week's schedule appears tonight.

In Charge Of It All

Jack Foote is coach and supervisor of the minor lacrosse association as a full-time job, paid by the Petes. He plays rover for them and spends the rest of his time coaching the youngsters. He took his degree of Bachelor of Physical and Health Education at Toronto University and goes next fall to the Ontario College of Education for high school teaching. The 26-year-old ace played senior "A" for Fergus and Brampton before doing three and a half years in the navy. He was with Fergus two years ago when they won the senior "B" title, edging out the Petes in a sizzling semi-final series. Last year he played senior "A" for Hamilton.

* * * * * *

He likes lacrosse and enjoys teaching it to the boys. Jack is married and lives now at Chemong but will move back to Toronto when college opens again. Hails originally from Fergus but has lived recently in Toronto ere coming here. A fine fellow and a first-class player, he was an excellent choice by the local executive for the job. And it's no cinch of a job, either, looking after maybe 275 boys ranging in age from about eight years up to around 19. How would you, gentle reader, like to try it?

* * * * * *

Lot Of Work There

Before leaving the subject, we'd like to point out that Jack's job was set up by the minor lacrosse executive, under direction of Ken Kingston. They've done a marvellous job in organizing and equipping the various sections. Fellows like Vert Reynolds, Jack Cooper, Walt Murphy and several more are still helping out plenty. And the parent club is behind the whole works both in Miller Bowl and the secondary box. Lacrosse here is certainly booming, but it's not by accident. Winning a provincial title in a swell big box before a record crowd last fall helped the cause a lot, but there's been a lot of hard work put into it this year, too. Good stuff.

* * * * * *

The senior "B" game last night at Miller Bowl was the best seen here yet this season, with the Petes hustling plenty the last few minutes to pull out a 14-11 win o'er Orillia. Before a big and noisy crowd which could be heard uptown the last two quarters. A fast, fairly clean contest, and the Orillia guys really made it a battle all the way. They had an 8-7 scoring edge the last half but the scrappy Petes—who drew eight of the 10 penalties—came up with their usual late drive to pull it out of the fire. Dootch Vitarelli paced the scorers to earn the hat offered the most valuable player, while Jack Breakspear turned in his best home showing both on defence and on the attack. Whole crew did well in a fine game, Emmett Creighton sitting it out with an injured toe.

In The Lasses' Loop

In girls, softball at the Bowl yester gloaming, Woollens nosed out Lindsay 7-6 in a tidy tussle, while Marines drove toward the end to whip the CGE-ers 15-5. A better game than it sounds as it was tight till about the seventh, and that first one was an okay fixture, also. Westclox and Marines look to be the pick of the senior section now, with Ashby's and CGE knocking at the door. Lindsay still has a one-game margin on Woollens, with Lakefield a bit ahead of Lock Co. yet. Just one game here Monday—it being July 12th and there being a parade—Lindsay vs. Ashby's at seven, as Marines go to Lakefield.

A's Nose Out Red Sox 8-7 In a Story-Book Finish

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Staging a story book finish, Philadelphia Athletics nosed out Boston Red Sox 8-7 last night and moved within 10 percentage points of the American League's front-running Cleveland Indians.

Before 28,323 fans at Philadelphia, the A's scored two runs in the ninth inning with pinch-hitter Carl Schieb doubling home Elmer Valo with the payoff counter after two were out.

Ed Joost paced the victor's 12-hit attack with four singles while Vern Stephens led the Sox's 15-hit barrage with a double and three singles.

Before 34,780 fans at Cleveland, St. Louis Browns turned back Bob Lemon and the Indians 5-3. The Browns sewed it up by scoring four runs in the first two innings. One of the runs was a homer by pitcher Fred Sanford who received credit for the victory although he needed help from Ned Garver in the seventh.

Makes Debut

Leroy (Satchel) Paige, famous Negro hurler purchased by the Tribe Wednesday, made his major league debut when he entered the game in the fifth inning. He hurled two scoreless rounds.

The third-place New York Yankees trounced the Senators 9-0 before 22,615 fans at Washington. Ed Lopat throttled the Nats on four hits while the Yankees collected 12 including Joe DiMaggio's 19th homer of the season.

A banner gathering of 50,636 fans at Detroit saw Fred Hutchinson pitch the Tigers to a 4-2 conquest over the last-place Chicago White Sox. Aaron Robinson's two-run ninth-inning homer spoiled Hutchinson's bid for a shutout.

Boston Braves ripped Philadelphia Phillies to shreds 13-2 at Boston to stretch their National League lead to 3½ games over Pittsburgh Pirates.

Pirates Lose

The Pirates lost a 2-1 decision to the Cubs in Chicago in the only day game in either league. Bill Nicholson banged his 11th homer with one on in the sixth inning to provide the Cubs with their margin of victory over the Pirates.

The third-place St. Louis Cardinals crept to within a half game of the Pirates, beating Cincinnati Reds 6-4 at St. Louis. Errors by Danny Litwhiler and Virgil Stallcup enabled the Cards to score twice in the eighth inning and break a 4-4 tie. Stan Musial belted his 20th homer for the Red Birds.

Brooklyn's up-and-coming Dodgers trounced the Giants 10-3 before 50,819 spectators at New York. The victory enabled the Dodgers to move from sixth to fifth place, a half game behind the fourth-place Giants.

Woollens Edge Lindsay In Girls' Game

Dominion Woollens defeated Lindsay 7-6 at the Bowl last night in a Girls' Softball League fixture to pull up into sixth place just one game back of the Scugog squad in fifth. They went by the idle Lakefield crew with this win. The victors played heads-up ball in the keen contest and tightened up in the pinches while Lindsay errors and walks hurt at crucial times. They outhit Woollens and there were few strikeouts by the Lindsay pitcher, but S. Harris fanned seven and walked one to four by J. Bryan.

E. Humphries and B. Hall looked good in the field for the winners. D. Madill and M. Chase stood out for the other side. Feature catches in this fairly fast fray were pulled off by E. Humphries and P. Graham, and Lindsay had two double plays. J. McIlwain, R. McInroy and C. Ferguson each had two hits, one of the latter's a homer, for Woollens, as D. Wood led Lindsay with four bingles, and M. Chase hit a homer.

The teams:

Lindsay — H. Deyell, 2b; P. Graham, 1b; D. Hunter, c; M. Chase, ss; D. Madill, lf; D. Wood, cf; M. Owen, 3b; J. Bryan, p; M. Dawkins, rf.

Woollens—C. Ferguson, lf; R. Hall, 2b; R. McInroy, rf; E. Humphries, cf; M. Laing, 1b; J. McIlwain, ss; S. Harris, p; H. Goodfellow, 3b; B. Jaquith c.

STILL UNOFFICIAL?

Marshall Miles, one of Joe Louis' managers, said Friday that Louis' retirement from the heavyweight boxing throne still was unofficial. He said that Louis' letters, announcing his retirement had not been sent to either the New York State Athletic Commission or to the National Boxing Association.

He's Safe with an Evinrude

Youngsters love the water and every child should know the rules for water safety. Teach your child the right way to handle a boat . . . then let him take his turn as pilot of your Evinrude. Evinrude outboard motors are built for safety. All moving parts above the water-line are completely enclosed. Controls are simple and easy to operate, the motor responds to the lightest touch. Evinrudes are engineered with "know-how", tested through years of research and experience.

Evinrudes are sold and serviced by a coast-to-coast organization of fully equipped Evinrude dealers. Factory trained mechanics and genuine Evinrude parts are right on hand when you need them.

Smallest Evinrudes, the 1½ h.p. SPORTSMAN and the 3.3 h.p. SPORTWIN are ideal for the kids and you'll find them swell for fishing too. See them at your dealer's today or write for complete literature and "Know Your Outboard Motor" booklet.

Mexico Downs Dominion 2-1

MONTREAL, July 10 (CP).—Canada's Davis Cup team faces the difficult task of knocking off Mexico in the final two singles matches here today in order to win the North American zone semi-final tie between the two nations.

Yesterday's triumph in the doubles gave Mexico a 2-1 edge in the best-of-five match series. The teams had split the opening singles matches Thursday.

Vega and Young Gustavo Palafox gave a great display of precision tennis in beating the Macken brothers, Brendan and Jimmy, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4, in yesterday's doubles. At no time did they appear to lose control of the match.

Theatre Jersts Make Life Very Miserable

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 10 (AP).—Are you a Theatre Jerst? . . . .

Of course, you know what a Theatre Jerst is. That's a combination of jerk and pest who makes life miserable for the average patrons who want to see a movie in peace and quiet. Movie manners have become so bad in recent years that many customers are going to pictures less often because they can't stand these pesky jersts.

I consulted a friend of mine, manager of a local first-run film house. I found him a broken man.

"I was once a happy, carefree boy," he sighed, dripping a tear on his tuxedo front. "Then I became a theatre manager."

Jersts are the cause of his woe. With a crazed glint in his eye, he told me about the scourge as he ripped asunder the tickets on incoming customers. I have classified his complaints and added a few of my own in the following jersts:

Complaints Classified

1. Corn Chomper. This character tries to see how many decibels he can get out of a bag of popcorn. The "Green Dolphin Street" earthquake was nothing compared to the sound effect he makes.

2. Knee Nudgers. He likes to shinny up the back of your seat with his knees. By the end of the show you feel as though you've taken a vibrator course.

3. H. V. Kaltenborn, Jr. This bush-league know-it-all has to comment on the entire picture. He's the guy who shouts "You'll be sor-ry!" in the middle of a tender wedding scene.

4. Loge Lotharios. While you're trying to watch the picture, they're pitching noisy woo. That might be all right in a rumble seat, but in a crowded theatre, it's murder.

5. Seat Arm Monopolist. He demands full right of both seat arms and will jab you until he gets his way.

6. Pepsin Prankster. This lamebrain takes pleasure in leaving chewing gum on seats so the next squatter will get stuck. The offence should be made a felony.

7. The Shifter. He's the guy in front of you who does a sitting St. Vitus Dance.

8. Seat Sprawler. This lanky lad demands a diameter of three seats in all directions. He should be made to pay for them.

I could number many more. But then, we don't have to worry. You and I aren't Jersts.

Or are we?

WITH THE RACE in the big leagues half finished, class is showing itself more and more with the clubs and the individual players. Established stars generally are hitting their true stride now. Above shown some of these veteran hitters, fielders and are back in the groove. Top, left to right, Hal Reese, Brooklyn shortstop; Bob Feller, Cleveland's high-priced hurler; and Hal Newhouser, Detroit mound ace; below: Joe DiMaggio, slugging Yankee outfielder; the one and only Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox; and the veteran George McQuinn, Yankee first-sacker.

Gray's Putting Wins Him Ontario Crown

TORONTO, July 10 (CP)—Bob Gray's brilliant driving and putting have earned him the Ontario Golf championship for the second successive year.

Home pro at the nearby Scarboro Golf Club, Gray stroked his way over Scarboro's rolling greens yesterday and came in with a one-under-par 210 for 54 holes.

Gray's 18-year-old pupil, Bob Fair, led all the amateur competitors home and finished in a three-way tie for sixth place in the combined pro-amateur field.

Tied for second place in the main competition with 213 were Frank Commisso, Rochester, N.Y., and Jack Littler, Toronto Oakdale. Former champion Gordon Brydson, Toronto Mississauga, placed fourth with 217.

Other top pros were: Dick Borthwick, Hamilton Ancaster, 218; Bill Kerr, Montreal Beaconsfield, and Bob Burns, Erie Downs, 219; Bill Ezinicki, Winnipeg, and Lou Cumming, Toronto, 220.

A Slight Error

Gray almost lost his second-round score of 69 when he and Jules Huot, Laval-Sur-Le-Lac, found they had exchanged balls after holing out on the 17th green. They faced a two-stroke penalty, but tournament officials upheld their scores when it was established the mistake had occurred between the 17th green and the 18th tee.

Gray was over and under par in the afternoon round. He had birdies on five holes and was one-over-par on five others. His driving and putting saved him.

Huot had a 76 in the morning and a 75 in the afternoon for a 54-hole score of 224.

Fair had scores of 74, 71, 74 for his 54-hole total of 219. He said he would have had a 68 on the second round but for an eight on the par five 10th.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

By The Canadian Press

Cigar-smoking marathoner Gerad Cote of St. Hyacinthe, Que., No. 1 choice to bag points for Canada in the forthcoming Olympics, did a fade-out in London, Eng.

He out-distanced newspaper men and games organizers trying to catch up with him, since his arrival in London by air Thursday night. All inquiries as to his whereabouts led to a dead end.

The RAF station at nearby Uxbridge where the Canadians will be billeted, hasn't seen him. "All we have here are 30 Koreans," the camp commandant said.

Northern Canada nesting grounds are producing more wild ducks and geese this year than last, the United States Fish and Wildlife Service said Friday.

"Compared to the favorable years of the past, the breeding grounds are still seriously underpopulated," Albert Day, director of the service, said. Duck and goose production in Saskatchewan, Alberta and Ontario is increasing.

Demon Hanover, future book Hambletonian favorite, won the $5,000 William K. Dickerson Memorial trot at Goshen, NS's historic track Friday, after finishing 10th in the first heat. The bay speedster maintained his favorite role for the $60,000 sulky derby at Goshen Aug. 11.

Guerrillas are cutting short the distance the Olympic torch will be carried in Greece, planners in London, Eng., established a schedule calling for the fiery symbol to be relayed from Olympia, site of the ancient games, through Greece for four days and four nights. But the Greek army can only promise four hours protection for torch bearers against guerrilla attacks.

Five Massachusetts race tracks were sued for $25,000,000 Friday by a lawyer who contends daily double betting is illegal in Massachusetts. Joseph Donovan Jr., filed suits in two courts, under a Massachusetts law which allows any citizen to sue for three times the amount wagered in illegal gambling transactions.

Australia Has Back To Wall

MANCHESTER, England, July 10.—(CP).—Without the services of Sidney Barnes, the Australian cricket team today had their backs to the wall in the third test mach against England. At lunch time they had lost six wickets for 202 runs in their first innings, in reply to England's score of 363.

It was the third day of the five-day match, being played at Old Trafford grounds. Australia won the first two matches.

Barnes, who was injured when struck by a ball while fielding Friday, was thought this morning to have made a good recovery. He went to the nets to try himself out, but collapsed. In spite of this, he went in to bat but collapsed again and now is unlikely to resume play in this match.

With only nine runs added to the overnight score of 126 for three, Australia lost Keith Miller. He was out, leg before wicket, while trying to swipe out one of Dick Pollard's deliveries. Miller had helped to add 53 in 75 minutes.

It was then that Barnes came in. He was cheered loudly by the crowd of 35,000 for his plucky decision. But Barnes' effort was too much for him. He sank to the ground and had to be assisted off the field.

A fighting innings by opening batsmen Arthur Morris ended with the total score at 139 when he hit a ball straight into the hands of Denis Compton at long leg. At the wicket for three hours 40 mintes, he hit six fours.

Don Tallon then joined Sam Lotxon and the pair added 33 before Tallon was caught behind the wicket, off Bill Eldrich's bowling for 18.

At lunch Loxton had scored 32 not out and Ray Lindwall 12 not out.

Lacrosse Schedule Drawn For Minors

Coach Jack Foote of the minor lacrosse association here has drafted up a week's schedule of daytime games and practices for Miller bowl. At one p.m. Monday, Tudhope's bantams practise, and at two the Rockets and Spitfires have a tadpole game. This is followed an hour later by a peewee joust between Petes and Lions. Juveniles drill at four.

At 10 a.m. Tuesday, tadpole Rockets practice and at 11 the peewee Tigers work out. At one p.m. the Buffalo peewees drill and the juveniles take over at two. An hour later sees the bantam Clapper's working out and at four the midget Cavanagh crew drills. Wednesday at 10 a.m., Spitfire tadpoles work out while McGillis midgets drill at 11. St. Paul's bantams have a one p.m. workout and this is followed by a peewee game, Buffalo's vs. Petes. Juveniles have the next hour and Comstock's midgets practise at four.

Rockets and Spitfires have a tadpole tilt Thursday at 10 a.m., followed by a game between Tiger peewees and Buffalos. Nothing then till when the juveniles have the bowl, and at three Kiwanis bantams practise with Americans having a midget drill at four. On Friday, peewee Petes work out at 10 a.m. with 11 left open for the tadpoles. Nothing at one, but a peewee game at two, Lions vs. Tigers. Juveniles have the next hour and the last one is open. On Saturday Lions peewees practice at 10 a.m. and 11 is open for juveniles. The only afternoon assignment is at two when Montreal bantams drill. Players should clip this week's schedule. night games will be announced from time to time.

Giants Trounce Syracuse 7-1

By The Associated Press

Jack Harshman, rookie first sacker of Jersey City Giants, is batting only .255 but when the ducks are on the pond the 20-year-old slugger is a tough cookie to get out.

He socked his 19th four-bagger Friday night with two on in the first inning to start the Giants on their way to a 7-1 victory over Syracuse Chiefs.

In a slugfest at Montreal, Buffalo Bisons batted out a 15-9 triumph over the pact-setting Royals. The Bisons sewed it up with a 10-run drive in the third inning. Anse Moore and Johnny Bero homered for the Bisons and Chuck Connors cracked a three-run round tripper for the Royals.

Toronto Maple Leafs, tied with the Bisons for third place, edged Rochester Red Wings 7-6. A four-run sixth inning rally decided the game in favor of the Leafs, who now have won eight out of their last 12 starts. The Bisons and Leafs are only one game behind the runner-up Newark Bears who lost a 1-0 decision to the last-place Baltimore Orioles.

B.C. Man Breaks Lone Record

MONTREAL, July 10.—(CP).—Anyone with ideas of stealing the show in today's windup of the Olympic final trials will have to think up something better than cracking a long-standing Canadian record or getting under Olympic-standard figures.

The one piece of record-busting was the proud accomplishment of Bill Parnell of Vancouver who romped home winner in the 1,500 metres. Bill's ttime of 3 minutes 58.5 seconds clipped a second and a half off the old record set by J. Walters of the Hamilton Olympic club back in 1928.

The long-distance event, one of the features on the opening card, went to Don James of the Winnipeg YMCA. Don, an 18-year-old boy, is in his second year of serious competition. He weighs 135 pounds and looks as if he couldn't last half the distance.

Bob McFarlane of the University of Western Ontario fooled nobody when he raced home, game leg and all, ahead of his brother Don in the 400 metres, Bob's specialty.

Housing Plans Investigated In Millbrook

MILLBROOK, July 10 (ENS)—Reeve H. D. Bigelow presided for the July meeting of Millbrook Municipal Council.

John Pitt addressed the members in connection with the expropriation, or purchase, of Lot 3, west side of George St., and at present owned by the village. Gordon Baker, representing the Lions' Club, drew the attention of council to the existing danger to children by the parking of cars and street traffic, in front of the playground.

On motion of Councillors Woods and Ball, it was decided to place "No Parking Between Signs" by Police Order, on the street at the northwest corner, and the northeast limits of the children's playground, south side of King St.

Rev. C. M. MacLean addressed council, introducing a proposition by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation of building houses for veterans. The clerk was instructed to obtain full particulars of this proposition.

Communications included a letter from L. H. Winslow re registration of deed of land purchased from the village; from W. C. Powell, re change of laneway; from L. F. Clarry, K.C., re condition of sidewalk and ditches on east side of gravel road south; from the inspector of public schools, W. H. Carelton, re school grants of 1948, from the Canadian Institute for the Blind asking permission to hold a tag day on Sept. 25 (request granted).

It was decided that the reeve interview the county and the township on purchasing two culverts needed by the village. The clerk reported $35 paid out in direct relief during June.

The following accounts were ordered paid: F. Smith, gas and oil, $16.98; Millbrook Motors, grease and repairs, $21.60; Hydro Elec. Com., $65.59; P. Many Difficulties Stand In Way Of Enacting Promises

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, July 10 (CP)—United States political parties confidently announced platforms every Presidential election year, promising heaven on earth if they are elected to power, and nothing is said of the difficulties of enacting the platform into legislature.

That happened at Philadelphia when the Republicans picked the Dewey-Warren ticket a fortnight ago, and it will happen again in the same place next week when the Democrats pick their ticket.

No Solidarity

United States political parties do not have the same rules of loyalty to leadership and cabinet solidarity that exists in Canada and other countries with British parliamentary systems.

The leader about whom the party rallies every four years is elected to the Presidency but not to Congress and he goes to Congress rarely to deliver a message to the combined chambers.

The Congressmen (Senators and representatives) sit in their respective chambers and start legislating with each man or woman a law unto himself.

The leadership of the parties in Congress rests with chosen members, one for the majority and the other for the minority.

If the administration is of the same politics as the majority in the Senate and/or the House, the majority leader will be the official spokesman for the administration. The minority leaders speak for the opposition.

Animosity In Houses

Thus the two branches of Government work in a sort of vacuum and for years there has been a great deal of animosity and non-co-operation between the two.

That is particularly true now and since January, 1947, when Republicans gained control of both chambers in the off-year elections of November, 1946, and Democrats remained in control of the White House.

As a matter of fact it is not certain now that a Republican win in the Presidential race this Fall will put the two branches of government in step again.

Only 32 of the 96 Senate seats are at stake in Presidential election years (the Senators serve six-year terms and one-third are elected every two years, while House terms are only for two years and all are at stake every two years).

Democrats need to gain only four seats to give them control of the Senate. Only four non-Democratic seats outside of the solidly Democratic South are at stake and even these are considered safe.

Baptist Deaconess Returns To England

It was the first meeting in 13 years for brother and sister. Prior to her departure the WMS and WA of the United church presented Miss Lewis with a purse of money in recognition of her willingness on any occasion to speak at church and community gatherings.

New Crucifixion Painting Creates Artistic Furore

BY JOSE TORRES

MADRID, July 9 —(AP)—A painting of Christ on the cross, very different from the accepted ways of portraying the scene, is causing a hot controversy in art and religious circles.

Benito Prieto's oil is one of 380 entered in the National Art Show. It is his first entry for the highest art honors in Spain. Right now his work seems to be very far from winning the first prize, but it certainly is the first topic of conversation wherever artists gather.

Cardinal Parrado, the Archbishop of Granada, saw and approved the first sketches. Other high clergymen have said the painting is a "horror."

Prieto strayed far off the usual path. His painting presents a Christ almost broken on a rough, crude twisted cross, the block that supports the body is not hidden. The legs are pulled around it and crossed.

The Christ is tied with ropes at the wrist and ankles. The figure has no face except for the nose and shadow of beard. The right shoulder has been pulled out of its socket.

Prieto says he conceived the idea for his painting many years ago. He spent three years preparing 300 sketches. He spent long hours in research. Then, he studied at least six corpses, some of which he hoisted on crosses. But he did not think that was enough. This is the tale he tells:

"One night I went out in search of some men of evil. Hate and evil are with us all the time. I was searching for a soul able to feel the hate, the rancor vented on our Lord. I found such men. I locked myself up with them in a disreputable dive and plied them wine.

"Murder and Death"

"The worst in them began to come out. I told them about murder and death and asked what they would do to someone who had caused them great harm.

"I took them to a corpse tied to a beam and incited them to vent their hateful instincts on the dead body. I understood then how deep hate can go. I felt and heard an arm snapped from its shoulder socket—the one seen in my painting— and I saw that one can go beyond mere physical suffering. And I painted, feverishly."

Jose Frances, secretary of the Royal Academy of art, said the painting gave him a deep emotional shock.

"If I were to choose between the cold serene Christ of Velasquez, and the tortured Christ by Mathias Grunewald, and this, I would keep this," he said.

Whether he wins the prize or not, Prieto now is a figure in Spanish art circles. Now 43, married and the father of a daughter, five, and a son, two, Prieto was comparatively unknown in national contest. It was finished tional art circles until he entered his painting of the Crucifixion in the national contest. It was finished only eight days before the deadline.

The artist showed talent at an early age and studied in Madrid at the San Fernando Art Academy on fellowships. His wife is a member of a wealthy family of Padul in the province of Granada where he now lives comfortably, devoting himself to painting.

Winnipeg Minister Marks 50th Year in Church Work

WINNIPEG, July 10. (CP).—When Rev. R. W. Goodeve first saw Winnipeg, the city was eight years old— and he was 11. The 78-year-old Anglican clergyman recently marked his 50th anniversary as deacon and his 49th as priest of the Church of England.

The anniversary was celebrated with a special service of Holy Communion in St. Matthew's Church — and Canon Goodeve was the celebrant.

His 1881 view of Winnipeg was obtained with his parents when he came to visit his uncle, the late James H. Ashdown, who lived in what was then the city's residential district.

"I came next to Manitoba in 1895 when I taught school at Posen, near Oak Point. Here I first met A. W. Woods, afterwards the Rev. A. W. Woods, and Woods and I have been crossing each other's paths throughout our lives," Canon Goodeve recalled.

"I succeeded him as rector at St. James', Neepawa, when I came west in 1903, and again in 1914 I followed him as vicar of St. Margaret's, while he was absent as chaplain during the (First World) War."

Began As Printer

Canon Goodeve began as a printer, working on the Durham, Ont., Chronicle. He was graduated from the University of Toronto in 1897 and ordained deacon in St. Alban's Cathedral, Toronto, in 1898. His ordination to the priesthood came in 1899.

His longest incumbency in Manitoba was at St. Philip's, Norwood, from 1924 to 1941. He was priest-in-charge at St. Patrick's from 1941-44, and was made a canon of St. John's Cathedral by Archbishop M. M. Harding, then metropolitan of Rupert's Land, in 1938.

Recently Mr. Goodeve has assisted Archdeacon George R. Calvert, rector of St. Matthew's Church here.

In the First World War, Canon Goodever was chaplain to the 197th Battalion. He has been a Mason for 45 years. He was Master of Stonewall Lodge, A.F. and A.M. in 1910, and grand chaplain to the Grand Lodge of Manitoba in 1911-12.

He still is an active member and officer of the Anglican general provincial and diocesan synods. His eldest son—of Canon Goodeve's family three sons and a daughter are living—won honors and a knighthood in recognition of scientific work of importance during the Second World War.

Sir Charles Goodeve had much to do with the invention of the degaussing cable which protected vessels from the German magnetic mines during hostilities.

Marmora

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweet of Mackenzie, Ont., are visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kirkegaard, Montreal, were recent guests of T. R. Finner at Crowe Lake.

Miss Isobel Hickey of St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, and Miss Margaret Hinckey of Prince Rupert, B.C., spent a few days this week at the Hickey's cottage, Crowe Lake.

Robert Sweet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sweet, is spending the summer on a farm at Burlington.

Alex Dostanko of Paterson, N.J., is spending three weeks' vacation with his mother, Mrs. James Dostanko.

Miss Winnifred Sabine, Mr. and Mrs. J. Nebel and J. O'Hara, Ottawa, spent the week-end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sabine.

Richard Meehan of Marmora Separate School, won the CWL prize for highest standing of Catholic pupils in the Entrance examinations.

A number of members of Marmora LOBA No. 600 and Marmora LOL 319 joined Havelock lodges in attending divine service in that village Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Campbell have moved to the house on Forsythe street which they purchased and which was recently vacated by Mrs. Minnie Taft and Miss Hilda Taft.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Condie, Toronto, are spending a month's vacation at Crowe Lake.

James Hickey attained the highest standing among pupils trying the entrance examinations at Marmora centre this year and will receive the award offered by Marmora Home and School Association.

Boys Town Heads Carry On Work of Father Flanagan

BOYS TOWN, Neb., July 10. (AP) — Boys Town, although shaken by the death of its founder, is carrying on.

The death in Berlin in May of Msgr. Edward J. Flanagan, known best as Father Flanagan, has thrown a sizable readjustment problem into the laps of assistants who continue the work.

Temporarily, at least, the Flanagan mantle is on the youthful shoulders of Rev. Edmond C. Walsh of Omaha, Neb.

"There will never be another Father Flangan," says the acting director. "But the work he began will be carried on as he would have wished with unfaltering fidelity through the principles and ideals his life personified."

Father Walsh, 34, had been accustomed to serving as acting director while Father Flanagan was absent. He was so serving when Father Flanagan died while studying youth problems in Germany and Austria for the United States Government.

To Choose Successor

Selection of a permanent successor to the Irish-born priest will be up to the Board of Directors. A meeting has been delayed because Most Rev. Gerald T. Bergan, Archbishop of Omaha and a member of the board, is in the Orient when Father Flanagan died.

Boys Town had its start in Omaha where borrowed money rented a two-storey house to serve as a refuge for five youngsters.

Today, a $10,000,000 expansion program is under way in this 1,000-acre city. The new structures will boost the value of the properties to between $13,000,000 and $15,000,000.

The town, governed by the boys who call it "home," is incorporated under the name "Father Flanagan's Boys' Home." The corporation is directed by a seven-member non-sectarian board. Members include Protestant and Jewish representatives, as well as Roman Catholics.

The new construction program will enable Boys Town to care for approximately 1,000 boys, compared with the 450 now resid-

Bezalel, the Skilled Craftsman

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Exodus 31:1-11; 36; 30-39:43; II Chronicles 1:5

By Alfred J. Buescher

The Lord spoke to Moses, telling him that He had appointed Bezalel and Oholiab to make the tabernacle and all the furnishings thereof, and the garments for the priests.

The children of Israel brought all manner of gifts to Bezalel and Oholiab for the work of building and furnishing the tabernacle, until they had all the materials they needed.

Bezalel made all the furniture of the tabernacle, including the Ark with cherubim at each end, and high wings overlaid with gold, and Oholiab made and embroidered the priests' garments.

When all was done, Moses looked upon the work to see it was done as the Lord had commanded, and he blessed the men who wrought it.

Christian Religion Based On Friendship, Fellowship

By REV. E. R. JAMES.

THE HIGHEST PRIVILEGE

Jesus said unto His disciples: I have called you friends.
St. John 15: 15

A very old man is dictating this wonderful fourth Gospel. The Holy Spirit reminds him that the King of Kings made a very moving statement to his handful of plain men. "I have called you friends." He develops "For all things I have heard of My Father I have made known to you." The time is at hand when that friendship will be tested. The hearts of His hearers are very heavy. They sense a tragedy. In a few hours He will be arrested; they will leave Him and flee. He will lean on a greater Friend. "I am alone; yet not lone, for the Father is with Me." A modern thinker reminds us that the man whom the Chirst calls "friend" is decorated by the D.S.O. Cross by the Lord Himself.

More than four thousand years ago, God called Abraham to leave Ur, a city of high civilization, and go into the wilderness. An adventure of faith. There God revealed to him something of His mind and character and gave him marvellous promises which are being yet fulfilled. Both Jew and Arab gave him the title of "The friend of God," recognizing his close contact and touch with God.

Centuries later, in the fullness of time, God sent forth His Son, born of human mother by the operation of the Holy Siprit, to reveal the fuller character of God and God's desire for the friendship of ordinary men. In the days of His ministry Jesus Christ called a small band of men "to be with Him" as the inspired writer puts it. Through the weeks and months of close contact He was revealing Himself to them, hoping that they might discover His secret. Slowly His personality fascinated them and though Jews unconsciously they gave Him the value of God.

They recognized that His teaching was "a new teaching." The religious leaders saw it also and hated Him and sought to slay Him. His teaching rocked the foundation of their own teaching. He uttered deep sayings so that many of His disciples on the fringe left Him and walked no more with Him.

At this crisis Jesus said unto the twelve: "Will ye also go away. Simon Peter answered: Lord, to Whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life and we believe and are sure that Thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God." Simon Peter is not far from the great discovery and the Master's heart glowed at these words.

The Kingdom of God is based on friendship and fellowship. A Church historian teaches that the primitive Church conquered Roman Empire not through an organized missionary society but through the friendship and fellowship of ordinary people. The world has never seen such fellowship since.

The Christian religion is based on friendship and fellowship. It believes that Jesus Christ came into this world to make us the sons of God and to create a friendship with one another that is not found anywhere else. The Holy Spirit breaks down the barrier of race, colour and class. When men see this they will be attracted to the Church.

Plato teaches that if a man had the eyes to see the beauty of God he would become beautiful himself and be a friend of God. "I am the beautiful Shepherd" is a recognized translation of "I am the good Shepherd." Jesus Christ has sent us the Holy Spirit to open our eyes to see something of His loveliness and beauty in the four Gospels. Then something of His beauty will be seen in you and men will endeavor to discover the secret of your attractiveness and so be led to the living Christ —THE BEAUTIFUL SHEPHERD.

O LORD, THY LOVING KINDNESS IS EVER BEFORE ME AND I WILL WALK IN THY TRUTH.

Working to Best of Ability Doing God's Mission on Earth

Scripture—Exodus 31: 1-11; 35, 30-39: 43; II Chronicles 1: 5.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Through the ages there have been certain men who have been particularly gifted in certain lines of art or work.

Even in the earliest days of which we have record, some men were especially skillful at shaping the crude instruments which were used in hunting and fishing; others in using these articles, and still other in growing and harvesting grain and other food — the first farmers.

The artists of ancient times did still drawings and painting on the walls of the caves in which they lived, and these are found today, with the simple household articles in which the women cooked and served the food the men caught or garnered.

Even so, there must also have been some members of those communities who were less skillful, and who were assigned to menial tasks that required muscle but no particular ability, even as today.

In our modern world, both in education and industry, earnest efforts are being made to void putting "square pegs into round holes," in other words, setting men at tasks for which they have no aptitude and therefore could not succeed.

Not all those that attend college are fitted to become members of the professions or classical scholars; some make better machinists, construction workers, weavers and the like.

The trend is therefore to make an effort to discover each man's capabilities and see that he gets a job which suits him and in which he can work best and happiest.

Whatever the work, if it is done honestly, to the best of one's ability, the workman (or woman) is doing his share of the world's labors and fulfilling his mission on earth—doing God's work.

God had commanded Moses to build the tabernacle, giving him minute instructions concerning the building and all the furnishings, even to the garments that the priests would wear.

For this work the Lord said He had chosen skilled workmen —Bezalel, son of Uri, of the tribe of Judah, and Oholiab or Aholiab, as the St. James Bible spells it, son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan.

The Lord had filled them with wisdom and understanding, so that they could carry out His instructions, He told Moses.

The children of Israel were instructed to bring offerings of gold, silver and fabrics of various kinds with which to build and furnish the tabernacle.

Bezalel's part in the work was the actual building of the tent, fashioning of the altar, the Mercy Seat, the table and its vessels, the candlesticks and all furnishings thereof, all to be made of the finest materials.

To Oholiab was entrusted the weaving and making of all the finely wrought and beautifully decorated garments for Aaron and his sons, the priests, to wear when performing their duties.

The immense amount of work entrusted to these two honest and highly skilful workmen, involved wood carving and construction, over-laying wood and brass with gold and silver, carving and engraving in gold, silver and brass, cutting and setting gems, interweaving gold and silver threads into the fabrics from which the priests' robes were made.

Moses himself, splendid leader of men, could not have done this wonderfully intricate work. Exodus gives us a very detailed description of the work, which space will not permit us to cover, but we will mention the Ark of the Covenant — which was a great chest-like object covered by the Mercy Seat, on which were two cherubims, one on each end, with high-flung wings meeting above.

It was to be the central object in the tabernacle and was covered with a veil so that no eyes could gaze upon it, although all would be directed toward it. The high priest was the only one permitted to look on it, and he only once a year.

When all was done as the Lord had commanded, Moses "did look upon all the work, and behold, they had done it as the Lord had commanded, even so had they done it, and Moses blessed" the workmen.

We are not told how long it took these men to do all this complicated work, but they must have had joy in it, and they certainly exemplified our Memory Verse, for they did it "with their might."

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XCVII, No. 8 SATURDAY, JULY 10, 1948 PRICE FIVE CENTS

Houses To Rent Will Remain Scarce In City

Despite reports from some centres that the housing shortage is about to ease, local real estate men and builders tend to discount this suggestion. For those who are unable to put down $3,500 on a $7,200 house, estimated as the usual price for a four-room brick bungalow, there seems little chance of purchasing a new home in Peterborough.

And for those families that cannot afford large down payments and are looking for homes by rent, there seems even less prospect of relief. At present in Peterborough there is only about 200 new houses, those being built by Wartime Housing, that are available for rent. Prospects for prospective tenants there are not bright, for there is a waiting list of about 1,000 families, with priority given to veterans and those with large families who are most in need.

Political Suicide

If rent control on residences is lifted the problem will become even more acute for a while at least. With the cost of living already at an all-time peak some observers point out that lifting of the rent ceiling would be political suicide for any government and therefore unlikely this year.

One other argument suggested an altogether different angle. According to this point of view if rent ceilings were abolished more people would invest in housing so they could get the rental; and the stimulus of buying would bring more people into the building trade, more houses would be built, and eventually the supply would satisfy the demand thus at one stroke solving the shortage and reducing rents.

A glance at the price of raw materials gives small cause for optimism. Lumber and bricks are now more expensive and cement has gone up twice within the last four months. A local contractor said there was no difficulty in getting either of the first two of these materials but cement was sometimes scarce.

He also had a cure for high building costs: "The only way that building cost will be lowered will be when the grade of carpenters and laborers improves." Inefficiency by both tradesmen and laborers resulted in both inferior workmanship and wasted time, he contended.

A happier prediction was made by another realtor. He said it was difficult to estimate what the addition of 200 houses would have in the city. "At the moment people are paying as much as $15 a week for two rooms; there is still a great shortage, but in two or three years rents may tumble."

No Immediate Easing

He cautioned that the building boom was still on and he saw no immediate easing of the shortage but the combined effects of buyer resistance, less free money in the market and the overall increase in housing units would eventually moderate today's sky-high figures.

Meanwhile the local scene is not a particularly pleasant one for the family with a small bank balance. Wel lover 50 per cent of houses being built now in Peterborough are said to be four-room bungalows selling between $7,200-$7,300. The larger six-room variety, which used to be looked upon as the standard-sized home is quoted at from $8,500-$9,000.

Prices of all-purpose car trailers were not given.

Seven Family Court Orders Before Council

Seven Family Court orders affecting the future and welfare of 20 children bulked voluminously in the correspondence file of the city council this week.

They were merely notifications to the council of wardship, temporary or permanent, and were actually copies of the evidence and proceedings before Magistrate W. R. Philp. They received only the usual mention that is given to these cases, a formality of information to the council as representing the people.

Family Court cases are not reported. In them the Children's Aid Society is principally interested, and City Solicitor Huycke attends these hearings as part of his municipal duties. Court orders are not referred to the council at every meeting, but they are more frequent than occasional. Insofar as the city council is concerned no one reads them. They are for the most part pitiful stories of parental neglect of young children.

This reference to the council does not imply or reflect indifference. Presumably there is nothing more the council could do any way. In the prescribed course of disposal of these cases involving juveniles the council is simply given a record, and it is recognized that the Children's Aid Society has assumed the responsibility and care that is entrusted to them. The main purpose of report to the council rests in the city's liability for the maintenance of the children.

Emphasis falls on this week's volume of seven pathetic chapters relating to under-privileged youth because of the unusually large number of court orders and the number of children affected.

Official Minutes

This is the form of the official minute of the council's disposal of such matters: "Family Court, Peterborough, an order committing ——— (a boy) as a juvenile delinquent to the Ontario Training School for boys with the city of Peterborough responsible for expenses. Received."

Here is another example, the more common phrasing and content of such orders: "Peterborough Family Court, temporary order making five ——— children wards of the Children's Aid Society with the city of Peterborough responsible for their maintenance. Received."

Miss Rachael A. Young, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, was asked for comment on these minutes of the council.

"It should be understood that some of these are continuation orders," Miss Young said. "Public impression would be wrong if it appeared and was thought that there was a sudden increase in the number of such cases. The Children's Aid Society does not ask for permanent wardship until we have to give up all hope of satisfactorily adjusting family conditions.

For instance the five children in one family are new and temporary wards, and in that case we have money from a certain source that pays for their care.

Continuation Order

In the next case, this is a continuation of a previous order. This boy has been with us in a foster home six or eight months. The next case, a neglected girl is new and permanent. Another instance of a boy, is new and temporary wardship in a foster home. Four neglected children represent an old and temporary case. They are in foster homes and have been in our care six or eight months.

Seven children in another family have been with us three years. They are in foster homes, but we still regard them as being under a temporary order. I don't mind saying that the family of four children are with us because of the lack of housing accommodation in Peterborough."

Miss Young's explanation of these orders substantially diminishes any appearance of what might be termed an outbreak of parental neglect. In the instances of the Family Court's continuation arders, they are made in respect to the CAS' persevering hope that family circumstances may become favorable to the return of those children to their parents.

Of the 20 children in these seven orders, only a few are in the category of permanent wardship of the Children's Aid Society, thereby giving this week's records of the council a brighter aspect than appears at first glance, but still leaving a little doubt of the official hope of family restoration. In the meanwhile the wardship of the CAS surrounds the children in their foster homes.

Dogs, Cats, Rabbits, Birds Entered In Playground Show

A veritable menagerie clucked and whinnied, waddled and hopped, at Riverside playground Friday afternoon, when 21 children from that playground showed about 400 other children that there was more to a pet show than just cats and dogs.

There was a white Angora rabbit named Dora and her seven babies, all owned by Dolly Price, RR 7. In a bird cage were two three-weeks-old black squirrels belonging to Arlene Clysdale, 265 Burnham St. Chirping inside a ventilated cardboard box was a chicken not more than two weeks old.

One accident marred the pet show when Ruth Rowe, Mark St., was stepped on by Alison Preston's horse. However, Ruth received only a badly bruised foot, said Dr. R. K. Magee of the Clinic.

First prize winner was the biggest pet, a horse named Conny ridden by Alison Preston, 134 Robinson St. Dolly Price with her Angora rabbits took second prize, and Arlene Clysdale won third with her two squirrels, Skippy and Frisky. Fourth prize went to Peggy Davidson, 78 Sophia St., who exhibited two pups and their mother. In fifth place was a grey cat, owned by Mary O'Rourke, 442 Dricoll Terrace.

Even Turtle Entered.

Life in a goldfish bowl suits Elmer, one of the pets entered. Elmer is a house turtle, says owner Gerald Warner, 95 Hunter St. "His first name is Elmer, but I don't know his last name," said Gerald.

Following the awarding of the prizes, Alison Preston did several stunts on Conny. Alison, who is nearly 13, has performed at many of the fairs in this district.

Playground instructors had a tough time, trying to herd the children back of the lines marking off the space for exhibitors.

Judging was done by Alderman Hurrell Dodds; Lions past president P. D. Scollard, and chief playgroud instructor Bill Harle.

SPILLS POP

A soft drink truck with a heavy load of cases of pop made the corner at Reid St. where it goes into highway 7. But about 20 full cases didn't. Passerby at the time saw broken and whole bottles scattered along the east shoulder of the road.

Ban Swimming At Lakefield; Close Churches

LAKEFIELD, July 10—(ENS)—First case of polio in the district this year has resulted in a ban on all swimming and the closing of public places in the village. The order was given Friday night by Dr. E. H. Gastle, officer of health. Ordered closed for at least a week "or until further notice" were the churches, bowling alley, pool room and dance pavilion.

Four-year-old Harry Jakins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jakins, of Lakefield, has been stricken. He was taken direct to Riverdale Hospital, Toronto, Friday night by Dr. Gastle. The boy's left arm is paralyzed.

Mr. Jakins, who has been active in boys' sports work in Lakefield, was supervising a summer camp when word was received of his son's illness.

Citizens' Band To Give Concert

Peterborough Citizens Band will again play a one-hour concert of band music at Nicholls Oval on Sunday. The program will be a sing-song and a one-hour showing of technicolor films by the National Film Board.

Band concerts will continue at Nicholls Oval for the remainder of the summer. Work in progressing on the permanent bandstand, and it is expected that it will be finished by the end of the summer.

Sunday's concert will include Light of Foot, a march; Gems from Gilbert and Sullivan; Destiny, a waltz; National Emblem, a march; Selections from Land of the Heather; and the hymn, Echoes of the Cathedral.

Kawartha District Attracts Record Number of Tourists

Tourist resorts of this district are in an extremely 'healthy' condition so far this season. All establishments catering to the travelling public are bulging at the seams with vacationing tourists—and the outlook for the big part of the season still ahead looks even brighter. The reservations files of some of them look not only full — they look almost bloated.

Three states of the United States have been responsible for most of the visiting Americans — Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania, in that order. A stroll down Peterborough's main streets reflect this trend, with heavy stoppings of cars bearing Ohio's black-on-cream licenses, New York's black-on-orange and Pennsylvania's orange-on-blue.

Reports from managers all over this area of the province range from a "biggest year we've had yet" to a "little better than the usual year." Nowhere are there reports of the number or affluence of tourists being lessened.

Looking for Fish

Of the district's attractions, the reputation of its fishing seems to lead in its lure of those gold-backed American dollars. And those finny Canadian residents, obviously through an increased awareness of their new importance in the nation's economic set-up, are co-operating splendidly.

Resort managers admit that there have been few record-smashing muskies, bass or pickerel landed so far. But they are pleased with the over-all picture of catches, which have been of a good average size. And, more important, the managers cannily point out, it is better for 100 non-champion fish to be landed by 100 visitors than to have one visitor catch one champion fish the other 99 get nothing except the dubious satisfaction of watching the lucky angler weighing in his catch.

Bookings for the rest of the tourist season are heavy, with several reporting "solid" houses right into late August. As an example, Walter Killoran, of Peterborough, who is connected with three district resorts, says that business "is better than it has ever been" this year. Reservations are filling up the books well into August, he adds.

Peter Fyffe, manager of the Burleigh Falls Hotel, reports that his rooms are almost "all filled to the end of August." Fishing has been good. Veteran guests at the hotel say that they have never seen so many fellow Americans in the area. The large percentage of "repeat" business—a characteristic of nearly all the well-established lodges—was stressed.

Most of the managers, perhaps from the natural pride they have in their own lodges, tend to be critical of the results of the Dominion and Provincial governments' advertising campaigns in the US, as it effects tourist trade. They feel that the word-of-mouth advertising of tourists who have been here is the most effective force in building up the trade.

For this reason, several were of the opinion that the funds which go towards this advertising in the US should be used, in part, to improving public services for tourists. More extensive fish-restocking programs, better roads, more efficient enforcement of the fishing regulations during the spawning season, were among the alternative suggestions made.

There are more casual transient travellers this year than last, says Mrs. Thomas Lawlor of the South Beach Hotel, well-known resort near Young's Point. The one- or two-day visits are becoming more common throughout the area, with more from close US border points. The repeat guests are still careful in writing ahead for reservations, reports say.

Fishing results at the Rice Lake Inn are typical of the general situation. Percy Farr, manager, told The Examiner that all his angling-hankering guests have been getting their legal limits in bass to take back to the United States. The other fish have been biting well, too, he said.

One of the criticisms made by several local resort officials was on the road work now in progress. They point out that the American motorists are not used to the driving conditions of such worked-on roads and argue that much of the work could be done before or after the tourist influx.

Water Supply For Launches

Complaints from visiting pleasure craft owners concerning lack of drinking water and information at George St. wharf may be quieted in future. The Chamber of Commerce has made available a 65-foot hose, which may be obtained at Thompson's service station at Rink St.

Arrangements have been made to advise the Chamber on the docking of every American craft, and manager Jim Fraser makes a point of calling on each boat operator to offer any assistance needed.

Several American boats which have docked lately have commented favorably on the service they received, Mr. Fraser said. Gas and oil is provided on the spot even ice is being delivered.

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Shortcomings of Homes Pushed Into Background

Are you living in a house that fits your personality as well as would a hoop-skirt or side-burns? It's surprising how many people are, without being aware of it. They have "got used to" surroundings that are out of date and have come to accept them as a part of life itself. Many of these same people would never drive the same car for more than a year or two, but somehow the shortcomings of their homes are pushed into a kind of background of things never to be thought about.

But it is a fortunate fact that our home surroundings are receiving greater attention than they did a few years ago. It may be expected, too, that the change which is taking place in exterior design will awaken even greater interest. It is not meant by this that all the works of questionable merit which are threatening to beset us under the name of modern architecture, will help the cause. Reference is made to those designs — often adaptations of the Georgian style — which are designed to accurately reflect today's mode of living and thinking.

Styles Are Simple

The Georgian and Colonial styles lend themselves to modern homes because of their simplicity. There is also an increasing number of inspiring examples of genuine modern design which do not draw on any of the architectural heritages or the past. Such homes are perfectly adapted to present living. We must beware, however, of the artificialities of pseudo-modernism, obtained by adding a corner window here and some horizontal bars there, quite irrespective of their merits as a part of the completed house.

With interest piqued by a new type of exterior, the enquiring citizen is likely to be made conscious of how far his home is behind the times, not only in design but also in layout, equipment and interior decoration.

One never - to - be-forgotten point about changing styles in not made simply to be different, housing is that basic changes are as with milady's hat. Changes in house styles are the result of adaptations to fit changing conditions and to make more effective use of the new products and equipment which are being made available by developments in science and industry.

True, changing from one house to another involves much more exertion than trading in a car — but there is no comparison in the joy which each brings. One of life's biggest events is that of moving into a modern home of your. And for most men many of the happiest hours of life are spent improving and caring for the homes that shelter their family and themselves.

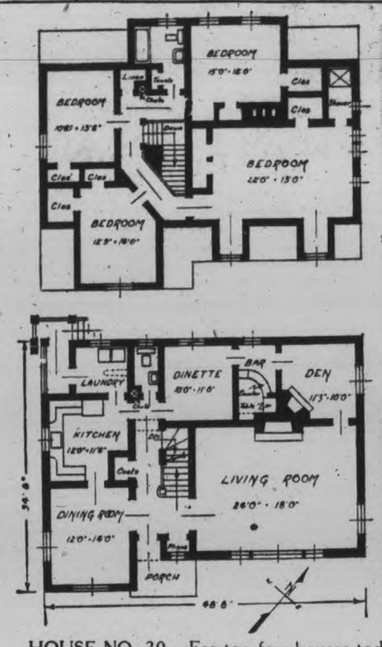
If there is any doubt about the advantages which a modern home offers, consider recent improvements that have been made.

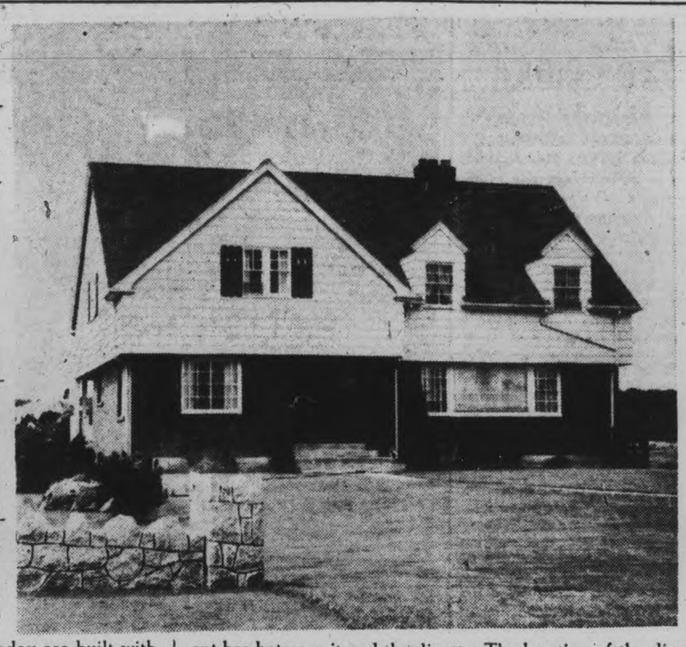
Automatic heating, air conditioning, concealed radiation and a host of other improvements have become standard practice. Even homes in the lowest price range are being equipped with a type of heating and conditioning plant which was a luxury for the mansion of a few years ago.

Better Lots and Streets

Homes are placed on larger lots — the old 30-foot lots are practically ruled out. Progress is being made in placing the houses on winding, better laid-out streets with more landscaping and more regard for sunlight and prevailing winds.

Construction standards and methods have improved. New and better products are being used. Other new items include automatic domestic water heaters, automatic garage door equipment, telephone conduits, modern lighting fixtures, recreation rooms, insulation and streamlined bathrooms with high grade efficient fittings and equipment. The age in which we live has its disadvantages, but insofar as wdellings are concerned, our ancestors never had anything to approach the standards of comfort and convenience which are ours to enjoy.





HOUSE NO. 20—Far too few houses today are built with four bedrooms. We give a sigh of relief when we see a house plan that provides for a family without "doubling up" these days. By viewing the outside of this house, not many would believe it contained nine rooms . . . without counting the first-floor laundry room or bar. The plan is very compact, yet provides for an unusually large living room and master bedroom, with ample closets throughout. Many will be attracted to the den with its corner fireplace, and the convenient bar between it and the dinette. The location of the dinette in relation to the kitchen is unconventioal but attractive. Notice the clothes chute is handy to the first-floor laundry room which in turn, is just step from back porch and clothes line. The owners erected the house on a fine residential street in Victoria. The gleaming white clapboards of the second storey form a pleasing contrast with the red brick and make the house stand out in a neighborhood of above-average homes. Little Thought Often Given To Planning of Bedroom

The bedroom represents specialized space, requires extra attention. Doors should be concentrated, the bed location carefully considered, and windows located not only for appearance and ventilation but for furniture arrangement. If your room falls short perhaps these hints on arrangements may increase its convenience, decrease your bedroom's traffic problem.

Average homebuilders too often concentrate their planning on the daytime areas of their new homes and spend but little thought on the bedrooms. As long as there is room for the necessary furniture, cross ventilation and light, their design is considered adequate. Designing an attractive living-room or kitchen is, we admit, probably more exciting than planning just how much wall space will be necessary to accommodate twin beds, where the chest of drawers should be placed, or whether all storage facilities could be incorporated into the closet. But though you can create an attractive room by means of decoration, colour, or accessories, comfort and convenience are principally a matter of arrangement. You'll have little time to appreciate the beauty of your room if you must spend most of your time pacing round and round from closet, to chest, to dressing-table.

Where House Not New

However, for the moment we are proceeding on the premise that your home is not new. The room is so laid out that you have to travel from the entrance door clear across the room to reach the closet then back to the opposite corner to get to the only suitable place for the chest of drawers. At present your closet and entrance door are on the same wa with twin beds filling the wal space between them. Because of the windows on the opposite wall you have always taken it for granted that there was no other arrangement. Are you certain that the beds could not be shoved over against the opposite wall? It the window is small and high there is not reason why the beds can not be placed under it. It is is low, why not treat it as part of the bed making the curtain to serve as a frame both for the bed and window. Use windows on the end wall and the door for winter-time ventilation. In summer you will probably appreciate the more direct currents of air. You might angle the beds into the corner, one on each wall. In general, the bed should be placed on the wal farthest from the entrance door.

Unless you use your bedroom as a sitting-room as well as fo sleeping, there is no need for its being of any great size. In fact, the trend seems to be toward making bedrooms smaller and smaller; just large enough to hold the beds and night-tables. The additional area is partitioned off as a separated dressing room. In this manner the cubicle in which the beds are placed can be kept cool enough for sleeping yet the dressing room is always comfortable for dressing or lounging.

Arranging the problem room may take a lot of down-to-earth concentration, but it often draws upon unsuspected ingenuity, which may result in a decidedly more convenient and attractive layout.

Eliminating Some Faults

Let's see whether we can elim inate some of the most common layout faults.

The room is tiny, it's slant-ceilinged and the wall space is so cut up by doors and dormers that it presents a problem with very few satisfactory solutions. The only good size section of the wall will of course be turned over to the bed. There may not be room for even one average size chest but you can use pier type chests either side of a window. Cover the floor from wall to wall with plain carpeting and try to keep all furniture out of the line of traffic between door and closet.

Your bedroom is only six and one-half feet wide but nearly 20 feet long. You place the bed along the short wall farthest from the entrance. You can use a regular chest but unless you are lucky enough to have sliding doors in this limited space you should place no furniture opposite the closet door. Set your dressing table on the second short wall depending on the decarating to hide the awkward proportions. Paint or paper the short walls in a deep colour to draw them into the room.

Cook Delights Camping Boys

Most popular man at the Y's Men's Camp Kawartha is the camp cook, Meryl Morris, of Bradford, near Toronto. Don Duncan, who is camp director, reports that there have been no complaints regarding the food from the boys and none has grumbled of being hungry.

In his first week at the camp, Mr. Morris, who is a former Army and lumber camp cook, has made three birthday cakes and has also turned out many surprises for the boys, such as lemonade on a particularly hot day. He joints in the camp fires at night and shows the boys rope tricks and tells them many highly popular yarns.

Special stress has been laid on the swimming program under Frank Wright. Thirty of the 39 boys attending camp during the first week passed the swimming and canoeing tests. Three canoe trips have been made, including one overnight trip. Other activities are nature study hikes, archery, paddle making, baseball and basketball. Entertainment at the camp fires and dinners have been organized entirely by the boys.

For the next three weeks, there will be an overflow camp with an attendance of 66 boys until the end of the fourth week.

A PORTLAND, MAINE, news photographer happened to be on the spot recently to catch this picture, left, of a young fawn playing hookey from the backwoods and playfully leaping through a schoolroom window. It was his second window-smashing experience of the day, which ended up in a five-and-ten cent emporium downtown, right, where Detective Steele and a maintenance man closed in on the deer with a net. Finally cornered, it was turned over to conservation wardens for treatment of glass cuts.

Mill Worker's Hand Mangled

HAVELOCK, July 10 — (ENS) —James Watson, an employee in the saw mill of Alfred Spencer, was rushed to Civic Hospital on Thursday with a badly mangled left hand. Later he was taken to Toronto by ambulance for an operation.

Watson had been sawing hemlock that was punky in the centre and it choked up the blower. When he attempted to clean out the blower it is believed that his hand was caught in some way and injured.

He was rushed to Civic Hospital after medical attention from Dr. Atkinson of Norwood.

His condition is described as satisfactory.

Youth makes daring leap into rock-filled river WINS DOW AWARD

DON MURRAY OF WINNIPEG, MAN.,

braves dangerous Niagara River to save 6-year-old girl from drowning

A child's scream pierced the quiet of the late April Sunday afternoon. Strollers near the Peace Bridge at Fort Erie, Ontario, gathered quickly on the banks of the Niagara River. A six-year-old girl had tumbled from the second pier of the bridge . . . and disappeared in the waters far below.

DIVES IN FULLY CLOTHED

The echo of the younster's terrified scream had barely died away when Don Murray, a visitor from Winnipeg, sprang into action. Racing the 100 yards to the water's edge, he leaped in, fully clothed. Spectators gasped . . . for he had missed the jagged rocks at the edge of the river by not more than a few inches. Soon Murray reappeared and began swimming to the rescue of the little girl. In a few moments he had her safely ashore and in the arms of her frantic mother.

The fact that the onlookers probably knew more about the dangers of that rock-filled river than Murray did does not detract from his heroic action. We are proud to pay tribute to the courage and gallantry of Don Murray, of Winnipeg, Man., through the presentation of The Dow Award.

A shrill scream shattered the air as the little girl lost her balance and tumbled from the Peace Bridge into the Niagara River.

In a few moments 18-year-old Don Murray had reached the floundering younster and brought her safely to shore.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation for outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. Winners are selected by the Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian newspapers.

World's Largest Airport Plans One Thousand Flights Daily

NEW YORK, July 10 (AP)—It wasn't so long ago that a man could hake himself an airport with just a cow pasture and a wind sock.

Now comes the New York international airport (Idlewild), the world biggest, which began limited commercial flight operations July 1. It covers 4,900 acres (7 1 square miles) of former marsh land in the borough of Queens, off Jamaica Bay.

It is nine times larger than La Guardia Field, New York's main airport until now.

Idlewild has been under construction six years; it will be completed in another 12. So far it has cost $60,000,000 and another $100,000,000 will be needed to finish the job.

The field is opening with two huge hangars (200 by 300 feet each) and six parallel runways in length from 6,000 to 9,500 feet. Right now it has a frontier atmosphere, with broad stretches of white sand and brush grass and clusters of quonset huts and other temporary buildings to be used for administration, waiting rooms, concessions and ticket offices.

But by 1960 or thereabouts, things will be vastly different.

Changes To Come.

By then, it is forecast the field will be operating 1,000 flights a day on 12 runways. It will have an average daily population of about 115,000 — 57,000 passengers, 30,000 employees, and 28,000 visitors.

It will have on its home grounds a big air-conditioned, soundproofed hotel; a big service garage; sports arena and auditorium; a department store and dozens of shops; restaurents and bars; an outdoor swimming pool, outdoor movie theatre; tennis and badminton courts and other recreation facilities.

The whole surface of the area, which is five miles from east to west and 2½ from north to south, has been raised an average of 8½ feet.

Into the area was poured 65,000,000 cubic yards of white sand dredged by ships from Jamaica Bay.

That brought a big headache—dust storms. Even mild winds sent thick clouds of dust as high as 500 feet. One night a man left his car parked at the field. He couldn't start it the next morning; he found 30 pounds of sand under the hood.

More than 3,800 acres of beach grass was torn loose from Montauk Point and Cape Cod and replanted in Queen. It worked. Now on a windy day at the new field you can get around without radar.

C. H. Cuthbertson was appointed assessor for 1948 at a salary of $125.

Dorothy Clark Is Married To James Moore of Ottawa At Gilmour Baptist Church

Of wide interest is the wedding ceremony performed in Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church Friday afternoon uniting in marriage Miss Dorothy Myrtle Clark, formerly of Toronto, and Mr. James Douglas Moore of Ottawa. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Clark and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Moore, both families residing on the Lindsay Highway, Smith Township. The Rev. L. S. Haverstock performed the nuptial rites.

An all-whtie setting of slender stocks of delphinium and madonna lilies in tall white standards with background of ferns was beautifully arranged at the altar. As the bridal party took their places, Mrs. C. A. Mutton of Sarnia sang the "Lord's Prayer" and when the register was being signed, "Beloved It Is Morn." Mrs. Clayton Telford played the wedding music.

A gown of white slipper satin with long sweeping train was worn by the bride as she was given in marriage by her father. A fold of satin edged the inset yoke of sheer nylon msh and the bodice and long slender sleeves were trimmed with tiny covered buttons. Her finger-tip veil was held in place with a beaded coronet and she carried white gardenias and bouvardia. Her only attendant was Miss Jean Mann of Ottawa, frocked in pink satin, styled similarly with the full skirt just floor-length. Her headdress was a coront of pink roses and sweet peas and sh carried a nosegay of the same tied with pink ribbons.

Mr. Donald Moore attended his brother as groomsman. Mr. Cameron Clark, a brother of the bride, and Mr. Douglas Palmer of Shedden, cousin of the groom, ushered.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Clark wore a gown of pale blue tissue faille with navy straw hat and a corsage of pink roses with forget-me-nots. Mrs. Moore, mother of the groom, wore a gown of baby blue mesh with hat of navy and her corsage was of pink roses with bouvardia. Both received with the bridal party at the reception at the Kawartha Golf Club.

The bride's going-away ensemble was a dress of pale blue tissue faille with navy and white accessories and she wore a corsage of mixed flowers. After their honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Moore will take up residence in Ottawa.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl In Analyzing Love For Man, Decides to Wait

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl of 18 and I think I am in love with a boy of 22 who is very good to me, but he likes to drink. I told him I would marry him whenever he got a house of his own. There are so many people I know who married when they were very young. They thought they were in love then, but it soon disappeared after marriage.

Dorothy Dix

Do you think it would be better for me to break up with this boy? And do you think that it is true that 18-year-old love is only calf love and a girl would do better if she waited around until she was 20 before she married?

BLUE EYES

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Well, daughter, whether your eyes are blue, or brown, or green, they certainly are discerning eyes that have a keen insight into the problems that face a bobby-soxer. First of all, I want to commend you for having enough intelligence to try to analyze your emotions and find out whether you really are in love with this boy for keeps, or merely have a passing fancy for him. So many girls of your age think they have the grand passion when, in reality, they are only in love with love, and when they wake up from their romantic dream they wonder what they ever saw in the lad to make him even endurable to them.

Cold Storage Plan

My advice to every girl of 18 is to keep her feelings in cold storage until she has had time to look about her and see what sort of a chap she really wants for a husband. Be warned by the experience of your friends who married in haste and are repenting it at leisure.

The present incumbent of your affections doesn't seem a very good bet to me. A boy of 22 who drinks never is a safe risk, for, no matter how ardently he protests that he will reform when you marry him, you can't depend upon his doing it. The first time you have an argument he will settle his end of it by going off on a bender.

Of course, sometimes calf love lasts, but mostly it doesn't, and you would be much better off if you would wait until you are 20 before you get married. You say you THINK you are in love, which means that you are not in love. This is a warning to you to wait for Mr Right.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Although I have not yet celebrated my first wedding anniversary, I have found out how much trouble meddling in-laws can cause. A couple who are very much in love can become miserable from constantly receiving instructions from all of their relatives. My whole life already has been planned out for me by my in-laws and I was not even consulted about the matter. In my marriage I seem to have married not only my husband, but 99 of his relatives, his immediate family making the most noise. I dread to think of the time when my children will come into this world, but their lives are already planned, too.

A YOUNG WIFE

ANSWER: No one can deny that something drastic, with boiling oil in it, should be done to the trouble-makers who feel that they have a call to map out lives of all and sundry with whom they come in contact.

This especially is the case when the victims of the oracles happen to be young married people, who are supposed to be just pining for advice from Grandma and Aunt Susan and the other assorted relatives about how to run their homes and manage their wives and husbands. Probably they have caused more tears to be shed, more feuds to be started and more homes to be broke up than any other one thing in the world.

But don't forget that while the givers of unsought advice are pests, those on the receiving line are not without guilt, because in their way they always are out looking for trouble, with chips on their shoulders just spoiling for a fight.

So suppose you try a lot of conciliation. After all, you don't have to take advice. You can just smile and say: "That's SO interesting!" And I am sure it would endear your husband to you.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am the very unhappy mother of a blue eyed baby boy, born four months ago. Recently my mother-in-law told my husband that an authority had informed her that two brown-eyed people could not possibly have a blue-eyed baby, as has happened in our case. My husband believes his mother and has accused me of having affairs with other men, which is perfectly absurd.

I love my husband very much and cannot bear to have anything as silly as this be the cause of our separation. Would you please inform me of the truth, so that I may show it to my husband and put an end to this terrible mess?

MRS. J. X.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I didn't think that there was anybody left in the world who would put any stress on such an old woman's story. But I earnestly advise you to go at once to some well-known doctor, whose word would carry weight, and have the matter settled.

For Tuesday, July 13

A difficult and unpredictable day, with affairs moving under a contradictory course of "sixes and sevens." One thing is certain: there will be much excitement, dramatic and dynamic, under which it is the part os wisdom to "expect the unexpected." This holds true in relation to all phases of living, with business, finance, professional and social matters involved, but particularly accented will be romantic and sentimental relations, in which there may be spectacular or breath-taking denounements. Erratic or unconventional behavior could product estrangements or regrets.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may be prepared for a period of the adventurous, sensational and unpredictable, in which the most succinct advice is summarized in "expect the unexpected." While there are indications of adverse, revolutionary and shattering experiences in connection with plans, hopes and wishes there is also sign of progressive and romantic adventures in which the fondest objectives may be brought to happy fruition. All contacts and relationships in life are in balance, with sensational crises, and should not be jeopardized by wild or emotional impulses, eccentricities or imprudence. Forest loss is your loss...

Panic . . . despair . . . a lifetime's work burned out by a careless match, a smouldering campfire. This is not only one innocent man's loss—the guilty seldom suffer—but a serious loss to every Canadian. Timber, wildlife and streams, basic elements in our national economy, are all destroyed by the forest fire.

By observing the simple rules of the woods, which every real camper and sportsman obeys, you can help prevent the forest loss which costs Canadians nearly four million dollars a year in timber alone.

HELP PREVENT FOREST FIRES

1. Throw cigarette ends in the water or snub them out on a rock.
2. Break used matches in two.
3. Build campfires near the water on rocks or well cleared mineral soil.
4. Make sure your fire is out before you leave it unattended.

Farm Prices In Britain Double '38 Level

LONDON, July 10 (CP).—Britain's drive for greater self-sufficiency in food production has doubled the price of most farm products compared with pre-war years.

Taking the years 1927-29 as a base and setting the prices then prevailing at the index level of 100, the agriculture ministry said that in 1938 the index price for wheat was 94 and 191 in 1947.

Other grains were as follows, with 1938 prices in brackets:

Barley 219 (84), oats 197 (79), potatoes 181 (87), sugar beet 196 (86), fat cattle 183 (95), fat sheep 180 (69), fat lambs 166 (69), bacon hogs 209 (84), milk 221 (102), eggs 204 (85).

These indexes are for farm prices fixed years ahead under the new agriculture policy. Prices will not fall below the following for the crop years to 1951-52:

Milk 2s 2d. (44 cents) a gallon; cattle 92c a live hundredweight; sheep 1s 10d. a pound dead weight; pigs 30c per 20 pounds, and eggs 3s 2d a dozen.

Plus Acreage Payment

Millable wheat harvester in 1948 and 1948 will be paid for at an average rate of 23s a hundredweight plus an acreage payment of 60s on the first 10 acres sown to this crop.

The milling oats average price will be 20s 6d. a hundredweight and feeding oats will range from a minimum of 18s 7d. to 20s 3d.

The higher price of farm products was offset to a degree by higher wage rates — up 157 per cent compared with an average increase of 65 per cent in all the industries for which data were collected.

"The value of output per worker is already higher in Britain than in any other country in Europe and both pay and the standard of living are higher," said a government statement.

"Output per man has probably risen by 80 to 90 per cent in the last 10 years. From 1925 to 1939 the increase was very rapid and during the war output per man-year rose by 10 to 15 per cent. This increase is mainly attributable to the mechanization of farming, which was encouraged by the high proportion of wages in agricultural costs."

U.N. Circles Discount War Rumors November Will Be Deadline

By WALTER O'HEARN

LAKE SUCESS, N.Y. — The United Nations headquarters is resounding like a cave of echoes. Some of the echoes are extremely pertinent. Each has a certain zeaing on the grave issues which are agitating the world today. Here are some of the principal echoes:

Tito vs. Stalin—sources which are usually very well informed claim that there is a large pro-Russian bloc among the Yugoslav Communists and that members of this bloc are confident that they can oust Marshal Tito at the party convention, which meets in Belgrade on July 21. This hope may seem extravagant on the surface but in view of the enormous pressure which Russia can exert upon Eastern Europe and has already exerted on Yugoslavia's neighbors, people here who have heard the claim are not dismissing it lightly.

Strictly speaking, this echo does not concern an issue now before the United Nations, unless the woes of its members can be regarded as a matter of concern for the U.N.

U.K. Proposal?

The most singular of these is that the United Kingdom will propose U.N. membership for both Israel and Transjordan on a "package deal." Russia and the United States have never recognized Transjordan but they might consent to the admission of Abdullah's kingdom if Britain were also willing to vote for Israel. Fantastic as this story may seem, it is understood to have come from a British source and it is being taken seriously in the New York press. "Transjordan" in the present context must be understood to include all those sections of Palestine now held by the Arabs, as well as the lands beyond the Jordan.

Indonesia—The Security Council met yesterday to considered the damaged state of the present truce between the Netherlands and the Indonesian Republic. Meanwhile the American State Department was reportedly furious over the disclosure by Overseas News Agency that an Indonesian-American corporation has been set up to handle foreign trade for the new republic. Influential American financiers are said to be interested in this deal, which if consummated will release huge stockpiles of rubber and other strategic raw materials. Much of this material is needed if the European Recovery Progroom is to continue unimpeded. Up to now, most of it has been locked up in the Indonesian Archipelago by a Dutch blockade. The Dutch, of course, claim that most of this material is "state" i.e. Dutch colonial property, seized illegally. The real question at stake seems to be whether the dollar credits this material will bring will go back to Indonesia or go to the Netherlands. Official American fury does not concern the story's accuracy but its "premature" release. Actually the story broke originally in the Netherlands.

$64 Question

LITTLE ASSEMBLY — That body is meeting today to discuss its $64 question namely "revision" of the voting procedure in the security council." In other words, the veto All the Little Assembly can do is prepare an orderly report on this subject for the General Assembly which meets in Paris in September. All the General Assembly can do in its turn is make recommendations to the Security Council. Under the veto principle, which is controlled by the Council itself and specifically by the Big Five Powers, there is little chance of the Security Council accepting any such recommendation.

The present trend of thought is to narrow the area in which the veto may be exercised, limiting it in practice to action against actual breaches of peace. The United States, which favors retention of the veto power for its own purposes, has supported and to some extent inspired this reform. Some 36 categories of decision which might be exempt from veto have been prepared.

Practically the only hope of getting any remedial action is by the widest publicity at the General Assembly. This might result in Russia limiting her exercise of the veto and possibly making a "deal" on some of the limiting categories.

The Little Assembly has been slumbering along in committee this many months but most of the members take this plenary meeting rather seriously and have sent top drawer representation to it. R. G. Riddell, chief of the United Nations desk in the Department of External Affairs, is sitting in for Canada.

Rumors of War

War SCARES — The U.N. has recently been abnormally sensitive to the rumors of war which are part of the ordinary currency of American conversation. The high tension of the Berlin situation, which the organization knows itself powerless to deal with, has contributed to the war talk. Such talk, to repeat, is rather unusual in U.N. circles. Normally Lake Success, for all its own difficulties and frustrations, has been an oasis of hope in a pessimistic world.

However, qualified observers here disagree with the statement heard so often on the American radio that "July is the crucial month." They see that there will be a gradually rising graph of tension for some months to come, hitting its valleys as well as its peaks. But the feeling here seems to be that if the world can avoid major conflict until November and if in November an American President is elected with a Congressional majority behind him, the war danger will drop.

Briefly people here are sensitive to war talk but they still do not believe there will be a major war.

REX HARRISON, ENGLISH film actor, who discovered Carole Landis' body in her Hollywood home after she had committed suicide, finally faced the press. By his side was his wife, Lilli Palmer, also of the screen, who flew from New York to be by his side when he was interviewed. Reports that Miss Landis was in love with Harrison he discounted as "all gossip, Hollywood gossip and you know what that is." Miss Palmer came to Hollywood to be with her husband after he had telephoned her. She said: "I love Rex very much. We are happy."

Clips Roping Record

CALGARY, July 10.—(CP). — A hard-hitting cowboy from Arizona clipped one-fifth of a second from a calf roping record Friday to set the pace at the Calgary stampede. Claud Henson of Chandler, Ariz., had the "critter" hogtied in 13 3-5 seconds. The previous mark of 13 4-5 seconds was set in 1932 by Bob Crosby of Kenna, N.M.

Former Apsley Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding

APSLEY, July 10 — (ENS) — The following item published in High River Times is of district interest Mrs. Mack being a former local president and Mr. Mack a resident of Wellman's Corners.

"Hearty congratulations were extened to Mr. and Mrs. George E. Mack on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary June 8th. The happy event was observed by an informal reception held by Mr. and Mrs. Mack in afternoon and evening. The afternoon was ideal for the garden party held on their beautiful lawn but the evening guests were welcomed indoors. About 150 guests enenjoyed the hospitality of the Mack home and joined in the many expressions of regard and good wishes for the future. Telegrams and phone messages were received from relatives in California, Trail and other places. They were assisted in receiving by their son and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Ted Mack of Claresholm and their granddaughter Mrs. Ross Marshall of Calgary. Their son Harry of Trail was unable to attend because of flood conditions there.

The evening was marked by the presentation of a purse.

The trim lawn with its encircling arrangement of flowers and shrubbery, the fruit and vegetable garden are all proof of solicitous care and culture through the years. It is a mammoth achievement for a eighty year old man.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack were married at Apsley June 8th 1898 Mrs. Mack's maiden name being Louella Trickey. In 1095 they moved from Bancroft to High River

Mr. Mack served as secretary of High River for 28 years of the entire 42 year period of the towns incorporation. They have both been devoted to work and growth of the church and strong supporters of all phases of church work first in the Methodist and then in the United Church.

Mr. Mack has been called upon to serve as chairman of Presbytery and to represent High River at Dominion and Provincial Church gatherings.

He is a charter member of Rotary. They have lost two sons William and Earl and one daughter Leal."

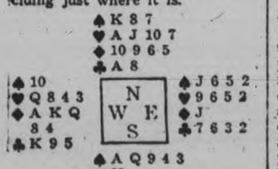
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

MUST BE ON THE ALERT

TO BE RANKED as a first calibre bridge competitor, you must always be on the alert for the unexpected, and should apply the logic of plain common sense to everything that happens. Even if you know your partner, or one of your opponents, as a player who never made a psychic bid in his life, you yet should be prepared to recognize one if that worthy decides to violate all his previous habits and insert such a call. Not always, but a good deal of the time, the development of the auction gives an indication to the thinker that something is amiss somewhere. And his own judgment should guide him in deciding just where it is.



(Dealer: East. Neither side vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	1 ♠	2 ♦	2 ♠
Pass	Pass	3 ♥	3 ♠
Pass	Pass	Dbl

"East must be making a forcing pass to see if I want to double." That was the thinking of West when the 3-Spades came to him. "I do want to double because I have my share of high cards and he has shown at least two and a half or three high card tricks with his opening. Even if we don't take any in trumps, we can still punish South pretty badly."

So his double resulted in his side getting a bottom score on the deal and losing the tournament because of it. West scored three tricks in diamonds, but the rest were a cinch for the declarer, who shut out the spade J by first taking one top trump in his own hand and then leading to the K, which showed that the finesse would work. For making 3-Spades doubled plus an extra trick, he far outscored those who merely bid the game and made it.

West might have reasoned thus: "My partner, after opening, passed the 2-Spades though I had made a free bid of 2-Diamonds over 1-Spade. Then he passed again after my strong reverse bid of 3-Hearts was overcalled by 3-Spades. So maybe he had bid a psychic." If he had reckoned thus and passed, his side would have won the tournament through keeping the opponents out of an easy game by means of the psychic.

• • •

Your Week-End Question

If you had passed on your first turn, and bidding develops which makes your hand as good as an opening bid for declarer purposes, what should then become your own bidding policy?

6—In Memoriam

CLEMENTS—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, George Clements, who died July 11, 1947.

He is gone, but not forgotten,
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Friends may thnik the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.
—Ever remembered by wife and family, Delcie and Dennis.

COLBRAN—In loving memory of George Colbran, who died 1 year ago.

When for a while we part,
This thought will soothe our pain.
That we shall still be joined in heart,
And one day meet again.
—Fondly remembered by C. Stevens.

COLBRAN—In memory of George Colbran, who died in the Whitaker's fire July 11, 1947.

He little thought when leaving home
He would no more return
That he in death, so soon would sleep
And leave us here to mourn.
We do not know what pain he bore
We did not see him die,
We only know he passed away
And never said goodbye.
—Ever remembered by Mr. and Mrs. F. Hopgood and Nornan.

HAWTHORNE—Treasured thoughts of Jim, who left us one year ago, July 11.

McCALL—In loving memory of Marietta McCall, who passed away July 11, 1941.

A beautiful memory dearer than gold
Of a mother whose worth can never be told,
Alone, unseen she stands by my side
And whispers don't grieve, death cannot divide,
Deep in our hearts her memory is kept
Of one we loved and can never forget.
And though the years be many or few,
We will always be thinking,
Dear mother, of you.
—Ever remembered by husband and family.

NORTHEY—In loving memory of Mrs. S. A. Northey, who passed away July 11, 1939.

Toronto-Born Comedian After Own Show

By PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, July 10 (CP). — George Hall, Toronto-born comedian, says his ambition is to produce and act in his own stage shows. Judging by his achievements to date, it won't be long before he is doing so.

During a career devoted to show business, he has written, produced and directed a radio program, been assistant manager of a theatre, appeared in a hit Broadway musical and acted in a series of Summer Theatre productions.

Currently the versatile, 31-year-old actor is appearing in a radio show called "New Faces," (NBC, Thursday nights at 8:30 p.m.EDT), and in "Pepper Young's Family," a radio soap opera.

Stage-Struck Early.

He was stage-struck early in life.

"I've wanted to get into show business since I saw my first movie when I was six years old," he said in an interview this week.

"New Faces," a revue produced by Leonard Sillman, was launched last month as a summer replacement for the George Burns-Gracie Allen program. It has a 15-week guarantee and may continue into the fall.

Hall, whose step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wray, live in Toronto, started his professional career by one week's engagement with the Gordon Forsythe Marionettes of Toronto.

Later, Hall obtained a scholarship at the neighborhood Playhouse School of the Theatre in New York. From there he went to the Martha Graham Dance Troupe as a solo dancer. In 1940 he accepted a job as assistant director of the Dock Street Theatre in Charlestown, S.C., under Charles Meredith.

Married Dancer

In 1939 he was watching a production put on by the Martha Graham Troupe. His eye was caught by Nelle Fisher, one of the dancers. Turning to two friends sitting in the audience, he said: "I'm going to marry that girl."

Eighteen months later they were married, in the Dock Street Theatre, with Meredith as best man. Miss Fisher was one of the principal dancers in "On The Town" and later in "Make Mine Manhattan."

Cornelius Clancy Widely Mourned

Requiem Mass for the late Cornelius Clancy, 78, of 69 Hunter St., E., was said on Wednesday morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. Pallbearers were William Meagher, Harry Black, William Whadey, Victor Sullivan, John Torpey and Basil Clancy. Burial was at St. Peter's cemetery.

Mr. Clancy died on Monday at his residence. He was son of the late Peter Clancy and Catherine Sullivan and lived a lifetime in the city. He worked for 55 years for the Peterborough Lock Company and was held in very high esteem by his fellow employees.

He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Ray Bacon, and a son Joseph, both of this city. There are two other sons, Michael of Hamilton and Vincent of Windsor. He was a great favorite with his own and many other children of Ashburnham who affectionately called him "Pop." He was a member of the Church of the Immaculate Conception since its dedication.

A BARBERSHOP BUNNY

Patrons of a local barbershop were amused when a workman brought in a cottontail rabbit no larger than a man's fist. The bunny was found Friday morning in a trench at a McDonnel St. excavation; apparently it had fallen into the hole during the night and was unable to climb out. While the man waited his turn for a haircut the small rabbit dozed on his knee. A chuckle went the rounds of the shop when one wag said, "I guess he came in to have his ears lowered."

IT'S JUST NOT DONE

According to latest reports there has not yet been a diplomatic break between the city police and the provincial guardians of the law, but grounds for a sharp exchange of words over the telephone have been laid. On Thursday morning a city policeman was happily engaged in posting the usual number of tickets on cars that had not paid parking meter fares. Occasionally he paused, scribbled a ticket and stuck it on the offender's windshield. He stopped at one car on Water Street that had a superb black and white paint job. And while bystanders stood open-mouthed he planted a ticket on the provincial police patrol car . . . A word of advice to the Peterborough constable: Don't get caught exceeding 50 m.p.h. on the King's Highway.

DOING CONTRARY THINGS

W. C. Wilks, secretary of the Horticultural Society, remarks that it seems natural to do contrary things. "I wouldn't say a word against children's play, but I could not help notice on a recent Sunday a little group of boys and girls, playing on the lawn of the De Laval Co., across the way from the spacious grounds of King Edward School.

"I know the company has been spending money building up their lawn, and some of these young people were old enough to know that they could do little damage to the turf at the school grounds. You would think they would realize they were doing some damage to private property."—T.

Ferry Hits Mine

HONG KONG, July 10.—(AP).—The inter-island ferry, Man Kwong, hit a mine today at Ping Chau, eight miles west of Hong Kong. One body was recovered but nine passengers, and eight crew members are missing. Passing junks and a freighter rescued 54 passengers. The explosion occurred during a rain storm at low tide. A nearby junk was sunk by the blast. Fate of its crew was unknown. The ferry was en route to Hong Kong from Cheung Chau Island.

LINDSAY, July 10—(EES)—Peterborough pipe band took two second prizes in the band competion at Old Home Week Scottish Day celebrations Friday.

The Dofasco Veterans' Band of Hamilton won two trophies. Peterborough was second in both competitions with Oshawa G.M. third.

In the individual piping open, veteran George Duncan, of Detroit captured four firsts and one second. Jack Reid of Oshawa captured one first and two seconds.

Hundreds of young Scots from six up competed, in the colourful Highland Fling, Sword Dance, and Sailors' Hornpipe, during the day.

E. M. Thasher Named CPR Express Agent

E. M. Thrasher, senior-clerk cashier at the Canadian Pacific office, Hunter Street, has been appointed agent at St. Catharines. He will leave for his new post Sunday.

An employee of the company for 18 years, Mr. Thrasher came to Peterborough in March, 1947, from the Chatham office. He began work with the CPR in Pembroke and also served for a time at Kingston.

In his new post, Mr. Thrasher will be succeeding another Peterborough man, Leland Wade, who has accepted a position as District Representative of the Canadian Pacific Express. Mr. Wade left the Peterborough office early in 1947 to accept the agency at St. Catharines.

William Bowhey paid over $5 to a friend this week but he did so with a smile. Mr. Bowhey is one of the oldtimers who have returned to Lindsay during Old Home Week. The car of H. W. Williamson, Bewdley, was slightly damaged in an accident Friday afternoon near the corner of Albert and Alfred streets. Hubcap, fender, plate and bumper were effected. Other car involved in the collision was that of W. Drummond, RR 9, Peterborough. There was no damage to it.

County Farm Notes

—By HARRY THEOBALD

Henry Sharpe Varies Long Term Pasture Mixtures To Different Soil Types — M. H. Winter of Lindsay Retiring As Agricultural Representative In Victoria — A Nitrogen Strip On The Blewett Farm.

WILLOW OR PASTURE

Henry Sharpe of Smith Township is getting from one-third of a 13-acre field seeded in long term pasture better grazing results than from all of it as an old hay meadow. That is a net result of his investment in June, 1945, and Mr. Sharpe is another of Peterborough farmers who have convinced themselves of the possibilities and advantages of pasture improvement.

This field slopes on a slight incline from a dry two-thirds down to a damp and spongy third of it that showed water at the surface after recent rains when visited with Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, Thursday afternoon. It continue damp even in a dry season.

Moisture and Muck

In this variety of soil conditions the field presented a problem in planning a permanent pasture that is typical of many similar fields in the district. On this damp section 19 Holstein cows and three calves were feeding this week on grasses and clovers that must be just as nutritious as they looked in their rich green. The herd was lying down in the shade at the west end of the field, obviously content in their digestion of the lush feed.

The field is divided into three sections by electric fence, and the cattle are moved from one to another in rotation as grazing requires a change. One of the results which pleased Mr. Sharpe was the growth of reed canary grass in the mixture that was suggested by Mr. Paterson when they were planning the three somewhat different mixtures that were sown on the different sections of the field. He discovered its suitability for a damp even watery piece of land which he described as about a foot of black muck on subsoil that was somewhat slimy in its dampness. An old well up the field indicated the natural water table about a foot and a half below the land surface.

Has Stout Roots

Mr. Sharpe pulled out a handful of the reed canary grass to show its strong and tough root system. The clovers also looked vigorous in that part of the field which had been cropped by the herd to the extent that proposed their transfer to the top part of the field which was invitingly ready for them.

The whole field had been previously used in regular cropping. The last crop before the permanent pasture was put in had yielded an average of 50 bushels of wheat. Prescriptions for the upper sections included Brome grass, meadow fescue, orchard grass, ladino and white Dutch clover. The variety of seeding was proving its value in that field.

Prevents Maturity

Sowing was accompanied by fertilizing, and application of barnyard manure had also done a lot of good. Mr. Sharpe follows the practice of keeping the field clipped, preventing weed growth and also the growth to woody content of the grasses. Mr. Paterson explained that it also tends to spread the root system, thickens the growth generally and on good fertile soil there is assurance of protein and mineral values that are sought in nutritious, high quality feed.

The top section was clipped only five days previously, Mr. Sharpe said, and yet it was ready for the stock to move in from the low part,—a whole spread of fresh, rich pasture. In that kind of grazing the Holstein herd could take plenty of time out to ruminate.

"They don't have to travel all day getting enough to satisfy them," Mr. Paterson remarked.

In estimating a field he considers it as beef on the hoof or milk in the can, according to the type of herd that is using it—beef or dairy. These pastures are designed for both.

Seed Mixtures Different

"When Henry Sharpe got interested he came in and talked it over with me, and then we went out and looked over the 13 acres before deciding on the different mixtures. It makes one feel good when you see the results he has produced, especially on that wet piece. Of course, our farmers test the pasturage in the dry season we usually run into sometime during the summer. The recent rains have made everything green. Then, Mr. Sharpe is keen about building up the fertility of the land. When clipped, the grasses go back eventually into the soil as nutrient."

One of Mr. Sharp's comments about the area where the reed canary grass is providing excellent feed was: "If you left it to itself for a few years it grew up in willows." And that tends to identify its type.

✦ ✦ ✦

HEALTH DEPENDS ON SOIL

Consumers some day will become, of necessity, interested in soil fertility. Here is a quotation from Maclean's magazine that tends to point in that direction: "Man can't get his mineral diet by sprinkling copper or iron filings on his porridge. These minerals, to satisfy mankind's finicky digestive system, must be eaten in the form of complex chemical compounds which are produced from the raw elements of plants. And plants have to pick up their mineral raw materials from the soil. There is no other source."

HANNAN CLINGS TO HOPE

Herb D. Hannan, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, in Ottawa, Friday told the Examiner he still had hope of the world wheat pact's adoption by cereal producing countries.

He was referring to the press report of collapse of the agreement because the U.S. government had failed to ratify it, and Britain consequently announced its withdrawal.

"The 20 member countries of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers declared themselves in favor of the agreement through their representatives," Mr. Hannan said, "and they represent the sentiment of a large and important group of producing countries. A year ago in March the wheat conference in London did not reach agreement. The movement was then declared dead in press reports. That conference result was regarded as a temporary setback in the movement toward world agreement. It is not something that can be accomplished in a short time, and I am hopeful that reverses are only temporary, and that eventual acceptance will be adopted."

The third annual conference of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers is scheduled for Canada next summer. Mr. Hannam is its vice-president, and has contributed a great deal of effort to its organization and cause, with the approval of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. The position he has attained as head of Canadian farmers was reflected in his engagement Wednesday last as speaker at the first of a series of lectures being held at Columbia University, New York, on the world food situation. On this recent occasion he dwelt on the importance of all governments concerned implementing the proposed international wheat agreement, already ratified by Canada.

The Canadian action, supported by the Federation of Agriculture, was prompted by humanitarian ideals although in doing so the wheat farmers of this country were sacrificing price in the world market.

SIGNIFICANT FIGURES

According to the US Bureau of the dairy industry last year more than 1,585,000 cows and heifers were artificially bred in 39 States, an increase of more than 250,000 over 1946. Reports for some of the States were: Wisconsin, 250,000; New York, 193,200; Pennsylvania, 151,513; Ohio, 115,449; Iowa, 108,279; Michigan, 85,000; Illinois 75,000; Minnesota, 75,000, and so on down to West Virginia, 21,000.

At the present rate of the extension of this new practice, which has been developing during the last ten years four or five million cows and heifers in the US may be artificially bred annually in the next decade. The idea was lightly regarded when it was first proposed from experiment station, but in the last four or five years it has taken hold of the attention of the cattle breeding industry in many countries.

A "Rag Apple" bull at Cornell University is reported by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America to have sired 15,000 calves. He is nine years old. One of the advantages of the new practice is that farmers are obtaining the benefits of carefully planned breeding over a long period, something that could be afforded only by few breeders at the top of the industry.

Dr. O. E. Reed, chief of the U.S. Bureau of Dairy Industry, has affirmed that there is no evidence of the artificial breeding program putting the progressive breeder of dairy cattle out of business. He sees a general improvement, for instance, of the dairy breeds with eventual higher demand for good sires.

Transfer of artificial insemination from the laboratories of the agricultural departments of universities as indicated by the 1947 service in 39 States is a striking proof of the responsiveness of farmers today to new ideas. A readier spirit of acceptance and experiment is coming into evidence right here in the Peterborough district. Artificial insemination, hybrid corn, permanent pastures are signs of the quicker reaction of farmers to proposed changes from their accustomed ways of production and management.

M. H. WINTER RETIRES

M. H. Winter, agricultural representative in Victoria County, and Chas. W. Buchanan of Lennox-Addington, are retiring from the provincial service Aug. 1. Mr. Winter has been with the department 34½ years. He began in Waterloo in 1914, was 12 years in Renfrew and 22 years in Victoria with office in Lindsay. He is known to many of the farmers in Peterborough, and especially among the juniors.

Fred Webster agricultural representative in Prince Edward County, has retired on account of ill health. He went to the department in Sept. 1922, was assistant in Grey and Peterborough, was representative in South Simcoe four years and then went to Prince Edward. G. Leroy Brown of Huron is being transferred to Victoria.

DEMAND FOR AYRSHIRES

Mr. Connie McGinnis, Rich Hill, Missouri, recently bought through R O. Biggs of Dundas 140 Ayrshire cattle which were assembled at his place for export.

Mr. McGinnis is the first man to import Ayrshire into Missouri, and is a leading importer of this breed in the United States. He was one of the auctioneers at Wallabrae Ayrshire sale at the home of Wallace Brealey, Indian River.

Mr. Brealey and George Pearson were in charge of the buying in this district for the recent large delivery. Purchases were made from Glynwood Farm, Lakefield; Earl Rosborough; Arthur Breckenridge, Bailieboro; Peoples Brothers of Havelock, and Mr. Brealey at Indian River. An order has been received by Mr. Briggs for another shipment indicating Ayrshires are in strong demand.

Mr. Brealey has sold a heifer to La Franchi Bros., of Calistoga, Cal.

SAYS IT IS "SPECTACULAR"

It seems significant that Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of Central Experiment Farms, Ottawa, in a talk to Eastern Ontario Yorkshire Breeders and Ottawa Valley Sheep Breeders spoke on simple and fundamental subject of soil. He used the familiar analogy of the savings bank.

"Soil is like a bank account. If constant withdrawals, without replacements are made, it will not be long before the account runs out."

Dr. Archibald said a land use program built around livestock was the only sound one.

On this subject, Frank C. Paterson indicated the other day what he described as spectacular evidence of shortage of plant food. On the knoll at the back of Harry Blewett's farm; visible from the Chemong Highway, opposite the turn to Lindsay, a dark green strip lies conspicuously across a long term pasture field.

"One fact about this field," said Mr. Paterson,—"it was not neglected. Mr. Blewett has a promising mixture sown there and he applied both mineral fertilizer and a top dressing of manure. But there wasn't enough. Toward the end of June Prof Ruhnke of OAC was down here and we visited the farm. In spite of the fertilizing work done there, we both noticed signs of plant hunger. Indications pointed to lack of nitrogen.

So, we got a 100-pound bag of ammoniam nitrate and scattered it over this fairly wide and long strip. That was on June 25. Rains came, and in one week you could see the effect of the nitrogen. Ample supply of nitrogent results in rapid growth with a much larger development of green leaves and stems. A supply of available nitrogen during the early life of a plant frequently stimulates growth, and results in earlier maturity.

This green strip is plainly noticeable from the highway because of the comparative lack of the deeper color in the rest of the field. It is an eroded field on the slope of the back hill. The fertilizer Mr. Blewett put on it made a good stand of pasture, but it just wasn't enough for the plants needs. And if there is mineral deficiency in the land, it will show in the plants. How can you expect mineral content to be passed on to the cow and into its milk if it is not in the feed he takes?"

Mr. Paterson repeated himself in the assertion that all across Ontario land is crying for some essential plant food. "Why do we go all the way to the Peace River district in Alberta for our best oats? Because it is new land, for one reason. It hasn't yet been mined of its natural mineral content, and it grows crops of high nutritive value."

One of the trends in agriculture today is to focus attention on the related problems of the soil and crops.

Livestock help to keep the land in shape. Manure is of great value when used to the best advantage, "but we still have got to get some commercial fertilizer along with."

Britain Sends More Troops To Germany

Say Reinforcements Will Be Moved Into Berlin Itself

LONDON, July 12 — (AP). — An authoritative sourse said today Britain has sent considerable numbers of new troops to Western Germany because of the tension in blockaded Berlin.

The informant said, "many" of the reinforcements will be flown into Berlin itself.

The disclosure came as Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor in Germany, conferred here with the Chief of Staff of the Ministry of Defence, Gen. Sir Percy Hollis, and other service chiefs.

Sir Brian flew here from Berlin Sunday night.

Earlier in the day, Foreign Secretary Bevin gave the Cabinet an up-to-the-minite report on the Berlin crisis. Britain, the United States and France sent notes to Moscow last week, demanding that the Russians end the Berlin land blockade. The Kremlin has not replied.

Gradual Increase.

No informant would say exactly how many troops have gone to Western Germany, or how many will be sent on into Berlin. One source, however, said troop movements to the British zone of Germany "have been taking place over the last three or four weeks." He made it clear that most of the troops were reinforcements, rather than replacements.

The problem of co-ordinating Britain's military plans in Western Germany and West Berlin with those of the United States and France is being studied personally by Freid-Marshal Lord Montgomery, Chief of the Imperial General Staff.

Defy Russians

BERLIN, July 12. —(AP). — Berlin's powerful Social Democrats have acclaimed a call to make the Russian-blockaded city "the Stalingrad of German liberty."

That call was made Sunday night by Ernest Reuter, Social Democratic mayor-elect of Ber-

Scale Down Own Wage Proposals

Mitchell Takes Latest Offer To Companies; Stand By For Answer

OTTAWA, July 12 — (CP). — Unions engaged in the railway wage dispute today rejected the government's latest settlement proposal but scaled down their own wage demands.

This was announced by Frank H. Hall, chairman of the negotiating committee for 18 international unions representing some 112,000 workers, after a short conference with Labor Minister Mitchell.

The minister Saturday had made a suggestion as to the basis on which a strike sttlement could be worked out.

"We now have told him that is not enough and we have suggested an alternative," Mr. Hall said.

Meanwhile the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers (CCL) representing 28,000 workers, took an identical stand in a separate conference.

Emerging from the meeting, A. R. Mosher, president of the CBRE said simply:

"We are standing solidly with the international group."

Will Take New Offer

Immediately after the conference, Labor Minister Mitchell announced he would carry the latest union proposition to railway company executives with whom he has been conferring here since Friday morning.

The union officers were to stand by for further meetings with Mr. Mitchell later in the day in the event the minister should have a return proposal from the railways.

Meanwhile, the railways took action to prepare for the threatened strike. The Railway Association of Canada announced in Montreal an embargo on acceptance of livestock, live poultry and perishable commodities for shipment. It warned, too, that passenger service might bog down in the event of a walkout.

Reduce Spread

Neither the Minister's proposal nor the union alternative was disclosed, but Mr. Hall said last week's spread between the railway companies and his group has

Truman Seems Definite Democrat Choice

PHILADELPHIA, July 12. — (CP)—The Democratic National Convention opened today to pick a candidate for next November's election and there was no doubt the choice would be President Harry Truman.

The last-minute entry of Senator Claude Pepper of Florida as a candidate of the "Liberal" wing Sunday night presented some opposition to the nomination of Truman. Dixie "rebels" picked Governor Ben Lahey of Arkansas.

Few took the Pepper entry seriously. But his handful of followers immediately went into action

Earlier Sunday Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower had still further headed off his supporters when he advised and urged his die-hard supporters not to carry out their threat to nominate him over his objections.

William Douglas, Supreme Court justice, also delivered an unequivocal "no" to his supporters Sunday and left the field to Truman.

Truman has enough pledged votes to ensure the necessary 618 to win a majority. There are 1,234 votes but a far larger number of delegates. Many of them with fractional votes.

A number of unpledged states held caucuses Sunday night and decided to support Truman.

But the Southern states, rebelling against the Truman policy on civil rights—ensuring negro minorities the same privileges and protection as white people—remained militantly opposed to Truman.

Halifax Officer Impounds U.S. Flying Fortress Believed Palestine Bound

Holds Crew, Plane Till Ruling Arrives From Ottawa Headquarters; Pilot Says Aircraft Will Return To Base

HALIFAX, July 12 — (CP). — Customs Collector Charles Collins said today that, pending advice from Ottawa, he had impounded a United States Flying Fortress carrying nine men after it landed here on what was said to be a navigational flight. "I am holding the plane and its crew until I have had a ruling from Ottawa," Collector Collins declared, "Ottawa has all the facts before it and I can say no more at this time."

The collector made his announcement a few minutes before the plane, reported to be in the service of Hagana, the Israeli army, was scheduled to take off.

Capt. Erwin R. Schandler of Miami, Fla., had said the plane was going to return to its base at Westchester county airport at White Plains, NY.

Denies Destination

He denied that the big aircraft, which had no visible armament, was on its way to Palestine.

One of its 10 passengers, all reported as fledging navigators on a training flight, was first rumored to be Barney Ross, former world lightweight boxing champion, and former marine hero.

This report was denied by Schandler and a newspaper reporter said none of them looked like Ross.

The plane was forced down because of bad weather Sunday evening at nearby Eastern Passage airport. Schandler said the plane was owned by overseas training and that he had been hired by R. S. Smyrna, president of the firm, to direct the training of a group of civilians.

Prices Board Extends Field For Landlords

OTTAWA, July 12 — (CP). — The Prices Board today extended the field of landlords who may petition for occupancy of their own homes on the basis of "grievous hardship."

Persons who bought a house before last April 1 may petition the Board for occupancy if they have what the Board considers a real grievance. Previously petitions were acceptable only from landlords who bought their houses before January, 1947.

The Board's announcement stressed, however, that the interpretation of what constitutes "grievious hardship" remains unchanged.

"The fact that a landlord may be losing money because he is prevented from recovering possession of his house is not in itself considered to be a grievous hardship," he announcement said.

"On the other hand, overcrowding to an extent which interferes with the accepted rules of morality of a grave and serious nature."

The order also provides special consideration to old people whose lives might be shortened or made uncomfortable and unhappy if they were not able to occupy their own homes.

Western Ontario Power Lines Down In Storm

LONDON, Ont., July 12—(CP). —Faced with the prospect of continued hot weather, residents of Western Ontario today set about repairing damage left by an electrical storm which Sunday night slashed across a 30-mile-wide stretch of Western Ontario from Lake Huron to east of Brantford.

The storm, the most severe so far this season, ripped power lines, hurled lightning bolts at Hydro sub-stations and set barns afire in an area inhabited by close to 1,000,000 persons.

Lightning which struck a Hydro sub-station here shut off power in the area as far south of London as Dorchester. Then an explosion in a circuit breaker, weakened by the storm, disrupted city service for 55 minutes and cut off power throughout 4,500 square miles of Western Ontario.

High winds tore down 15 Canadian National Telegraph lines near Pottersburg, close to here, and disrupteu service between London and Stratford.

Bernadotte Now Under Fire From Jews and Russians

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, July 12—(AP).—The United States formally requested today an immediate meeting of the United Nations' Security Council as soon as Count Folke Bernadotte, the mediator for Palestine, arrives. Bernadotte, under fire from both the Jews and the Russians, is flying here from Europe.

The Swedish count was due from Amsterdam at 1.35 p.m. EDT to make a first-hand report to the Security Council on the criss in the Holy Land. Trygve Lie, secretary-general, planned to meet him at the airport and an emergency session of the Security Council is expected within 24 hours.

While Bernadotte was en route to Lake Success from his Middle East headquarters on Rhodes, a spokesman for the Israeli government accused the United Nations mediator of apologizing for Arab aggression and prejudicing Palestine negotiations.

At the same time, the Communist party organ Pravda stepped up the Soviet campaign against Bernadotte with Moscow publication of charges that he "did everything possible to inflame still more the enmity between Arabs and Jews and to prepare the soil for further intrigues of the Imperialist powers directed toward the latter's seizure of control over Palestine."

Hold Conference

(Reuters News Agency said that Arab leaders were on their way to "somewhere in the mountains of Lebannon" for an urgently-summoned meeting of the Arab League's political committee to consider Mediator Count Folke Bernadotte's proposal for a 10-day renewal of the Palestine truce.)

On their way to Lydda, occupied Sunday night, Israeli troops captured Lydda airport, the largest in Palestine, the village of Ben Shemen, and Iraqi-held Beit Nabala. There were 35,000 Arabs in Lydda and Er Ramble when the Israeli column drove into the area.

TORONTO, July 12 — (CP). — Southern Ontario mopped its dripping brow during the weekend.

Temperatures soared into the 90s with Sutton, on the southern shore of Lake Simcoe, claiming a high of 98.

At Guelph the thermometer stood between 80 and 90 all day Sunday.

The resort area of Muskoka had a maximum of 92. At Walkerton it was 95, at Peterborough 90.

At Malton, near Toronto, the weather bureau reported a high of 90 Sunday, two degrees cooler than the day before.

$16,000 Fire Sweeps Laundry

SAULT STE. MARIE, July 12 (CP)—A $16,000 fire swept the two-storey Brick Marine Laundry in Sault Ste. Marie early today. No one was reported injured.

Five lines of hose were brought into play but the fire continued to smoulder throughout the morning. A heavy pall of smoke over the central business block hampered firemen as they fought to extinguish the blaze.

Fire Chief W. J. Phillips said the blaze followed an explosion at the laundry about 7 a.m. Employees fought the flames until firemen arrived.

Damage was estimated at $8,000 to the buildings and $8,000 to equipment.

UAW Reaches New Agreement

TORONTO, July 12 (CP).—The United Automobile Workers (CIO) and General Motors of Canada have reached an agreement in contract negotiations, Labor Minister Daley of Ontario announced today.

The settlement will be presented to the union membership Tuesday night for ratifications

Meanwhile terms were not made known.

Both company and union had asked the Labor Department to conduct a strike vote. The UAW and General Motors were deadlocked over union demands for a 16½-cent hourly increase across the board, two additional paid holidays, and a clause providing wage increases proportionate to the rise in living costs.

Say Spy Terrorist Groups Threaten Yugoslav Border

BELGRADE, July 12—(AP)—Yugoslavia says "spy-terrorist groups" menace her frontiers and warns shef is defending hersel against them.

The announcement was made Sunday night by the interior ministry of the semi-autonomous Yugoslavia state of Croatia. It said the groups were formed by war-time Nazi collaborators, now in exile, and an unidentified "foreign intelligence service."

The communque, which appeared in the Community party organ, Borba, said the spy groups are led by Ante Pavelic, top Yugoslav war criminal and premier of the Croatian puppet government during the war and a Dr. Krunosav Draganovic, whom it identified as a "priest attached to the Vatican."

The announcement said the plotters sent 19 groups totalling 95 persons into the country last year and added that Yugoslav security police seized all of them.

Mass trials of the terrorists are munique said.

Pavelic is believed to be in exile in Italy. Draganovic also is believed to have been outsde the country since the war.

(An authoritative Vatican source denied that Dr. Krunoslav Dragonovic, a priets, was involved in sending spies in Yugoslavia.

(The Vatcian's Annuario Pontificio does not list Draganovic's name. In Rome a Vatican source said he had never heard of him.)

Borba also declared that young Yugoslavs sent to Russia to prepare for future leadership in the Communist party have risked danger to support Premier Marshal Tito.

Borba published telegrams defending Tito, sent by Yugoslav students in the higher military and political Lenin Academy of Moscow, the Frunze Military Academy in the Soviet capital, the Voroshilov Academy in Moscow and the Engineering Universty in Sverdlovsk.

Ilsley Presents Farm Act Appeal

LONDON, July 12.—(CP). — The power of the Saskatchewan government to enact section six of its Farm Security Act was challenged today before the law lords of the Privy Council by J. L. Ilsley. The former Canadian finance minister in a purely legal capacity represented the Canadian government.

The Dominion government claims that section six is legislation relating to interest and therefore outside the authority of a Provincial government.

Mr Ilsley presented the argument that the section conflicts with the provisions of the Interest Act validly enacted by the Parliament of Canada

Mr. Isley's main argument against the validity of section six was its provisions that in the event of a crop failure the mortgagor or purchaser of a farm should not be required to make payment to the mortgagee or vendor during the period of "suspension."

"My submission is that the true purpose and effect of this legislation is to relieve the mortgagor of a financial obligation equal to the amount of interest he is obligated to pay; in effect to cancel the agreement," he said.

He said that F. C. Cronkite, of Saskatoon, representing the Saskatchewan government, had "painted a picture of what happens on a farm during a bad crop year."

Guerrillas Seize Mining Town

SINGAPORE, July 12 — (Reuters).—Royal Air Force Spitfires today roared low over the streets of Batu Arang, Malayan coal-mining town, after Communist guerrillas seized control.

Batu Arang, about 25 miles from Kuala Lumpur, contains Malaya's only working coal mine.

The Sengang rubber estate, about 150 miles away, near Kuala Kangsar, was only raided today by about 30 armed terrorists. The colliery raid was carried out early today, reports said. All telephone lines to the mine are cut.

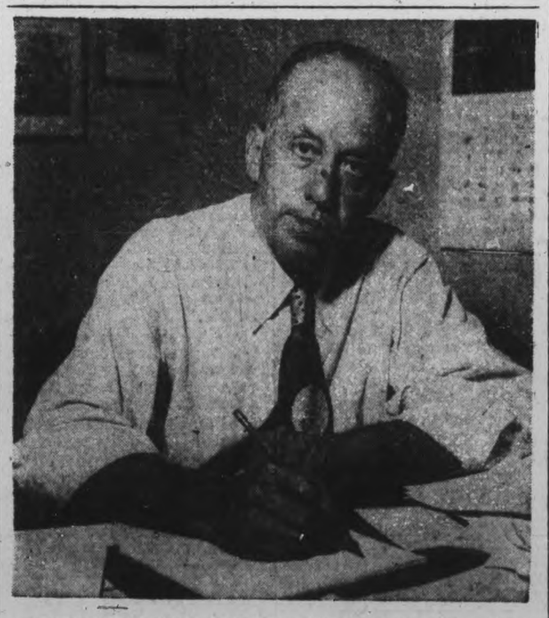
Police said five Chinese employees were shot and killed. Both police and military are being rushed to the scene. Terrorists swept through the colliery town streets with machine-guns blazing.

Britain Holding Up Arab Legion Funds

LONDON, July 12 — (AP). — A foreign office spokesman said day Britain has "temporarily held up" a £500,000 ($2,000,000) payment to Trans-Jordan for financing King Abdullah's Arab Legion

An authoritative British source said the object was to compel Abdullah to accept the United Nation call for extension of the Palestine truce.

The payment was an installment due on a £2,000,000 ($8,000,000)-a-year subsidy which Britain pays to Abdullah to maintain and equip the best-trained Arab army in the Middle East. Payment of the subsidy is required of Britain under the terms of an Anglo-Trans-Jordan treaty.



INTERNATIONAL UNIONS INVOLVED in the railway wage dispute have rejected the Government's latest settlement proposal, but reduced their own wage demands. Shown above is Frank H. Hall, chairman of the negotiating committee acting for the brotherhoods. He said of previous offers "the gap was so great as to preclude any possibility of agreement by negotiation. If Ottawa takes over the responsibility of running the railroads it must also accept the responsibility of settling the wage question." He added: "There has never been a general railway strike in Canada and it is 40 years since any of these unions had a legal strike in Canada. Only a most intolerable situation could persuade them to go on strike as has now been decided."

Free U.S. Cruiser Stuck In St. Lawrence

MONTREAL, July 12 (CP). — The United States light cruiser Portsmouth was refloated at noon today after running her prow into a mudbank near the south shore of the St. Lawrence river 10 miles downstream from Montreal.

The cruiser, which had paid a week-end goodwill visit to Montreal, was released by two tugs and continued on her voyage to her Norfolk, Va., base undamaged.

Reports said the pilot was easing the ship through the morning mists after she slipped from her berth in Montreal. As a freighter sound upstream appeared through the murk, the pilot swung the warship to port and to avoid it the cruiser struck the mudbank.

Unable to free herself, she wirelessed Montreal for assistance and the tugs went out, freeing her after four hours.

Boat Explosion Kills Engineer, Injures Two

BALA July 12 — (CP). — One man was killed and two others seriously injured in an explosion which blew up the 8,000-gallon Imperial Oil Company supply boat Muskokalite here Saturday. Bala is 15 miles northwest of Gravenhurst near Georgian Bay.

Dead is Harvey Commandant of Bala, the vessel's engineer. Injured were: Capt. Alvin Croucher 35, of Bracebridge and Carl Goodwin, 30, truck driver from Parry Sound.

Capt. Croucher suffered severe burns and shock. One of Goodwin's ankles were broken. Hospital officials said Sunday night that Capt. Croucher's condition is improving and that Goodwin's is "satisfactory."

The explosion occurred shortly after the noon hour while gasoline was being loaded into the vessel from Goodwin's truck.

Two Blasts

Suddenly a dense cloud of oily black smoke shot into the air and the explosion followed. Fire broke out immediately on the vessel and a second explosion occurred before firemen from the volunteer brigade could reach the dockside.

Debris was scattered for more than a quarter of a mile in the west end of this Muskoka district village.

Firemen battled the blaze for two hours, helped by tourists from the village and others who came in boats when they heard the blast. The vessel was destroyed.

Searchers found Commandant's body in the engine room after the fire had been put out.

Officials were unable to account for the cause of the explosions and fire.

There's nothing like an old photo album to make us realize how our tastes change and how progress keeps marching on.

Today, your J-M reporter compared pictures of an asbestos shingle 35 years ago and the modern J-M Durabestos Shingle. The basic ingredients—asbestos and cement are the same—both are rot-proof and fireproof. But what a difference in appearance! Today's Durabestos Shingle has color and pleasing texture. Its deep, rich graining and staggered butts resemble attractive weathered wood shingles. What's more, the modern Durabestos Shingle is easier to handle and apply and a lot more economical.

Industrials, Oils Said Strengthened

TORONTO, July 12 — (CP). — Industrials and western oils strengthened in very light trading here today. Base metals were easier and golds steady.

Papers firmed in narrow fractional range in industrial groupings. Abitibi, Minnesota and Ontario, International Paper and St. Lawrence A Pfd. gained ¼. Bell Telephone was up ¾ and Burns B rose 1¾. McColl Oil, Steel of Canada, Imperial Oil and Brazilian Traction edged upwards.

Calgary and Edmonton moved strongly in western oils, rising 20 cents and Anglo-Canadian, Central Leduc, East Leduc and Pacific Petroleum were gainers.

A few selected golds made gains in spotty action. Aunor, Hallnor, Kirkland Lake, Lingman, Malartic, Sylvanite and Pickle Crow rose from 1 to 15 cents.

Waite Amulet dipped 5 cents in base metals and Pend Oreille, Sherritt, Normetal, International Uranium and Callinan Flin Flon were other losers. East Sullivan, Falconbridge, and Gulf Lead rose from 2 to 5 cents.

Grant Citizenship In 2-Year Time

Polish army veterans who have been working in Canada for almost two years will likely get their Canadian citizenship this fall, about five years earlier than usual, according to a recent government order, W. H. Mellis, manager of National Employment Service, said today.

There are 29 of these Polish veterans in Peterborough county. They had contracted with the government to work for two years, following which they would apply for their citizenship papers. The government would then grant them with their citizenship withing five years, said Mr. Mellis.

In addition to the Poles, there are 39 DP's in the county, 20 of whom are single women, 15 single men, and two married couples make up the remainder. Six Dutch families, with nine children also live in the county.

Farmers and others who have employed these Europeans are on the whole satisfied with their work, said Mr. Mellis. Another group of 350 DP's is expected at the first of the week, he said, but "I don't know how many we will get here, though we have a number of applications in."

At that time the unions were demanding 28 cents-an-hour increase against 10 cents offered by the companies.

The International Union group, which spent the week-end considering Mr. Mitchell's Saturday offer, met with the minister only for about 20 minutes to present its reply. It was understood Mr. Mitchell would transmit the unions' new offer to the railways.

Right after meeting with the International men Mr. Mitchell went into conference with representatives of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and Other Transport Workers (CCL) to receive their reply to a similar offer he made Saturday.

The CBRE was dealing with Mr. Mitchell independently of the International Unions.

Britain Sends

lin. The Russians have refused to seat him.

Lewis D. Douglas, United States ambassador to Britain, arrived in Berlin by plane Sunday night and began immediate talks with Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor.

Douglas told newspaper men that his visit was not part of any particular western Allied diplomatic manoeuvring. He said he planned to return to London today.

Make Next Move

Responsible officials said, however, that Douglas probably would map the next Allied move, if Russia rejects the notes of the three western powers demanding that the blockade be lifted.

Some observers speculated that a break in the situation was near. Belief here is that the Russians are trying to force the western Allies into fourpower discussions of the over-all German question.

In Warsaw, Poland's controlled press backed Russia's stand on the Berlin blockade and said that "only full co-operation of the four powers" could solve the problem.

German news agencies have spread reports that Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Soviet military governor, would be transferred to a field command when the present crisis is over. There was no confirmation of those accounts.

Charge "Forgery"

In London, the Soviet news agency, Tass, quoted the Moscow newspaper Pravda as declaring a reported Communist plot to begin street fighting in Berlin was a forgery "born in the innermost recesses of the British embassy in Paris."

In a 24-hour period ending Sunday, the Americans flew in 1,038 tons of food and other supplies on 190 flights to Berlin from Western Germany.

The Royal Air Force made 157 flights.

United States Air Force officials described as a "war of nerves" recent Soviet announcements that Russian planes will make practice flights into the British-American air corridor.

TALKING TO NEWSMEN at the Rhine-Main airport in Frankfurt, Germany, Gen. Joseph E. Smith tells of efforts being made to break the Russian blockade of Berlin. Commander of the special air service engaged in flying supplies to the Allied zone, Gen. Smith now has some 4,000 officers and men and 140 transport planes at his disposal. They have been flying 1,000 tons of food to Berlin daily. In addition, coal is now being flown to the beleaguered German capital. Russians have tightened their grip on the city by announcing that from now on no vehicular traffic of the western Allies can leave Berlin for western zones of occupation without a special pass granted by the Soviet military administration. The Allies have demanded that Russia lift the blockade.

Korean 'Reds' Defy UN, Plan Election

SEOUL, Korea, July 12.—(Reuters).—The Communist-dominated North Korea Peoples' Committee, defying the United Nations, has decided to hold elections Aug. 25 to choose a legislature claiming authority over the whole of Korea.

The announcement, contained in a 5,000-word broadcast by the Communist radio at Pangyang, was intercepted and translated by the United States Army.

This further confuses the situation in Korea, where on May 10 a United Nations temporary commission approved Democratic elections in the United States occupied zone.

The broadcast said the capital for this new legislature would be Seoul, in the United States zone, but jurisdiction would be restricted to North Korea "until it was possible to enforce it over all Korea."

Chairman of the Praesidium of the Peoples' Assembly for North Korea, Kim Du Bon, a Communist, will be in charge of all election preparations, the broadcast saaid.

Voting will be in secret, but provision has been made for two kinds of ballot boxes, a white one for votes in favor of the candidate, a black one for votes against.

Each party will be allowed one candidate for each district. Rules authorize all political parties and social organizations "which have been registered by the North Korean Peoples' Committee to nominate candidates."

During a meeting of the North Korea Peoples' Committee, the broadcast saaid, the present national flag was lowered and the new "Democratic Korean Peoples' Republic" flag was raised. It added that an earlier approved constitution would be enforced immediately throughout North Korea.

Colonel Shoots Wife In Quebec

NORTH HATLEY, Que., July 12 (CP)—Mrs. Charles Matthew Abbott, 40, was fatally shot here last night and her 69-year-old husband, a retired United States army colonel from Brooklyn, NY, was removed to Montreal Neurological Hospital for treatment of a head wound said to have been self-inflicted.

Police said Abbott first fired three or four bullets into the body of his wife and then turned the .38-calibre revolver on himself.

They said they were summoned when Miss Lillian Thomas, North Hatley telephone operator, received a call from Abbott, who told her, "Get somebody up her as quick as you can. I've shot my wife and I'm going to shoot myself and the little girl."

Police found the 4-year-old girl playing with two empty shells.

Lumber Workers Ask $2-A-Day Increase

HEARST, July 12 — (CP). — Officials of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union (CIO) said today they will demand a $2 a day wage increase for all members, from employing companies in Toronto Aug. 19.

At an annual meeting of northeastern Ontario bushworkers, union officials said they would ask to have the unskilled labor daily wage raised to $8.50.

With the $2 boost, mechanics would get $10.55 a day; blacksmiths, $10.25; cooks, $10 and cookees, $7.50.

Bruce Magnuson, union general secretary, said seven large companies were already willing to sign a contract, embodying the wage demands.

Retuher Has Arrived For Ford Negotiations

DETROIT, July 12 — (CP). — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) moved into the Ford Motor Company Union negotiations today, his lieutenants said, the intention of "staying until it is over."

Union and company representatives are attempting to complete a new contract. Reuther arrived at the sessions when they began. It was his first appearance at such a meeting since he was shot by an unidentified assassin in his home last April.

The union has refused a company offer of a 14-cent wage increase for those paid $1.50 and more and 11 cents for those making less. The old contract governing wages expires Thursday.

FIRST HOCKEY GAME

Ice hockey originated and was developed in Canada. Some historians say that the first game of ice hockey — an offshoot of field hockey — was played in Montreal in December, 1879.

Tell Picnickers Contract Likely

OSHAWA, July 12.—Nearly 6,000 people jammed Lakeview Park Saturday as members of Local 222, UAWA, and their families attended the union's eleventh annual picnic. Sunny skies coupled with the probability that the wage dispute with General Motors Corporation is nearing a settlement lent a happy atmosphere to the union's big social event of the year.

"Strike" rumors and the fact that the union's bargaining committee was meeting company representatives and Labor Department officials at Queen's Park, even as "the big show" got under way, seemed largely forgotten as young and old entered into the carnival spirit of a long program, including athletics for the younger generation, entertainment by magnicians, singers, and comedians, a safe-driving contest, a baby show, prize draws for union members, and a round of speech-making.

News that definite progress has been made in the three-way talks at Toronto came quite late in the afternoon when Richard Courtney, international representative of the union, intimated that a settlement is probably in the offing. He stated that the proposals, which neither company nor unions is prepared to enlarge upon at the moment, would likely be laid before a full union membership meeting early this week.

Try New Radar On Council Boat

OTTAWA, July 12.—(CP).—A 65-foot motor vessel in which the helmsman don't even look where he's going will travel up the Great Lakes this summer. The boat—National Research Council's "Radel"—will put wartime radar to use in peacetime marine navigation.

The vessel is equipped with the most advanced types of radar. Steered "blind" from below deks it can safely navigate narrow channels and come within 75 feet of buoys or wharves obscured by darkness or fog.

Now at Ottawa, Radel will soon make the trip through the Rideau canal to Kingston, where it will put on a display of radar's capabilities before members of the National Defence College.

The boat's main task this summer will be the mapping of navigation channels—mainly around harbors.

Work begun last summer on mapping harbor entrances and shore lines at Toronto and other Lake Ontario points will be continued. The Radel will make blind-navigation trial runs in and out of all available small harbors along the lakes.

Th vessel's destination is Caribou Island in Lake Superior, where it will test new radar reflectors installed on the Caribou Island lighthouse

Montana Cowboy Named Champion

CALGARY, July 12 (CP). — Bill Linderman, a tough wiry cowhand from Billings, Mont., today is the all-around North American bronc buster.

As consistent a cowboy as ever pulled on high-heeled boots, Linderman was crowned all-around cowboy for the fifth straight time Saturday while Calgary exhibition and stampede officials gleefully totalled record-shattering attendance figures.

Every day of the six-day event saw new attendance records set and when the tunstiles finally stopped clicking Saturday night. 376,983 persons had paid to see Canada's most colorful stampede. The total is 37,234 more than the former mark set in 1946.

The week was one of color and excitement from Monday's opening day two-mile long parade to presentation of prizes and a big fireworks display Saturday. For spectators there were the thrills of cowboy events, chuckwagon races, the spectacle of Blackfoot Sarcee and Stony Indians parading each morning in their finery, a grandstand show and the midway.

YOUNG CLIFFORD MOORE, 16-year-old Dansbury, Connecticut high school boy, who will represent the youth of America at the forthcoming Olympic games in England, will also report on the games for International News Service. He is shown here with Bob Considine, sports writer, as he was "briefed" in his new job. Clifford was chosen in a U.S. nation-wide essay contest to attend the games as a special guest of the British Olympics commitee. His prize-winning essay was on the relationship of the Olympic games to international friendship.

Orange Walk Being Held In Blazing Heat

By The Canadian Press

This is the "Glorious Twelfth" of the Orangemen and those who march today—at least in general Canada — will carry their banners and band instruments through sweltering mid-summer heat.

Orangemen who marched Saturday — they thought a Saturday march would result in a bigger turnout than a Monday celebration—had it little better. Everything was so hot the bandsmen could hardly thump the drums and tootle the fifes

The big doings in Ontario today are set for Ottawa, with a gathering of 329 lodges and perhaps 25,000 persons. Cobourg and Clinton have smaller gatherings. Montreal Orangemen are to join in the Ottawa celebration.

The 1948 celebration by this Protestant order marks the 258th anniversary of the July day on which William III, Prince of Orange, defeated the dethroned James II when their forces clashed at the Boyne river in Ireland.

Horn Player Dies

Celebrations in Kitchener were marred Saturday by the death of Kirby Tarzwell, 53, a horn player with the Hillsburgh brass band. Tarzwell, master of the lodge at Hillsburgh, 5 miles northwest of Guelph, died of a seizure while on parade.

Sarnia's walk Saturday drew 10,000 from western Ontario and from Michigan. Kitchener saw 8,000 march to the music of more than 30 bands. Toronto's turnout was upwards of 6,000. Thornbury played host to 5,000. North Bay had a big parade and Orangemen from Hamilton joined others from the counties of Lincoln, Haldiman and Welland in a march through the streets of Dunnville.

The constables as they approached in the police cruiser saw the man working on the front door, and when they drew up he was in the act of emptying the cash drawer which contained about $25. He was arrested and remanded in custody until July 15.

Truman On The First Ballot?

Philadelphia greets its second major political convention within a fortnight today as the United States Democratic Party meets to announce its platform and choose its candidates for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency. Party leaders have been in the Pennsylvania port city since the middle of last week drafting the Democratic platform, which will probably be presented today, with the voting for candidates slated to be held later this week, probably on Wednesday.

• • •

A week ago, most observers in the United States were of the opinion that Mr. Truman would be nominated by his party on the first ballot. That was before General Eisenhower had issued his statement that he would not accept a Democratic nomination—just as he had spoken when the Republican campaign to nominate him was in full swing. And before General Eisenhower's second refusal to stand, there was a strong movement within the Democratic Party to draft him, in the belief he would yield to that form of persuasion. Yet with this movement at its height, and granting the defection of the erstwhile "Solid South", the United States experts gave Mr. Truman 809 votes at the convention, or 191 more than the 618 needed to win the nomination.

• • •

Since Mr. Truman was rated at 809 votes, two things have happened which should strengthen his candidacy. Perhaps the most important of these was General Eisenhower's firm restatement of his refusal to accept nomination to a political post. Almost equally important was the growing realization in the Southern United States that the only alternative to President Truman was the Republican ticket—and the Republican platform contains a civil rights bill even more unequivocal than that approved by President Truman. The first state in the South to perceive this was Louisiana, although this conception of the obvious may be due less to electoral intelligence than to a state-wide conviction that the Republican Party should be declared illegal.

• • •

It will be interesting to follow the happenings at the Democratic Convention in Philadelphia, if only to see if the experts make a better mass score than they did in predicting the results of the Republican Convention. With few exceptions, the experts then called a deadlock, and the result was an early sweep for Governor Dewey. We have neither read nor heard of a political observer who calls anything else but Truman on the first ballot at the Democratic Convention, and if this unanimity is proved wrong, it will be a major upset.

Candidates For Liberal Leadership: The Hon. D. C. Abbott

With the national convention of the Liberal Party about a month away, we propose to publish a series of brief biographies of the men named as possible successors to Mr. Mackenzie King. The subject of succession to the leadership of the Liberal Party is of great interest to most Canadians, and each of the men who will be described in these articles has been mentioned at some time or other as a potential successor to Mr. King. Some are openly in the field; most are not, and at least one has intimated he will not stand. We shall present the possible candidates in alphabetical order, and the first name on the list is that of Hon. D. C. Abbott, Federal Minister of Finance.

The Hon. Douglas Charles Abbott, P.C., K.C., B.C.L., is member of the House of Commons for St. Antoine-Westmount, a Montreal constituency. He was first elected to the House of Commons at the general election held in 1940, and was re-elected in the general election of 1945. He served as parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Ilsley; in April of 1945 he was appointed Minister of National Defence for Naval Services and in August was appointed Minister of National Defence (Army). The appointment to the post of Minister of Finance, which he now holds, came in December, 1946.

Douglas Abbott was born in 1899, at Lennoxville, Quebec, the son of Lewis Duff Abbott and Mary Jane Pearce, both Canadians. He was educated at Bishop's College and McGill University, receiving the degree of B.C.L. from the latter institution. In 1916 he went overseas with the 7th (McGill) Siege Battery, and served with it until 1918, when he transferred to the Royal Air Force. Following his return from overseas, he practised law in Montreal until he added to that occupation the profession of politics in 1940.

A fluent speaker, Mr. Abbott rapidly became known as one of the ablest of the younger parliamentarians. He demonstrated his administrative ability convincingly while serving in the Department of National Defence posts, and his ready grasp of complex financial problems made him a natural choice for Minister of Finance when the Hon. J. L. Ilsley retired from that post. His record since then should still be clear in the public mind; it fulfils the promise held out by his earlier Cabinet service.

Douglas Abbott is tall, a fine-looking man with more than a hint of military carriage. Married, he has a daughter and two sons. He is a member of the Church of England. His name has been prominently mentioned as a possible successor to Mr. King, but at the time of writing there has been no statement from Mr. Abbott himself as to whether he intends to enter his name as an active candidate for the consideration of the national convention.

Forging Ahead In Britain

Whatever may be our misgivings on this side of the Atlantic over the British schemes for nationalizing industry and building up a huge social security fabric, in its production effort and dollar crisis Britain is managing well. Until early this year it was drawing upon the large Canadian loan at an alarming rate. Since the spring it has been able to manage without touching the remaining credits. Though in the first half of this year Britain spent 222 million pounds of gold and dollars from reserves, the drain has not been as large as was expected. The total British reserves have been increased, and now money from E.R.P. has begun to come in.

The chief reason for the bettering of the dollar situation is the increased industrial output, resulting in increased exports, for British factories are catering to foreign markets more than to domestic consumers. The output in 1946 and 1947 was 15 per cent. above the level of 1938. Belgian production has had in the same period only a 6 per cent. increase, France 4 per cent., Denmark 8 per cent. Britain has been the only European nation (with the possible exception of Finland) to increase her exports over the pre-war level, and at the same time she has decreased her imports by 20 per cent. The Montreal Star comments that though it will be years yet before the fundamental crisis is over, before all the necessary adjustments have been made, "it does look as if the very British Mr. Britling is seeing it through".

Hypocrisy—Canadian Style

Every country has its own brand of hypocrisy and Canada, in its rise to nationhood, has taken pains to develop what we think is a truly distinctive hypocritical twist. Last year, as our readers may recall, the city of Regina refuse to hang Matthew Smith's "Reclining Nude", a picture which was being shown as part of the Massey Collection. The Mayor of Regina explained that the rural population might be corrupted by such a picture. (There was another school of opinion which held that the Saskatchewan farmers would be outraged not by the sight of a woman who was naked, but by a picture of a woman who was not engaged in gainful labour.)

One of the chief attractions at the Regina Exhibition this year will be Miss Sally Rand, who dances with a bubble and (so far as her audience can see) nothing else. We quite understand why the people of Saskatchewan want to see Miss Rand. But why did they ban Smith's picture of a better body than Miss Rand's?

It is in this that the genius of Canadian hypocrisy shows itself. The picture was "Art", and it is traditional that in Canada art has to run the gauntlet of Nice Nellies and amateur moralists until it drops dead of exhaustion. But Sally Rand is a "show", and Canadians love a good raw show, particularly at fair time.

A great country, with a very promising style of hypocrisy, all its own.

The world's largest area of unemployment is that situated just north of the ears.

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

"THE Manchester Guardian articles kept me all through the Derwen days in touch with Wales (wrote that true son of Wales, Ernest Rhys in Wales England Wed) and books of verse and music were often sent me. One day came a curious little book, printed by the author himself, whose name was W. H. Davies. His poems were often crude, but stamped by lyric individuality. The longest was a strange ballad of life in a common London lodging house, where he seems to live, and there I wrote to him. Edward Thomas had also discovered this new poet, and told me his strange history. Attracted by the gold rush to the Klondyke, W. H. Davies had worked his way overseas, and was trying to steal a ride on a freight train when he fell between the trucks, and was run over, and lost one of his legs. When they went to pick him up he was calmly smoking a cigarette. Something innocent and childlike in his make-up—the quality that gives so much charm to his verse, remained with him through all his years of vagabondage.

◇ ◇ ◇

"THE book cannot have brought him any money, but it made the world aware that a new poet had arisen. Two more books, and then Edward Thomas told me that Davies was 'on the rocks' and suggested a small Civil List pension. We arranged to pay a visit to the House of Commons to see some of the Welsh M.P.s who might help.

◇ ◇ ◇

"WE met at Charing Cross, and as Davies limped up in the crowd he looked like a countryman in town for a holiday, dressed in a worn grey suit, with a short pipe in his mouth and a cloth cap on his head. Neither Edward Thomas or I wore anything like town clothes, and together we made as queer a trio as ever went to lobby an M.P. at the House. We had our eye upon a man after our own fancy, Llewellyn Williams, then member for Carmarthenshire. Himself a writer of good stories and a bit of a poet and a history man, he had edited some volumes of Froude for me in Everyman's Library. He looked like a mixture of a jolly Welsh farmer and a judge—he was a barrister on the South Wales circuit, and had won some celebrity in notorious criminal cases. In short, the one man in the House to understand W. H. Davies. He gave us tea in the smoking-room, and regaled us with toasted buns and droll stories, and our mirth grew so loud that the other members in the room looked uneasy. Our mission was quite successful. True, it was not a big pension to begin with, but it was enough to get the poet on his way."

"WHATEVER his professional shortcomings, Frank Munsey, the fabulously wealthy newspaper owner, had the acumen and the ready cash to buy first class brains," according to Sam Adam's biography of Alexander Woollcott. His personal representative and general factotum in 1922 was Charles M. Lincoln, an outstanding figure in journalism. It was Lincoln's conviction that his chief seldom took the trouble to read the newspaper for himself, but got his opinions on his adopted profession from others. Having heard about the Woollcott Sunday page, he summoned Lincoln and asked if he knew the man who wrote it.

"Woollcott? Everybody knows him," replied Lincoln.

"I've been reading that column of his," said Munsey, "what does he call it, now?"

"Second Thoughts on First Nights," suggested Lincoln.

"That's it," said Munsey. "'Second Thoughts on First Nights.' Pretty good, is it?"

"Very good," was the reply.

"Do you think this man Woollcott would be useful to the Herald?" the boss queried. The answer was "Yes."

"Get him," ordered Munsey.

THE manner in which the old-time chairmen managed not only the smooth running of the program, but the behaviour of the theatre audiences, is described by Sir Seymour Hicks in Between Ourselves.

"I remember being present at a music-hall one night when a Scotch comedienne was received with cat-calls from the audience, who would have none of her. She was I am bound to say, an extremely poor performer. When she had finished her first song, the chairman, rapping the table in front of him with his hammer, announced that Miss Jennie MacPherson would appear again! A man in the gallery shouted out, 'Jennie MacPherson is rotten!' He of the queer dress-suit, however, turned to the interrupter and said, 'Nevertheless she will appear again.' 'Nevertheless' seemed to me monumental."

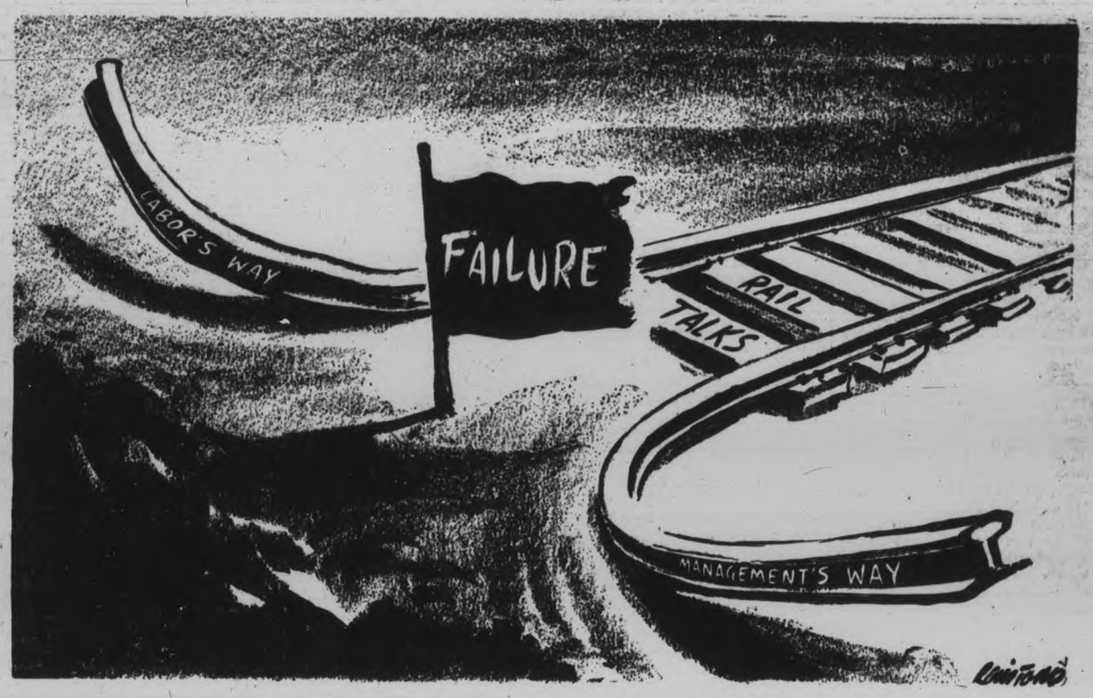
"THE Brigadier was seldom with the staff and usually with the soldiers (states Alan Moorehead in his extremely well written biography Montgomery). He had absorbed utterly his own teaching that 'the soldier is the first weapon of war,' and he entered into their lives with a curious persistence. The incident over the Welfare Fund is typical. The funds in the brigade were low, and Montgomery wanted money to provide his men with sports materials and other facilities. Opportunely the promoter of a fair approached him with an offer of £1,000 for the rental of the Clarence Football Ground at Portsmouth for ten days over the August Bank Holiday period.

"The ground was Government property, normally used by the military. Montgomery had no objection to giving it up for ten days at this rate of payment. He was urged by the Mayor to put the price up to £2,000, and eventually a compromise of £1,500 was agreed upon. But when the project was laid before the full Portsmouth City Council for approval, it was turned down. Montgomery returned to the attack. If the Council would agree he would cut them in on the deal: they should have 500 for local charities. Upon this the Council changed its mind, the ground was let and the money paid over."

When Whitehall learned that one of its junior brigadiers was going around letting Crown property and of all things to a common fair, the fat was in the fire, Mr. Moorehead goes on to say. The War Office forbade the proceedings. When informed that the deal was completed and that money had changed hands, the War Office demanded by return Montgomery's cheque for £1,500, on the grounds that the money rightfully belonged to Whitehall.

Explaining that not only had the ground been let, but the money spent, the Brigadier was told that his promotion would be affected by these irregular goings-on. In fact, the row grew to such proportions that, says Mr. Moorehead, "it threatened at one point to reach one of those periodic crises in his career when the authorities were seriously thinking that for the good of all he ought to leave the Army. The correspondence went on for many months—indeed it may still be going on."

A QUESTION OF RIGHT OF "WAYS"



"And So To Bed"

(BRANTFORD EXPOSITOR)

COMMENTING on a report by furniture dealers that twin beds, which used to be the choice of 38 per cent. of newly married couples, are now bought by 52 per cent., the Peterborough Examiner says, "There is much to be said for twin beds. No two people sleep at the same speed, as it were. . . . To put a man who likes to sleep flat on his back, with arms and legs spread out like a St. Andrew's cross, into a bed with a woman who sleeps like a whirling dervish flailing, revolving and galumphing the whole night through, is to pave the road to a divorce. Nor can a woman who likes to sleep with one light blanket lie happily at the side of a spouse who dresses for bed as though for an Arctic expedition, and who insists that everything, including the hearthrug, be piled upon him to keep him warm."

The Eastern Ontario paper also calculates that a book, called Public School Hygiene, which said that everybody should have his own bed, is largely responsible for the increase in the number of young married folk who sleep alone and like it.

However, Public School Hygiene or not, there is still much to be said for the double bed, and by that it is not intended to include the three-quarter bed, which, because of its narrower width, may save some space in smallish bedooms, but is still not a good substitute for the considerably wider and much more comfortable double.

But to get back to the subject, and while still thinking in terms of space, a double bed will often fit nicely into a room that would seem crowded if furnished with the more expensive twins.

And further to the matter of expense, (and in this day of high prices, it is quite important), the new housewife will find that she has to make considerably less outlay for sheets for one double bed than for two singles, as well as having quite a lot less laundering and ironing to do on Mondays.

As for sleeping in a double bed, less bed clothing is needed in colder weather because the warmth from two bodies supplies enough heat to make this possible. At the same time the sleep so obtained is more restful, because the bedding is lighter and there are two bodies to support it.

And again, on a real cold night there is a convenient back to sleep against should one require additional warmth. For that matter it can be used to warm cold feet on rare occasions, but this comfort should not be overdone for anything approaching even spasmodic use might be the cause of a serious household upset.

A further advantage of the double bed is that early in the morning, or at any time during the night should it be necessary to open or shut the window, get up to investigate for burglars or get a drink for one of the children, it is much easier and usually a quieter matter to rouse one's mate. A slight poke in the back or ribs, a gentle push of one kind or another is usually sufficient to wake the other occupant of the bed, whereas those who seek their sleep in single beds must resort to rather noisy methods of waking, due to the space between.

And should one's mate be a loud snorer, processes of silencing same are again easier in a double bed.

In matters of hygiene it is doubtful if either double or single beds have any particular advantage to offer, for if one sleeper has a cold or some other contagious ailment, the ailing one should be allowed the sole occupancy of the room until cured.

The Examiner's editorial concludes with, "The sacrament of marriage and the sanctity of the home, we feel, are well served by twin beds, and Public School Hygiene was right."

In the light of the arguments herein presented, this editorial could be concluded with: The sacrament of marriage and the sanctity of the home are well served by the double bed, and Public School Hygiene was wrong.

Letter To The Editor

THE BEAUTIES OF THE TRENT CANAL

Sir,—With much pleasure and satisfaction I read your editorial in the July 8th issue of The Examiner under the caption "Abandon the Trent Canal? Never!" and in my humble opinion, consider your stand well taken. It seems fantastic that anyone would express such an idea simply because the canal is costing the country a little money. Surely no person in this part of the country is foolish enough to let the nickel snut out the light of the sun over an expenditure such as the upkeep of this great inland waterway. The only regret is that more people do not appreciate what a wonderful heritage belongs to them in this part of the province.

The Trent Canal did not come into existence without a great deal of thought and effort. Away back in 1906 the people of Central Ontario woke up to the fact they had a great asset in the Trent River and its back lakes and streams, and to serve this purpose the long dreamed-of canal should be built. The various municipalities in this section got together and sent one of the largest delegations to Ottawa to urge the Dominion Government the importance of the Trent Canal. Some amusing stories are told in connection with the delegation, one about the Irishman from Douro Township who was one of the last speakers to address Mr. Emmerson, the Minister of Railways and Canals, but who clinched the argument when he said, "Mr. Emmerson, build the canal for our sakes, for your sake and for God's sake." The canal has been built—although we do not have a full depth canal to Georgian Bay; however, in time this may come to pass, but in the meantime let's use what we have. It is just too bad the boats, such as the Stoney Lake that used to run excursions from the George St. wharf, Peterborough, to Lindsay have disappeared, but surely some enterprising company or person will replace some of the boats mentioned in your editorial.

Where could you get a finer trip than the water route just mentioned? Leave the wharf at Peterborough at 8 a.m. and arrive at Lindsay at 6 p.m. and on the water all the time, and a trip not like crossing one of the Great Lakes that once you leave there is nothing to look at but water, but lovely scenery all the way.

Getting back to this idea of abandoning the Trent Canal, surely this is just a joke. No person could really entertain such an absurd idea. The water of the Trent River is well controlled and with just a few inches of variation from high water to low water—and well it is so because with a town like Campbellford, what would happen if the water was not controlled, but rose higher than the dyked walls—simply disaster. Oh! some will say, drain the canal; but if this were done, what would happen? A great loss of electric power, to say nothing of the dismal appearance of a walled canal without water—Who wants such a thing? Well, Mr. Editor, in my opinion, you are right when you say, "Abandon the Trent Canal? Never!" and when I express my opinion I do so without any connection whatsoever with the Trent Canal, and speak simply as a private citizen who appreciates this great work and what it means to this section of Central Ontario.

Sincerely,
JOHN F. McGREGOR.

Campbellford.

Radio Prizes

Show business, so far as radio is concerned, must be suffering from a grave sickness when showmen resort to such desperate prize-giving in trying to attract their audiences.

From the listener's point of view, some real talent, well presented, would be far more entertaining than all the give-away shows put together.—Halifax Herald.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The Lord shall reign for ever, even thy God, O Zion, unto all generations. Praise ye the Lord. (Ps. 146: 10.)

◇ ◇ ◇

I have set the Lord always before me: because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved. . . . Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore. (Ps. 16: 8, 11.)

God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things; and hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us:

For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offering. (Acts 17: 24-28.)

Some Kinseyites

The Rev. Seward Hiltner of the Federal Council of Churches of the United States, Rabbi Louis I. Newman of Temple Rodeph Sholom in New York, and Dr. Charles G. Wilber of Fordham University Graduate School (a great Roman Catholic educational institution) do not seem to agree with certain Toronto aldermen and controllers that Kinsey's "Sexual Behavior in the Human Male" is detrimental to morals and should be withheld from circulation. At any rate they have all contributed to a symposium on it edited by Albert Deutsch and entitled "Sex Habits of American Men" (McLeod, $3.75). Mr. Hiltner says that "knowledge of facts, however unwelcome, is always necessary if there is to be improvement." Rabbi Newman discusses the book without the slightest suggestion that there is anything wrong with it, but then he admits "the readiness of Jews to discuss these subjects with freedom and thoroughness." Dr. Wilber calls the book "a useful guide in pointing out some of the weak spots in our American attack on the problem of sexual education."

The most outspoken commendation of the book, as a work for general circulation, comes from Alice Withrow Field, who is supervising probation officer in the magistrates' court of New York City and the author of scientific studies on delinquency and prostitution, as well as several volumes of poetry. Dr. Robert P. Knight, clinical professor of psychiatry at Yale, is enthusiastic about the whole Kinsey project, but acutely critical of some of the interpretation which Kinsey gives to his statistics; the aid of psychiatrists, he points out, would have made possible "the combined qualitative and quantitative studies which the importance of the subject matter eminently requires."

Is Toronto going to consider banning, not only books about sex, but books about books about sex? If so Mr. Deutsch will certainly go into the Index.—Saturday Night.

Government Asked To Provide Medical Care For Burleigh Indians

The Harvey township council, at its meeting on Saturday, passed a resolution asking for Federal Government aid in paying for medical care to Indians and half-breeds who have settled around Burleigh Falls. Since they have broken away from their Reservation at Curve Lake, their medical care has been paid for by the township. The council pointed out in its petition that these Indians paid no taxes and that the financial drain on township funds was too great. Gordon K. Fraser, MP, was presented with the petition with the request that he bring the matter to the attention of proper officials in Ottawa.

A letter from division engineer W. A. Anderson regarding arrangements with property owners who will be affected by the straightening of the Buckhorn-Gannons Narrows Road was read and discussed. When such negotiations are completed satisfactorily, road work will continue. Reeve Flynn, Councillor Elliott and the road superintendent were appointed to look after future work under supervision of district engineer.

Council orders approved for payment were: fence viewing to Milton Ingram, $5; supplies to Municipal World, 6.25, and salary to M. B. Hall, $20. Payment voucher from the Department of Highways in the amount of $21.10 was received for gravel work to roads.

THE NEW THREE CENT U.S. postage stamp, shown above, commemorates a hundred years of friendship between Canada and the U.S.A. It will be placed on first-day sale at Niagara Falls, N.Y., on August 2.

Child's Clothes Thrown In River

A mother called Armar Butcher the other night telling him that her small son had arrived home from Riverside Park in his bathing suit. Older boys had tied up his clothes in stones and thrown them into the river. That was the supposition. There was also some petty thieving reported. Ald. H. Dodds said Lions Club would not tolerate any misdemeanors that could be prevented. And lively action would be taken for prevention.

Play equipment broken in Inverlea Park, and older boys in the Queen Mary School district whooping on the swings and swearing loudly to the annoyance of people on the western hill, were also reported recently.

Mr. Butcher said he had the least trouble at King Edward Park, although the score there wasn't perfect. But, he had received more constructive help and co-operation from the young people in the King Edward area than from most of the other sections of the city.

Face New Crisis

VANCOUVER, July 12 — (CP). — Shipbuilding on the west coast faces a crisis because of new wage demands by the unions, it was reported Saturday by shipyard operators. The shipyard employees — 3,000 union members — are demanding a 35-cent-an-hour increase, and have rejected 10-cent-an-hour counter offer from the operators.

Seven Premiers Discuss Rates

HALIFAX, July 12.—(CP). — The freight rates issues marches back to Ottawa next week.

Premier Angus L. Macdonald, of Nova Scotia, announced Sunday night premiers of seven provinces will meet with the Federal cabinet July 20 to discuss the contentious issue that stemmed from the 21 per cent freight rates increase granted Canadian railways several months ago.

Premier Johnson of British Columbia said he had conferred with Premier Garson of Manitoba during the week-end and that B. B. "defintely will be represented."

Premier Manning of Alberta, said he wolld attend the conference.

Mr. Macdonald said premiers of the three eastern provinces would be in Ottawa July 20 and that he presumed premiers of the other provinces involved—all but Quebec and Ontario — would reach the capital by that date.

Last week it was announced the Dominion government had rejected a request from the seven protesting provinces for a Royal Commission into Canadian railway freight rates.

Quebec Election Campaign Warming Up

MONTREAL, July 12 (CP) — Quebec's July 28 election campaign warmed up to-day as more than 280 candidates of six parties took to the hustings.

Although leaders of the three chief parties, Liberals, Union Nationale and Union of Electors, have been stumping the province since late last month, much of the campaigning for the Legislature's 92 seats has been through radio and newspaper advertisements.

During the week-end, however, more than 200 meetings ranging from little gatherings after Mass in rural centres to city ward rallies, gave the campaign a spurt. Between now and July 21 nomination day, the arrival of members of Parliament, including External Affairs Minister St. Laurent and National CCF Leader Coldwell promises to give it added life.

Premier Duplessis, whose Union Nationale Government is seeking 91 seats, announced early in the campaign that the chief issues were provincial autonomy and his government's oposition to Communism.

Only the Liberals, Union Nationale and Union of Electors have enough candidates so far to form a government. The Union Nationale is contesting all ridings except Quebec County where Rene Chaloult, the only representative of the Nationalist Party, is running again.

The CCF, led by Guy-Merril Desaulniers, has named less than half a dozen candidates, mostly in Montreal ridings.

Miss Smith had been admitted to hospital July 3 after being overcome by carbon monoxide fumes aboard the yacht Geagee in Lake Ontario.

Landis Funeral Draws Thousands

GLENDALE, Calif., July 12 — (AP). — The body of Carole Landis was committed to a grave in Forest Lawn Cemetery Saturday as scores of filmdom's great and would-be great watched through tear-dimmed eyes.

The flower-banked Church of the Recessional was filled to capacity and thousands of fans and curious stood solemnly outside while a brief, simple funeral oration was delivered.

Bishop Fred L. Pyman, of the Evangelical Orthodox Church at Santa Monica officiated at the services for the 29-year-old blonde Miss Landis, who ended her life with a sleeping potion last Monday.

Casket-bearers were actors Cesar Romero, Pat O'Brien, and Willard Parker, William Nye, the actress' personal make-up man and devoted friend; Lou Wasson, golf professional whose wife, Mrs. Florence Wasson, was the star's former stand-in, and director Eddie Sutherland.

Plane Hits House

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 12 — (AP). — A young pilot and an elderly woman were killed Sunday in the fiery crash of a single-engine army training plane into a frame apartment house. The dead were identified as R. B. White, and Miss Ethel Hanes, 61, occupant of one of three dwellings which were engulfed by burning gasoline.

Seaplane Rips End Off Boat

NORTH BAY, July 12 (CP) — A seaplane ripped the end off a motorboat on Lake Nipissing on Sunday night and injured two persons. Both those injured were occupants of the 16-foot boat. They were Gordon Weild, 46, North Bay mail clerk, cut about the left arm, and Sherry Palmer, nine, who suffered fact cuts.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Lloyd Palmer of North Bay, jumped from the motorboat seconds betore the plane struck.

The seaplane, piloted by Ald James Morland of North Bay, carried no passengers. It was taxiing toward a cottage about four miles west of here when the pontoon ripped into the boat. The plane was little damaged.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Comes a right handsome 56-page booklet, the Grand Circuit souvenir press book. Dealing with harness horse racing, which is becoming more and more popular in this country and in the States. The trotters and pacers now race on tracks from Canada to Mexico and from the Atlantic to the West Coast. Wasn't so long ago that Hugh Stewart of Peterborough shipped one of his good horses to California to compete. As a matter of fact, Hugh or Doc Johnston or some other local harness horse enthusiast might be interested in this comprehensive booklet, and they're welcome to borrow it. There's a lot of interesting stuff in it.

* * * * * *

Though covering nearly 200 such races, and of course noting the difference in gait, we've never before seen explained in print the difference betwixt a pacer and a trotter. This booklet describes it thusly: "The pacer in motion moves both legs on either side at one and the same time in perfect rhythm—both legs being off the ground on one side while both legs hit the ground on the other side. The trotter in motion hits the ground one leg at a time on each side. When his forefoot strikes the ground, the hindfoot opposite also strikes, and always the legs of the same side move in opposite directions." Ha, that's it, huh?

Track and Field

But getting onto another type of track, Jim Flowers tells us that the local harriers recently held a penthalon meet of five events in Morrow Park. Jack Brown led the seniors with 21 out of 25 points as Jim Flowers took 18 and Jack Martyn 16. Ed Hillier had a perfect card to win over the juniors with 25 points. Some of the local runners are taking in a track meet in Oshawa next Saturday. And another 10-mile race from here to Lakefield is planned for August. Time to start training for this grind now.

Crowd kept trickling in late to Riverside on Saturday eve till the COBL Petes finally had a pretty fair turnout. The game wasn't too hot on account of the Petes built up an 11-2 win in the first three frames, nothing much happening after that. Yet some good ball was seen here and there, and there's no doubt about it the men o' Murphy swing mighty maces this season. Different from other years, eh? Their 15 smashes included a homer by Dalton, a triple by Edwardson, two doubles by Foley and one by Mackness. The homer was a worthy crack by a real hitter and fielder, and we're glad also to see Foley back in the groove again at bat and afield.

* * * * * *

Some Good Chaps

Also glad to see Ed Starr out once more, though he may have to miss the odd game yet. A fine catcher and a good hitter, his snap peg to catch Cook stealing in the second discouraged Oshawa of that business the rest of the route. Ed was also talked into playing softball again. Doug Loucks pitched his usual steady brand of ball, and Walton went well at second. So did Garvey at short despite a few bad throws. We wondered on a throw from short to second, but finally gave the error to Freddy. Still doubtful at the finish, we asked him about it and Garvey said: "Yes, I sort of pulled the string on the throw and it's my error." That's the spirit prevailing and maybe is why the Petes are out in front of the COBL.

* * * * * *

Let's see what else happened in baseball around and about. Oh, yes, Batawa beat Kingston Loccos 6-3, while Bowmanville knocked off the intermediate Petes 11-2 here Saturday. And Wade pitched the Junior Kiwanis to a neat 3-1 victory o'er Whitby on the latter's grounds. Cobourg plays the Junior Kinsmen at 6.15 p.m. here Wednesday and Oshawa tangles with Kinsmen in Riverside next Saturday eve. Senior Petes have four COBL contests, three of 'em away, this week. East and north juves go tonight in Riverside as Hawks play west bantams down south. Tomorrow, west and east midgets mix in Riverside as south and east bantams are in Morrow Park.

The Bowl a-Brim

And the girls' and men's softball setup at the Bowl. Another change now calls for two games here and none in Lakefield tonight, Lindsay vs. Ashby's at seven, followed by Marines vs. Lakefield. Wednesday, it's Lock Co. vs. Ashby's and Lakefield vs. Woollens. In men's play there on the morrow, Comstock's go against Knights at seven, while Legion meets B-A in the nightcap. Thursday, Comstock's and Legion clash, followed by Knights and B-A. Schedule ends a week Thursday. Knights now just have a mathematical chance of catching that third playoff spot.

Kiwanis Take 3-1 Tilt Against Whitby

Brian Wade took his second victory in three days as Kiwanis defeated Whitby there Saturday 3-1 in a junior Lakeshore Baseball League battle. Wade twirled a fine game, striking out four and allowing but five scattered hits. Only in the ninth did Whitby score as a single by MacDonald, two outs and Gainey's hit accounted for one run.

Motor Boat Capsizes Bush Worker Drowns

KIRKLAND LAKE, July 12 — (CP). — Dragging operations today were resumed at Victoria Lake, short distance from here, for Malcolm McIvor, 50-year-old bush worker who drowned in the lake Saturday night as he was returning to a camp at McTavish lake nearby.

Morris Playford, McIvor's companion, was unable to tell police anything other than that the plywood motor boat in which they were trying to cross the lake capsized. Both men were thrown into the water.

Hearing calls for help, Richard Oja jumped into his canoe, located the overturned boat and hauled Playford to safety.

Camp records divulge no details concerning McIvor's history of age and had worked in the bush beyond that he was about 50 years for some time.

Locals Beaten 11 to 2 By Bowmanville

By FRED MAYBEE

Behind the good pitching of George Piper and Dutch Osborne, Bowmanville Royals defeated Peterborough Saturday 11-2, in a Lakeshore Baseball League game, at Riverside. Piper gave but two hits and no runs in five innings, then retired for Osborne who held the locals to four hits for the balance of the game. His mates pounded the combined offerings of Armour and Detlor for 10 runs and added another when Wilson stole home in the ninth to end the scoring before Jack Billingsley fanned Morgan, to end the struggle.

Petes Pound Out a Victory Over Oshawa By 11-2 Count

The Petes lengthened their lead in the COBL race here Saturday when they pounded out an 11-2 verdict over Oshawa Merchants before a fair crowd. They shelled Tony Romaniski from the mound in the second frame after getting six runs from him, and combed Doug Sutton's southpaw slants for three in the third. Sutton then settled away and blanked the locals the rest of the route. Doug Loucks hurled eight-hit ball and fanned seven in a neat slab showing. Five of the Petes' hits were for extra bases.

Tommy Foley led the homesters at bat with two doubles and a single in four tries. Howie Dalton was right behind him with a homer to deep centre and two singles in five, as Edwardson, Crowe, Mackness and Loucks each had two for five. Sutton topped Oshawa with two in three tries as Cook had two for four, and Hanna a three-bagger. Two Petes' double plays and a running catch by Mackness were defensive features.

Royals Trounce Maple Leafs In Doubleheader

By The Associated Press

Jack Banta, who was bypassed when the parent Brooklyn Dodgers raided their Montreal farm club for pitching help recently, is making sure it won't happen again.

Banta, who led the International league in strikeouts and shutouts while pitching for the Royals last year, gained his 11th victory as against only four losses Sunday.

He hurled the front-running Royals to an 8-3 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs in the first game of a doubleheader. The Royals scored all of their runs in the first two innings, five of them on homers by Duke Snider and Jimmy Bloodworth.

Montreal also took the nightcap 6-5, scoring three runs in the sixth to win with Al Gionfriddo singling home the winning run. Don Newcombe, second of three Montreal hurlers, gained credit for the victory while Oscar Judd of Ingersoll, was charged with the loss.

Sweep Doubleheader

Buffalo Bisons moved over Newark Bears into second place by sweeping a doubleheader from Rochester Red Wings, 17-3 and 4-1 while the Bears divided a pair with the Baltimore Orioles.

In the first game the Bisons sewed it up with 11 runs in the third inning. In the second game the Wings pulled the second triple play of the season in the seventh inning.

The Bears, after Bob Porterfield pitched them to a 3-0 two-hit triumph, dropped the nightcap, 9-1 to the Orioles. Porterfield's victory was his 11th and his fifth shutout.

Lyman Linde throttled the Bears in the second game on three hits.

Despite four home runs by Austin Knickerbocker Syracuse Chiefs divided a doubleheader with Jersey City Giants.

Knickerbocker socked two round-trippers in each game, including one with the sacks jammed in the ninth inning of the opener which the Chiefs lost 10-9. The Chiefs won the second game 6-5, with Knickerbocker knocking in three runs to make it nine for the day.

Braves Blast Phillies 9-4 As Reds Top St. Louis 1-0

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boston Braves gave Alvin Dark $40,000 to sign with them in 1946 and the rookie shortstop is paying back the outlay with interest.

So far Dark has hit safely in 23 consecutive games. This streak is three games short of the rookie record of Guy Curtwright of Chicago White Sox in 1943.

Dark attributes his rise to stardom to Eddie Stanky, scrappy second baseman now out of action with a broken ankle. Stanky was assigned to room with Dark and give him some pointers.

With Stanky out for 60 days, Dark is teaming up with Connie Ryan around the keystone.

Dark and Ryan collected five of the Braves' 14 hits Sunday in Boston's 9-4 victory over Philadelphia Phillies at Boston.

Tied at 4-4 going into the fifth, the Braves scored three runs in that frame and were never headed.

The triumph increased the Braves' lead to 5½ games over the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates who were beaten, 1-0, by the Cubs in Chicago.

Holds Pirates

Russ Meyer held the Pirates to two hits and won a pitching duel from Ernie Bonham when Andy Pafko cracked his 13th homer of the year in the seventh inning.

Ken Raffensberger of Cincinnati Reds topped Meyer's performance by pitching the Reds to a 1-0 one-hit triumph over the third place Cardinals in St. Louis Marty Marion's fourth inning single spoiled the lefty's bid for a no-hitter.

Jack Conway's first major league homer enabled the Giants to shade Brooklyn Dodgers 3-2 at New York. Conway homered in the ninth to snap a 2-2 tie. Four-baggers by George Suba and Carl Furillo accounted for both Brooklyn runs.

Cleveland Indians retained their half-game lead over Philadelphia Athletics in the American league pennant struggle by dividing a doubleheader with St. Louis Browns while the A's split a pair with Boston Red Sox in Philadelphia.

After the Browns beat Bobby Feller, 3-2, in the opener on round-trippers by rookie Dick Kokos and Les Moss, Bob Lemon pitched the Tribe to a 5-0 three-hit triumph in the nightcap. Lemon fanned eight in gaining his 13th victory and sixth shutout.

Lose First Game

The Athletics also lost their first game, 9-8 in 10 innings but they bounced back and took the eight-inning finale, 7-5.

At Detroit, Hal Newhouser joined Lemon as the major's only 13-game winners by hurling the Tigers to a 5-4 victory over Chicago White Sox. The win was the seventh straight for the Tigers.

Some fine relief pitching by Virgil Trucks and Art Houtteman saved the game for Newhouser.

Washington Senators, scoring four times in the seventh and eighth innings, routed New York Yankees, 9-4 at Washington.

Eddie Yost and Al Kozar led the Senators 15-hit attack against three Yankee pitchers with three safeties apiece.

Club Owners Plan Showdown

ST. LOUIS, July 12 — (AP). — The fate of the major league all-star classic hung in the balance today.

Incensed over the refusal of Bobby Feller and Marty Marion to play in the 15th annual all-star game here tomorrow and the apparent apathy of others, big league club owners were preparing for a show-down with the players.

From a reliable source it was learned that the moguls, backed by presidents Ford Frick of the National league and Will Harridge of the American, were ready to issue the following ultimatum to the players:

"Either you live up to your obligations and play when called upon or let's drop the whole thing.

Feller bowed out because he said it would interrupt his regular pitching rotation for Cleveland. St. Louis' Marion, who at times has been rested because of an ailing back, begged off because he claimed he was not in the best of shape. Yet he has not missed a game lately.

Film Production Outlook Grows Worse

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, July 12 (AP). —Just when people thought the film production outlook couldn't get worse, it does.

For a year or more, we have been hearing how Hollywood has been beset with a variety of knotty problems—anti-trust suits British quotas and taxes, a faltering box-office, etc. These stresses and strains are showing themselves in a generally decreased slate of film production during the summer months. Here is the outlook at the various studios

RKO: Three films shooting, but several big ones called off by new boss Howard Hughes. All departments being slashed to the bone. Rumors that RKO will become merely a releasing company for outside producers.

Universal-International: Planning six-week production lull starting August 1. After vacations, personnel will be "realigned" and policy determined on how many films to shoot.

MGM: Two films shooting, only two planned in next two months. Economy rumors flying.

Paramount: A lone picture shooting for several weeks. Two to start on location within one month.

Columbia: Only three filming, but planning to resume normal schedule next month.

Republic: Now dark, will start production on two films this month.

Warners: Planning to maintain normal five or six pictures shooting.

Twentieth Century-Fox: About normal.

"Key Largo" (Warners) is another hit from the director-writer talent of John Huston. He has woven a gripping drama from the story of a gangster who holds peaceful citizens captive in a hotel on a Florida key. The message is a bit muddled, but the action isn't. Huston brings out the best in the story and the performers — Bogart, Robinson, Bacall, Barrymore and Trevor.

JOHN LOWE, of Montreal, who saved several persons from drowning, when their boat overturned at Brome Lake, Que. He heard their screams and then jumped into a small motorboat and rounded the end of the island—a feat not without danger as the water was extremely rough.

Antonsen, a native of Timmins, was remanded until Tuesday and released on bail of $1,000.

Police said they found baseball bats, clubs and stones in an automobile owned by Antonsen and driven by Lucien Labbe of St. George, Que., a picket captain.

Antonsen surrendered to police after a warrant was issued for his arrest.

ST. GERARD DES LAURENTIDES, Que., July 12—(CP)—J. E. Gregoire, Union of Electors leader, Friday told a political meeting here that payment of a $20 monthly dividend to every person in Quebec would be no more difficult than raising money for the war effort which amounted to $23 a month for everyone.

Sleeping Pill Market Will Be Investigated

VANCOUVER, July 12 — (CP) — Reported operation of black market dealers in sleeping potions — including doctors who issue illegal prescriptions — has been started here, it was learned Saturday:.

A warning has been issued through the College of Physicians and Surgeons, and police were reported planning an investigation

The sleeping pills are used by narcotic addicts and also have caused the death of suicides.

It was reported that less than 1 per cent of British Columbia's 1,500 doctors are involved in the planned investigation.

The warning from the medical association followed comment from a psychiatrist who said the illicit market was a factor in a "cycle" of suicides and attempts here.

ST. GERARD DES LAURENTIDES, Que., July 12—(CP)—J. E. Gregoire, Union of Electors leader, Friday told a political meeting here that payment of a $20 monthly dividend to every person in Quebec would be no more difficult than raising money for the war effort which amounted to $23 a month for everyone.

"During the war it cost everyone $23 a month to drop bombs on Germany," said the leader of Quebec's Social Credit group contesting all 92 provincial seats in elections July 28.

Mr. Gregoire, who spoke to a gathering in the parish hall at the village of St. Gerard in St. Maurice division where he is a candidate, said it was time for Quebec voters to make an "examination of conscience."

Sleeping-Pill Market Will Be Investigated

VANCOUVER, July 12 — (CP) — Reported operation of black market dealers in sleeping potions — including doctors who issue illegal prescriptions — has been started here, it was learned Saturday.

A warning has been issued through the College of Physicians and Surgeons, and police were reported planning an investigation

The sleeping pills are used by narcotic addicts and also have caused the death of suicides.

It was reported that less than 1 per cent of British Columbia's 1,500 doctors are involved in the planned investigation.

The warning from the medical association followed comment from a psychiatrist who said the illicit market was a factor in a "cycle" of suicides and attempts here.

Youth Is Guilty On 5 Counts Involving Theft

Four recent break-in and theft incidents in Havelock and one in Northumberland County's Seymour township were climaxed in court here today with the guilty pleas and conviction of a Campbellford youth. William Oscar Parcels, 18, was sentenced to two years less a day in reformatory. A 15-year-old juvenile, also from Campbellford, will be tried in family court here today.

Parcels pleaded guilty to all five charges which were all committed last week. They were: breaking and entering freight sheds of the CPR at Havelock with intent to commit theft; breaking and entering and theft in the warehouse of the Havelock Co-Operative Society; theft of a ladies' bicycle owned by James Simpson, Havelock; breaking and entering and theft in the Jewell and Herman service station at Havelock; breaking and entering and theft in the schoolhouse of No. 10 section, Seymour township.

A statement of the accused concerning all these charges was read by Provincial Arthur Kellogg of Havelock.

It said that the two accused had come to Havelock last Tuesday, and had loafed around the village for that afternoon. They had taken the bicycle that night, it said, and had torn it apart to get an inner tube for one of their own bicycles. The statement said the first breaking and entering had been at the railway's freight shed, where some cartons had been opened but nothing taken. Next the pair entered the Co-operative building where they got $25 cash. In the garage, which was next to be described by the statement, they got cigarettes and chocolate bars. In the school, which they entered through the window, they took only some supplies from the medical cabinet, which they used to bandage their hands, injured by the window glass.

Constable Kellogg added that the school had been left in a "horrible mess," that windows had been broken needlessly and the contents of the teacher's desk strewn about.

Loot Hidden

The accused had told the officers where the loot had been hidden, on the shores of Twin Lakes.

Crown counsel Walter Howell said that this was "a flagrant case of breaking, theft and destruction of property."

The accused, before receiving the two years' sentence, did not make any statement on his own behalf when asked by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, who passed sentence.

Five Men and Boy Lost Six Hours In Burleigh Bush

Five Peterborough men and a nine-year-old boy were lost for six hours in the swales and rough bush country of Burleigh and Methuen townships southeast of Apsley Saturday afternoon. They reached their car about nine o'clock completely exhausted.

The five were Basil Robbins, 264 Wolfe Street; Leonard Vass, Wolfe Street; Phil Starke, Sherbrooke Street; Leo Jones, and his nine-year-old boy, 27 Ware St., and Lawrence Fraley, Wellington Street.

The berry patch is well-known to Robbins, and the group left Jones car with his wife and two children parked in a shady spot at Stinking Creek. They filled the berry pails and started out, but all the men insisted Robbins was going the wrong way. As a result they changed their route and kept struggling through swamps, creeks and bush until they reached the shore of Clear Lake.

Eight Miles From Car

This lake is north of Havelock, and at least eight miles from where the car was parked on the East Road, southeast of Apsley.

A settler and his wife were fishing from a punt in the lake, and they took the group to the opposite side of the lake and started them down a bush road. The men were so exhausted by this time they sat by the water bathing their feet for at least half an hour. One swamp they crossed meant wading in water above the knees. Only the nine-year-old boy seemed fresh. It was at least five miles from the lake over the trail to the little church on the Coe Hill Road, and from that point it was a mile and a half to the car.

Fortunately a CGE employee came along the road, and gave them a ride to where the car was parked. Here they found Mrs. Jones and her two children greatly worried.

None of the men had had any food since before noon, and Robbins had not eaten since breakfast.

All except Robbins were at work this morning, Fraley and Jones at the CPC, Starke at the Peterborough Canoe and Vass at the CGE.

Robbins spent the day in bed, recovering from the ordeal. Being the eldest member of the group, he suffered the most.

"I never want to go through a nightmare like that again," he said. "There were times when I never expected to get out alive, I was so exhausted."

Commenting on the spirit of the small boy he said, "That youngster was marvellous. I asked him if he was hungry, and he said "No, I just want to get out of here."

Mr. Robbins said he had visited the berry patch many time, but had always gone in the same route and returned the same way. He claims now, his berry-picking activities in that area are at an end.

They found the berries plentiful, and still had full pails when they reached the car.

City Pump Set All-Time Record At Waterworks

To counteract a record drain of water from the city waterworks storage tanks during the present heatwave the Utilities Commission has laid down a schedule for watering lawns and gardens. An all-time record was made on Saturday when 5,462,000 gallons were consumed in Peterborough.

Until further notice those sections of the city north of Sherbrooke St. on the west side of the Otonabee and north of Hunter St. on the east side of the Otonabee will be restricted to Monday, Wednesday and Friday for their watering activities. The balance of the city may use their hoses or watering cans on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Citizens are asked by the Utilities to co-operate.

Beginning last Sunday when the city entered its present sweltering phase, water consumption gradually began to rise. Figures for the week are the best indication: Sunday, July 4—3,914,000 gallons: Monday, 4,886,000; Tuesday, 4,468,000 Wednesday, 4,662,000: Thursday, 5,003,000; Friday, 5,415,000; Saturday, 5,462,000, and Sunday, 4,444,000.

Saturday was the all-time high and Sunday was the record for Sabbath water consumption.

The city receives its water supply from the Otonabee and when the demand reaches a certain point the pumps cannot put sufficient through the filtration plant.

Hospital Grants Doubled In Last Quarter

The increase in provincial grants to hospitals resulting from the Ontario Amusement Tax Act has more than doubled the grant to Peterborough Civic Hospital. For the second quarter of 1948, the grant was $6,227.26, an increase of $3,577.36 over the grant for the same period in 1947.

In other years, the grant has been $2,649.90 for each quarter, or a total of $10,599.60 for the full year. In future, the yearly grant will amount to $24,909.04, or about 2.3 times the former grant.

Grants derived from the amusement tax went into effect May 17, and were made retroactive from April 1. For the first quarter of 1948, the grant was $2,649.90, making a total of $8,877.16 for the first six months of this year.

Provincial grants are paid on the number of public ward beds, occupied or not, and are graduated according to the classification of the hospital. Class "A" hospitals receive $2.35 a day for each bed; class "B", $1.76; and class "C" $1.41. Class "A" hospitals are those with teaching facilities for medical students.

At St. Joseph's

Grants to St. Joseph's Hospital were also more than doubled by the addition to the grant by the amusement tax. For the second quarter of this year, the grant was $5,133.63, as against $2,166.67 for the same period in 1947. Total grant in 1947 was $8,666.70, and for the first six months of this year, the grant amounted to $7,318.15.

Cricket Team Meets Governor On Ottawa Trip

By C. H IRESON

As told elsewhere, the Peterborough county cricketers defeated Carleton county on Saturday and the interest of the game was increased by the attendance of the Governor-General of Canada, Viscount Alexander.

The match was played in the grounds of Rideau Hall, his official residence, and he took great interest on the proceedings.

The game had started at 11.40 and at 12.45, the Governor-General came on to the field. Play was stopped and the individual members of the teams introduced to His Excellency, who had a pleasant word for all. Photographs were taken, and then all proceeded to the pavilion for lunch. On resumption of play at 2 o'clock the Governor-General stayed until 2.30 and returned at 3 o'clock and stayed until the finish of the game at 4.50.

It was a splendid day for local cricket and good fellowship, and the Ottawa team want to arrange home and away.

The Governor-General greeted all the boys in the most friendly fashion and made them feel very much at home. He also talked freely with the officials and was noticed in a long conversation with Gordon Monkman, president of the local club.

HONEST CITIZENS

A George St. confectionery merchant got tired last week of seeing a number of stale boxes of candy sitting on his shelf, so on garbage day he picked up an armful and laid it on the edge of sidewalk. Then his troubles began. A procession of pedestrians began to invade his store and inform him that some of his stock was lying by the roadside. Not until the garbage man arrived did he get any relief. Then with a wan smile he turned to his assistant and said: "Well, it shows that the people of Peterborough are honest anyway."

Orange Lodges Parade To Knox Church

More than 200 members of Orange Lodges of the city and district attended on Sunday evening a church service at Knox United Church. A wreath was laid at the memorial in Confederation Park following the service. The march to and from the church was led by the Salvation Army band.

The Rev. H. G. Douglas of Knox United preached the sermon and the service was conducted by the Rev. E. J. Whan of Park St. Baptist Church.

Mr. Douglas stressed that Jesus Christ was not to be put on the same level of devotion as other men. Historical figures cannot be placed on equal footing with Christ. Recalling the biblical story in which the disciples were restrained by God from erecting statues of the ancient prophets, he pointed a parallel in the attitude of some people.

"Somewhere in life, we must too find a place which will give us the proper prospective, an urge to do something worthwhile in life." People must learn not to put historical figures above Jesus Christ, and for example, an Orangeman who placed his lodge above the church was making the same mistake. "The Orange order' he declared, "is a code of morality, not a religion."

Choirmaster and organist was Adam Hawley.

The route of the parade, which was witnessed by many, was from Brock St. to George, and along Charlotte to Rubidge.

Those taking part in the wreath laying ceremony at the War Memorial included: Mrs. R. Pilling, Deputy Mistress, Ontario East, LOBA; Miss Rose Sexsmith, Grand Treasurer of Ontario East; E. Payne, County Master; and Archie MacDonald, District Marshall.

Soap Box Derby In Two Classes

Entries close today for competitors in the second annual soap box derby sponsored by the Y's Men's Club. The races will follow very closely the American championships held at Oleon, Ohio.

Cars are not allowed to cost more than $6.00 over and above the cost of wheels and exles. The use of regulation wheels is expected to make it a faster race this year. Last year's race was won by Ed Folie, of Keene, with a top speed of 28 miles an hour.

There are two classes of entries: Class I for boys from 9 to 11 years, and Class II for boys from 12 to 16 years. Floating Bridge Offered For Sale

Does anyone want to buy a floating bridge? If so, contact J D. Kean, Peterborough County Engineer who has called for tenders on all or sections of the famous Chemong floating bridge which has been abandoned in favor of a permanent causeway.

It was pointed out that it was not necessary to purchase the whole bridge before the tender would be given serious consideration. Mr. Kean said it would all depend upon the amount offered per linear foot and the number of such offers received.

It was suggested that portions of the wooden structure would be extremely valuable to serve as piers at individual summer cottages.

Roadside Booth Burglars Foiled

Two would-be thieves walked into more than they bargained for early Sunday morning when they attempted to break in a roadside booth on Highway 36 north of Buckhorn. James Cornforth, an employee of the booth owner, Jack Smith, sleeps there and had a lively tussle with the two men, who made their escape a bit battered. Cornforth received a broken ankle during the fight.

About 3.15 Sunday morning, two men tried to break the lock on the side door. Cornforth dropped the front booth leaf and jumped out breaking his ankle.

Pain and the unequal numbers finally enabled the men to get away.

Cornforth was taken to a doctor at Bobcaygeon for medical attention. Provincial police are investigating.

Carleton Club Defeated By Peterborough

By C. H. IRESON

On Saturday at Ottawa the Peterborough county cricket team, after an exciting finish beat Carleton county by 94 to 86 and so enter the second round of the competition for the R. C. Matthews Trophy, emblematic of the cricket county championship of Ontario.

The local team was the regular Peterborough-Whitaker team with W. Rashleigh of Lakefield. The Carleton team was picked from four teams in the Ottawa Valley Council and one member, E. Lawrence, has been picked to play for Ontario against British Columbia.

Peterborough team batted first and F. Booth followed up his 56 against Parkdale with a fine 33, when he was run out on his own call, with the total of 3 for 39. Three wickets fell quickly and it was 51 for 6 wickets. R. Rollwagen 18, F. Dyer 15, then made a fine stand. Both batted exceedingly well and took the total to 81 for 7 wickets, when Rollwagen was out, and the total reached 96.

Opened Well

Carleton opened well. thanks to steady batting by G. Stacey 21, D. Whitfield 20, W. Edge 14 and D. Snipper 13 and the score rose to 70 for 4 wickets. The opening bowlers were Frank Dyer and H. Pyle and though the former suffered from a sprain and had someone run for him when batting, he bowled finely. After 6 overs Pyle was replaced by Wright and he, with Dyer, soon got to work and finished off the Carleton inning for 86, the last 6 wickets only adding 16 runs. Dyer had, despite his handicap, 6 wickets for 43 runs and Wright 3 for 12. He had disposed of the last 2 wickets in one over and an exciting finish ended in a Peterborough well-earned victory by 8 runs and they are a greatly improved team. They put in some fine work in the field and B. Roberts, F. Booth and W Wright made grand catches.

It was a long trip for the locals but a very pleasant one in every way. This was increased by the presence of the Governor-General Viscount Alexander, which is another story.

Following is the score:

Peterborough County — W. Wright 4, F. Booth 33, H. Pyle 0, S. Jennings 8, W. Rashleigh 1, B. Roberts 1, R. Rollwagen 18, F. Dyer 15, W. Dyer 5, J. McKissack 2, I. Morrison 1 (not out). Extras 6. Total 94.

Carleton County—B. Derwent 5, G. Stacey 21, D. Snipper 13, D. Whitfield 20, W. Edge 14, H. Little 0, J. Fishburn 10 not out), R. Whitfield 1, R. Hardy 0, E. Lawrence 0, G. Sharpe 0. Extras, 2. Total 86.

Bowling—F. Dyer 6 for 43, H. Pyle 1 for 29, Wright 3 for 12.

IT CAME AS no surprise when Bob Mcfarlane's name appeared among the list of track and field star who will represent Canada at the Olympic games in London this summer. The versatile athlete from University of Western Ontario is shown here just about to hit the tape for victory in his 400-metre specialty at the Olympic trials in Montreal. Brother Don McFarlane was second and Ernie McCullough of Calgary third. The McFarlanes will also form one-half of Canada's 1,500-metre relay team.

Mexican Team Whips Canadian Tennis Group

MONTREAL, July 12.—(CP).—Canada's Davis Cup team disbanded for another year today, thoroughly convinced the Dominion still has a long way to go to make a good showing in top-bracket international tennis competition.

Saturday the Mexican team, led by sharp-shooting Armando Vega, blasted Canada's hopes by taking two singles matches to win the North American zone semi-final tie 4-1.

Mexico now advances to the North American zone final against the winner of the other semi-final between Cuba and Australia.

Rain Prevents Play Of Third Test Match

MANCHESTER, Eng., July 12 (Reuters).—Persistent rain at the Old Trafford ground today prevented play before lunch on the fourth day of the third cricket Test match between England and Australia.

Prospects were not bright for a resumption in the afternoon. The game ends tomorrow.

England Saturday scored 174 runs for the loss of three wickets in their second innings, following a first innings' total of 363 to which Australia replied with 221.

Here and There In Sport

Two negro star outfielders hit baseball's bigtime Saturday — the major leagues and Cleveland Buckeyes of the Negro-American League furnished both of them.

George Jefferson, travelling secretary of the Buckeyes, said at Memphis Brooklyn Dodgers purchased Sam Jethroe and assigned him to Montreal Royals of the International League. Cleveland Indians, he said, purchased Al Smith for immediate delivery to the club.

Jethroe is hitting .277 after being handicapped most of the season by an injury. Last season he batted .356.

Smith is smacking the ball at a .302 clip and is leading the Negro American League in stolen bases with 27.

The dependable old Tempo VI carried band leader Guy Lombardo to a slow but easy victory Saturday in the Henry Ford Memorial race at Detroit.

The aging craft made sweet music along the choppy waters of the Detroit River to win all three heats of the 45-mile speedboat race.

Her time over the 2½ mile course was slow — averaging only 58.325 miles an hour. But it was fast enough to outstrip by far her only two competitors.

Lombardo's time by heats was 58.43, 57.471 and 58.074. He was headed only once, that during the second heat when Lou Fageol who finished second forged into a brief lead with So Long.

Marcel Cerdan regained his European middleweight championship Saturday by defeating Cyrille Delannoit of Belgium, on points in a gruelling 15-round fight before 15,000 fans at the Brussels Palais des Sports.

It was a close decision and the crowd booed the three officials.

Cerdan scored the only two knockdowns. In the third round he dropped Delannoit with a sharp right to the chops, but the Belgian bounced up without taking a count.

A swinging left put the kid down again in the fourth, but once more he came up swinging before the count started.

Two crack-ups — one serious — marred inaugural automobile races Saturday at the opening of Pinecrest Speedway at Thornhill, Ont. Opening show was staged before 3,500 by the Toronto Racing Drivers' Club.

LeRoy Teich secretary of the Toronto club, smashed through the track's guard rail and piled into a huge oak tree. He suffered a fractured right arm, a broken right wrist and a broken leg. He was also badly cut and burned from his machine's exhaust.

Lionel Fournier Sets New Track Record

MONTREAL, July 12 (CP). — Lionel Fournier of McGill University wound up his 10-event, two-day grind in the Decathlon competition of the Canadian track and field championships Saturday with a total of 6,448 points.

The mark was officially declared a new Canadian open, native and provincial record. Because of previous different scoring, no comparative figures are applicable.

Fournier was chosen to represent Canada in the Decathlon at the Olympic games.

Only two others were in the competition. They were Doug Robinson of Vancouver and Ken Wagner of Timmins, Ont.

Electrics Win Soccer Go Against Petes

The 5-2 defeat of the Petes by CGE in the Phelan Charity Cup resulted in the winners now meeting the Legion in the final of Wednesday evening on King Edward Park. Proceeds of all these games goes to charity. Hennessey, Petes, gave an excellent display in the goal.

Both goals went under steady bombardment in the early stages, with a foul kick being the cause of the opening goal when Whitnall gathered up the ball to land it in the far corner. Attard headed a perfect centre by Strong over the bar out of the custodian's hands. R. Wilson cleared from a scrimmage up to Cotton, who dribbled his way up-field. He back-heeled his pass back to Welland, and it terminated in a bullet drive, bulging the net for the equalizer. Then before the interval, Attard rattled a shot for the corner of the upright, but again Hennessey made a spectacular save to make it read one-all.

The teams were cautious on resuming, Welland being conspicuous with his dribbling to keep the Petes' custodian busy clearing. Eventually, Cotton split the defense to slip the ball over to Strong, who made no mistake with his drive to make it 2-1. Then Petes conceded a penalty shot that Murduff failed to convert. Within a minute Whitnall got the equalizer while the CGE defense were caught napping. Quickly CGE forced the issue with McPhate dribbling his way past three opponents to bulge the net. Welland, never giving up his shooting, beat the Petes' goalie with a 20-yard drive, now making it 4-2. This was followed by Welland again scoring on a pass from Strong, 5-2.

Petes—J. Hennessey, goal; K. Downer and D. Downer, fullbacks; W. Post, A. Downer and N. Payne, half-backs; E. Woodcock, N. Payne, J. Whitnall, L. Payne and E. Lane, forwards. Subs—Don Downer.

Referee—Tom Garland. Linesmen—G. Downer and W. Harris.

Indians Strike As Officials Try Check-Up

CHURCHILL, Man., July 12—(CP)—From out of the wilds of northern Manitoba Sunday came a story which proves that the Canadian Indian can be as unbending as any diplomat on a matter of ceremony.

A party of 12 white men arrived at the Duck Lake Reserve, 50 miles northwest of here last Friday to give the 150 Chipewyan Indians their X-ray examinations and medical check-ups and to hand out treaty money.

The medical team was midway in its task, the X-ray group had started chest examinations and the first treaty money had been given when an unidentified chief called a "strike".

He voiced these grievances:

The white men, who came by air with a ton of equipment, brought no rations for the treaty feast that is supposed to accompany the giving of treaty money.

A new uniform was to have been brought for the chief. None had arrived.

As neither extra rations nor a new uniform could be obtained immediately, the party packed up and moved on—treaty money and all.

At Ottawa, a government official said Sunday night that treaty-feast rations have not been issued to Indians since before the war.

"This custom has died out," said R. A. Hoey, director of the Indian Affairs branch of the Resources Department.

Churchill Asks Allies Be Firm

WOODFORD, Essex, England, July 12 —(AP)— Winston Churchill said today the western allies risk war with Russia if they yield to Soviet pressure in Berlin.

"If we were to yield upon this grave issue, we would, in my opinion ,destroy the best chance which is now open to us of escaping a third world war," he said in a speech at a Conservative party rally in his home constituency.

The wartime prime minister called the period of waiting for a Soviet reply to the Anglo-French-American notes protesting the blockade of Berlin "an anxious hour."

Churchill speculated that a political crisis may be developing inside Russia, particularly in the light of the Cominform's denunciation of Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia.

B-17 Mystery

HARRISON, N.Y., July 12 — (AP). — A B-17 bomber landed at Westchester County Airport Sunday and later took off with about 10 passengers bound for an undisclosed destination. One airport spokesman described the plane's arrival and departure as very hush-hush. The New York Herald Tribune later said "it is believed that the plane is being flown to the Hagana forces in Israel."

Two Liquor Cases

There were only two liquor cases before magistrate's court Saturday. Oswald D. Corkery, 238 Westcott Ave., and Allen Lewis, RR 4, Peterborough, were each fined $10 and $2.50 costs on their guilty pleas to being drunk in public.

Boat Upsets, Sports Writer DryburghDrowns

REGINA, July 12 —(CP)— A quirk of fate by which a boat capsized only 50 feet from shore has ended the career of one of western Canada's best-known, most aggressive sports writers—chunky, two-fisted Dave Dryburgh.

Dryburgh, about 40 years old and sports editor of the Regina Leader-Post for the last 18 years, was drowned at B-Say-Tah, Sask. Sunday when a boat he was in capsized as he snatched at his wife's falling purse. B-Say-Tah is a summer resort 60 miles northeast of Regina.

One of the three other persons aboard who managed to make shore was Cliff Ehrle, hotel operator and co-owner of the Regina senior hockey club. With Mr. Ehrle was his daughter Dolores.

Mrs. Dryburgh also managed to reach safety, she and her husband had been spending the day at the resort.

Dryburgh, red-headed and born in Scotland, came here as a youngster. He was noted as a soccer player. He played and covered the game for the old Regina Leader when it had no soccer reporter.

He became apprenticed to a cabinet maker. Later he joined the Leader's sport staff, and though he filled other positions—he was city editor for some months—sport was always his first love.

His column latterly carried under the heading "Dave Dryburgh," was widely read.

Recapture 2 Prisoners

KINGSTON, N.Y., July 12 — (AP). — Five prisoners awaiting trial on felony charges escaped from Ulster County Jail Sunday after bludgeoning two jailers with pipes ripped from the jail's plumbing system. Two of the men were captured later at Harriman, N.Y., about 40 miles south of Kingston, in a state police roadblock.

Hope For Miracle

PITTSBURGH, July 12—(AP). —Two little girls, one born without sight and the other born without ankle bones, Sunday departed on a 4,000-mile air journey to the Shrine of St. Bernadette in Lourdes, France. Their parents were hoping hard for some "miracle" at the Shrine that would enable their children to live normally.

Conservatives Outline Policy On August 1

OTTAWA, July 12—(CP)—An up-to-date statement of Progressive Conservative party policies probably will be announced Aug. 1, a party official said today.

R. A. Bell, national director, said that is the target date of a committee whose task is to edit and put into formal language the 20 resolutions adopted at the party's annual meeting here early this year.

"That is still the date we expect to make the platform public," he said. "I see nothing to indicate we won't make it."

(Aug. 1 is four days prior to the start of the national Liberal convention, at which the Liberal party will draft a new platform and choose a successor to Prime Minister Mackenzie King.)

The Progressive Conservative resolutions are known to recommend:

1. Outlawing of the Communist party.
2. A social security program providing retirement pensions at 65 without a means test, increased unemployment insurance benefits and accident and sickness insurance.
3. A new housing program.
4. A dominion-provincial conference as soon as possible.

Others urged floor prices for farm products, a natural products marketing act, a long-range immigration plan and an overhaul of the freight-rate structure of Canadian railways.

Likely Push Prices Probe On Nails, Building Supplies

OTTAWA, July 12 — (CP). — The little and the big people of Canada, those who must shoulder the burden of rising prices, may once more be at the forefront of a government inquiry into the higher cost of living.

Public hearings into a host of commodities, which ended a fortnight ago when the Parliamentary Prices Committee completed its work, will probably start again in two or three weeks.

Most likely subjects for the Royal Commission to investigate are those which the committee had on its agenda but never reached. It planned, if there had been enough time, to look into the costs of building materials, feed grains, binder twine, boots and shoes, and some steel products.

CCF members of the Prices Committee were particularly anxious for it to investigate the building materials position and the subject, especially the shortage of nails and the high price they bring on the black market, was raised in Parliament several times during the last session.

The Government increased the supply of wire to nail manufacturers— at the admitted risk of causing a shortage of wire in other forms—late in the session. It is considered likely here that the government would look favorably on an investigation that might forestall future Opposition criticism. Its instructions to the Commission were to "pay particular regard to commodities and services in common daily use."

Code Revision.

A start on the long-awaited revision of the Criminal Code may be made before Parliament meets again next spring.

The question come up several times during the parliamentary session just ended and former Justice Minister Ilsley indicated his department was turning its mind in that direction, but stressed that the revision was a specialized task.

He said it would not be taken up by the Commission which is to be appointed to revise the Canadian statutes but that it would be necessary for the Department to hire technical help from outside to do the work. Presumably he meant that lawyers would have to be employed.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Mothers Often Sacrifice To Gratify Mere Whims

We glorify mother love. Mother devotion has been the theme of countless novels and plays. Mother unselfishness and Mother sacrifices have been celebrated in thousands of pathetic poems Mammy songs have always been tear-jerers, and we have always made Mother's Day almost a day of religious observance.

Dorothy Dix

Which is as it should be if Mother is a good mother. No honor too great can be paid to the mother who puts her children's well-being above her own; who carries her babies in her arms as well as in her heart, and who make of her children an altar upon which she lays the offering of her youth and beauty and the desire for pleasure that belong to her time of life.

But let it not be forgotten that while, thank God, most mothers are good mothers who are self-abnegating angles, there are many mother who are so utterly heartless and cruel and self- centered that they do not hesitate to break their children's hearts and wreck their lives to gratify their desire to keep them enslaved to them.

These are the mothers who refuse to let their sons and daughters marry and set up homes of their own because they cannot bear to be parted from them. So John has to give up the fine girl he loves, who would have filled his house with happiness and splendid children, to become a lonely and cynical old bachelor. And Mary withers away into a faded old maid while she is waiting for Mother to have pity on her so she can marry the man she has loved for so many years.

Threats And Tears

Curiously enough, these cruel mothers use what is meanest in their natures to fight what is best in their children. For they know that the most vulnerable thing in their children is their love for their mother and their sense of duty to her, and so Mother uses tears and the threat of death when she starts to break off her children's marriages. Every time John tries to tell Mother that he wants to marry the girl he loves, she dissolves in such floods of tears that he finally sacrifices himself and the girl to her, because he can't bear to break Mother's heart by leaving her.

And Mother forces Mary to give up marrying the man who would make her a good husband and a fine provider, because she tells her that it will kill her if she does. And poor Mary, who hasn't the courage to commit matricide, is another victim of a mother's selfishness.

Perhaps it is not easy for children who love their mother to see her objectively, or else they would know that it is nothing but selfishness that makes a mother try to keep them to herself, instead of letting them go on and marry the ones they love and have a normal life. She set up her own home. She knew the joy of having little children's arms around her own neck. And if she had one spark of generosity in her soul, she would want her children to have the same full, happy life she had, instead of denying it to them.

All parents are bound to know that while their children may fill their lives, they do not fill the the children's lives. The mothers who refuse to let their children marry are simply hold-up artists of the meanest sort, for nothing could be crueler or playing it lower down than to trade on the affection and loyalty of their sons and daughters and their dread of hurting them.

What the sons and daughters of these monopolistic, selfish mothers, who are always threatening to die if their children marry, should do is to call their bluff. Mother wouldn't die. And if she did, she would leave a very reconciled family behind her.

COLORFUL BRETON—The colorful hat has been riding high this summer, adding a bright note to dark sheers. This sophisticated Breton is of vivid pink balibuntal. A wide band of emerald green satin crosses the crown and emerges below the rolling brim to tie under the chin. Matching pink iris accent one side of the crown and the under-chin bow. This is a frankly pretty, flattering hat.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, July 11

Sunday's horoscope is an adverse one, with all affairs seemingly working in reverse gear. While there may be a gesture of help or understanding from those in influential places, even this could be forfeited or dissipated by rash, headlong and befuddled thinking, erratic conduct and nervous tension. A sudden decision to uproot the prevailing state of affairs, may only aggravate the situation, causing estrangement and other clashes. The only safe way to avert disaster and regret is firmly to preserve the Sabbath orthodox activities.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are on the eve of a period calling for much serious thinking, based on sound and practical rationalization, and not by flying into tantrums, confusion and wild actions, with intemperate speech or writings. A sudden disruptive occurrence may so upset the judgment, so bewilder and excite, as to cause tumult and strife from many directions. Nervous tension, reckless moves, may alienate friendly understanding and scatter the forces and resources, with unhappy reactions on all hopes and desires. Maintain calm and amiability under all provocations.

A child born on this day is likely to have a very tempestuous and passionate nature, erratic and wayward. It should receive early discipline and direction.

✧ ✧ ✧

For Monday, July 12

Monday's astrological forecast is for a continuation of disintegrating and uprooting situations, with unpredictable and perplexing problems to be taken under calm and studied deliberation. It would be easy to move in the wrong direction under tension, high pressure and confused judgment. Consequently it may be the part of wisdom to postpone action, especially since there may be an obscure or subtle development to further confuse the issue. Keep alert to lures but do not alienate dependable friends.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may cumstances or a chain of events find themselves confronted by circperplexing and unpredictable. Sudden and disruptive undercurrents may burst into the open, and while the call seems to be for forthright action and aggressive measures, it may be the part of wisdom to withhold drastic action until there may be keener insight into underlying conditions. A reckless or erratic move, "up a blind alley," could have power to further disrupt and devastate. Stand aside, weigh values cautiously, then act with discretion and composure, thus maintaining aid from desirable quarters. Passionate actions could alienate friends and cause financial loss.

A child born on this day may possess an aggressive, turbulent and brusque nature, its passionate and tempestuous impulses leading it into loss and danger unless calm and logic be early inculcated.

FOR BLACK FLIES, MOSQUITOES

Swimming, canoeing, rowing, sailing, fishing—these enter into most vacation plans. But too often, holidays bring tragedies—over 1000 Canadians drown each year.
The Canadian Red Cross Society water safety rules are printed here in the hope that both adults and children will learn them, respect them, and obey them.

RED CROSS Rules for Water Safety

1. Learn to swim safely. Join a swim class sponsored by Red Cross or other recognized organizations. Know your own limitations as a swimmer.
2. Learn artificial respiration. The briefest delay in applying it may cost a life.
3. Where to swim. If possible, swim in a supervised area. Investigate unknown water before swimming or diving. Respect "DANGER" signs.
4. When to swim. Late morning and afternoon are the safest hours in which to swim.
5. Temperature and time. Between 70° and 80° is best (warmer water relaxes too much, colder exhausts) 30 minutes is long enough in the water for the average swimmer.
6. Swimming after eating. Wait at least 2 hours after eating a regular meal before swimming.
7. Panic contributes to most accidents. Learn to scull and tread water. Novices must stay in shallow water while learning to swim.
8. Exhaustion. Avoid over-activity before a swim. Over-exertion while swimming, and extremely cold water also contribute to exhaustion.
9. Always have a companion when fishing, swimming or boating. Never swim alone.
10. Reaching aids. Learn how to use all reaching aids; how to use floating objects to support yourself; how to throw handline and ring buoy.
11. Cramps. If hit by stomach cramps, scull to support yourself and call for help. To ease leg cramps, take a deep breath, submerge, and seize cramped muscles with thumb and fingers of one hand, pressing through the muscles to meet those of the other hand.
12. Currents. Never buck a current. Swim diagonally across and with its flow. If unable to reach shore, drift to save strength and call for help. If caught by an undertow, go with it and swim diagonally upwards to the surface.
13. Weeds. Use gentle, slow drawing and shaking movements to get out of weeds. Swim with the current, not against it, until freed.
14. Boating. If capsized, hang onto the boat and call for help. Never enter a canoe unless you are an experienced, competent swimmer.

Special Train Takes Employees Of Brinton Carpet Co. To Orillia

By RALPH GREENHILL

A special train of six coaches left Peterborough CNR station at nine o'clock on Saturday morning with more than 350 employees of the Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Company on their annual picnic to Orillia.

In spite of the fact that it was the third successive year that the picnic was held to Orillia Park, there was no doubt as the popularity of the decision to hold it there and the turnout was the largest ever. One member of the office staff, Miss Mary Richardson, who was spending three weeks' vacation in Vancouver, returned specially for the outing. When the train stopped at Lindsay to pick up another 100 employees from the Spinning Mills and McRae Foundry, an extra coach had to be added to the train.

After a picnic lunch, D. L. Leether, manager of the company, opened the afternoon program by welcoming everybody to the picnic. R. L. Scott, manager of the Lindsay plant, then drew names in the lucky draw. Peterborough prize-winners were Miss A. Giroux, Miss Betty Rusaw, Miss J. Simpkin, T. Westwood, W. Dyer and Ralph Kitchen.. Lindsay winners were Miss C. Barney, Miss M. Elliott, J. Pedley and W. Robertson.

A special prize for the youngest baby of an employee at the picnic went to 15-months-old Alan Dyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dyer. A bean guessing contest was won by R. Rosenbourgh, with Harold Crowley second and Art Rusaw third. The correct answer was 1,324 beans in the bottle and the winner's guess was only one less—1,323.

Walter Firth and William Parkes were in charge of the races and entertainment. Twenty-four races were held so that everybody had a chance to compete in at least one. In the first race, which was for boys and girls up to five years of age, all the children received prizes, including the youngest competitor, who turned round and started running back half way.

The fortunate people with bathing costumes were able to cool themselves by taking a dip in Lake Couchiching, but for the rest the only relief from the blazing sun was the shade of the trees. The heat didn't seem to bother the children, however, and the swings and slides were kept going all the time.

A sing-song, led by Clarence Corbett and J. Hodson, was held in the evening before the train left to return to Peterborough, and was partly continued on the journey back. Mrs. W. Pakenham and Miss Hazel Batterson were in charge of refreshments, which included free ice cream and chocolate bars on the train. Vern Rose was chairman of the picnic committee of the Brinton Employees' Club and transport and publicity was arranged by Miss Edna Revoy, Lionel Monk and Walter Dyer.

DeLaval Employees Enjoy Picnic At Nicholls Oval

The annual picnic of the De Laval Company, Limited took place at Nicholl's Oval on Saturday afternoon. This event is is always one of the highlights of the year of the company's inter-social activities and this year was no exception. Hundreds of children were made happy with free tickets for ice cream cones, soft drinks, chocolate bars, hot dogs, and all the other good things that appeal to their childish tastes, and a very splendid vaudeville entertainment, presented by Garden Bros. of Toronto, was enjoyed by both young and old in the early part of the evening.

Close on to a thousand in attendance enjoyed a full afternoon of beautiful summer weather and a concentrated program of sports.

The De Laval orchestra provided a continual program of music during the afternoon, and the Salvation Army Boys' Band also added to the gay atmosphere with their excellent music during the supper hour, both bands being augmented by sound system which also provided music for round and square dancing at the end of the evening.

Several new competitions were added to the sports program and the "Ladies' ball throwing accuracy" created particular interest with in some cases, very doubtful and disastrous results.

During the afternoon handsome registration prizes were presented by the vice-president and general manager, C. L. Upper, to each company employee and the wives of those attending. Registration draw prizes were won by M. Dunlop, Ed. Ruiter, W. Conroy, C. Johnson, Roy Hockaday.

3 Cars Tangle Baby Injured Driver Arrested

HASTINGS, July 12—(ENS)—Three cars tangled late Saturday night at the Dutch Line on the Warkworth-Hastings Road. A south-bound car, driven by Thomas Richardson of RR 1, Burnley, was in collision with a delivery car of Bray's Bakery, Hastings, driven by William Phillips, going north. While the police were on their way to the accident a third car returning from Warkworth, crashed into the rear of Bray's truck. The driver of the car, Herbert Morris of 142 Dowling Ave., Toronto, who is vacationing in Hastings. Mrs. Morris who was holding a 4 months old baby girl, was thrown against the windshield.

Constables Kellogg and Potten on arriving at the scene of the accident dispatched Mrs. Morris and daughter in a car driven by A. Lamey, to Dr. Bill Smith at Hastings. The baby suffered bruises on the head.

Thomas Richardson was arrested at the scene of the accident and charged with drunk driving.

There was extensive damage to Richardson's car and the right side of Bray's truck was badly torn. The damage to the Morris car was estimated at $200.

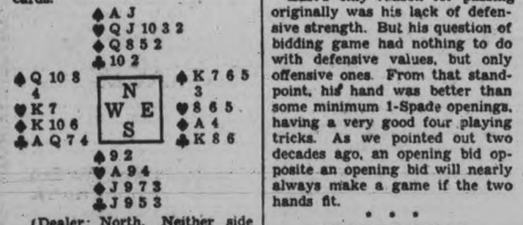
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

GOOD AS AN OPENING

OFTEN a hand, which does not quite justify an opening bid, due to lack of honor strength, is at least as good as a minimum opening bid for the declarer's purposes if it contains a suit which fits well with your partner's holding. In such an event, it is well to proclaim the fact to him with a jump bid on your next turn, or else by going all the way to game in the fitting suit. Failure to do that may result in his passing the deal out at less than a game contract when a game is in the cards.



(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♣
1 ♥	1 ♠	2 ♥	2 ♠
3 ♥	3 ♠

It was really just too bad to see the way that East and West lost their chance for a game. To West, the final bid of 3-Spades by East sounded a good deal like a one-trick sacrifice, and he therefore dropped it at that level, since his own hand was not much better than a bare minimum opening and his partner had passed on his first turn.

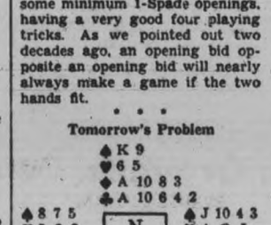
West was exactly right to pass this, as he pointed out during the post-mortem. The one at fault was East. For playing with spades as the trump, he had about as good a hand as you expect to find, barring freaks, by a player whose opening pass could be sound. As soon as he heard his partner give him a single raise, betokening a fit, he should have stood ready to bid 4-Spades on his own next turn.

There was nothing at all to the stint of making enough tricks for game. In fact, East took an extra trick above the game number because the heart K sat over the A. But, alas, no game resulted, because it had not been bid.

East's only reason for passing originally was his lack of defensive strength. But his question of bidding game had nothing to do with defensive values, but only offensive ones. From that standpoint, his hand was better than some minimum 1-Spade openings, having a very good four playing tricks. As we pointed out two decades ago, an opening bid opposite an opening bid will nearly always make a game if the two hands fit.

• • •

Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

Why is 1-Spade a better bid by South than 2-No Trumps after North's 1-Club and East's 1-Heart?

6—In Memoriam

NICHOLS—In loving memory of our dear father Peter Nichols, who passed away 4 years ago July 13, 1944.
In our hearts your memory lingers
Always tender, fond and true;
There is not a day, dear father,
That we do not think of you.
—Ever remembered by his family.

CLEMENTS—In loving memory of a son and brother, George Edward Clements, who lost his life in the Whitaker Woollen Mill fire.
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
—Ever remembered by father, brother and sisters.

LINDSAY, July 12.—(ENS).—Lindsay's first old home week since 1924 came to a successful conclusion Saturday as the veterans of both wars took over for warriors' day. Members of the 4th Field Regiment, RCA (SP), under Bruce Maiden, featured the afternoon program at the Exhibition Grounds with a mock shoot on the village of Cameron.

Other features of the warriors' day program were the Dofasco Pipe Band of Hamilton, the Peterborough Pipe Band and the Naval Cadet Band. The armed party and gunners, from HMS "Star," Hamilton, put a shoot with a hand-drawn six-pounder.

Jasper Forman, president of the Canadian Legion, branch 67, and Col. R. I. Moore, were in charge of the program. Some 1,823 old boys and girls from all parts of Canada, United States, England, Wales, Hawaii and Cuba registered during the ten-day celebration.

"That programme of gramophone records was recorded."

Police Honor Veteran Postie

Thirty-four years of service with the Post Office at Peterborough, more than 15 of them on the city buildings delivery route, were recognized Saturday morning in the magistrates court. The appreciation came from the police of the city and district.

George Davis, 585 Sherbrooke St., left Saturday for his annual leave. He will retire on pension following it.

Arrangements were made so that the last delivery for those 34 years would be a registered letter addressed to police constable Leo Murphy, requiring personal delivery at the police station. On his arrival there, shortly before court Saturday morning, Mr. Davis was escorted to the court room, where he was solemnly placed in the prisoner's dock by Police Inspector James F. Reid.

Police Chief John Thompson, standing near the magistrate's chair, made a short address of appreciation for the long service. He extended best wishes of the department for a happy life in well-earned retirement.

The Chief made a presentation of a gift pipe to Mr. Davis, who made a sincere reply of gratitude for the gesture of goodwill.

Those also present for the ceremony included Mayor William Ovens, Magistrate W. R. Philp KC, Robert S. Cotton, JP, Det.-Sgt. John Stevenson; provincial constables Joseph Hanson and George Henderson, PC Leo Murphy, Sgt. Gordon Puffer, Det. William Clarke, PC William Aggas.

Huckleberry Crop Is Heavy

Huckleberries, better known as blueberries to urban dwellers are hanging in clusters from the lowlying bushes in the rocky country north of Burleigh. Late June rains, and just the right amount of sunshine brought the berries to maturity in splendid condition and pickers report full pails from all patches.

On Sunday many groups picked on the bleak, and hot rocky hills north of Long lake, and in the bush country east and south of Apsley.

Raspberries are ripening fast, and motorists are driving slowly along the back roads these days spotting the patches for future attention. Some of the berries are fit to pick already, and by midweek he wild variety should be in prime condition.

Urban and rural people who love elder-berry pies and preserves are watching with interest the huge flowering bushes in the low swampy stretches. The blossoms are white and appear in large clusters. They reached their full ripeness late in August and in early September.

FISHING IS EXPENSIVE

Bob Kiel, Cleveland, checked in at Davis Island Manor, Stony Lake, last week for a fishing vacation. He had a new reel, a new line, an expensive rod, and a pocket full of dreams. Mr. Kiel lost no time getting to his favorite spot alongside a weed bed. He made a mighty cast, but alas the plug whipped back, picked up a boat cushion, and the rod, reel, line, plug and cushion went sailing into the lake. The plug came free from the cushion and the fishing tackle disappeared beneath the choppy waters. Then Mr. Kiel decided he better heave the anchor overboard. He did, but forgot to snub the rope, so he is minus one good anchor too. Mr. Kiel retired to the lodge verandah for a tall cool one, suddenly realized he had not marked the spot where the loss occured. Tsk Tsk, now he is looking for somebody with grappling irons.—McG.

Businessmen Plan Good Fellows Club

CAMPBELLFORD, July 12 — (ENS)—With the object of providing local people with wholesome entertainment on Sunday afternoons, a number of businessmen are presently contemplating formation of a club which will meet each Sunday evening after church.

To be known as the Good Fellows Club, the organization is described as a place "where men and women meet to promote good fellowship".

While a full program has not yet been arranged, it is understood that community singing will play a large part in the proceedings, and that there may be some acts presented each Sunday, in the form of a floor show.

Other details are now being worked out. Arrangements have been made for the use of a hall, and it is believed by those sponsoring the move that the club is the answer to that old question, "what to do on Sunday night".

Forty persons met violent death in Eastern Canada during the week-end, most of them on the open road or in swimming. A Canadian Press survey showed 16 deaths in traffic mishaps, 12 in swimming accidents and the rest from a variety of causes, including motorboat explosions, falls and an accidental shooting.

A jeep which struck his horse-drawn wagon in Montreal Saturday brought death to Fernan Brisebois, 60. And at St. Paul d'Abbotsford, Que., Marie-Claire Chagnon, seven, was crushed to death by a tractor on her father's farm.

Others killed in separate accidents were: Gertrude Wiseman After, 60, Montreal, injured in a truck July 3; Thomas Bourassa, 55, whose bicycle was struck by a car near Three Rivers, Que.; Elaine Forget, four, struck by a car in Ottawa; Billy McIlewain, four, hit by truck at Huntsville; Gareth George, three, Sudbury, crushed against a wall by a car which jumped a curb at Port Carling, Ont.; Donna Smith, nine, hit by a car in Hamilton; Mrs. Margaret Dutchie, 43, Wyandotte, Mich., fatally crushed in a car's embankment plunge near Hamilton; Desmond Fortune, eight, knocked down by a truck in Glace Bay, N.S.

Remi Moreau, three, was crushed to death Sunday night under the wheels of his uncle's truck near Penetanguishene. Injured in a three-car collision in Toronto, Sarah Ryal, 82, died later in hospital.

Most of the drowning victims were swimmers. Driven to the water by Central Canada's weekend heat, many ventured beyond their depth or became exhausted in deep water.

Herb Carrier, 22-year-old Toronto prize-winning cyclist who once dreamed of entering Olympic competition, was drowned Sunday when he fell into the Credit river near Brampton, about 30 miles northwest of Toronto. An inquest has been ordered.

Robert Glow, 19, of Toronto, lost his life Sunday night in the Chalk river. His sister, Jean, said Glow, a non-swmmer, went back in the river for "one last dip." Glow and his sister came here recently from Prince Edward Island, where their family still lives.

Emilienne Goulet, 17, of La Sarra, Que., was drowned Sunday while swimming in the Ottawa River near Bissett's, 65 miles northwest of Pembroke. A companion, 17-year-old Rosaire Dufour of La Sarra, was unable to save him.

Brain hemorrhages were blamed for two Ontario deaths. Lillian Petit, 17, of Toronto, died in a bus depot at Barrie. Finley McLennan, 23, of Verdun, Que., was arrested in Toronto on a charge of drunkenness and died shortly afterwards. Investigation showed a hemorrhage caused McLennan's death.

Expect Truce In Palestine By Weekend

Both Jews And Arabs Stage Artillery Duel On Road To Jerusalem

TEL AVIV, July 13—(AP)—A source close to the Israeli government said today there seemed "every reason to expect" a new Palestine truce—probably by the end of this week.

The informant is associated with the Israeli foreign office.

He predicted that a new cease-fire would stem from modified proposals which Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator is expected to place before the security council.

Highly-regarded sources in Tel Aviv said several factors pointed toward a new truce.

King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan is believed here to have been persuaded that a negotiated peace would giv him mor than his Arab Legion can win by war against the fast-strenthening Israeli army As seen here, moves suggest that with Iraqi backing he now is try-Lebanon to cease fire and talk ing to convince Egypt, Syria and terms.

So far they are reluctant to do so, feeling Trans-Jordan has more to gain than they.

The Jewish army emerged from the last cease-fire, which the Arabs declined to prolung, appreciably stronger. Within 24 hours after the truce ended, Israeli forces hurled tanks, artillery and bigger air forces into the fight and seized the initiative.

Heavy Barrage

CAIRO, July 13—(AP—Israeli and Arab legion commanders threw artillery into a mounting battle for the road to Jerusalem today after two counter-attacking mechanized Arab columns had failed to retake Lydda, front dispatches said.

Guns hammered away around the rocky approaches to the Judean Hills within sight of Lydda and Er Ramle which the Jews took after two days of fighting.

A delayed dispatch from Jerusalem told of considerable air activity by both the Jews and Arabs over the Holy City Sunday night. It was believed the Israeli planes bombed Arab Legion concentrations in Jerusalem's north-

Expect To Clear Flying Fortress

HALIFAX, July 13 — (CP) — Clearance was expected today for nine United States civilian fliers forced down at nearby eastern passage airport Sunday night.

Their Flying Fortress aircraft was impounded by Canadian customs officials and the men given a routine check by immigration officials when they failed to produce clearance papers from the U.S. customs.

The men claimed to be on a navigational training flight from New York and said they had planned on returning there when their plane was forced to make a landing here. Meanwhile rumors persisted that Pilot Irwin R. Schindler of Miami, Fla., and his eight companions were en route to Palestne via Gander airfield in Newfoundland.

30 Women, Children Evacuated From Mine

SINGAPORE, July 13—(Reuters)—Thirty European women and children were evacuated today by special plane from the Pahang Consolidated Tin Mine at Sungei Lenbing, 30 miles from Kuantan on the east coast of Malaya, scene of recent terrorist activity.

They were flying to Singapore, where launches patrolled the island to prevent terrorists from entering from the mainland.

The chartered transport plane took in a private guard of two European officers, 17 Malays and a Eurasian to protect the Pahang mine and rubber estates in the area, where three persons were killed in an ambush Friday.

Report Russia Building Big Naval Base

Using Land Leased Under Finnish Treaty; Train Windows Covered

Reports reaching here from the neighborhood of Porkkala suggest that the Russians are constructing a big naval base on this peninsula, leased to them under the Finnish peace treaty.

Porkka Peninsula juts forward into the Gulf of Finland west of Helsinki. From it and from the naval base of Tallinn, on the opposite side of the gulf, the Russians can dominate the entrance to the Gulf and protect the approaches to the huge naval base of Kronstadt outside Leningrad.

The Russian-occupied area is sealed off from the neighboring Finnish districts.

It is evident the Russians are building on a big scale. Fishermen living in the neighborhood report that the sound of big explosions is heard every day.

The tight Russian security measures also apply to trains on the main line between Helsinki, the capital, and the Port of Turku, on the Gulf of Bothnia. Part of this line passes through the Russian-occupied Porkkala area, and on this stretch the trains run with iron shutters closed over the windows and all doors locked.

Fourteen fishing smacks were recently reported to have been lost on their way from Helsinki to Hango on the other side of Porkkala. They were separated from a group of 48 smacks in bad weather and have not been heard of since.

The Russians have a whole fleet of fast motor boats patrolling the boundaries of the Forbidden area. They are painted black and have machine-guns mounted on the foredeck.

Family Flees Father's Bullets

WINDSOR, July 13—(CP).—Herman Stutz, 58, alias James McDonald, of Toronto, today was arraigned on a charge of attempted murder and remanded eight days for examination by a provincial psychiatrist. No election or plea was made. The estranged husband of Mrs. Rosie Stutz broke into her Windsor home late Monday night and with a .38 calibre revolver fired at his wife and two daughter, Edna, 18, and Joyce, 16.

The berserk man was overpowered in a bedroom of the home after firing five shots at the trio. All shots were wide of their mark.

Mrs. Stutz told police the three women were eating a snack in the kitchen when they heard someone stumble on the front steps. A moment later her daughter Edna saw her father enter the front door and let blast with a single shot at the group.

Hide Behind Door

The women ran for the back door, shut from the kitchen, while the man advanced through the front room, his gun blazing. The three succeeded in reaching a closed-in back porch, the withering fire splintering the glass and wood in the back door.

One bullet missed Mrs. Stutz by less than an inch as the three women jammed into the small porch, trying to unlatch a screen door which led to the back yard.

Detectives Robert Anderson and Chris Paget were called to the home where they met a policeman who had been summoned by radio. From a step ladder at the rear of the house, Det. Paget saw Stutz stretched out on a bedroom floor. Mrs. Stutz said she believed he was looking for two other daughters, Lillian and Elizabeth, not home at the time.

While the policeman kept his flashlight trained on the man, Det. Paget entered the house by the front door, moved into the bedroom and jumped on Stutz' gun-carrying hand. The man submitted without a fight.

Million Gov't Employees May Walk Out In France

PARIS, July 13—(AP).—France today faced a threatened general strike of government employees which may eventually involve as many as 1,000,000 persons. Some airport personnel already have walked out, causing a spreading tie-up of plane traffic in France and French North Africa. Premier Robert Schuman's cabinet hit back quickly with a decree which in effect mobilized striking weather and radio men and made them liable to penalties for desertion if they failed to report for work.

The civil mobilization measure, apparently prepared hours ahead of the airport strike, may foreshadow the Cabinet's plans for breaking the whole series of stoppages. The Cabinet has rejected union demands for higher wages for low salary groups of government workers. The strike at the airfields was not complete.

An Air France plane on a flight from Tunis crash-landed and burned at Orly field here Monday night soon after the walkout of airport workers began. It was not immediately determined, however, whether there was any connection between the accident and the airport workers strike.

Blame Landing Gear

Agence France-Presse said one woman was in hospital and added that the plane overshot the landing strip and hit the ground so heavily that the tail and one engine broke from the fuselage. One report said failure of the plane's hydraulic landing gar caused the accident.

A dispatch from Tunis said the airport workers' walkout had halted plane traffic in the North African city. JIM (Royal Dutch Airlines) announced in The Hague that it was suspending all air service to France. British European Airways in London said its six flights would not be sent to Paris today unless the walkout is settled.

Three New Fires

WINNIPEG, July 13 (CP). — Five forest fires in the Central Manitoba mining area have been brought under control, but three new fires have broken out, J. G. Somers, Provincial Forester, said to-day. Although no rains have been reported in the stricken areas, favorable progress is being made, he said.

Believe Mutiny Under Control

LONDON, July 13. — (AP).—The United States navy said today it had received a message saying "everything is under control" on the United States freighter William Carson, whose master had reported the crew was mutinous.

The navy had put on the alert the aircraft carrier Coral Sea to prepare to send planes to locate the 7,000-ton Liberty ship in the Azores region. The coast guard cutter Campbell was under full speed toward the scene.

Rear Admiral A. J. McLean, commander aboard the battleship Missouri, in the Azores waters, messaged United States navy headquarters here that the trouble apparently was quelled. The Missouri sailed two days ago ago from Gibraltar for Cuba.

Early today Navy headquarters said it received a message from Washington confirming the mutiny report. A spokesman said the Navy had no other information beyond a Lloyd's report from the Valencia radio that the ship's master, Capt. E. W. Braithwaite, had sent an SOS which said: "Crew mutinous. Cannot control. Please come at once."

"There had been no further word since the SOS," the spokesman said, "and it is unlikely we'll hear anything until late today."

He's not Discouraged

BROCKVILLE, July 13—(CP)—Senator A. C. Hardy, whose main barns at his Avondale farm were destroyed by fire at the weekend today issued a notice to his milk customers in which he said "the dairy will be rebuilt immediately with the best equipment available, and may provide for the making of butter or even margarine."

Stop Sign Moved 2 Hurt In Crash

CAMPBELLFORD, July 13 (CP) —Two persons were slightly injured Monday night in a head-on automobile crash here.

Mrs. William Argue of Belleville, suffered a fractured thumb and face cuts when her husband's car collided with an auto driven by George Chouinard of Toronto

Five-year-old Garry Robinson of Campbellford, Chouinard's passenger, received face cuts.

The accident occurred when an eastbound car driven by William Argue, Belleville, was struck by a southbound car driven by George Chouinard, 94 Mutual St., Toronto. Both drivers escaped injury, as did Allan Argue, William Metcalfe and F. J. Johnston of Belleville, passengers in the Argue vehicle.

Police Chief George Hardy of Campbellford found that the stop sign on the side street from which the Chouinard car was proceeding had been knocked down before the accident. Both cars were badly damaged.

Find Missing Man

Sought by district and city police since Saturday afternoon, a 25-year-old man from Philadelphia was found today in Cobourg. He had wandered from a car on the Charlotte St. parking lot Saturday and had not been located. His family told police that the young man was mentally deficient and they feared some mishap had befallen him.

Details on how he got to Cobourg have not yet been learned, as word was received by the city department this afternoon. His parents went to Cobourg to return with him to their summer cottage, north of Peterborough.

Mr. U-235's Low Birth Rate Problem For A-Scientists

CHALK RIVER, July 13—(CP)—They're having breeding trouble in Canada's major atomic energy effort—but not the kind some folks suspect.

It lies with that heroic and invisible little character with a name like a licence plate—Mr. U235. It's this way: uranium has two types of atom which react the same way chemically, but don't weigh the same.

It's loaded with those that weigh 238 units (atomic weight, whatever that is) but only one out of 140 weigh 235, and this is Mr. U235 and he's as scarce as peace. That's basically the trouble.

For Mr. U235 is the only atom found in nature that is fissionable, the only one that explodes and produces atomic energy when it is walloped by the neighborhood toughie—another invisible character called a neutron or a nuclear bullet.

There are two ways of putting Mr. U235 to work. He can be separated from his poor relations, the U238s, and used himself, but that's expensive.

Higher Birth Rate

Or he can perform in a large cylindrical tank, full of rods and heavy water and other complexities. He's exploded by a neutron and dies, but in death gives birth to heat or energy, to a variety of atoms known as fission products, and to two or three neutrons of his own.

Another neutron creates another explosion, and there is your chain reaction.

Scientists are seeking a compound interest rate of breeding. They want Mr. U235 to have twins, triplets, quadruplets and better than that. When that day comes, large vistas of power will be opened up and Mr. U235, like a figure in Greek tragedy, will enter into an even larger heroism.

Keep Inmates In Yard During Night

Guards Use Tear Gas To Restore Order; Will Enforce Discipline

TORONTO, July 13 — (CP) — Some of the 807 prisoners at Guelph's Ontario Reformatory are being kept in a yard between two buildings as a disciplinary measure, Reforms Minister Dunbar said today.

He was commenting on reports that tear gas was used to break up a group refusing to disperse Monday because of protests over the food.

"We're keeping them there until they're ready to go back to work in an orderly manner," said Mr. Dunbar. "We're going to see that discipline is enforced and the tear gas was used to keep order."

He said the men had blankets and slept during the night in the huge yard surrounded by guards. Conditions were described as ideal for outdoors sleeping."

Blames Publicity

He blamed press and radio reports of disturbances at Burwash and Mercer reformatories for the trouble.

"A very small percentage of those 300 men don't want to go back to work," he said. "But the situation is not tense—everything is very quiet."

Most of the men accepted food at the evening meal, Mr. Dunbar said.

"A. R. Virgin, director of reform institutions, said a number of the 300 had asked to rejoin the majority of prisoners inside.

Taught Obedience

"They must be taught obedience and they are going to take their punishment," Mr. Virgin declared. Also blaming reports of other disturbances for the trouble, he said the men have radios in their cell block and prisoners had access to newspapers at times.

"As for complaints about food, the food served is exceptionally good. . . .These men have rebelled for no apparent reason and they will take their punishment before they will be allowed to go back to work."

Speaking of the complaints about the food, Mr. Dunbar gave the following day's menus as typical:

Breakfast: Corn flakes with fresh milk and sugar, one fried egg, three fried sausages, morning roll with honey or butter. toast and coffee.

Dinner: Cream of tomato soup, steak and onions, cream corn, mashed potatoes and gravy, apple sauce, pie, tea and bread and butter.

Supper: One slice of cold ham, one slice of yellow cheese, cabbage salad, potato salad on lettuce, fresh strawberries and cream, lily cake with icing, cocoa, bread and butter.

"They can have all the bread they want with meals," said Mr. Dunbar.

They said that after the noon meal various work groups assembled in the open before returning to their jobs in the fields and shops. One group refused to disperse and tear gas was used to break it up, officials said.

The men later agreed to behave and go to work but it was decided to keep them in the yard as a disciplinary measure.

Officials said the only reason the men advanced for creating the incident was that "one or two of the men said they didn't like certain of the meals."

Commissioners Fail To End CSU Differences

OTTAWA, July 13.— (CP).—Commissioners appointed to inquire into a dispute between the Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd., and the Canadian Seamen's Union have faailed to end differences, the Labor Department announced today.

The Department released the report of the commissioners, L. W. Brockington and Douglas McNish, who said there was nothing further they could do at present. In another report Mr. Brockington reacher a similar conclusion in a disputee between the CSU and the Northwest Steamship, Ltd.

Both companies have signed agreements with a rival union, Canadian Lake Seamen's Union, headed by J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, who broke from the CSU some time ago charging it was Communist-dominateed.

In their report Mr. Brockington company for failure to negotiate and Mr. McNish criticized the and for sgning a separate agreement wth the rival union.

Wrong Action

"It is our opinion . . . the substitution of a new union for the existing bargaining unit and the assertion by the company of the right to refuse to negotiate because of its objection to alleged political opinions, are contrary to accepted practices and the law as it has heretofore been followed.

"We feel too, that in the result injustice has been done to the rank and file of the Canadian Seamen's Union, particularly those to whom seniority rights have accrued.

"We regret that there is apparently nothing further which we can do at the present time."

Stressing the company had no right to refuse to negotiate with the CSU because of the political opinions of some of the union members, the report said:

". . . . Until the law of the land made the public holding or expression of any political opinion illegal, no company could legally take upon itself the right to refuse to negotiate on those ground."

Rail Talks 'Touch And Go' As Cabinet Meets; Still Several Cents Apart

Unions Need 23-Cent Raise Hall Says To Keep Living Standards; No Official Report Yet On Raise Asked

OTTAWA, July 13—(CP).—As the Canadian railway wage crisis moved towards Thursday's deadline, a union spokesman declared today the railways and their international unions were still "several cents" apart in their proposals for a wage increase compromise. Frank H. Hall, chairman of the negotiating committee for 18 unions comprising 122,000 employees, made this statement at a press conference here as the Cabinet worked on 11th-hour plans for a settlement.

After a two-hour session largely devoted to the rail issue, the Cabinet broke up for lunch at 1.15 p.m. EDT without a decision on the matter, and Ministers said it would resume consideration on it at 3 p.m.

Labor Minister Mitchell, emerging from the Cabinet session, said the rail wage disputants would not be called into conference again until the Ministers had completed their discussion.

With the official strike deadline set for 6 a.m. (local time) Thursday, Hall said it would be "touch and go" to call off the tie-up unless agreement were reached by noon tomorrow. He indicated the final practical deadline would be about midnight Wednesday.

Need 23 Cents

Hall, whose group has been negotiating with the railways through Labor Minister Mitchell here since Friday, made these points:

1. He said the unions figure they need an increase of 23.4 cents an hour to maintain their 1946 living standards, but he would not disclose whether this was the last figure proposed by his group in the negotiations. Minister Mitchell's latest propos-

2. He confirmed that Labor al to the labor men was for an increase of 15½ cents.

3. He denied published reports that the unions were ready to settle for 17½ cents and said their figure was "much higher."

4. Strike preparations are "practically complete" and take

Land Required For Extension Of Weller St.

An innocent letter from Bruce Johnston, clerk of North Monaghan township asking for permission to gravel Weller St. west raised a few eyebrows in the finance committee meeting Monday night.

Certainly there was nothing wrong with the request, but it uncovered a nigger in the woodpile.

There was so little said about the situation, a reporter not familiar with all the details had difficulty grasping the significance of the humorous interchanges. Briefly the crux of the situation is this: When property was acquired for the Civic Hospital, and a right of way into it, somebody neglected, forgot or just didn't bother to get title to a 50 foot lot at the western end of Weller St.

Now that tiny parcel of land looms like a wart on one's nose.

It is imperative that the land be obtained by the city or Weller St. becomes a dead-end. The land belongs to Hugh Stewart.
